A TRIBUTE

In 1946, the Red Sox won the American League pennant with a 104-50 regular season record before losing a tough seven-game World Series to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Three individuals with ties to that team passed away in 2006.

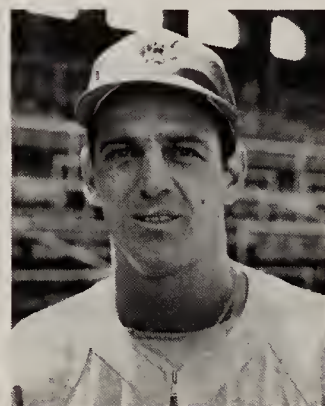

CHARLIE WAGNER, who served the Red Sox in a number of baseball capacities for 71 years, died on August 31 at age 93. Signed as a righthanded pitcher by Boston in 1935, Mr. Wagner compiled a 32-23 record and 3.91 ERA with the Red Sox from 1938-42. After serving in the Navy during World War II from 1943-45, he returned to pitch in eight games for Boston in 1946 before injuries ended his playing career.

Mr. Wagner was appointed as the Red Sox' Assistant Farm Director in 1947 and served in that role for 15 years before becoming a special assignment scout and minor league pitching instructor for the organization. He also served as Boston's major league pitching coach for the 1970 season and had been serving as a special Minor League Spring Training consultant for a number of years.

EDDIE PELLAGRINI, who made his Red Sox debut in 1946, passed away on October 11 at the age of 88. After serving in the United States Navy during World War II, Mr. Pellagrini made his major league debut with the Red Sox on April 22, 1946 versus Washington, and homered in his first at bat. Seeing action at both shortstop and third base, he played in 22 games for the A.L. champs in 1946 and 74 games in 1947 before being traded to the St. Louis Browns.

Mr. Pellagrini appeared in 563 major league games with the Red Sox, Browns, Phillies, Reds, and Pirates from 1946-54. He went on to a successful coaching career that included 32 seasons as the head coach at Boston College from 1957-88.

EDWARD F. KENNEY, SR., who spent over 40 years as a Red Sox executive, died on October 25 at age 85. Mr. Kenney originally joined the Red Sox organization as a promising young pitcher in 1946, but his career was curtailed by arm problems. During the Red Sox drive to the American League pennant that season, he worked in the club's ticket office.

Two years later, he joined the minor league department. In 1949 Mr. Kenney became assistant farm director and was promoted to head of Boston's minor league system in 1966. He later served as Vice President of Baseball Development before retiring after the 1991 season.

These three gentlemen made significant contributions to the Red Sox organization beginning over 60 years ago. They will be missed.

A NEW DAY

When the Boston Red Sox' ownership group successfully outbid competitors to purchase the club December 20, 2001, Principal Owner John W. Henry called it "a new day." After a 69-year stewardship of the Boston Red Sox and Fenway Park by Tom and Jean Yawkey, and their trustees, a new chapter in this franchise's compelling saga would begin. Little did Henry know how prophetic his phrase would be.

In the five seasons since Henry, Tom Werner, Larry Lucchino, and their partners purchased the club, the park, and 80 percent of the New England Sports Network (NESN) for an estimated $660 million, plus $40 million in assumed debt, the ownership has created an era in which the club has constructed the second-longest streak of sell outs in baseball history, saved America's Most Beloved Ballpark from the wrecking ball, and won the World Series to end 86 years of excruciating frustration throughout New England and the worldwide fan base known as Red Sox Nation.

The club's leaders have more than upheld the five promises they made at their introductory press conference December 21, 2001. Thanks to these commitments, the fundamental obligations of ownership, the fans, no longer shackled by the emotional constraint from the anticipation of 11th-hour defeat, have relaxed with a collective exhale of exuberance. It is clearly a new day.

John Henry, Tom Werner, Larry Lucchino and their partners celebrate Boston's first World Championship in 86 years in 2004.

TO FIELD A TEAM WORTHY OF THE FANS' SUPPORT

Acknowledging that the primary obligation of a club is to field a team worthy of the fans' support, the leaders set out to construct a club that would make New England proud. In their first five seasons, they have fielded winning teams that have participated in postseason play three straight years for the first time in club history, and won the World Championship in 2004 that had been elusive for 86 years.

The new owners' actions in 2002 were immediate. They made their first order of business the change in general managers from Dan Duquette to Mike Port on an interim basis. They then replaced Manager Joe Kerrigan with Grady Little.

On March 24, they added Assistant General Manager Theo Epstein, a Yale grad who grew up a mile away from Fenway in Brookline. He had been Director of Baseball Operations for the San Diego Padres.

The Sox' 93 wins in 2002 were an 11-game improvement over the previous year. But when the chill of September had given way to October, the American League East standings had the same order for the fifth straight year: Yankees, Red Sox, Blue Jays, Orioles, and Devil Rays. And Anaheim rode the Wild Card to the world championship.

After the season, on November 25, the club surprised the baseball world with the news that Theo Epstein would be the franchise's 11th general manager, and at 28, would be the youngest in baseball history.

The Brookline High grad embarked upon a plan to create a relentless lineup, adding Kevin Millar, David Ortiz, Todd Walker, and Bill Mueller. The relentless lineup lived up to its promise with record-shattering abandon. When it came to slugging percentage, the 2003 Red Sox weren't the '27 Yankees—they were better.

As the July 31 trading deadline loomed, Epstein added pitching depth with Scott Williamson, Scott Sauerbeck, and Jeff Suppan for infield prospect Freddie Sanchez.

It was in the week that preceded their last series versus New York that Grady Little's club rallied, jelled, and showed its character. They encouraged each other to "Cowboy Up," a line from a movie and the title of a song (written by Ryan Reynolds, whose dad, Archie, played for the California Angels in the early '70s) that typified that play-when-you're-hurt, never-say-die clubhouse spirit.

The Red Sox stormed through September, clinching the A.L. Wild Card September 25 and returning to the postseason for the first time since 1999. After falling behind the Oakland A's, two games to none in the best-of-five A.L. Division Series, the club rebounded with a pair of thrilling wins at Fenway Park, and a series-clinching finale in Oakland.

Facing the archrival New York Yankees in the American League Championship Series, the Red Sox split the first two in New York, dropped two of three at Fenway, won Game 6 to even the series, then played an instant baseball classic in a Game 7 for the ages. The Red Sox led, 5-2, and were 5 outs away from the pennant, when the Yankees rallied to tie in the 8th. Finally, in the bottom of the 11th, Aaron Boone led off with a pennant-winning homer, and one of the most captivating seasons in history drew to a sudden close.

To bolster an already-outstanding team, the Red Sox were aggressive throughout the winter. They added premier starting pitcher Curt Schilling, closer Keith Foulke, and infielders Pokey Reese and Mark Bellhorn. They also turned the reigns over to new manager Terry Francona.

The 2004 club raced out to a good start, finishing April with a 15-6 record, then fell into a long slumber, a 37-38 stretch that found them 52-44 through July 23, when the first-place Yankees beat them for the fourth straight time.

A change started July 24. In a memorable and hard-fought thriller, Bill Mueller beat Mariano Rivera 11-10 with a game-winning 2-run homer in the bottom of the 9th. Starting that day, the Red Sox went 46-20 the rest of the way.

A week later, Epstein made a bold move that bolstered the club even more. On July 31, minutes before the non-waiver trading deadline, Nomar Garciaparra went to the Chicago Cubs in a 4-team deal that brought two former Gold Gloves, shortstop Orlando Cabrera and first baseman Doug Mientkiewicz, to the Sox. That same day, Epstein also acquired speedy outfielder Dave Roberts from the Dodgers. The change was immediately noticeable, and soon, would be undeniable.

Through July 31, the Red Sox had allowed 74 unearned runs in 102 games. Starting August 1, they allowed 20 in their final 60 contests.

Through July 31, the Red Sox were 56-46. They went 42-18 the rest of the way.

Through August 15, the Red Sox were 64-52. Starting August 16, they were 34-12, including an initial stretch, starting August 16, of 16-1 and 20-2.

The improved defense improved the pitching, highlighted by Curt Schilling, who led the American League with 21 wins.

And on September 27, the Red Sox won at Tampa Bay to clinch a post-season berth for the second straight year. It was only the fourth time in franchise history that the club had qualified for the postseason in consecutive seasons (1903-04, 1915-16, 1998-99).

In the American League Division Series, the Red Sox punctuated a dramatic sweep of the Anaheim Angels with David Ortiz's 10th-inning sudden-death home run over the Green Monster that sent Fenway fans into delirium.

The crowd quieted, however, when in the American League Championship Series, the dreaded Yankees rattled off three straight wins, the third a 19-8 shellacking of the Sox at Fenway. When the bottom of the 9th began in Game 4, the Yankees were three outs away from an embarrassing sweep, leading 4-3, with nearly invincible closer Mariano Rivera on the mound. Nearly.

Dave Roberts' stolen base in the 9th inning of Game 4 of the ALCS ignited the greatest comeback in baseball history.

Kevin Millar drew a walk. Roberts, acquired because of his superlative speed and attitude, ran for Millar and stole second base (after spending the previous four innings studying tapes of the Yankees' relievers). Bill Mueller drove a single up the middle, scoring Roberts, and the game was tied. In the bottom of the 12th, breaking up a nail-biting marathon, Ortiz again delivered, again with a game-winning, sudden-death home run to right. The Red Sox would live another day.

That next day, Game 5, would go even longer than Game 4. And again, at long last, in the bottom of the 14th inning, Ortiz delivered yet again, with a game-winning, sudden-death single to center that amazingly sent the series back to New York for Game 6.

The tight tussle in Game 6 was another one for the ages. Blood seeped through Curt Schilling's surgically repaired ankle and sock for all to see, as he shut down the Bombers and silenced the crowd. Umpires reversed two calls, both times making the correct decision. And in the end, the Red Sox prevailed, 4-2, forcing a Game 7.

No major league team had ever come back from 0-3 to even force a Game 7, let alone win. And win they did. In robust fashion. Johnny Damon was the star of stars with two home runs, including a grand slam, and the world watched in disbelief and widespread happiness as the Red Sox wrested the pennant from the Yankees' clutches.

Facing the St. Louis Cardinals for the third time in a World Series (1946, 1967, both 7-game losses), the Red Sox continued their streak. They rattled off four straight wins, from slugfests to pitchers duels, and at last, after 86 years, the wait was over. The World Championship belonged to Red Sox Nation.

On October 27, 2004, The Red Sox—and all of Red Sox Nation—celebrated the franchise's first world championship in 86 years.

On Saturday, October 30, more than 3.2 million filled the streets of Boston and the banks of the Charles River as a parade of Duck Boats filled with Red Sox moved through the city and then, using their amphibious apparatus, continued into the river as fans cheered, waved, and cried.

The celebration continued as the Red Sox took the trophy to each state in New England, (plus 14 outside the area, plus Washington, D.C. and the Dominican Republic) and visited each of the 351 cities and towns in Massachusetts.

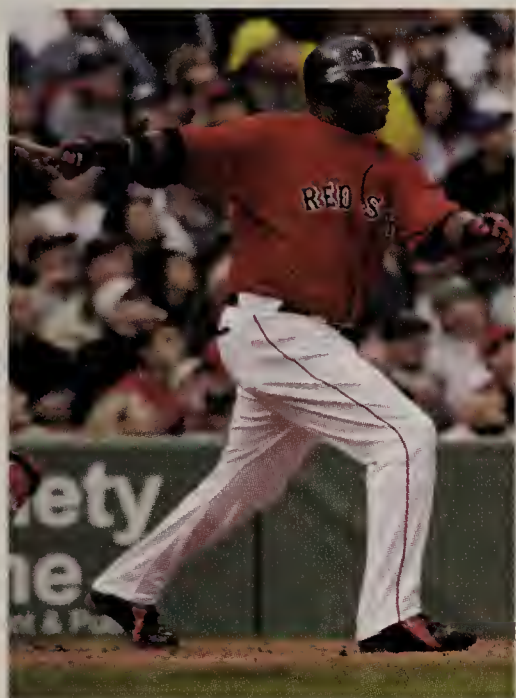

Tears showered Fenway Park under azure skies on April 11, 2005, as the defending champions received their World Series rings, one by one, on the field. The former players who had longed for such a day helped the active players raise the World Championship flag. Carl Yastrzemski and Johnny Pesky led the way. James Taylor sang "America the Beautiful," the Boston Symphony and Boston Pops played "The Star-Spangled Banner." Fenway's fans cheered Mariano Rivera. Wounded soldiers back from war presented the rings. Boston icons Bobby Orr, Bill Russell, Tedy Bruschi, and Richard Seymour threw the Ceremonial First Pitches. And in fitting style, the Red Sox beat the Yankees to make their home opener perfect.

The 2005 Red Sox had long stretches of success, with few slumps. They opened a 5 1/2 game lead in the A.L. East. The success was more remarkable considering that Schilling, the wounded warrior in 2004, spend the bulk of the season on the disabled list, as did Keith Foulke. With Pedro Martinez and Derek Lowe having departed via free agency, the club was winning despite the loss of three 20-game winners and its closer.

The Yankees struggled early but hit their stride and gradually closed the gap. The Sox ended the regular season with a head to head battle for division honors against their seemingly perennial nemesis. With 10 games to go, the two had identical records. With a week to play, still identical. After the Red Sox won the opener of the final weekend showdown, there were two games left, and still, they were tied. After the Yankees clinched a post-season berth with their win Saturday, the two clubs had met 70 times starting in 2003...and were 35-35. Hollywood would have rejected such scripts as impossibly unrealistic. But in seasons of fascinating ever-thickening plots, the impossible became possible, and the unfathomable became the expectation of the wise. The Sox clinched their berth in their final regular season game, and finished with an identical record to the Yankees. They were designated the Wild Card because the Yankees won the head-to-head competition.

From wire to wire, the indispensable player proved to be David Ortiz. Benefiting from Manny Ramirez hitting behind him, and from Johnny Damon having a sensational season in the lead-off spot, Ortiz rose to the occasion with such drama and frequency that no fans observing the season could deny that they were watching the greatest clutch hitter of our time, and perhaps in all of Red Sox history. "Big Papi," as he is nicknamed, seemed to turn lost games into wins with his singular might.

Meanwhile, pitchers had a mountain to climb to replace the departed and injured stars. Tim Wakefield, a member of the Red Sox longer than any other, was terrific down the stretch, and veteran southpaw David Wells demonstrated that, at 42, he was still a stalwart unfazed by the size of the stage. Matt Clement and Bronson Arroyo emerged as major contributors, and Wade Miller returned from surgery to help before injuries took him away later in the season.

David Ortiz had an outstanding 2006 season.

The heart and soul of the bullpen, Mike Timlin, set a club record in appearances and adjusted by necessity to the role of closer while teaching a revolving door of young and veteran bullpen mates about attitude, responsibility, and courage.

As the regular season drew to a close, the team seemed battered, breathless, but unbeaten. Physically exhausted, mentally fatigued, but relentless in their spirit, they faced a Chicago White Sox team that swept the BoSox on their way to their first World Championship since 1917.

And so it was time to assemble the 2006 squad. General Manager Theo Epstein declined the club's offer of a contract extension when his expired October 31, and two of his lieutenants, Jed Hoyer and Ben Cherington, were named co-general managers in his absence. But Epstein returned in January and restored stability to a baseball operations staff that had generated success unprecedented in Red Sox history.

To bolster their pitching staff, they made a blockbuster trade with the Florida Marlins for ace right-hander Josh Beckett and Rawlings Gold Glove third baseman Mike Lowell. Adding more defense, the club added second baseman Mark Loretta, shortstop Alex Gonzalez, and center fielder Coco Crisp.

The club also added fresh arms in the bullpen, including St. Louis's Julian Tavarez. They expected Foulke to return as closer.

The 2006 club wasted no time, however, discovering that the best pitcher for that job was rookie Jonathan Papelbon. The home-grown sensation led in "Rookie of the Year" consideration till a late-season injury to his right shoulder ended his season September 1. Nonetheless, he saved 35 games and fashioned the lowest ERA—0.92—among all MLB pitchers with at least 51 innings.

At bat, David Ortiz soared to record-setting heights as he improved on his sensational previous seasons. Ortiz smashed Jimmie Foxx's club record of 50 home runs that had stood 68 years since 1938 while a parade of Hall of Fame hitters passed by. When the dust settled, Big Papi had launched 54 home runs and driven in 137 runs, both league-leading totals.

Evidence of his magnificence in the clutch was his majors-leading 40 rbi that put the Sox ahead, and five more walk-off endings, bringing his total with the Red Sox to 12.

His patient approach at the plate—and pitchers' respect for his prowess—led to his league-leading 119 walks, even though Manny Ramirez, batting fourth behind him, delivered another season with more than 30 home runs and more than 100 rbi, totals Manny has achieved all six of his seasons in Boston.

The Red Sox were riding atop the American League East through July 31, when a slew of injuries—including to Jason Varitek and Trot Nixon—began to shake the roster and reveal its flaws. Tied for first place on August 2 with a 64-42 record, the club was only 22-34 thereafter, including a devastating 5-game sweep at Fenway Park by the Yankees, who went on to win the division while the Sox slipped below the Blue Jays in the last week of the season to finish third.

The somber end triggered a renewed spirit of determination in 2007 to honor the club's commitment, and the Sox shocked the world with an unprecedented effort to acquire Japan's "national treasure," pitching star Daisuke Matsuzaka.

While adding fellow Japanese southpaw Hideki Okajima to the bullpen, among a host of new arms, the club demonstrated an aggressiveness to return to the top of the heap undeniable to their global fan base.

As a result, the fans of Red Sox Nation continue to demonstrate their remarkable passion by turning out in record numbers.

They have sold out every game at Fenway Park starting May 15, 2003, a streak of 307 regular season games that is second in baseball history. They reached 2.7 million for the first time in 2003; they reached 2.8 million for the first time in 2004, and broke that record in 2005. They reached 2,930,588 in 2006, the 7th straight record-setting year.

They then sold more than 2 million tickets by January 19, 2007, another record, and had sold more than 2.3 million before the truck even departed for Spring Training. The numbers reflect a sustained phenomenon unprecedented in the storied history of this beloved franchise and its beloved ballpark.

TO PRESERVE ALL THAT'S GOOD ABOUT FENWAY PARK AND TO TAKE THAT EXPERIENCE TO A HIGHER LEVEL

Theo Epstein welcomes Daisuke Matsuzaka to Boston, December 14, 2006.

While baseball is the Red Sox' highest priority, the club's new leadership has put great emphasis on improving Fenway Park and enhancing the experience at a ballgame. As a result of the success of the improvements, Henry, Werner, and Lucchino announced on March 23, 2005, that the club was formally committing to remain long-term at Fenway Park with "no strings attached." The news elicited congratulations, gratitude, and honors at the local, state, and federal levels.

The park, built in 1912, celebrates its 95th Anniversary in 2007.

In addition, the Red Sox promised to do their part to preserve and protect the neighborhoods around the park, from Kenmore Square through the Fenway to the Longwood Medical area. The triumphant announcement resulted from a series of improvements that began immediately after the purchase of the club.

Adding the expertise of architect Janet Marie Smith, who helped execute Lucchino's vision in the creation of Oriole Park at Camden Yards, the club has made Fenway Improvements each year, starting in 2002. The principles have been to add seats, shorten lines, increase amenities, improve information, and improve the facilities for players and staff.

Immediately after purchasing the club, the new leaders added 400 seats for Opening Day, 2002. They added 91 Bench seats, 149 Roof Box seats (82 on the first base side, 67 on the third base side), and 160 Dugout seats (80 on each side).

The club and concessions partner Aramark increased the points of sale for food and beverage from 57 to 67. They removed cumbersome, intrusive, and unfriendly wire fences inside Gates B and C. Later in the season, they added 11 more points of sale (78 total) on Yawkey Way.

A new venue, the Players Club, welcomed fans starting in the 7th inning, and season ticket holders found a home in a new dining venue that would later be named the Red Sox Hall of Fame Club presented by Volvo. The club also added a new lounge for players, an interview room for the media, and amenities in the press box. The Red Sox also painted, scrubbed, and cleaned the park, removing banners still heralding the 1999 All-Star Game and added new ones celebrating the 90th anniversary of baseball's oldest ballpark.

Starting September 5, the Yawkey Way Concourse, an expansion of the park onto the neighboring street, added 25,000 square feet, doubled the fans' space on the third base side, and cleared more metal clutter inside Gate A. Fans were able to enter via 30 turnstiles, up from 18. At that time, the club began opening the gates two hours before game time. The early opening eased the rush and allowed fans to watch Red Sox batting practice.

An array of new menu items on Yawkey Way included "El Tiante," authentic Cuban cuisine with the opportunity to meet Sox legend Luis Tiant. In addition to the great righthander, a former Red Sox player signed autographs for two hours before each game in Autograph Alley, using space liberated by the expansion. The club also added more ATMs and more restrooms for ladies, men, and families. Children also enjoyed games, entertainers, and musicians each day.

In addition to creating a Red Sox Hall of Fame (presented by Volvo) in the former Fenmore Room, the club paid tribute to the late Ted Williams by renaming the 600 Club the .406 Club.

In 2003, the club added 174 seats atop the fabled left field wall and drew rave reviews. Boston Magazine would later dub the Green Monster Seats as the best seats in Boston. The Red Sox added 87 Home Plate Seats on the field and 133 more Dugout Seats. Again, they converted standing room to seating room to maintain the existing capacity.

The Monster Seats were added for the 2003 season.

A new "Big Concourse" was introduced August 18, 2003, to the media and made its debut the next day. Fans found 25,000 more square feet beneath the center field bleachers and right field grandstand and enjoyed new menu options from new kitchens. The park's concession stands increased to 81, the width of the concourse doubled from 30 feet to 60 feet, and usable space between Gates B and C tripled.

The club added 26 new picnic tables, 23 round "stand up" tables, 16 televisions, approximately 100 restroom fixtures, six water fountains, three more ATMs, a Fan Services center, and a First Aid station with Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center. The spacious restrooms for men, women, and families appear to be the largest in Baseball.

Fans discovered more room inside Gate D when Aramark moved its offices to the "Laundry Building."

In addition, the scores of National League games returned to the manual scoreboard in left field after a 27-year absence, and a "Pitchers Board" and "Hitters Board" provided new electronic information from above and beyond the left-centerfield bleachers. The "Pitchers Board" provided the type of pitch, speed, pitch count, and other information, while the "Hitters Board" displayed appropriate "inside baseball" information, such as how a hitter has fared against a particular club, pitcher, or baseball situation. The two boards were sponsored by Fleet (now Bank of America), and flanked a single ad panel.

Right Field Roof Seats were introduced in 2004.

In 2004, the Red Sox created a new Fenway Park neighborhood, the Right Field Roof. Installing tables shaped like home plate that accommodate parties of four, the roof added 192 new seats and space for 250 standing room patrons. New amenities included unique menu items, such as baby back ribs, in-seat service, plus new restrooms, an open-air bar with televisions, and an elevator. The tables and standing room sold out within hours of going on sale.

Across the field, the club revamped the dank area beneath the third base seats. The refreshed Third Base Concourse added new concessions, restrooms, and space, just as the Big Concourse had done the year before. The space also featured new water fountains, new ATMs and a new port of entry, Gate E, at the corner of Lansdowne St. and Brookline Ave.

The Big Concourse opened in August 2003.

Adding new amenities for the Dugout Seat patrons, the club created the Crown Royal Club on the Third Base Concourse, a new dressing room for umpires, and new offices for the baseball operations staff.

Later in the season, the club introduced "RemDawg's on Yawkey," a concessions area featuring popular NESN analyst Jerry Remy. NESN moved its pre-game show to Yawkey Way as well, and a new pizza stand, Calzone Rossi (Red Sox in Italian) started serving slices. At the request of fans, bicycle racks were added on Van Ness St., and new street lights and trees were added to Van Ness St. and Yawkey Way.

In 2005, the Red Sox installed a new field. Complete with a sand-based drainage system, the field no longer had to be crowned, or curved, to help water travel to the sides. Instead, it could just seep into a system that allowed the field to remain playable far longer than before.

In addition, the Red Sox' clubhouse received a new, large weight room, a room for hydratherapy, a new coaches room that gave the players more room, and a larger interview room.

For fans, the club helped decongest the narrow walkway atop the grandstand seats on the first base side. The First Base Deck gave fans more room and added more concession stands to further reduce lines. Also, the deck doubled as the roof of the expanded the clubhouse.

For 2006, the club undertook its most ambitious set of improvements. The Red Sox broke the glass that had separated patrons in the .406 Club from the field, and divided the large venue into two open-air seating areas: the EMC Club below and the State Street Pavilion above.

The club also remodeled the pavilion level down the first-base line and third-base line, adding as many as five rows to an area that only had four.

The EMC Club and State Street Pavilion opened behind home plate for the 2006 season.

long endured by ushers, ticket takers, security staff, ball attendants, and mascots.

By mid-season, the club hopes to have a new restaurant and bar that abuts the center field gate.

In addition to the structural changes, the club has added new personal and ceremonial touches. On Opening Day, 2002, while Aerosmith star Steven Tyler, a friend of Henry, belted an inspiring national anthem, a new giant flag draped across the length of the Green Monster. Then, from behind the flag, emerged the Super Bowl champion New England Patriots, who marched in with their trophy, threw 25 simultaneous Ceremonial First Pitches to the entire Red Sox squad, and shook hands, hoping to bestow their championship karma on their baseball brothers.

Two days later, the Sox players greeted fans at the gates, a gesture of intimacy and goodwill appreciated by their adoring faithful.

The club added ceremonies to honor heroes and thrill children every game. From leaders of group outings to little fans shouting "Play Ball!" to cue the start of the game, the Red Sox used their sacred lawn to cast the spotlight on average citizens and community heroes.

The giant American flag draped across the Green Monster has been used on a number of special occasions.

Those citizens experienced another Fenway First June 16, 2002, when the club introduced a Fathers Day Catch at Fenway. While the club played in Atlanta, approximately 20,000 fans spent parts of their afternoon playing catch on the Fenway Park outfield grass. A tradition was born.

A little more than a month later, July 22, the club invited the public to Fenway to celebrate the life of Ted Williams, who had passed away July 5. During the day, fans quietly walked the warning track, admiring displays that illustrated not only his playing career, but his role as an American patriot and a pioneer in the development of the Jimmy Fund.

That evening, a crowd sat captivated by stories from teammates Johnny Pesky and Dom DiMaggio, comrades in war Sen. John Glenn and Jerry Coleman, protégés Carl Yastrzemski and Nomar Garciaparra, Jimmy Fund leaders and patients, and the long-time voices of the Red Sox, Ned Martin (who would ironically pass away the next day) and Ken Coleman (who would pass away the next year). Then an assembly of Red Sox alumni took the field, in their old positions, in their old uniforms, and gravitated to a left field flower display in the form of a Number 9. The players knelt and placed flowers as together, a community bade farewell to the greatest hitter that ever lived.

Through the summer, the club chose 25 Fenway Ambassadors from more than 3,500 applicants. Diverse in age and backgrounds but unified in their sensitivity to fans, the Ambassadors debuted September 5. This proactive, outbound goodwill force rides the T (creating a "Boston T Party"), greets fans at Kenmore Square, selects children for ceremonies, and stealthily bestows gifts upon unsuspecting, wide-eyed little ones.

Fans continued to enjoy the ambiance and experiences of Fenway Park even in the off-season. The club opened the doors each year on Halloween for Boston's children to "trick or treat" in safety and comfort, while Red Sox corporate partner Stop and Shop supplied the candy.

Less than two weeks later, the Red Sox celebrated Veterans Day, both at Fenway and in the community.

After each season, the Red Sox have organized a Holiday Caravan to area hospitals and schools, and welcomed children to Fenway for a Holiday Party.

Additional innovations in 2003 included players meeting fans in an On-Field Photo Day, a Mothers Day Walk in the Park, and baseball and softball clinics for boys and girls. Before each Friday home game, the club honored "Medical All-Stars," local physicians and scientists searching for cures for cancer and other diseases. In 2006, the club created an "MVT" program to honor the most valuable teachers in the eyes of students who submitted the award-winning essays.

The park has also attracted an array of America's top singers and musicians. In addition to Steven Tyler in 2002, the late Lou Rawls (national anthem) and the late Ray Charles (America the Beautiful) opened the 2003 season, and Boston's James Taylor delivered an anthem for the ages near the close of Opening Week. Stephen Stills, Huey Lewis and the News, Country star (and Holliston, MA native) Jo Dee Messina and the Eagles' Glenn Frey visited the park, as did Hollywood's Rob Reiner, Spike Lee, Ben Affleck, and Jennifer Lopez. In 2004, Saturday Night Live's Seth Myers made several visits, and former SNL star Jimmy Fallon spent many September days at Fenway with Drew Barrymore, as they used the location to shoot the Farrelly Brothers' popular film, "Fever Pitch." Guests have since included Jennifer Garner, Graham Nash, The Cowsills, the Kingston Trio, The Standells, The Dropkick Murphys, and members of the Beach Boys and the Bangles. From Boston's rich history of classical music, guests have included Maestros John Williams, Seiji Ozawa, Keith Lockart, and world-renowned cellist, Yo-Yo Ma.

Players have contributed to the enlivened ambiance as well. In 2003, Kevin Millar delivered a home video taped as a teenager of his singing and dancing to Bruce Springsteen's, "Born in the U.S.A." The humorous display brought fans to their feet and gave the Red Sox their version of Anaheim's Rally Monkey: Rally Karaoke Guy.

Ironically, the real, live version of the song would help launch another innovation at Fenway. Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band played the first ever rock concerts at Fenway September 6 and 7, 2003, capacity crowds of 36,298 each night. A year later, Jimmy Buffett added another pair of sold-out concerts September 10 and 12. In 2005, sold out Fenway rocked with the ageless Rolling Stones August 21 and 23, preceded by the Black-Eyed Peas, and in 2006, the Dave Matthews Band, preceded by Sheryl Crow, filled the park July 7 and 8.

Former players and personalities have played a key role as well. In 2005, the club named the left field pole "Fisk's Pole" to honor Carlton Fisk for his legendary home run in Game 6 of the 1975 World Series. On August, 28, 2005, Curt Gowdy made what he knew would be his last visit to Fenway. The crowd's ovation after hearing him speak and watching him circle the warning track in victory and gratitude warmed the coldest of souls. He died before the 2006 season.

In 2006, the club paid tribute to the 1946 and 1986 American League Champions, welcoming seven of the champs from 60 years ago as they circled the field in a pair of 1946 convertibles on Opening Day. Those would represent the farewells of beloved stars Charlie Wagner and Eddie Pellagrini, both of whom would pass away during the season.

After David Ortiz broke Jimmie Foxx's club HR record and tied Babe Ruth's league record for homers on the road, the club arranged to welcome Jimmie's daughter and Babe's granddaughter in ceremonies on the field.

On September 27, 2006, the club celebrated Johnny Pesky's 87th birthday by formally naming "Pesky's Pole," making official in right field that which had been the established vernacular for decades.

During the five seasons, fans have been treated to new music, old friends, pageantry, and theatrics, all part of a new ambiance and spirit.

Red Sox legend Johnny Pesky celebrates his 87th birthday as the "Pesky Pole" is officially dedicated, September 27, 2006.

TO MARKET AGGRESSIVELY TO A NEW, BROAD REGION

The third commitment of the ownership was to market the club aggressively to a new, broad region. The club, blessed with fans throughout New England, across the nation, and around the globe, engaged in programs to demonstrate that loyalty is a two-way street.

From January 24-31, 2003 the Fenway Ambassadors, Red Sox alumni, and current players rode through frigid and blizzard conditions to meet fans in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

The Red Sox Winter Caravans, now an annual tour, also paraded through Boston and other areas in Massachusetts in February, and culminated with the departure of the team's equipment truck from Fenway for Ft. Myers, February 10, 2003.

A Summer Caravan continued the outreach, this time with combinations of Henry, Werner, and Lucchino. The visits to each state included pomp and ceremony from elected officials and fans at public rallies, and personal interaction and financial contributions at children's group homes (formerly called orphanages) in each state.

In addition to the outbound visits, the club reprised an old tradition from the '50s with celebrations for each of the states, and for the children whom the club's owners had met at the homes.

The new owners also called for the labor-intensive process of personally answering fan mail and email from throughout the region. The individual attention enhanced the bonds of goodwill, prompting Lucchino's expression, "micromarketing."

In addition to the grass roots marketing, the club worked more closely with NESN, the booming New England voice that carries Red Sox games and programming to most of New England, and beyond.

Upon winning the World Series, October 27, 2004, the Red Sox received the long-awaited trophy, and immediately set out to share it with their fans. The Red Sox carried the grand symbol of faith rewarded to every state in New England, plus New York, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Washington, D.C.,

Florida, and the Dominican Republic. In addition, the club brought the trophy to each of the 351 cities or towns in Massachusetts.

Jimmy Fund Day—2004.

Along the road of the Trophy Tour, presented by the Massachusetts Lottery, another symbol of victory joined the celebration. "The Final Out Ball," the ball that ignited massive jubilation that still echoes, made many of the visits.

These caravans have brought the Red Sox, and a personal touch, to a new, broad region.

Since winning the World Series, the Red Sox have sought to assemble and count their fan base in an on-line program that invites members of Red Sox Nation to make their citizenship official via redsox.com. In 2005, more than 50,000 fans participated. In 2006, 37,500 joined.

TO BE ACTIVE PARTICIPANTS IN THE COMMUNITY

The new leadership of the Red Sox vowed to be active participants in the community, and has taken that outreach to new levels. Immediately after completing the purchase of the club February 27, 2002, the new ownership group established the Red Sox Foundation, and since then, has made disbursements of more than $18 million—in five years.

Chairman Tom Werner's idea generated $2 million in 2005. The club made three authentic World Series rings for fans whose names were drawn in a raffle. All 200,000 tickets were sold at $10 apiece.

The new leadership has focused its community and philanthropic efforts on four areas: health, education, athletics, and urban social issues.

The landmark health program is the Jimmy Fund, which in 2006 celebrated the 53rd anniversary of its partnership with the Red Sox. The club still devotes more than a million dollars in cash or value, including sponsorship of the Jimmy Fund's largest fundraiser, the Pan Mass Challenge. A 2002 innovation was WEEI's Radiothon, now an annual marathon on radio and television with NESN (and simplified to "Jimmy Fund Day").

Beyond the money, the Red Sox honor the doctors at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and the Jimmy Fund Clinic throughout each season. Hundreds of citizens who had earlier been treated at DFCI formed a giant 50 in center field on April 18, 2003, a living demonstration of the progress the physicians and scientists have made throughout the years.

On August 27, 2004, 25 doctors in their lab coats walked across the outfield grass to a standing ovation as the fans learned the type of cancer research each scientist was pursuing. That night was the third annual WEEI Radiothon, the second straight televised by NESN, and for the third straight year, the event set a record. After raising $325,000 in 2002 and $1 million in 2003, the event raised nearly $1.5 million in 2004.

On August 26, 2005, 25 nurses were the honorees, as again, the team came out to home plate to receive their pitches. And for the 4th straight year, Jimmy Fund Day set a record—this time more than $2.3 million. On August 18, 2006, “Jimmy Fund Day” featured nine survivors who took the field, played catch, and thanked donors for their amazing new total, $2,967,550.

Visits, both organized and impromptu, to the hospital by players and to the ballpark by patients also characterized the relationship, which Ted Williams helped pioneer.

The Red Sox created the centerpiece of their education efforts in 2003. On May 8, the club announced the Red Sox Scholars program, and on September 16, introduced 25 Boston 6th graders whose academic talent and financial background merit a $10,000 college scholarship (including the interest that accrues after they are selected), provided the students maintain good grades and citizenship.

The Red Sox Scholars were students in the Bell program (Building Educated Leaders for Life), an elementary academic enrichment program started by Earl Martin Phalen and chaired by Professor Charles Ogletree of Harvard Law School. Partners in the Red Sox Scholars program include Boston City Schools and Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, which provides medical mentors from their staff.

On June 9, 2004, the second class of Red Sox Scholars took the field, each with a player, as the Class of 2003 proudly welcomed them. On June 15, 2005, 25 more, the class of 2005, brought the number of scholars to 75. On June 9, 2006, the total reached 100.

The focus of the club’s recreation efforts are four community athletic programs. Rookie League introduces young children to baseball and the RBI League (Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities) does so for older children.

The club announced a new kind of league, the Boston Area Church League, August 8, 2002. Children play Saturday doubleheaders, often coached by their pastors with district attorneys as umpires. The Boston Police also volunteer in the program, which debuted August 10, 2002. Fleet Bank, World-Wide Multimedia, Inc., and the Hilton Hotels helped launch the program, which in 2006 completed its fifth season. A spin-off of the successful program also began in Springfield, MA.

Jonathan Papelbon and Larry Lucchino greet the 2006 Red Sox Scholars.

The fourth community athletic program was announced December 19, 2002. The club established Red Sox Children’s Retreats, weekend respites from asphalt and noise at the beautiful, tranquil Ron Burton Training Village created by the beloved patriarch and first player in the history of the New England Patriots. The respected philanthropist, who attended the press conference announcing the partnership, passed away September 13, 2003.

The Red Sox in 2004 made their landmark program regarding urban social issues the Dimock Community Health Center in Roxbury. With a $50,000 donation, Principal Owner John Henry initiated the partnership, and literally saved some of the key programs that help the youth of this and surrounding neighborhoods.

The step boldly accented the aggressive outreach in the communities of color that the club began pursuing immediately after the new leaders took over. Starting April 4, 2002, the Red Sox began meeting community leaders to demonstrate that Fenway’s doors were open and that all were invited. By the end of March, 2003, John Henry was honored as the Urban League of Eastern Massachusetts’ Man of the Year.

The club instituted a tradition by using the dual nature of January 31—both Jackie Robinson’s birthday and the eve of Black History Month—to provide an annual seminar that teaches children what they should learn—and teach—about the man who broke baseball’s color barrier. At the first seminar, in 2003, several hundred children listened to Roger Kahn, author of “The Boys of Summer” and a close friend of Jackie Robinson. Author and Boston Herald writer Howard Bryant emphasized that, thanks to Robinson, each child is able to dream of any job in the world. No limits, no ceilings. First base coach Dallas Williams described his appreciation for the road that Robinson had paved for him.

The fresh initiative inspired Massachusetts Senator John Kerry and Rep. Richard Neal to begin successful legislation in their respective Houses that resulted in Congress bestowing the Congressional Gold Medal to the family of the late Jackie Robinson. The ceremony, led by President Bush, took place in the Rotunda of the Capitol, March 2, 2005.

On January 31, 2004, the guests were the legendary Buck O’Neil, spry in his early 90s, and Sharon Robinson, Jackie’s daughter. The Red Sox purchased Sharon’s new book about her father, “Promises to Keep,” and distributed copies to 350 children.

On January 31, 2005, Senator Kerry and Rep. Neal spoke of the Congressional Gold Medal, and why Jackie Robinson is one of the few (300) American heroes to warrant the honor. Author Scott Simon and Robinson’s granddaughter, Sonya Pankey, gave additional perspectives.

On January 31, 2006, Congressman Neal returned, joined by former Red Sox star Tommy Harper, whose playing style emulated Robinson, and Robinson author and inspirational speaker Pat Williams.

On January 31, 2007, Jackie’s daughter Sharon returned to educate more children, and was joined by Tommy Harper and Dennis “Oil Can” Boyd, the fifth generation of professional baseball players in his family, but the first that was allowed to play Major League Baseball.

A key contributor to the series is American statesman George Mitrovich, President of the City Clubs of Boston, Denver, and San Diego. He also spearheaded the creations of the “Great Fenway Park Writers Series,” a periodic luncheon or dinner at Fenway featuring authors of books on baseball and non-baseball topics alike. From the late George Plimpton to Doris Kearns Goodwin, the array of writers has spanned the sports and literary spectrum.

The Red Sox’ enhanced Community Relations outreach has set records each year regarding appearances to foster player-fan interaction.

Year	Current Uniformed Staff	Alumni	Total
2003	250	202	452
2004	278	242	520
2005	300	282	582
	1266	1102	2368

The club has also helped accredited non-profit organizations more than 13,500 times in the five seasons non-profit organizations in New England (including a record 2,867 donations of items or experiences in 2004, a record 3,581 in 2005, and a record 3,673 in 2006).

The Red Sox Wives (and their husbands) also render tremendous services to the community. They created and sold two books for kids, “Fenway Park, A to Z,” in 2004, and “Fenway 1-2-3” in 2005. They also have produced a variety of events as a group and individually that have generated record amounts of food for the hungry, skin cancer awareness, and funds to fight diabetes, cancer, ALS, and abuse of women.

TO END THE CURSE OF THE BAMBINO AND WIN WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS FOR BOSTON, NEW ENGLAND, AND RED SOX NATION

In their third year at the helm, the leaders of the Red Sox achieved the ultimate goal. They broke the proverbial “Curse of the Bambino,” if it ever existed, and extinguished the suspense and frustration that had been a psychocivic phenomenon known throughout the world of sports.

The ultimate goal for any team any year, this commitment represents an understanding of the years, decades, and generations of anticipation of the club’s first World Championship since 1918.

Ironically, the Red Sox have had more winning seasons (34) starting with the Impossible Dream season of 1967 than any other major league club. The rest of the top five: New York Yankees, 32; Los Angeles, 29; Cincinnati, 25, and Baltimore, 24.

They’ve also won at least 90 games in 12 of those 40 years. And all the while, the fans pour into the little park in the Fens, express their passion in record numbers, and believe that this is the year. At last, in 2004, it was. And as that jubilant celebration still echoes years later, they watch with eager anticipation as their leaders cross the ocean to acquire talented players from lands far away—and to welcome fans from all over the world—and they know it is a new day.

The Red Sox annually celebrate the birthday of Jackie Robinson on January 31.

THE RED SOX FOUNDATION

The Red Sox Foundation is committed to harnessing the passion fans have for this team and the strength of Red Sox Nation to create powerful community partnerships that will improve the lives of children and families across New England. The Foundation's efforts are primarily focused on improving health, educational and recreational opportunities for children, as well as social service programs in urban neighborhoods.

Initially funded through generous donations from Principal Owner John Henry, Chairman Tom Werner, President/CEO Larry Lucchino and their generous partners, the Red Sox Foundation is the team's charitable commitment to this community. Additional support from Red Sox players, managers, coaches, their wives, and through funds raised through special events, including the "Welcome Home Dinner", "Picnic in the Park" and the team's annual raffle underscore the charitable bond shared by the Red Sox and our fans.

Over the past five years, the Red Sox Foundation generated more than $18 million in donations to hundreds of non-profit programs. Although a relatively new player on Boston's philanthropic scene, the Red Sox Foundation has quickly become not only the largest team sports foundation in New England, but in all of Major League Baseball.

The Red Sox Foundation is committed to supporting longstanding charitable partnerships like the Jimmy Fund, which supports breakthrough cancer research, and to creating new ones, such as the team's support for the life-changing work done at Dimock Community Health Center in Roxbury. The two other cornerstones of the team's charitable outreach include the Red Sox Scholars program, which provides college funds to 25 academically talented but economically challenged middle school students in the Boston Public schools, and the team's involvement with children in group homes, or what were once called orphanages, in each New England state.

The Foundation also funds the team's youth athletic programs, including the Red Sox Rookie and RBI Baseball Leagues, Red Sox Children Retreats for inner-city children at the Ron Burton Training Village in central Massachusetts and support for "Teddy Ebersol's Red Sox Fields" on Boston's famed Esplanade, a public youth baseball and soccer facility that opened in 2006 and was jumpstarted by a lead gift from Sox chairman Tom Werner.

The Red Sox Foundation has supported life-changing work at the Dimock Community Health Center.

as World Champions to raise funds for the team's nonprofit programs. The Red Sox Foundation's World Series Ring Raffle raised nearly $2 million in charitable funds, and three lucky winners were awarded a genuine World Series ring in honor of generations of loyal Red Sox fans who kept faith with the team.

The executive director of the Red Sox Foundation is Meg Vaillancourt, the club's Senior Vice President/Corporate Relations. For more information about the Red Sox Foundation, or to volunteer or make a donation, please visit us on the web at www.redsoxfoundation.org.

Johnny Pesky joins courageous youngster Kai Leigh Howard and her family at Fenway Park. Kai Leigh famously forgave the man who shot and paralyzed her with a stray bullet, inspiring people across the country with her maturity and sense of compassion.

Over the past three years, the Red Sox Foundation has won numerous awards for its innovative outreach and commitment to opening the doors of opportunity to children, ranging from The American Heart Association and the National Conference of Community and Justice to The Boston Bar Association and Boston Magazine. With the support of the team's owners, players and loyal fans, the Red Sox Foundation became the first team in baseball to use the most coveted symbol of their status

The 2006 Boston Red Sox—Team and Front Office

RED SOX OWNERSHIP

JOHN W. HENRY, Principal Owner

John W. Henry, an avid baseball fan, often refers to baseball as an “affair of the heart.” Known throughout the game as an involved and passionate owner, he believes the people of New England have always been and will always be the true owners of the Boston Red Sox. Mr. Henry views his role as a steward of New England’s beloved baseball team, charged with the responsibility on and off the field of ensuring the Red Sox continue to win World Championships while further enhancing the relationship between the community and the team.

The wonderful fulfillment of the dream to win Boston’s first World Series in 86 years in 2004 highlighted the stunning first four years for Mr. Henry and his partners.

The team captivated an adoring and faithful Red Sox Nation with the greatest comeback in baseball history, all the more satisfying after being heart-broken the previous year in Yankee Stadium when Aaron Boone ended a dramatic seven-game championship series to decide the pennant.

In 2004, the club that never quit, even when down three games to none to the archrival Yankees, won four straight—in breathtaking fashion—to capture the pennant, then four more in a row to sweep the St. Louis Cardinals and send millions into delirium. The achievement came less than a thousand days (973) after purchasing the club.

In 2005, the Red Sox reached the post-season for the third consecutive year, a first in the franchise’s rich 105-year history.

On December 20, 2001, the Boston Red Sox partners voted unanimously to sell 100 percent of the team’s interests to an investment group headed by Mr. Henry and Tom Werner. The Major League clubs approved the ownership transfer from the Yawkey Trust and limited partners January 16, 2002. The sale closed February 27, 2002.

Mr. Henry actively contributes to and collaborates with Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino on a variety of aspects of the baseball experience.

“Larry Lucchino is my role model when it comes to baseball executives. His track record is impeccable. His commitment and passion for excellence on the field, creating fan-friendly environments and setting standards for community involvement make our ownership of the Red Sox something I look forward to each day.

“Tom Werner and I are like brothers. We talk every day about ideas on how to improve everything from the New England Sports Network to the length of the grass on the field. We are blessed with an incredibly strong ownership group that loves the Red Sox.”

Henry not only set out to win multiple World Series, but to make sure the Red Sox were active participants in the community. As a result, the club’s community relations department has set records each of his five seasons as principal owner in the number of appearances arranged for players in the community, and the amount of authentic memorabilia donated to non-profit organizations in New England to help them raise funds.

Immediately after taking ownership, Mr. Henry and his partners founded – and funded – The Red Sox Foundation. “The Red Sox Foundation is now the largest of its kind in baseball, and it plays a key role in many areas of New England. The owners, staff and players of the Red Sox are working together to bring enlightened leadership and teamwork in relation to community efforts.”

Mr. Henry, along with current and former partners, have made donations or pledges of more than $18 million to the foundation, which focuses on health, education, recreation, and urban social issues.

With his passion and enthusiasm for baseball, Mr. Henry is accessible to the media and fans. He’s often seen moving throughout ballparks in Spring Training and during the regular season. He sits in many areas of Fenway Park, from the Bleachers to the Green Monster Seats to the seats near the dugouts, and often greets fans at the gate. That exposure and interaction helped inspire the improvements that have widened the concourses, reduced concession lines and augmented the restrooms at Fenway Park.

“I love to listen to and interact with fans,” Henry said. “Perhaps not every fan can identify with me, but I think I can identify with most of them because I’ve been a passionate baseball fan all my life. I know that even the best baseball team cannot win every night, but I want to make sure our fans win every night—that they enjoy as many aspects of our game, our tradition, and the Fenway experience as they can. If they don't, I want to know why and see what I can do to address their concerns immediately. It is the New England fans and their representative media that have created the romance, mystique and passion that we all feel when the words 'Boston Red Sox' are spoken."

Mr. Henry has garnered a wealth of experience—and eight championship rings—at three different levels in his 19 years (through 2006) in baseball at an ownership level. Prior to purchasing the Red Sox, he was chairman and sole owner of the Florida Marlins. He was also a limited partner of the New York Yankees, and was chairman and majority owner of the Tucson Toros of the Triple-A Pacific Coast League.

Mr. Henry also formed a co-ownership with Boca Raton, FL attorney Don Sider in the West Palm Beach Tropics of the Senior Professional Baseball League. The Tropics, managed by former Red Sox manager Dick Williams, posted a league-best 52-20 record in his one-year ownership, led by Hall of Famer Rollie Fingers and All-Stars Toby Harrah, Dave Kingman, Mickey Rivers and Al Hrabosky.

Mr. Henry is chairman of John W. Henry & Company, Inc. (JWH), which he founded in 1981. Located in Boca Raton, FL, JWH is currently among the largest alternative investment firms in the world, managing foreign exchange, financial futures and commodities for leading money center banks, brokerage firms, multi-national corporations, retirement funds and private clients worldwide. He has served on the Board of Directors of the Future Industry Association, National Association of Futures Trading Advisors (NAFTA) and the Managed Futures Trade Association. He is a recognized leader in alternative asset financial product innovation.

In early 2002, he and his family purchased a home in Boston. Born in Quincy, IL, John spent most of his childhood in Forrest City, AR, where his parents owned a farm. He was a dyed-in-the-wool baseball fan growing up, listening to St. Louis Cardinals broadcaster Harry Caray on the radio. At age 9, he saw his first major league game at Sportsman's Park in St. Louis—the very city where he would see his own Boston Red Sox celebrate in triumph after completing the greatest comeback in baseball history.

THOMAS C. WERNER, Chairman

In the five seasons that Tom Werner has been Chairman of the Boston Red Sox, the club has enjoyed unprecedented success. The club has advanced to post-season play three straight seasons for the first time in its history. The pinnacle, of course, was the 2004 World Championship that ended an 86-year drought. Red Sox fans have sold out 307 consecutive games at Fenway Park, the second longest streak in baseball history. And together with Principal Owner John W. Henry and President/CEO Larry Lucchino, Werner on March 23, 2005, announced that the Red Sox had committed to remain long term at America's Most Beloved Ballpark.

The saving of Fenway Park fulfilled a vision that made Werner and Les Otten unique among those who tried to purchase the club in late 2001.

Later joined by John Henry, this group was the only potential purchaser who was committed to saving the shrine from the wrecking ball.

Through the successful improvements resulting from major investments, brilliant ingenuity, and dogged persistence, the club's ownership group concluded that the park could, indeed, be preserved. As a result, the ballpark is on track to see its 100th anniversary in 2012. The oldest and smallest park in the majors would be the first ever to last 100 years.

A respected and veteran baseball owner for the past 17 years, Werner and the partners have helped lead the effort for a kinder, more fan-friendly atmosphere at the ballpark that has resonated with parents, grandparents, and children.

The Red Sox Foundation, established immediately after the purchase of the team, is another example of their leadership. Its charitable donations, after only five seasons, are the biggest in professional baseball, as the foundation gives away millions of dollars each year. Werner is particularly proud of his involvement in the Teddy Ebersol-Red Sox Fields, which commencing last spring is now used by thousands of children.

Werner, a member of the Television Academy Hall of Fame for his extraordinary achievements as a creator and producer of many groundbreaking series, has had baseball in his soul his entire life. He played the game during his childhood, coached his children in youth baseball and has attended countless major league games.

As a 17-year-old freshman at Harvard, Werner gave his heart to the ultimate underdogs, the Impossible Dream Red Sox of 1967. He has been a devoted follower of the Red Sox ever since.

For his visual studies class at Harvard, Werner created a documentary about Opening Day at Fenway Park, starting with the quiet, quaint park at rest, then exploding with the excitement of fans pouring into the ballpark. The education in film would lead to a rewarding career in television; the passion for the Red Sox and Fenway Park would later lead Werner to begin a quest to buy the team when it was offered for sale in 2001.

Werner is also an active contributor to Major League Baseball. He was appointed by Commissioner Selig in January of 2003 to serve on a special task force that examines and makes recommendations about Major League Baseball in the 21st century. Werner is one of only three owners in this select group, which also includes players as well as experts in academia, marketing and business. He was also appointed to the Board of Major League Baseball Enterprises, which has oversight over national media arrangements as well as Major League Baseball Properties.

In addition to these responsibilities, Werner takes great pride in his contributions to the success of the New England Sports Network. Most people in the television industry now regard NESN to be one of the strongest sports channels in the country, as it televises almost 300 live events each year, including Red Sox and Bruins games. Since 2001, NESN has more than doubled the amount of original programming it airs.

Werner's entry into Major League Baseball came in 1990 when he led a group that purchased the San Diego Padres. He served baseball on the national level as a member of the Executive Council and Chairman of the Television Committee. As such, he was a key force in establishing one of the most crucial innovations in baseball history — the Wild Card, the very element that enabled the Boston Red Sox, years later, to win their first World Championship since 1918.

Werner feels that the relationship between the ballclub and Red Sox fans is the most special in all of baseball. Amid the clubhouse pandemonium that occurred after the final game in St. Louis, Werner remembered the generations of fans who had yearned for such a day.

"This victory is dedicated to countless fans who have said to John, Larry, and me that they just want to live long enough to see one championship in their lifetime. And it is dedicated to all the former Red Sox players upon whose shoulders this 2004 club was carried."

Werner recalled the comment Ted Williams uttered: "If they ever won it, I would feel so damn warm inside."

Embodying the values of integrity and quality, Werner (born April 12, 1950) has already achieved a lifetime of accolades in the television business. He and his partner Marcy Carsey have helped create such hits as "The Cosby Show," "A Different World," "Roseanne," "Third Rock from the Sun," "Cybill," "Grace Under Fire" and "That '70s Show."

Earlier, while working for ABC television, Werner and Carsey saw Robin Williams in a comedy club and launched his career in "Mork and Mindy." Werner also oversaw the development of "Bosom Buddies," which started the career of Tom Hanks; "Soap," which started the career of Billy Crystal; and "Taxi," which started the careers of Tony Danza and Danny DeVito.

Werner has also received the Lifetime Achievement Award from the Producers Guild of America. His company has garnered 24 Emmy Awards, 11 People's Choice Awards and numerous Golden Globes, Humanitas Prizes and Peabody Awards.

In 2000, Werner and his longtime partners Marcy Carsey and Caryn Mandabach, joined forces with Geraldine Laybourne and Oprah Winfrey to start Oxygen, a 24-hour cable channel serving the modern woman. Oxygen is one of the fastest growing cable networks ever, now in almost 65,000,000 homes.

Werner spends much of the year in Boston, where he maintains a residence. He has served on a number of boards, including the White House Fellows Commission, and he is presently on the board of The Crossroads School and the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

LARRY LUCCHINO, President/CEO

Larry Lucchino was named President/CEO of the Red Sox at the closing of the purchase of the team in February, 2002. Previously President/CEO of the Baltimore Orioles (1988-93) and the San Diego Padres (1995-01), Lucchino is a veteran of 27 years in Major League Baseball. With the Red Sox, Lucchino manages the franchise on a day-to-day basis with the active involvement of, and in collaboration with, Principal Owner John W. Henry and Chairman Tom Werner.

He has won rings with each franchise. The Orioles won the 1983 World Series, the Padres won the 1998 pennant, and the Red Sox of course won the 2004 World Championship in remarkable fashion to end an 86-year drought.

In his 17 full seasons as a President/CEO, his clubs have a winning record of 1,430-1,305 (.522), have reached post-season play five times (1996, 1998, 2003, 2004, 2005), have won two pennants, and one World Series. In those 17 years, attendance has improved over the previous year 12 times and the franchises have set club attendance records 10 times, including the last 5 straight years.

Lucchino is the first President/CEO to win pennants for two different franchises—let alone in two different leagues—since Hall of Fame executive Larry MacPhail more than 50 years ago with the Brooklyn Dodgers (1941) and the New York Yankees (1947). They are the only two to have done so. (Al Rosen won pennants as President/CEO of the Yankees in 1978 and as President of the San Francisco Giants in 1989, but Bob Lurie was the Giants' CEO. Dave Dombrowski won pennants as GM of the Florida Marlins in 1997 and President/GM of the Detroit Tigers in 2006.)

In addition to running championship franchises and setting attendance marks, Lucchino has earned a legacy for creating ballparks that have transformed the structures' role in the fan experience, influence on franchise value, and place in the community.

His vision for Oriole Park at Camden Yards, a traditional old-fashioned downtown ballpark with modern amenities, ushered in an era of revolutionary ballpark architecture and ambiance responsible in part for the game's resurgence since 1992.

He also had the vision for the ballpark that saved baseball in San Diego. Petco Park, designed to look and feel like San Diego, was approved in a 1998 landslide vote on Proposition C, a campaign that Lucchino spearheaded. As much as the Padres needed a ballpark, the city needed a catalyst to redevelop an under-utilized 26-block area in the city's downtown. As promised, a ballpark revitalized a key neighborhood, as it had done in Baltimore (and, subsequently, in other cities). The entire design of the park was completed in August, 2001, and construction was well underway when Lucchino left the Padres after the 2001 season and joined John Henry and Tom Werner in a successful effort to purchase the Red Sox, announced on December 20, 2001.

While every other group that sought to purchase the Red Sox advocated a replacement for venerable Fenway Park, the group led by Henry, Werner, and Lucchino was the only one that committed itself to save—and improve—America's most beloved ballpark. The ownership group officially formalized its commitment to keep Fenway Park long term on March 23, 2005.

Lucchino has overseen the successful additions at Fenway Park of Green Monster Seats, the Right Field Roof Seats, Dugout Seats, the Yawkey Way Concourse, the Big Concourse, the Third Base Concourse, the First and Third Base Decks, the EMC Club, and the State Street Pavilion. These and other well-received innovations enhanced the fans' experience while respecting the integrity of the historic park and the surrounding neighborhood.

While setting attendance records with all three franchises, Lucchino has made his mark in the cutting-edge marketing of baseball. His efforts at regionalization in Baltimore expanded the Orioles' fan base from 2 million to 6 million. In his 14 years with the Orioles, the season ticket base increased from 1,600 to 28,000 plus a 13,000-person waiting list.

In his seven years with the Padres, the season ticket base more than doubled from 5,081 to 12,380 through 2000. Under his leadership, the Padres recorded their top four all-time attendance figures at Qualcomm Stadium in his last four years there (1998-2001).

In his five seasons in Boston, the club has set franchise records each year, and has now sold out 307 straight games starting May 15, 2003. The streak broke the previous club record of 65, and is now second-longest in the history of Major League Baseball.

Each of the three franchises he has served as chief executive has established a charitable foundation during his tenure (The Orioles Foundation, The Padres Foundation, and The Red Sox Foundation). Under his leadership, each franchise has re-invigorated its philanthropy, its community

Lucchino's passion for ballparks is rivaled by his drive for baseball's internationalization. He pioneered a ground-breaking relationship in Japan in 1997 with the Chiba Lotte Marines, and he arranged the effort to play Major League Baseball's first regular season games in Mexico (1996) and Hawaii (1997). He established baseball's first International Opening Day in Monterrey, Mexico in 1999, and was an early, active supporter of the World Baseball Classic. He also serves on Major League Baseball's International Committee.

He has served on MLB's Restructuring Committee, the American League's Cable Television Committee, and as Chairman of the Player Development Contract Negotiations Committee. He was a member of the Realignment Committee and the Commissioner's Blue Ribbon Task Force on Baseball Economics, which released its recommendations for attacking the game's economic and competitive balance issues in July, 2000.

Born in Pittsburgh, Lucchino was an All-City League basketball player and a second baseman on the Pittsburgh city championship baseball team at Taylor Allderdice High School. He graduated with honors from Princeton University and is a graduate of the Yale Law School. At Princeton, he was a member of two Ivy League championship basketball teams.

In 1974, he joined Williams and Connolly, the law firm founded by his mentor, friend, legendary sportsman and trial attorney Edward Bennett Williams. He became a partner in 1978 and specialized in sports law and litigation. He was general counsel to the Washington Redskins, of which Williams was president and part owner, and was a member of the Redskins Board of Directors from 1979 to 1985. When EBW bought the Orioles on August 2, 1979, Lucchino became vice president/general counsel. EBW named him president in May, 1988, to rebuild the club's baseball and business operations. He was an owner of the Orioles from 1989 until the club was sold at the end of the 1993 season, and of the Padres from December, 1994 to 2002.

The avid sportsman has the unique distinction of earning World Series rings (Orioles, '83; Red Sox, '04), a Super Bowl ring (Redskins, '83), and a Final Four watch (Princeton, '65). Lucchino has been active in numerous civic and charitable efforts in Baltimore, San Diego, and Boston, with particular involvement in the research and treatment of cancer. He is married to Stacey Johnson Lucchino, and has two stepchildren, Davis (17) and Blair (15).

RED SOX VICE CHAIRMEN

DAVID I. GINSBERG, Vice Chairman

David Ginsberg became Vice Chairman of the Red Sox upon the closing of the sale, February 27, 2002. He principally provides advice to Principal Owner John Henry, Chairman Tom Werner and President/CEO Larry Lucchino on business and financial issues and heads up the finance committee of the NESV board. He had previously been Vice Chairman of the Florida Marlins starting in 1999. Ginsberg is also Vice Chairman of New England Sports Ventures (NESV), the holding company that owns the Boston Red Sox and the interest in New England Sports Network (NESN), and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Red Sox Foundation.

Ginsberg is the Managing Director of the Special Opportunities Group at Tudor Investment Corp., an investment management company. He served as the special advisor to the chairman and as a director at John W. Henry & Company (JWH) beginning in 1999 until June 2002. Before joining the Marlins and JWH, Ginsberg was a private investor and consultant. At Global Asset Management (GAM) in London, he started and served as the managing director of the Multi-Manager Group, one of the largest multi-advisor groups specializing in hedge funds, from its inception in 1989 until 1995. Prior to joining GAM, he was vice president in charge of the Mergers and Acquisitions Advisory Group at the National Westminster Bank USA, where he began his career as a corporate lender in 1981.

A native of Winthrop, MA, he graduated from The Northfield Mount Hermon School and received a B.A. from Kenyon College. He later received an M.B.A. with a concentration in finance from the Boston University Graduate School of Management.

PHILLIP H. MORSE, Vice Chairman

Phillip Morse was named Vice Chairman in 2004. He has been a partner in the Boston Red Sox since 2002.

Morse grew up in Danvers, MA and has two brothers living in the Boston area.

He attended the University of Maine, played baseball for the Black Bears, and graduated in 1964. Upon his graduation, Morse took a position in Boston with Liberty Mutual Insurance Company. He left Liberty Mutual in late 1966 to work in sales for a Glens Falls based small medical device company.

In 1969, Mr. Morse founded North American Instrument Corporation, a company focused on the development, manufacturing and sales of the first transparent fluid delivery system for coronary angiography, the Morse Manifold. By 1994, the firm had grown into NAMIC U.S.A. Corporation, an 800-employee designer and manufacturer of a wide array of medical devices for interventional cardiology and radiology. NAMIC made an initial public offering in 1991, and established operations in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico in 1992 and in the Republic of Ireland in 1993. Morse served as NAMIC's Chairman until its sale to Pfizer, Inc. in 1995. Today, NAMIC U.S.A. is a member of the Boston Scientific family and after more than 30 years, the Morse Manifold continues to be used in more than 70 percent of all cardiac catheterization procedures.

After retiring from NAMIC in 1995, Mr. Morse founded Heritage Creations, Inc., a group of companies dedicated to providing premium quality products and services to premier private, public and resort golf courses, clubs and golf pro shops worldwide.

Mr. Morse has recently retired from the board of directors of Evergreen Bank, a division of Banknorth, N.A., and was a former director of The Business Council of New York State, Inc. He is a generous contributor to numerous medical, athletic and educational charities, having made a gift of an artificial turf stadium field to the University of Maine at Orono. In a combined effort with Mr. Harold Alfond, a former Red Sox partner, the University of Maine now has an outstanding athletic facility in which to play football, soccer and lacrosse. Three years ago, Mr. Morse turned 43 acres of woodlands in Glens Falls, NY into an athletic complex with a field house, nine tennis courts, two baseball fields, three softball fields, four fields for soccer and lacrosse and donated it to Glens Falls High School.

The Morses have three married daughters, all of whom live and work in Boston and surrounding communities and they divide their time between Boston, Lake George, NY and Jupiter, FL.

THE BOSTON RED SOX MISSION STATEMENT

The Boston Red Sox organization is dedicated to fulfilling five fundamental commitments to Red Sox fans and New England residents:

1. To field a team worthy of their support, with players whose performance and conduct will make them proud.
2. To preserve all that is good about the Fenway Park experience and to take that experience to new levels of warmth and hospitality.
3. To market aggressively and creatively the Red Sox throughout Boston, the Commonwealth, and all of New England.
4. To be active participants in the community in terms of charitable and philanthropic activities.
5. To bring World Championships to Boston and New England.

RED SOX CLUB EXECUTIVES

MIKE DEE, Chief Operating Officer

Mike Dee was named Red Sox Chief Operating Officer March 7, 2004, less than 2 years after he joined the club as Executive Vice President/Business Affairs on July 15, 2002. Dee oversees the club's day-to-day business operations and is responsible for growing and developing the team's revenue streams.

Dee has played an instrumental role in virtually all key business initiatives, including the club setting all-time attendance records in each of the last four seasons and directing a dramatic increase in corporate sponsorship and marketing activities. In his four-plus years with the Red Sox, Dee has spearheaded the business implementation and integration of Fenway Park improvements such as the Green Monster Seats, the EMC Level, the State Street Pavilion and the Big Concourse expansion. Additionally, Dee has worked on a wide range of innovative business ventures, including leading the club's real estate activities, bringing concerts to Fenway Park, enhancing the game-day operations of the Red Sox staff and improving the quality of concessions and service through his work with concessionaire ARAMARK. Dee also led the way in negotiating the club's new 10-year radio broadcast rights agreements with Entercom.

Beyond his responsibilities in Boston, Dee negotiated a 15-year lease extension in 2004 to keep the Red Sox in their Spring Training home at City of Palms Park in Lee County, FL. Dee currently oversees all Spring Training business development, and governmental relations and has been instrumental in the City of Palms Park improvements including dugout and home plate seats, an expansion of the Red Sox Baseball Store and the new Right Field Deck which will open in the spring of 2007.

In addition to his role with the Red Sox, Dee serves as President of the Fenway Sports Group (FSG), a sports marketing and consulting firm wholly owned by New England Sports Ventures, the parent company of both the Red Sox and 80 percent of NESN. Formed in March, 2004, FSG has been involved in a wide variety of marketing initiatives throughout the world of sports. Most recently, FSG acquired a 50% stake in Roush Racing, one of the premier racing teams in NASCAR and winners of the 2003 and 2004 Nextel Cup. The newly formed alliance, Roush-Fenway Racing, will have 5 cars in NASCAR competition beginning in 2007. FSG also holds exclusive sponsorship and media rights for Boston College athletics and the Deutsche Bank Championship PGA Tour Event in Boston. Additionally, FSG works closely with Major League Baseball Advanced Media (MLBAM) on the marketing of a variety of online assets including mlb.com and the 30 MLB team web sites.

Beyond his responsibilities with the Red Sox and FSG, Dee is active in a number of community endeavors. Most notably, he serves on the Board of Directors of the Pan-Mass Challenge, the nation's largest athletic fundraiser, which has raised more than $170 million for the Jimmy Fund since its inception in 1980. He is an active member of the Red Sox PMC cycling team, "Team 9," which rides in the event each year.

Prior to his tenure with the Red Sox, Dee spent eight seasons with the San Diego Padres. Before leaving the club as Executive Vice President/Business Affairs, Dee helped guide a dramatic increase in revenue and helped the Padres earn an industry-wide reputation for innovative marketing. He also played a key role working with Larry Lucchino to build support for the Padres' new downtown ballpark, Petco Park, including negotiating new long-term concession and television agreements.

Before joining the Padres, Mike spent 10 years with Ramer Equities, the last four in his native Baltimore as national sales director of Bruning Paint Company, a Ramer holding.

Dee currently serves on the Board of Directors of Scott Paint, Co. of Sarasota, FL and On-Guard of Havre de Grace, MD, both Ramer holdings.

Mike also serves on the Leadership Council at his alma mater, Franklin and Marshall College in Lancaster, PA, where he played basketball and earned a degree in government in 1985.

Mike and his wife Karen make their home in Wellesley, MA with sons Spencer (7) and Tommy (4).

THEO EPSTEIN, Executive Vice President/General Manager

Theo Epstein is in his fifth season as General Manager of the Boston Red Sox and oversees the club's entire baseball operation. Epstein became the youngest individual in baseball history appointed to that position at the age of 28 years, 11 months on November 25, 2002. Two years later, at age 30, he became the youngest General Manager ever of a World Championship team.

The last four years have brought unprecedented success to the organization. In that span, the Red Sox have posted a .577 winning percentage (374-274), second best among the 30 major league teams, and advanced to post-season play in three consecutive seasons for the first time ever.

In Epstein's first winter on the job, the club signed David Ortiz, Bill Mueller, Kevin Millar and Mike Timlin to help bring the 2003 Red Sox within five outs of the World Series in 2003. The next winter, the club acquired Curt Schilling and Keith Foulke before Epstein reshaped the roster on July 31, 2004 with the trade of Nomar Garciaparra and the acquisition of Dave Roberts. After the deadline deals, the Red Sox went 42-18 for the rest of the regular season and 11-3 in the post-season to win its first World Series title since 1918. Boston returned to the playoffs in 2005 before injuries derailed the 2006 club that held first place as late as August 2.

A steadfast commitment to scouting and player development has been the key component in ensuring continued success on the major league level. In the 2003 draft, Epstein's first, the Red Sox selected righthander Jonathan Papelbon in the fourth round. The club selected Dustin Pedroia in the second round of the 2004 draft, and the 2005 and 2006 drafts were named second-best and best, respectively, in all of Major League Baseball by Baseball America.

The organization's talent on the minor league level was also evident in 2006 as three of Boston's six farm teams advanced to post-season play. The Portland Sea Dogs (Eastern League) and Gulf Coast Red Sox (Gulf Coast League) provided the Red Sox with two minor league championships for the first time since 1979.

The Red Sox have continued to expand their international scouting efforts from Latin America to the Far East and beyond. A pair of veteran pitchers from Nippon Professional Baseball, Daisuke Matsuzaka and Hideki Okajima will make their major league debuts with Boston in 2007.

Epstein, 33, is in his 16th season in Major League Baseball, his sixth with the Red Sox. He was appointed Boston's Assistant General Manager in March 2002 after five seasons with the San Diego Padres baseball operations department, most recently as Director of Baseball Operations. He was also a member of the Padres Communications department in 1995-96 and began his baseball career as a summer intern for the Baltimore Orioles in 1992-94.

A graduate of Yale University and the University of San Diego Law School, Epstein was honored as the Major League Executive of the Year by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America in 2003 and 2004.

In the spring of 2005, Theo and his brother Paul launched The Foundation To Be Named Later (FTBNL). A branch of the Red Sox Foundation, the FTBNL's mission is raising funds and awareness for non-profit agencies in the Greater Boston area serving disadvantaged youth.

(1) GM position was eliminated in 1961-62. Executive VP of Business and Baseball Operations Dick O'Connell assumed the role.

(2) Higgins was Executive Vice President in charge of baseball while O'Connell maintained oversight of the business side. O'Connell was named General Manager on September 16, 1965 when Higgins resigned.

(3) Port was named interim General Manager on February 28, 2002.

(4) Epstein left the Red Sox from October 21, 2005-January 19, 2006. Cherington and Hoyer were named co-General Managers on December 12, 2005 and served in that capacity until Epstein's return.

DR. CHARLES A. STEINBERG, Executive Vice President/Public Affairs

Dr. Charles Steinberg joined the Boston Red Sox as Executive Vice President/Public Affairs March 1, 2002 after holding a similar position with the San Diego Padres, for whom he had worked the previous seven years. Steinberg began his career spending 19 years with the Baltimore Orioles.

He has now earned four championship rings—for the 1979 American League pennant with Baltimore, the 1983 World Championship with Baltimore, the 1998 National League pennant with San Diego, and the 2004 World Championship with the Red Sox.

He has worked with Red Sox President/CEO Larry Lucchino since Lucchino joined the Orioles in 1979.

In his five seasons in Boston, Steinberg has been a creative force in the franchise's fan-friendly attitude, warm hospitality, and ceremonies, special events, and marketing.

Responsible for the fan's experience at Fenway Park and for the Red Sox' relationship with the community, Steinberg oversees the club's communication, good will, and fan relationships. These areas include public and community relations, electronic and live entertainment, television and video production, and advertising and customer service.

Among his responsibilities and innovations with the Red Sox are the Opening Day ceremonies (including the presentation of the championship rings in 2005), players greeting fans at the gates, the Father's Day Catch at Fenway, the Tribute to Ted Williams, the Fenway Ambassadors program, as well as community events on September 11, Halloween, Veterans Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, the birthdays of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Jackie Robinson, and Valentine's Day.

In the community, Steinberg has helped re-energize the club's record-setting efforts, creating the Red Sox Scholars program ($5,000 college scholarships for 100 Boston middle schoolers since starting in 2003), the Boston Area Church League, and Red Sox Children's Retreats at the Ron Burton Training Village.

With the Padres, Steinberg had similar responsibilities and was a contributor to San Diego's successful campaign to build franchise-saving Petco Park. He also created the Padres Scholars, a similar scholarship program that now has more than 300 students, many of them now college graduates.

Steinberg won an Emmy Award for his television production of the story of the 1998 National League Champion Padres, and a Telly Award for the video of the 1989 Orioles.

On the field, Steinberg orchestrated the finale of Baltimore's Memorial Stadium in 1991, the opening of Oriole Park at Camden Yards in 1992, and the ceremonies surrounding the 1993 All-Star Game. He also started the planning of Cal Ripken's "Streak Week" festivities, and created the celebration of the career of future Hall of Famer Tony Gwynn in 2001.

The Baltimore native's baseball career began at age 17 with an internship from Gilman School arranged with the Orioles' Jack Dunn III, grandson of the man who first signed Babe Ruth.

He was Hall of Fame Manager Earl Weaver's statistician six years and continued that position with manager Joe Altobelli through the Orioles' World Championship season of 1983.

Steinberg created the Orioles' first video production department in 1985, first customer service department in 1993, and ultimately headed its public relations department.

He worked for the Orioles while earning his undergraduate degree from the University of Maryland and his doctorate from Maryland's dental school, and continued his front office work while also assuming the role of team dentist. In 1982, he became a founding and charter member of the Academy for Sports Dentistry. An amateur musician and songwriter, Steinberg served on the board of the San Diego Symphony and performed "Take Me Out to the Ballgame" on the Fenway Park organ during Jimmy Buffett's concerts in 2004. He was part of group that sang on the Dropkick Murphy's hit song, "Tessie," and appeared with Drew Barrymore in the Farrelly Brothers' hit film, "Fever Pitch." He is now on the board of the Boston chapter of the Anti-Defamation League and is on the Advisory Board of the Urban League of Eastern Massachusetts.

LAWRENCE C. CANCRO, Senior Vice President/Fenway Affairs

Larry Cancro has served as Senior Vice President/Fenway Affairs since 2003. The veteran of 29 years in Major League Baseball, including 23 years with the Red Sox, is responsible for the club's relationships with the businesses in the Fenway neighborhood, the securing of recording artists such as Bruce Springsteen, The Rolling Stones, Dave Matthews and Jimmy Buffett for concerts at Fenway along with the operational details associated with that endeavor, and consultation with the Ballpark Planning and Development Department on Fenway Park improvements. Additionally, Cancro works with civic and government groups to ensure open dialogue between the club and members of the community.

Prior to his promotion, Cancro was Vice President of Sales and Marketing since January 1996. He joined the Red Sox in February of 1985 as director of marketing and became Vice President of Marketing in February of 1990.

During Cancro's tenure in sales and marketing, the Red Sox set six club season attendance records, and attendance increased from the previous season 13 times. Cancro introduced to the Red Sox new sales technology such as the 24-hour touch-tone telephone ordering (the first of its kind in pro sports) and real time internet ordering service. He helped start the Friendly Fenway fan program and expanded fan food options at Fenway. He was a member of the Red Sox 1999 All-Star Game Task Force and was instrumental in creating the mascot, Wally the Green Monster™.

Cancro is a member of the board of directors of the Greater Boston Conventions and Visitors Bureau and serves as chairman of the sports advisory committee for that organization. He was awarded the Convention Bureau's Spirit of Appreciation Award for his efforts in attracting sports-related conventions and tourism to Boston such as the Baseball Winter Meetings and the National Sports Forum. He is on the Sports Advisory Council for Franklin Pierce College. He, along with his wife Luise, co-chair the Parent's Committee at Assumption College. He has served on the Jimmy Fund Long Range Planning Committee. He is currently on the steering committee for The Greater Boston Association for Individuals with Cognitive and Developmental Disabilities. He was honored as GBARC Man of the Year in November 2004. He is also the Vice President of the New England Chapter Autism Speaks and served on the National Board of Directors for three years. He is a member of the Board of Directors for Melmark-New England, a private, not-for-profit, community-based organization dedicated to serving children and adolescents who have a history of challenging clinical, educational, behavioral and health needs. In the spring of 2006 he was honored with the "Spirit of Compassion" award by the Massachusetts Association for Mental Health, Inc. He currently serves on the Board of Visitors for the Boston University Medical School. The Pirandello Lyceum of Massachusetts has recognized him with the "I Migliori Award" in 2007.

Cancro served Governors Weld and Cellucci on the Governor's Sports Advisory Council. He was a member of the board of the Massachusetts Sports Partnership and currently serves on the Executive Council of the Mass Sports and Entertainment Commission. He was on the Boston Host Committee for World Cup Soccer and the 1996 Olympic Gymnastics Trials Advisory Committee. He was on the Board of Advisors for the Local Organizing Committee for the 1998 NCAA Division I Ice Hockey Final Four. He has been a member of Massachusetts Organization Vying for the Industry of Entertainment (M.O.V.I.E.) and was chairman of the marketing committee of the Massachusetts Sports Partnership. Currently, he serves on both the Board of Directors and the Executive Committee of the Massachusetts Sports and Entertainment Commission. Cancro has served on both MLB's Marketing Advisory Committee and Advertising Advisory Committee. He served as chairman of MLB's Research Committee and on MLB's Licensing Committee from 1982-85.

In February, 1999 Cancro was a panelist at the Smithsonian Institution for a special program entitled "The Minor Leagues - An Appreciation." He was a featured speaker at a symposium on branding in sports for "Strategy and Business" magazine. He has also been a speaker at the International Sports Summit and the National Sports Forum.

Born in New York City, Cancro graduated from Tuckahoe High School in Eastchester, NY, where he was raised. He graduated from Boston University with a B.A. in psychology. In 1978 he began his career in pro baseball as an assistant general manager for the Eastern League Jersey Indians, Double-A affiliate of the Oakland A's. He joined the Atlanta Braves as a sales representative in 1979, and in 1981, was promoted to group sales manager. In 1983 he was named director of merchandise operations and was responsible for creating baseball's first mail-order catalog of team merchandise. Larry resides in Andover, MA with his wife, Luise, and their daughters Laura Marie and Lisa.

SAM KENNEDY, Senior Vice President/Sales and Marketing

Sam Kennedy was promoted to Senior Vice President/Sales and Marketing in 2005 after joining the club as VP/Corporate Partnerships on March 25, 2002. The Brookline, MA native was among the first executives that Red Sox President/CEO Larry Lucchino brought with him from the San Diego Padres, for whom Kennedy had worked six years. Since joining the Red Sox, Kennedy and his staff have increased sponsorship revenue by more than 250 percent, premium licensing revenue by 160 percent and the season ticket base by 30 percent. The club has sold out 307 consecutive games at Fenway Park since May 2003, and has set attendance records in each of the past five seasons. Beyond the numbers, Kennedy has been a key contributor to the club's revitalized marketing effort. For example, the popular giant flag that drapes the Green Monster on special occasions was his idea.

Kennedy oversees sponsorship (sales and service) and tickets (sales, operations and service). In 2003, he helped conceive and execute the successful sales and marketing plan for the new "Legends Suite" at Fenway Park, the Dugout Seats innovation, and new tasteful advertising positions above the Green Monster. In 2004 Kennedy secured a long term partnership with Anheuser-Busch that was instrumental in the creation of the new Right Field Roof seats at Fenway. In 2005 he was charged with developing the sales and marketing plan for the new club seats at Fenway Park set that debuted in 2006. Kennedy also secured long term naming rights deals for the EMC Club and the State Street Pavilion at Fenway Park. He also serves as Chairman of the Boston Red Sox Diversity Committee and the club's marketing liaison to Major League Baseball.

In an effort to diversify New England Sports Ventures' business interests, Kennedy helped create Fenway Sports Group in March 2004 with his longtime colleague, Mike Dee. Dee and Kennedy have built FSG into a well respected national sports marketing agency in just over two years. Kennedy has assisted in recruiting and hiring all senior FSG executives as well as taken on responsibility for all sales related to FSG's properties (including Boston College Athletics, Major League Baseball Advanced Media, the Deutsche Bank Championship and consulting services). Additionally he works with Dee on all day-to-day business operations, including budgeting and the long-term strategic plan for the company.

Prior to joining the Red Sox, Kennedy was the Padres' Executive Director/Corporate Partnerships and Broadcasting. Originally hired as an account executive in 1996, he tripled sponsorship revenues from 1996-2001. Kennedy oversaw the sale of signage at Qualcomm Stadium (home of the Padres, Chargers, Super Bowl XXXII and other events), virtual advertising, promotional programs, broadcast media and print advertising. He also played an integral role in securing financing and developing the sales and marketing strategy for the Padres' new downtown ballpark, Petco Park, conceived by Larry Lucchino. Before joining the Padres, he sold radio advertising for WFAN 660AM and WABC 770AM in New York.

Sam attended Trinity College in Hartford, CT, where he played baseball and earned a degree in American Studies in 1995. At Brookline High, he was a classmate and baseball teammate of colleague Theo Epstein. In 2004 Kennedy was sworn in as a board member on the Massachusetts Governor's Committee for Physical Fitness and Sports. Sam and his wife of eight years, Amanda, reside in Wellesley, MA with their three-year-old son, Jimmy and two-year-old daughter, Ally.

JANET MARIE SMITH, Senior Vice President/Planning and Development

Janet Marie Smith was named Senior Vice President/Planning and Development in 2005. She served as Vice President of Planning and Development for the Red Sox, since 2002, when the Henry-Werner Group purchased the franchise. She directs the renovation and area planning for Fenway Park, the oldest ballpark in the major leagues. Built in 1912, Fenway's future stood uncertain until the Henry, Werner, Lucchino ownership took over the franchise with a stated goal of saving the venerable Fenway Park. Since 2002, the team has added capacity, created space for fan amenities, and improved infrastructure and amenities in the ballpark and along surrounding streets. In 2005, plans were submitted to city, state and federal agencies for a complete renovation of the park, slated to be completed on Fenway's 100th birthday, in 2012. The Red Sox have also begun a focus on the area immediately on Fenway's perimeter with a goal of insuring that the surrounding development is complementary in uses and scale with the historic ballpark. The ability to create additional space for ballpark functions on adjacent properties has been one of the keys to the successful renovation of Fenway, permitting the original ballpark structure to remain intact without major additions.

Ms. Smith brings her experiences in urban development and passion for design to these endeavors as she has in previous projects, including Atlanta's Philips Arena (1999) and Turner Field (1997), Baltimore's Oriole Park at Camden Yards (1992), Pershing Square in Los Angeles (1988) and Battery Park City in New York (1984).

Ms. Smith's work with the Red Sox complements efforts she began in 2000 as Vice President of Planning and Development with Struever Bros. Eccles and Rouse, a Baltimore-based real estate developer and builder of urban mixed use projects from Nashville, TN to Providence, RI. Ms. Smith has also worked on various commercial and residential projects for Struever Bros., including the revitalization and transformation of former industrial areas, including historic buildings, to vibrant urban communities. She was part of the THINK team, led by Frederic Schwartz and Raphael Vinoly, one of the final two teams in the competition for the World Trade Center site in New York City in 2002.

Ms. Smith's combined loves of baseball and city life served her well in Atlanta, where she was President of Turner Sports and Entertainment Development, a division of Turner Broadcasting System, and was Vice President of Planning and Development for the Atlanta Braves baseball team.

From 1989-94, Ms. Smith was the Baltimore Orioles Vice President for Planning and Development under Larry Lucchino's leadership. As a team they oversaw the design of Oriole Park at Camden Yards. Her concern for urban development, along with her study of historical parks and knowledge of the team's operational objectives, greatly influenced the design of this ballpark. She was responsible for much of its civic image and relationship to surrounding buildings and transportation. Ms. Smith's thrusts to impose urban planning and design on the world of sports have helped change the way America views sporting venues and helped to make them proven generators of area economic development. Working for Larry Lucchino, then President of the Baltimore Orioles, Smith played a major role in executing Mr. Lucchino's vision of "building a ballpark with old-fashioned charm and modern amenities."

Ms. Smith holds a Masters degree in Urban Planning from City College of New York and a bachelor of Architecture degree from Mississippi State University. She is an associate member of the Urban Land Institute, American Institute of Architects, and the American Planning Association. Major publications, including the New York Times, New Yorker, Los Angeles Times, Chicago Tribune and Esquire, have cited her work.

A native of Jackson, MS, Ms. Smith resides in Baltimore with her husband, Bart Harvey, and three children.

MEG VAILLANCOURT, Senior Vice President/Corporate Relations; Executive Director - Red Sox Foundation

As a senior member of President/CEO Larry Lucchino's executive team, Meg Vaillancourt has two roles - assisting with the team's government relations and directing the Red Sox many philanthropic efforts as Executive Director of the Red Sox Foundation, the team's charity. Appointed head of the Red Sox Foundation in 2004, Meg works with Principal Owner John Henry, Chairman Tom Werner, Lucchino and the team's generous partners, as well as Red Sox players, managers and coaches, their wives, the team's front office, sponsors and fans to support a variety of non-profit organizations serving children throughout New England. The philanthropic arm of the team, the Red Sox Foundation is focused on improving health, educational and recreational opportunities for children as well as social service focused on youth and families in the inner city.

A New Hampshire native, Meg was raised in the Manchester Children's Home and attended public schools before winning a scholarship to St. Paul's School in Concord. A history major, she graduated with honors from Harvard College and was selected as one of the nation's 32 Rhodes Scholars. After studying British and American politics at Oxford University, Meg began a career in journalism as a reporter/producer for "The Ten O'Clock News" on WGBH-TV and as a contributor to national news programs on PBS-TV and radio. For the national award-winning series "Frontline," she was associate producer of a documentary examining the economic effects of the end of the Cold War on America's defense industry. A longtime Business writer and State House reporter for The Boston Globe, she covered politics, public policy, labor issues and the business of sports.

New England Patriots owner Robert Kraft persuaded her to leave journalism to serve as Vice President of Corporate and Community Affairs for the New England Patriots and The Kraft Group.

Responsible for coordinating public appearances by all of the Patriots players, Meg worked with the Kraft family in support of their many philanthropic activities, including The Patriots Charitable Foundation. She also oversaw the football team's government and community relations and assisted in the opening of Gillette Stadium.

A resident of Boston, Meg joined the Red Sox in 2003. At Red Sox Foundation, she seeks to channel the passion fans have for the Red Sox into a positive force for change in our community. The Red Sox Foundation has quickly become the largest team foundation in all of Major League Baseball, providing over $18 million in donations to worthy non-profits. In the past three years, the Red Sox Foundation has won numerous awards from community groups, ranging from The American Heart Association and the National Conference of Community and Justice to The Boston Bar Association and Boston Magazine.

Meg works with a wide variety of nonprofit groups and has served on the selection committee for both Rhodes Scholarships and Marshall Scholars. She was honored by the YMCA of Greater Boston as a member of "Academy of Women Achievers" and by the Boston Boy Scouts as the recipient of the Lady Powell Award, bestowed on "a distinguished woman who has had a significant impact on area youth through service to others, community leadership and personal example." She serves on the Make a Wish Foundation of Massachusetts and was recently named "Executive of the Year" by Women's Business Magazine.

JOHN BLAKE, Vice President/Media Relations

John Blake joined the Red Sox as Vice President/Media Relations in April 2006. He is responsible for the organization's overall publicity efforts, both on and off the field, and oversees the club's media services and photography efforts.

A veteran of 27 years in Major League Baseball, Blake was with the Texas Rangers from 1984-2004, serving as Media Relations Director, Vice President of Public Relations, and Senior Vice President of Communications. During his tenure in Texas, he also had communications responsibilities for Southwest Sports Group from 1999-2004 and the National Hockey League's Dallas Stars from 1999-2002.

Blake was with the Baltimore Orioles from 1979-1984 as Assistant Public Relations Director and Media Information Director. He also served as Sports Information Director at Georgetown University from 1977-79 and was a radio broadcaster for the Hoyas' nationally-ranked men's basketball team before going to Texas.

Blake has also held positions as Chief Operating Officer of the Northern Baseball League, Commissioner and Chief Operating Officer of the Texas Collegiate Baseball League, and Vice President of Communications for Ryan-Sanders Baseball. Last spring, he was the Director of Information for the inaugural World Baseball Classic.

John was the recipient of the 1993 Robert O. Fishel Award from Major League Baseball for public relations excellence and the 2004 Harold McKinney Good Guy Award from the Dallas-Fort Worth BBWAA chapter. He was elected to the Texas Baseball Hall of Fame in 1995.

A 1977 graduate of Georgetown, John and his wife, Harriet, have two children, Christopher (17) and Rebecca (15). He lives in Boston.

RICHARD L. BRESCIANI, Vice President/Publications and Archives

Dick Bresciani became the Red Sox' Vice President/Publications and Archives in 2003 after serving as Vice President of Public Affairs since November, 1996. He had been Vice President of Public Relations since August 1987. Dick joined the Red Sox in May, 1972 as assistant public relations director, became publicity director in 1978 and public relations director in June, 1984.

Bresciani oversees all Red Sox publications, the club's historical archives and alumni. He coordinates the selections of the annual national Tony Conigliaro Award recipient and Red Sox Hall of Fame inductees. He was chairman of the Red Sox Task Force Committee for the 1999 All-Star Game.

Dick is on the Board of Directors of the BoSox Club and the Cape Cod Summer Baseball League. He was part of the first group inducted into the Cape Cod League Hall of Fame in January 2001.

and is on their Hall of Fame advisory committee. In 2003, Dick was inducted into the UMass Athletic Hall of Fame and serves on their selection committee. On November 9-10, 2006, Bresciani was inducted into the Red Sox Hall of Fame as the non-uniformed personnel selection and also into the New England Italian-American Sports Hall of Fame.

In 2001 Dick was the Red Sox coordinator for the dinner committee of The New England Sports Lodge of B'nai B'rith that honored then-owner John L. Harrington as The Sam Cohen Sportsman of the Year. He was co-chairman of the 2001 American Liver Foundation's All-Star tribute that raised close to $150,000. The last eight years he has served on the Public Visibility Committee for The United Way of Massachusetts Bay.

In 1997, he received the Robert O. Fishel Award for Public Relations Excellence in Major League Baseball and was also honored by the Cape Cod League for 30 years of dedicated service. In 1998, Dick received an "Award of Distinction" from the Massachusetts Baseball Coaches Association for "significant contributions to the development of the youth of the community."

A graduate of Hopedale (MA) High School and the University of Massachusetts with a degree in journalism, Dick received the University's Alumni Award for Professional Excellence in 1994. He won the BBWAA "Good Guy" Award in 1987, the Western Mass. Jimmy Fund Recognition Award in 1989, the 1989 Brad Jernegan Award from the BoSox Club and the New England Intercollegiate Baseball Coaches Association's Distinguished Service Award in 1990.

Before joining the Red Sox Bresciani was assistant sports information director at UMass for 11 years. He was also the director of public relations and statistics for the Cape Cod Summer Baseball League from 1967-71 during which time the league received full NCAA accreditation and subsequent financial grants from Major League Baseball.

Dick and his wife, Joanne, reside in Wellesley, MA.

RON BUMGARNER, Vice President/Ticketing

Ron Bumgarner was named Vice President/Ticketing in January 2006. He oversees the Ticket Sales, Premium Seating Sales, Ticket Operations and Ticket Services departments.

A veteran of 16 years in Major League Baseball, Ron started his career with the Baltimore Orioles from 1991-95 in the Sales and Services departments. Working under current Red Sox President/CEO Larry Lucchino, Ron was instrumental in executing the relocation of season ticket holders from Memorial Stadium to Camden Yards and played an integral role in building and maintaining a league-leading season ticket base of 28,000 full season equivalents and a waiting list of 13,000. He also served as the MLB Transportation and Lodging Coordinator for the 1993 All-Star Game and was part of the team that generated over $1 million for ALS research in conjunction with the event.

When Lucchino left the Orioles to take over the San Diego Padres, Ron followed in 1995 as Assistant Director of Sales. The driving force behind a series of remarkable accomplishments, Ron and his staff tripled the Padres' season ticket base, doubled the group sales attendance to more than 500,000 (3rd-best in MLB) and became a model for small-market teams. Promoted to Director of New Ballpark Sales in 1999, Ron was the architect of the new ballpark's sales plan, critical to securing the financing for what is now Petco Park. He was a member of the design team responsible for the acclaimed park's popular, unique seating "neighborhoods."

Bumgarner followed Lucchino again and joined the Red Sox in 2003 and has been instrumental in the club's efforts to afford as many fans as possible the opportunity to experience Red Sox baseball at Fenway Park. Ron has played a vital role in the club's record-setting attendance and overhauled philosophies regarding customer service in the ticket operation.

Ron and his wife, Jenny, have two daughters, Shelby and Stella.

BEN CHERINGTON, Vice President/Player Personnel

Ben Cherington was named Vice President/Player Personnel on January 24, 2006. Prior to his appointment, Ben had served as Co-General Manager since December 12, 2005. Cherington oversees player development and amateur scouting, and assist in all major league player personnel decisions. The 32-year-old joined the Red Sox in 1999 and was the club's director of player development from December 7, 2002 until his appointment as Co-General Manager. A graduate of Amherst College with a degree in English, he played four years of varsity baseball and served as an assistant coach for one year. Cherington earned a Master's degree in sports management from the University of Massachusetts-Amherst in 1997.

He served as a video advance scout for the Cleveland Indians in 1998 before joining the Red Sox. Cherington began 1999 as a mid-Atlantic area scout before joining the baseball operations department in May. After two years as coordinator of international scouting, the Meriden, NH native was named assistant director of player development in 2002.

Ben also serves on the advisory board for Good Sports, a Boston based non-profit. He and his wife, Wendi, live in Boston.

STEVE FITCH, Vice President/Human Resources and Controller

Steve Fitch was named Vice President/Human Resources and Controller in March, 2005 after serving as the Vice President and Controller since March, 2003. He manages the accounting and human resource departments for the Red Sox and their affiliated entities. He is responsible for the production of monthly, quarterly and annual statements, budgets and forecasts.

Prior to joining the Red Sox in 2003, Steve was the executive director of finance for the San Diego Padres. He was responsible for budgeting, financial statement reporting, accounting staff management and served as the liaison for the Diverse Business Partners Program with MLB.

The Concord, MI native earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Central Michigan University. He earned his Michigan CPA license in 1989.

Steve is a member of the AICPA, Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants and the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants. He currently resides in the Back Bay area of Boston.

ROBERT C. FURBUSH, Vice President and Chief Financial Officer

Robert C. Furbush has been Vice President and Chief Financial Officer since October, 1987. He joined the Red Sox as controller in November, 1983 and was promoted to treasurer in June, 1984.

Furbush is a graduate of St. Mary's High School in Waltham, MA where he was captain of the basketball and baseball teams. In high school he played in an All-Star baseball game at Fenway Park. He earned a degree in economics at Boston College and played three years of varsity basketball, two for Coach Bob Cousy. In his senior year he won the Ronald J. Hickey Award for scholastic and athletic achievement. After two years of Army service, including one in Vietnam, Bob got a graduate degree in accounting at Northeastern University, became a Certified Public Accountant, and worked for Ernst & Young before he joined the Red Sox. Bob has served as the president and as a member of the Board of Directors of National American Insurance Company Limited and is a member of both the Major League Baseball Non-Uniformed Pension Plan Committee and the AICPA. He has made presentations to various civic and professional organizations and has served as a panelist at the Chief Financial Officers' Summit sponsored by the MIT Sloan Alumni Club. Bob and his wife, Emily, live in Framingham, MA, and have three children, Sarah, Stephen and Mark.

JONATHAN GILULA, Vice President/Business Operations

Jonathan Gilula was named Vice President/Business Operations in January, 2005. He enters his 10th season in Major League Baseball and 5th as a member of the Boston Red Sox organization. Gilula works closely with President/CEO Larry Lucchino and the Ballpark Planning and Development Department in organizing the club's effort to preserve and protect Fenway Park. This effort includes a focus on both the physical changes within the walls of Fenway Park and on the perimeter of the ballpark. Gilula has been an active participant in managing the budget and construction process and developing the operating plans for the series of annual Fenway Park Improvements completed since the Henry-Werner ownership group purchased the franchise in 2002, such as the Green Monster Seats and the Big Concourse, the Right Field Roof, the EMC Club and the State Street Pavilion.

Additionally, Gilula oversees all ballpark and event operations and manages the day-to-day relationships between the Red Sox and key business partners, including ARAMARK, Fenway Park's concessionaire and Twins Enterprise, the operator of the club's Official Team Store.

After joining the Red Sox in October, 2002 as Special Assistant to the President/CEO, Gilula worked on a number of special projects including the physical and operational improvements to Fenway Park, the refurbishment of the Red Sox spring training facilities in Fort Myers, FL and the construction of the Red Sox Academy in the Dominican Republic.

Gilula began his baseball career in June, 1998, when Lucchino, then President/CEO of the San Diego Padres, hired him to work on the planning and development of Petco Park. As Director of Ballpark Development, Gilula coordinated all aspects of the design and construction of the Padres' acclaimed new ballpark that opened in downtown San Diego in 2004.

Gilula was born in New York City, NY and grew up in La Jolla, CA. He graduated with a degree in Politics from Princeton University, where he was captain of the varsity tennis team from 1997-98.

JOE JANUSZEWSKI, Vice President/Corporate Partnerships

Joe Januszewski was named Vice President/Corporate Partnerships in February, 2006. Joe was Director, Corporate Partnerships since November 2002 when he joined the Red Sox after spending three years with the San Diego Padres (1999-2002). He started his career in professional sports in his home state with the Texas Rangers. He worked in the film industry in production for 10 years before entering baseball.

Januszewski is responsible for the club's corporate partnerships department, which has grown revenues nearly 175 percent during his time with the Red Sox and has seen the total number of sponsors increase 90 percent, with over 85 corporate clients now a part of the club. He secured partnerships in non-traditional categories with local companies such as Granite City Electric, F.W. Webb and Boston Scientific. He also oversees Spring Training sponsorship sales, which have grown more than 325 percent since 2003, as well as the sale of fixed and electronic signage at Fenway Park, print advertising, game day hospitality, designing in-market programs for retail and business to business clients and putting together special event partnerships.

Joe oversees the Red Sox membership programs, which include Red Sox Nation and Red Sox Kid Nation. In 2004 he launched Red Sox Kid Nation, presented by Hood, the first Red Sox kids club in team history. He designed and executed a marketing plan for the program, and after three years it is the largest kids club in Major League Baseball with nearly 13,000 members in 2006. Red Sox Kid Nation proudly donates 5 percent of every membership to the Hood Home Team Advantage, benefiting children's hospitals across New England. Kid Nation is the first MLB team run youth club to tie a percentage of membership revenue directly to a charitable cause.

He works in conjunction with team partners on community relations and Red Sox Foundation business efforts. In 2006 he put together a partnership with Microsoft and the Red Sox Foundation that ties an in-game feature, "Doubles for Dimock," to a financial contribution that is funding a City Year team at the Dimock Community Health Center in Roxbury, which provides vital services to Boston inner city families.

In 2003 Januszewski was charged with overseeing the Red Sox' MLB Authentication Program with a design on eliminating fraud in the sports collectibles market and to make better use of game and team-used products. Joe is responsible for the business arm of the team's publishing efforts, including the Red Sox Magazine and Red Sox Yearbook, as well as the club liaison for MLB retail initiatives.

The University of Texas at Austin graduate has a bachelor's degree in Radio-TV-Film and a Masters of Education specializing in sports management. He serves on the board of directors for the Independent Film Festival of Boston and volunteers with Big Brothers of Massachusetts Bay.

Joe enjoys traveling abroad, reading mountaineering & travel literature, spending time with his family and is an avid supporter of the University of Texas & Liverpool Football Club. He lives in Dorchester, MA with his wife, Ashley, and their son, Bear.

JOSEPH F. MCDERMOTT, Vice President

Joe McDermott has been a Red Sox Vice President since February 1990. McDermott joined the Red Sox organization in 1975 as an administrative assistant to the Vice President of Business Administration. In 1978 he became executive assistant with responsibilities for stadium and security operations while performing administrative duties for the Red Sox general partners.

He was named Vice President of Property Management in 1987. Under McDermott's direction, the club began a special crowd control supervisor program and expanded the in-game customer relations function. He was a member of the Red Sox 1999 All-Star Game Task Force Committee.

McDermott is a graduate of Cathedral High School in Boston and attended Northeastern University. He currently serves on the board of directors of the Greater Boston Fire Safety Council.

During 29 years of Red Sox employment, through the 2004 season, Joe did not miss a home game, an outstanding record of 2,323 consecutive Fenway Park games.

Joe and his wife, Joanne, reside in Medfield, MA. They have two sons, Joseph and Jeffrey, and two grandsons, Jacob Walter and Joseph Francis II.

CRAIG SHIPLEY, Vice President/Professional and International Scouting

Craig was named Red Sox Vice President/Professional and International Scouting on January 24, 2006. He previously served as Special Assistant to the General Manager/Player Development and International Scouting. Craig joined the Red Sox on December 7, 2002 after spending the 2001 and 2002 seasons as a professional scout with the San Diego Padres.

A veteran of 11 years as a major league infielder, Shipley began his baseball operations career in 2000 when he served the Montreal Expos as minor league infield and baserunning coordinator.

Shipley became the second Australian native to play in the majors when he debuted with Los Angeles in 1986. He played with the Dodgers (1986-87), Mets (1989), Padres (1991-94, 1996-97), Astros (1995) and Angels (1998), hitting .271 in 582 career games. The 44-year-old came to the U.S. in 1982 and played for the University of Alabama club that lost to Roger Clemens and the Texas Longhorns in the 1983 College World Series championship game.

CHARLES H. STEEDMAN, Vice President/Fenway Enterprises and Broadcast Services

Charles H. (Chuck) Steedman was named Vice President/Fenway Enterprises and Broadcast Services in March, 2005. He is responsible for the thriving business, Fenway Enterprises, which places non-baseball events into America's Most Beloved Ballpark. The booking of Fenway for parties, corporate meetings and weddings, as well as the operation of the Red Sox' year-round tour program is under his direction.

In addition, Chuck is the point of contact for the business relationship with the club's broadcasting partners, Entercom (WEEI and WRKO) Radio, NESN, the Spanish Baseball Network and the national rights holders (Fox and the ESPN family of networks). He also oversees the licensing of the club's intellectual properties, principally in the movie and television industries.

After the club's World Series title in 2004, Chuck was the point person for the Red Sox' grand World Championship Trophy Tour, presented by the Massachusetts Lottery. It was his idea to bring the trophy to the 351 cities and towns in Massachusetts as well as oversee its many travels to New York; Los Angeles; Washington, DC; Atlanta; Florida; and the Dominican Republic.

Steedman is an original staff member of the club's ownership group. When Tom Werner and Les Otten initiated the effort to purchase the club, Steedman was with them from the start. As founder and principal of Steedman & Partners, he coordinated financial analysis, legal and financial due diligence, relations with prospective investors, and the Major League Baseball application process.

Steedman has a long background in media and sports business that includes tenures at The University of Connecticut (Director of Athletic Marketing), Raycom Sports (Vice President Programming and Events), the American Skiing Company (Vice President Sales & Marketing) and Resorts Sports Network (EVP & Managing Director). In addition, he has served as a consultant for a number of arena and stadium revenue projects, broadcast negotiations, and event creation and management projects. He has directly managed professional tour golf events, college football bowl games and basketball tournaments and numerous made-for-TV skiing and snowboarding events, including the Winter X Games two-year stay at Mount Snow, VT.

A native of East Brookfield, MA, Steedman graduated from the University of Massachusetts (Amherst) in 1984 with a degree in Sport Management and later added an MBA from Queens University in Charlotte, NC. He is married to the former Lisa Allen and has two children, Andrew (16) and Michael (11). They reside in Hopkinton, MA.

ELAINE WEDDINGTON STEWARD, Vice President and Club Counsel

Elaine W. Steward was appointed Vice President and Club Counsel on March 7, 2002. Elaine joined the Red Sox in July 1988 as associate counsel and was named assistant general manager in January, 1990. She was named legal counsel in February of 1995, while continuing with her responsibilities as assistant general manager, and she was appointed a Vice President on January 30, 1998.

Steward is a native of New York City and graduated with honors from St. John's University in 1984 with a B.S. in Athletic Administration. While attending St. John's she served as an intern in the New York Mets public relations department and was a member of the St. Vincent's College Honor Society. She was a recipient of the prestigious Jackie Robinson Foundation Sports Management scholarship.

Upon graduation from St. John's University School of Law in 1987, Elaine was an intern in the Office of the Commissioner of Baseball through the Executive Development program. She was admitted to the New York State Bar in April of 1988 and is a member of the American Bar Association. In 1999 she was selected as one of the Ten Outstanding Young Leaders of Boston and was elected into the YWCA Academy of Women Achievers. In 2001 she received the Outstanding Alumna Award from the St. John's University Black Alumni Association.

JED HOYER, Assistant General Manager

Jed Hoyer was named Assistant General Manager on January 24, 2006. Prior to his appointment, Jed had served as Co-General Manager since December 12, 2005.

As Assistant General Manager, Hoyer assists Executive Vice President/General Manager Theo Epstein in all facets of baseball operations. The 33-year-old joined the Red Sox baseball operations department in 2002 and served as assistant to the general manager during the 2004 and 2005 seasons. He has been actively involved in all aspects of the department's business, including talent evaluation, contract negotiations and sabermetric analysis. The Plymouth, NH native is a 1996 graduate of Wesleyan University, where he played shortstop and pitched for four seasons, helping the Cardinals to the championship game of the Division III World Series in 1994. The school's single-season and career saves leader, Hoyer later served as an assistant baseball coach at Wesleyan.

Jed is single and resides in Boston.

ALLARD BAIRD, Assistant to the General Manager

Allard Baird was named to the position of Assistant to the General Manager on November 1, 2006. In that role, he oversees the Red Sox' professional scouting department and serves as an advisor to Executive Vice President/General Manager Theo Epstein on all facets of the club's baseball operations. Baird is a special assignment scout for major and minor league coverage as well as the amateur draft.

Baird, 45, joined the Boston organization in July 2006 as a special assignment scout. He served as Senior Vice President and General Manager of the Kansas City Royals from June 2000-May 2006, the fifth General Manager in franchise history. In 2003, he was honored with the Negro Leagues Baseball Museum's Rube Foster Award as the American League Executive of the Year as the Royals matched the sixth best turnaround following a 100-loss season in Major League history.

Overall, Baird spent 18 years in the Kansas City organization beginning as a minor league hitting coach in 1988. He then served as Territorial Scouting Supervisor in Florida from 1990-92 and as National Scouting Cross-Checker from 1993-1997, when he was appointed Special Assistant to the General Manager. During his scouting tenure, he was responsible for signing outfielder Johnny Damon.

Prior to joining the Royals, Baird served as head baseball coach at Broward (FL) Community College for two years after beginning his coaching tenure in 1985 as an assistant at Southern Arkansas University, where he played the infield during his collegiate career.

A native of Rochester, New Hampshire, Allard now makes his home in Miami Beach, Florida with his wife, Julie.

BILL JAMES, Senior Baseball Operations Advisor

A baseball writer since 1975, Bill James joined the Boston Red Sox as a Senior Baseball Operations Advisor in November of 2002. He works with senior management and the baseball operations group to provide research and analysis of special projects, player contracts and on-going concerns.

The author of the annual Baseball Abstract from 1977 through 1987, Bill came to national prominence as a result of a Sports Illustrated article written in June of 1981. He is the author of more than 30 baseball books and the creator of the popular statistical summary, the Bill James Handbook, now published annually by Baseball Info Solutions. His other contributions to the sport include the concepts of Runs Created (an estimate of the number of runs each hitter has contributed to his team), Sabermetrics

(the effort to replace conjecture and speculation about issues of concern to baseball fans with objective and verifiable knowledge), Win Shares (an estimate of each player's contribution to his team's win total) and Secondary Average (a way of summarizing the other things that a player does to create runs, other than hit for average).

Bill lives in Brookline, MA with his wife, Susan McCarthy, and their three children: Rachel (21), Isaac (18) and Reuben (13).

FENWAY PARK: America's Most Beloved Ballpark

Major League Baseball's oldest and smallest ballpark, Fenway Park has been the home of the Boston Red Sox since April 20, 1912 when, after two days of rainouts, the park hosted its first regular season game, an 11-inning 7-6 Boston win over the New York Highlanders in front of 27,000 fans. Tris Speaker drove home the winning run, but the story of the game was pushed off the front page of the local papers by news of the sinking of the Titanic just days earlier.

In 95 seasons, venerable Fenway has been home to many of the greatest players in baseball history, including Hall of Famers Babe Ruth, Tris Speaker, Lefty Grove, Jimmie Foxx, Joe Cronin, Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr, and Carl Yastrzemski.

The park has witnessed some of the most memorable moments in baseball history, highlighted, perhaps, by Carlton Fisk's 12th-inning home run to win Game 6 of the 1975 Series. In 2007, the Red Sox will celebrate the 40th Anniversary of the "Impossible Dream", which culminated at Fenway Park on October 1, 1967 with Boston's American League pennant-clinching victory over the Minnesota Twins.

Among the world's most famous sporting venues, Fenway is best known for the 37-foot high, 231-foot long "Green Monster" left-field wall, which looms only 310 feet from home plate. Equally enticing to hitters is "Pesky's Pole," the right-field foul pole named for Sox great Johnny Pesky, which stands only 302 feet from home plate.

Nestled into the Fenway neighborhood of Boston, the park was largely rebuilt for the 1934 season by new owner Tom Yawkey following an off-season fire.

Most recently, Fenway has undergone a series of improvements since the Henry-Werner Group purchased the team in 2002. Most visible among them are the addition of the Green Monster Seats in 2003, the Right-Field Roof Seats in 2004, the EMC Club and State Street Pavilion in 2006, and the new Third Base Deck which opens in 2007. Three new concourses—Yawkey Way (2002), the Big Concourse in right field (2003), and the Third Base Concourse (2004) have provided new amenities, while making Fenway far more comfortable for fans by creating space where it seemingly did not exist previously.

A new playing field was installed for the 2005 season. At the same time, the Red Sox clubhouse underwent a massive renovation, including the construction of new state-of-the-art weight, training, rehab, and video facilities and the addition of a new batting cage off the tunnel between the clubhouse and the Red Sox dugout. A new visitors batting cage has been added on the service level adjacent to the visiting clubhouse for the 2007 season.

The astounding popularity of the ballpark and the team has enabled the Red Sox to set attendance records in each of the last seven seasons, the first team in major league history to accomplish that feat. En route to drawing 2,930,588 fans, the Red Sox sold out their entire 81-game home schedule for the third year in a row and enter 2007 with a 307-game sellout streak, 2nd-longest in major league history.

Hundreds of thousands of fans from all over the globe visit Fenway year-round. Tours of the ballpark, conducted in English, Spanish, and Japanese, are available daily. For more information, call (617) 226-6666 or log on to www.redsox.com.

WHY FENWAY?

The new ballpark was constructed for the 1912 season and was named by then Red Sox owner John I. Taylor. He said, "It's in the Fenway section of Boston, isn't it? Then call it Fenway Park." Taylor also owned Fenway Realty. Could it have been Boston's first naming rights deal? It was also Taylor who changed the club's name from Pilgrims to Red Sox in 1907.

FENWAY PARK HISTORY

APRIL 9, 1912: In the first game at Fenway Park, the Red Sox beat Harvard 2-0 in an exhibition game played in snow flurries in front of 3,000 fans.

APRIL 20, 1912: Following a pair of rainouts, the Red Sox win the first official game at Fenway, beating the New York Highlanders (who'd later become the Yankees) 7-6 in 11 innings. Tris Speaker drove home the game winner in front of 27,000 fans.

APRIL 26, 1912: First baseman Hugh Bradley hit the first home run at Fenway and the first over the left field wall vs. Philadelphia. It was the second and last home run of his major league career.

MAY 8, 1926: In the first Fenway fire, the bleachers along the left-field foul line burned down and weren't replaced, giving fielders the chance to snare foul flies behind the third base grandstand.

1931: The Red Sox, who first wore uniform numbers in 1931, have retired five numbers: Ted Williams' No. 9 and Joe Cronin's No. 4 on May 29, 1984; Bobby Doerr's No. 1 on May 21, 1988; Carl Yastrzemski's No. 8 on August 6, 1989; and Carlton Fisk's No. 27 on September 4, 2000.

JULY 3, 1932: The Sox are hammered by the Yankees 13-2 in the first Sunday game at Fenway Park. Sunday baseball was approved in Boston 3 years earlier, but not at Fenway due to its proximity to a church. The Sox played their Sunday games at Braves Field on Commonwealth Avenue until the law was changed. They actually played the first Boston Sunday game, a 7-3 loss to Philadelphia, at Braves Field, April 28, 1929 in front of 22,000 fans (the Braves' April 21 game was rained out).

JANUARY 5, 1934: A 5-alarm, 4-hour blaze, the second Fenway fire, virtually destroyed the construction underway by new owner T.A. Yawkey to refurbish the park.

APRIL 17, 1934: The Washington Senators, led by player-manager Joe Cronin beat the Sox 6-5 in 11 innings in the first game at the New Fenway. Duffy's Cliff in left field and the original wooden left field wall were both removed. The new wall was made of concrete and tin.

APRIL 19, 1934: In game one of a doubleheader, the Red Sox' 3rd home game of the season, Boston right fielder Moose Solters hit the first home run over the new left field wall, a 9th-inning solo shot to give the Red Sox a 5-4 win over the Washington Senators.

SEPTEMBER 22, 1935: The largest crowd to ever see a game at Fenway Park--47,627--turned out for a doubleheader with the Yankees. A year earlier (on August 19, 1934), 46,995 watched a Detroit Tigers doubleheader. And a week earlier, 46,766 said goodbye to Babe Ruth at a Yankees doubleheader on August 12, 1934. Those crowds will never be equaled under Fenway's current dimensions. More stringent fire laws and league rules after World War II prohibited overcrowding that was permitted in the 1930's.

1936: A 23-foot tall screen was installed above the left field wall. The screen would remain until the Green Monster Seats were constructed in 2003.

JULY 30, 1936: Thomas A. Yawkey, A.L. President Will Harridge and the Red Sox team flew from St. Louis to Chicago, the first major league team to do so in one plane.

JULY 13, 1939: The Sox played their first road night game in Cleveland, a 6-5 win in 10 innings. Joe Heving was the winning pitcher.

1940: Bullpens were constructed in front of the bleachers replacing the old bullpen areas in the outfield foul territory beyond the dugouts. Box seats were added to the right field grandstand reducing the distance to the right field foul pole to 302 feet.

1946: Skyview seats were added to Fenway Park.

JUNE 9, 1946: Ted Williams hit a monumental 502-foot home run to right field off Detroit right-hander Fred Hutchinson. The ball landed on top of the straw hat of Joseph A. Boucher, a 56-year-old construction engineer from Albany, NY who was sitting in Section 42, Row 37, Seat 21. "The sun was right in our eyes," he said. "All we could do was duck. I'm glad I didn't stand up. They say it bounced a dozen rows higher, but after it hit my head, I was no longer interested." At that time the bleachers were real bleachers and not individual seats.

JULY 9, 1946: The Red Sox hosted their first All-Star Game at Fenway Park, a 12-0 American League win. Eight Red Sox were on the All-Star team, but Ted Williams stole the show, going 4-for-4 with two homers, a walk, five RBI and four runs scored.

JUNE 13, 1947: The Red Sox defeated the White Sox 5-3 in Fenway's first night game. Arc lights were installed in 1947. The Red Sox were the third-to-last of the 16 major league clubs to do so. Dave Ferriss was the winning pitcher. Green paint replaced advertisements covering the left field wall. No more Calvert Owl ("Be wise"), Gem Blades ("Avoid 5 o'clock shadow"), Lifebuoy ("The Red Sox use it") and Vimms ("Get that Vimms feeling").

MAY 12, 1948: The first Red Sox game was televised from Fenway on WBZ-TV.

OCTOBER 4, 1948: The first playoff game in A.L. history took place at Fenway, and Cleveland rookie lefthander Gene Bearden beat the Red Sox 8-3. Short-stop-manager Lou Boudreau led the Indians with two homers and two singles. The defeat prevented the only cross-town World Series in Boston history. Cleveland went on to beat the Boston Braves 4-2 in the World Series.

1952: The visitors' clubhouse was relocated to the third base side and connected to dugout.

SEPTEMBER 21, 1956: Batting lefthanded, the Yankees' Mickey Mantle hit the longest known home run to straight-away center field at Fenway off righthander Frank Sullivan. The ball failed to clear the old brick wall by a foot. It carried approximately 480 feet before striking the brick barrier located behind Section 36.

JULY 31, 1961: Fenway Park was the site of the second All-Star Game played in 1961. The game ended in a 1-1 tie, called after nine innings and a 30-minute rain delay.

JANUARY 6, 1963: The Boston Red Sox and the Boston Patriots agreed to a two-year contract allowing the Patriots to play their AFL home games at Fenway Park for the 1963-64 seasons. The contract was later renewed, and the Patriots continued to play their home games at Fenway through 1968. Overall, their record at Fenway Park was 17-16-5.

OCTOBER 21, 1975: The first World Series night game was played at Fenway Park, and it was a classic. The memorable Game 6, delayed three days by rain, lasted 4:01 and ended with Carlton Fisk's oft-replayed home run off Pat Darcy leading off the last of the 12th. The Red Sox had tied the game at 6-6 in the last of the eighth on Bernie Carbo's three-run, pinch-hit homer with two outs.

1976: Fenway's first message board in center field was part of a construction project that included a rebuilding of the left field wall as well as a new enclosed press box. Starting in 1976, National League scores were shown only on the new message board. They returned to the left field scoreboard in 2004.

JUNE 19, 1977: Carl Yastrzemski hit the longest known home run to the right of the bleachers, an eighth-inning blast off Yankees righthander Dick Tidrow. The blast traveled approximately 460 feet before striking the facing of the right field roof about 20 feet to the right of where the retired #42 now appears. It is the only ball to reach the right field roof facade.

OCTOBER 2, 1978: The second playoff game in American League history was also played at Fenway Park. On the strength of Bucky Dent's three-run seventh inning homer, the Yankees defeat the Red Sox, 5-4 to capture the A.L. East Division crown.

1987-88: A color video board and black and white message board were installed in center field. There was also a complete resodding of the playing field. Construction was completed on "Diamond At Fenway," a new function facility, and "The Lansdowne Shop" souvenir outlet.

1988-89: "The 600 Club", a glass-enclosed section of 610 stadium club seats, was added on the roof behind home plate. New broadcast booths and the press box were relocated on top of The 600 Club.

1989-90: Major renovation was completed of the Red Sox ticket office.

1990-91: A new weight room and multi-purpose room were constructed adjacent to the Red Sox clubhouse.

1991-92: Portable enclosures for the bullpen benches were installed. Complete renovations to both dugouts were made.

1993: Organized tours of Fenway Park began.

1993-94: Three-year restroom renovation was completed.

1995: Energy-efficient lighting, heating/cooling and control systems were installed throughout the facility via Boston Edison Company energy conservation program.

MARCH 19, 1997: A 25-foot Coca-Cola contour bottle design atop the light tower above the left field wall was unveiled signifying the Red Sox' partnership with Coca-Cola and their commitment to the fans, the community and the Jimmy Fund through the "Monster Refreshment" program. The program has ensured ticket price savings for fans and significant contributions to the Jimmy Fund for each Red Sox home run hit over the left-field wall or one that hits the Coke bottle. In 1997 the Red Sox hit two home runs off the Coke bottle: Wil Cordero April 13 vs. Seattle and Tim Lincecum May 11 vs. Texas.

MAY, 1997: The batting cage beneath the center field bleachers was completely renovated.

MARCH, 1999: Improvements to the Red Sox and visitors clubhouses were completed.

JULY 13, 1999: The Red Sox hosted their third All-Star Game, a 3-1 A.L. win. For the first time in history, the All-Star Game was a three-day event featuring a celebrity hitting contest, a Futures game and a home run derby.

APRIL 2002: Two rows of "dugout" seats (on the in-field side of both dugouts to backstop) were added. A media interview room was constructed adjacent to Red Sox clubhouse. The family room was converted to a players lounge, and a new, expanded family lounge was built.

SEPTEMBER, 2002: Yawkey Way and the Gate A concourse expansion opened with concessions, restrooms and fan-friendly attractions for all ages.

APRIL, 2003: Green Monster seats debuted above the left field wall. Two rows of additional seats and new camera pits were constructed on the outfield end of Red Sox and visitors dugouts. Two new rows of seats behind the plate and a new backstop were added. A new manual out-of-town scoreboard and advertising panels were installed on the left field wall. The Legends Suite debuted in Suite R-1, giving groups of fans the chance to watch a game with a Red Sox great. The Hall of Fame/.406 Club was refurbished and decorated. Yawkey Way officially opened after a one-month trial in September of 2002. The SmarTix program was launched.

JULY/AUGUST 2003: Big Concourse with restrooms (including family restroom), concessions, customer service booth, portable turnstiles and picnic areas opened in right field. New ticket booths opened at Gates B and C. Gate D food court/expanded concessions on lower concourse opened. ARAMARK commissary moved to old Laundry Building area.

SEPTEMBER 6-7, 2003: Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band performed a pair of sold-out concerts at Fenway Park.

MORE FENWAY FACTS

- Prior to the 1912 season, the Red Sox played their home games at the Huntington Avenue Grounds, now part of the campus of Northeastern University.

- Other teams have played at Fenway Park besides the Red Sox. In 1914 the "Miracle Boston Braves" played their World Series games at Fenway en route to a 4-game sweep over the favored Philadelphia Athletics while Braves Field was under construction. The Boston Patriots (now the New England Patriots) were fall occupants from 1963-68 before eventually ending up in Foxboro. They were not, however, the first pro football team to play at Fenway. The Boston Redskins played 4 years at the park before heading to Washington in 1937. The Boston Yanks played at Fenway from 1944-48 prior to traveling to New York, Dallas, Baltimore (where they became the Colts) and eventually to Indianapolis.

- Since 1990, the Red Sox have hosted a 4-college Beanpot Tournament each April. Boston College, Harvard, Northeastern and Boston University competed the first 6 years. When BU dropped baseball, UMass replaced the Terriers in 1996. On April 27, 1997 UMass pitcher Scott Barnsby no-hit Northeastern in the semifinals, 1-0. It was the first no-hitter at Fenway since Dave Morehead's in 1965. The Red Sox have also hosted Cape Cod League and college all-star games as well as state high school tournaments, most recently in 1998.

- Collegiately, Boston College football teams, mostly of the Frank Leahy era, and Boston University, with stellar quarterback Harry Agganis (later a promising Red Sox first baseman who died during the 1955 season), also played at Fenway Park.

- The Boston Beacons, a member of the North American Soccer League for the 1968-69 season, played their home games at Fenway Park. In August of 1968, the Santos soccer club of Brazil featuring the legendary Pele played the Beacons in a Fenway Park exhibition.

APRIL 9, 2004: New seating on the right field roof debuted.

APRIL 16, 2004: Red Sox legends Johnny Pesky and Bobby Doerr joined Mayor Thomas M. Menino in unveiling a new statue of Ted Williams outside of Gate B.

SEPTEMBER 10 AND 12, 2004: Jimmy Buffett and the Coral Reefer Band packed Fenway for a pair of sold-out concerts.

OCTOBER 8, 2004: David Ortiz crushed a two-run homer off Jarrod Washburn with two outs in the bottom of the 10th, giving the Red Sox an 8-6 win over the Angels and a sweep of the best-of-5 A.L. Division Series.

OCTOBER 20, 2004: Johnny Damon homered twice and drove in six runs, leading the Red Sox to a 10-3 win over the Yankees at Yankee Stadium and capping the greatest comeback in baseball history. Down three games to none in the best-of-seven series, the Sox stormed back to become the first team in major league history to win a post-season series after dropping the first three games. The pennant was the 11th in club history.

OCTOBER 27, 2004: 86 years of heartache were erased with a 3-0 win in St. Louis, as the Red Sox completed a sweep of the 100th World Series for their first World Championship since 1918.

APRIL 11, 2005: The defending champions received their World Series rings, one by one, on the field, prior to the home opener against the Yankees. Led by Johnny Pesky and Carl Yastrzemski, former players who had longed for such a day helped the active players raise the World Championship flag. James Taylor sang "America the Beautiful," the Boston Symphony and Boston Pops played "The Star-Spangled Banner." Wounded soldiers back from war presented the rings. Boston icons Bobby Orr, Bill Russell, Tedy Bruschi, and Richard Seymour threw the Ceremonial First Pitches. And, in fitting style, the Red Sox beat the Yankees to make their home opener perfect.

AUGUST 21 AND 23, 2005: The Rolling Stones rocked Fenway Park with a pair of sold-out shows.

2006: Heeding the request of fans, the Red Sox removed the glass that had separated the .406 club from the ambiance and atmosphere of Fenway, creating the new EMC Club and the State Street Pavilion in time for Opening Day, 2006. In the process, the club added 1,300 seats, standing room, additional concession stands and restrooms, while widening concourses and creating more room for fans.

SEPTEMBER 21, 2006: David Ortiz hits his 51st home run off Minnesota Twins pitcher Johan Santana to eclipse Jimmie Foxx' 67-year-old club record for homers in a season.

2007: Improvements include a spacious new Third Base Deck, located behind the Grandstand seats in left field; renovations to over half of the Private Suites; and renovations to the press level.

2007 FENWAY PARK IMPROVEMENTS

On March 23, 2005, the Boston Red Sox announced a long-term commitment to remain at Fenway Park, "America's Most Beloved Ballpark" and the oldest park in the Major Leagues. A comprehensive plan for a complete renovation was submitted to the City of Boston Landmarks Commission and the Massachusetts Historic Commission. This plan included the annual improvements that the Red Sox have constructed since 2002, when the ownership group of John Henry, Tom Werner, Larry Lucchino, and their partners committed the franchise to the preservation, protection, and improvement of Fenway Park.

The "Year VI" improvements for 2007 include a spacious new "Third Base Deck," located behind the Grandstand seats in left field, renovations to the Private Suites, a new stair adjacent to the 24 Yawkey Way door, new escalators to the EMC Club from a renovated 20 Yawkey Way lobby, new restrooms in the State Street Pavilion and Grandstand area, and new MBTA "Charlie Cards" vending machines to ease the process of "Taking the T."

The new Third Base Deck area boasts the first ever Ladies Room on the 3rd base Grandstand concourse. A men's room was constructed in this area in 1912; it, too, was renovated this year to provide ADA access.

Construction crews have demolished part of the wall that separated the third base Grandstand in Fenway from offices formerly occupied by NESN in the adjacent 1914 Jeano Building. The two buildings, Fenway and Jeano, have had a physical connection since 1949 when a radio station moved into the Jeano Building and created a bridge through a light well directly into Fenway Park.

This 2007 third base opening is a magnification of that 58-year-old connection. NESN moved most of its offices to Watertown last spring. That space now houses a large new restroom for ladies and new dedicated standing room positions with a drink rail for added convenience. It also accommodates a new concession area to further reduce time lost waiting in line and enhance the connection to the Gate E stair making it easier for fans to enter and exit the ballpark on Lansdowne Street.

In addition, fans behind home plate will have an easier time navigating to the top of the Grandstand concourse behind home plate. The construction of a new staircase from Yawkey Way to the back of the Grandstand at Section 22 has improved vertical circulation. The area inside Gate D has long been one of the most crowded areas on the concourses in part because all fans had to enter through the lower vomitories at the field level. This stair resurrects one of the elements of the 1934 Osborn architectural plans allowing fans to go directly from the Yawkey Way entrance to the Grandstand seats.

The club has also added cup holders to Field Box seats and has improved the entry way at 20 Yawkey Way.

A total of 26 Private Suites, 13 on both the left and right field side, have undergone extensive renovations for 2007. This includes re-configured exterior seating and completely remodeled interiors and bathroom facilities.

With a new front window design, suite holders are able to enjoy a complete "open-air" experience for the first time. The suite construction is the first phase of a two-year process to renovate all of the Private Suites at Fenway Park.

In addition to improving the experience for fans, the Red Sox have made improvements for the employees with whom fans have the most contact by constructing new locker room facilities for day-of-game staff.

Less visible to fans are infrastructure improvements including an increased power supply and upgrades to safety codes that allow for greater seating capacity in future years. The Red Sox have previously stated that their goal for the capacity of Fenway Park is 39,928 in seats and standing room, a 10% increase over the decades-long 36,298 occupancy. The Red Sox have also revamped the press box to add space and conveniences.

An improvement expected to open during the 2007 season will be a bleacher bar & grill in the center field area that previously housed the visitors' batting cages. A new batting tunnel for the visitors is near their clubhouse, representing the first time in Fenway history that players have not had to walk across the playing field to warm up in a batting cage. A batting cage for the Red Sox was constructed adjacent to the dugout by excavating under the field box seats in 2005. The bleacher bar & grill will sit under the Bleacher section and open onto Lansdowne St., with a view into the ballpark as well.

The renovations for 2007 were designed by D'Agostino, Izzo & Quirk of Somerville, MA. McNamara-Salvia is the structural engineer, and SEI Companies is serving as the mechanical, electrical, and plumbing engineer with both firms based in Boston. The code and life safety consultant was Howe Engineers of Sandwich, MA. Construction was done by William A. Berry & Son, Inc. of Danvers, MA and the Boston office of Gilbane Building Company. The Boston office of Struever Brothers Eccles & Rouse acted as the Red Sox program manager.

2006 Red Sox Most Valuable Player David Ortiz led the American League with 54 home runs and 137 RBI.

47-TERRY FRANCONA

Manager

FULL NAME: Terry John Francona

OPENING DAY AGE: 47 (Turns 48 on April 22)

BORN: April 22, 1959 in Aberdeen, SD

RESIDES: Boston, MA

MAJOR LEAGUE COACHING CAREER: Third Base Coach for the Detroit Tigers (1996), Manager for the Philadelphia Phillies (1997-2000), Bench Coach for the Texas Rangers (2002), Bench Coach for the Oakland Athletics (2003), Manager for the Boston Red Sox (2004-)

2007 RED SOX

CAREER NOTES

MILESTONE WATCH: Begins 2007 needing 21 victories for 300 as manager of the Red Sox and only 36 wins for 600 in his major league managerial career...he'll be the 10th Red Sox manager to reach 300 wins...the Red Sox' 14th game of the season will be Francona's 500th as Boston's skipper.

QUICK START: Francona has won 279 games since taking over in 2004, 3rd-most in club history for a manager's first 3 full seasons at the helm...only Don Zimmer (287 wins from 1977-79) and Bill Carrigan (283 wins from 1914-16) had more victories in their first 3 seasons as Red Sox manager.

2006 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: In his 3rd season at the helm, managed the Red Sox to a 3rd-place finish in the American League East, 11.0 games behind the Yankees...managed a total of 53 players (25 position players and 28 pitchers), Boston's most since a club-record 55 in 1996.

200 WINS WITH SOX: Earned his 200th win as Red Sox manager on April 14 vs. Seattle (2-1 win)...became the 17th manager in club history to reach the milestone, the 2nd-fastest skipper to do so...the April 14 contest marked his 334th game with the Sox...Joe McCarthy needed 323 games to reach the mark in 1950.

MORE MILESTONES: Won his 500th career major league managerial game on May 15 at Baltimore (11-1 win)...managed his 1,000th game in the big leagues on May 4 vs. Toronto (7-4 win)...when the Red Sox climbed 16 games above .500 for the first time on June 24 at 44-28, Francona was at .500 in his managerial career (522-522) for the first time since he was 1-1 on April 2, 1997, 2 games into his managerial career with the Phillies...he moved above .500 for his career on June 26 for the first time since he was 1-0 on April 1, 1997...had Boston's only ejection of the season on September 23 in Toronto (Doug Eddings).

2-YEAR CONTRACT EXTENSION: The Red Sox and Francona on March 14, 2006 agreed to terms on a 2-year contract extension that covers the 2007 and 2008 seasons.

SUMMARY: In his 2nd season as Boston's skipper, managed the Red Sox to a 95-67 (.586) record, a tie with the Yankees for first place in the American League East Division and, by virtue of losing the season series with New York 10-9, the A.L. Wild Card...became the first manager ever to guide the Red Sox into the postseason in both of his first 2 seasons in Boston...the Red Sox were swept in the best-of-5 A.L. Division Series by the eventual World Champion White Sox...managed a total of 52 players in 2005 (26 position players and 26 pitchers).

MORE 2005 NOTES: Earned the 100th win of his Red Sox managerial career April 8 at Toronto, a 6-5 triumph...picked up career managerial victory No. 400 by a 7-2 score May 6 vs. Seattle...the Sox' 9-4 win July 20 at Tampa Bay was Francona's 150th as Boston's skipper...was ejected 5 times (April 14 vs. New York by umpire Greg Gibson, April 24 at Tampa Bay by umpire Ted Barrett, June 7 at St. Louis by umpire Larry Young, July 2 vs. Toronto by umpire Lance Barksdale and August 26 vs. Detroit by umpire Randy Marsh)...with Tigers pitcher Troy Percival, was elected to the Arizona Fall League Hall of Fame in 2005...Francona twice participated in the AFL: as a coach for Grand Canyon in 1992 and, in 1994, as manager in Scottsdale, where he managed Nomar Garciaparra and Michael Jordan.

JUST WIN, BABY

Among managers who have spent more than 2 seasons in Boston, Francona ranks 3rd in winning percentage (.574), with the best mark since 1980:

MANAGER	RECORD	YEARS
Joe McCarthy	223-145 (.606)	1948-50
Don Zimmer	411-304 (.575)	1976-80
Terry Francona	279-207 (.574)	2004-
Jimmy Collins	455-376 (.548)	1901-06
Dick Williams	260-217 (.545)	1967-69

TOUGH ACT TO FOLLOW: In his first season at the helm in Boston, Francona guided the Red Sox to their first World Championship since 1918...became the winningest manager in club post-season history, as Boston went 11-3 in beating the Angels in the ALDS (3-0), the Yankees in the ALCS (4-3) and the Cardinals in the World Series (4-0)...led the Sox to a 98-64 regular-season record and the American League Wild Card, finishing 2nd in the A.L. East, 3.0 games behind the Yankees...in the franchise's 104-year history, only one skipper posted a better record in his first season: Jake Stahl managed the 1912 Red Sox to a 105-47 record and the World Series championship...Francona became just the 6th manager in club annals to lead the Red Sox to the postseason in his first year at the helm, joining Jake Stahl (1912), Ed Barrow (1918), Dick Williams (1967), Joe Morgan (1988) and Kevin Kennedy (1995), just the 3rd to win the World Series in his first year (Stahl in 1912 and Barrow in 1918).

MORE 2004 NOTES: Managed a total of 50 players (25 position players and 26 pitchers, with David McCarty on both lists)...in reaching the postseason for the first time in 5 major league managerial seasons, Francona saw his club overcome 16 players enduring 19 stints on the disabled list, missing a total of 1,170 games (in 2003, the Sox lost 497 games to D.L. time)...was named the 44th manager in Red Sox history December 4, 2003...agreed to a 3-year contract with a club option for 2007.

MANAGERIAL/COACHING CAREER

CAREER NOTES: In his 28th season in pro baseball, Francona begins his 8th season as a major league manager, his 4th with the Red Sox...previously, guided the rebuilding Phillies to a 285-363 record from 1997-2000...only 37 when hired by the Phillies, he was the youngest manager in the majors at the time...began his coaching career immediately upon the conclusion of his playing days in 1991, serving as hitting instructor for the White Sox' Rookie-level Gulf Coast League club...he managed Chicago's Single-A South Bend affiliate in 1992 and skippered Double-A Birmingham from 1993-95, earning Southern League Manager of the Year and Baseball America Minor League Manager of the Year honors after leading the Barons to the league championship in '93...in 1994, when he managed basketball great Michael Jordan, Francona was named the top managerial prospect in the minors by Baseball America...Francona also managed in the Arizona Fall League in 1992 and 1994...he guided Aguilas to the Dominican Winter League championship following the 1995 season...Francona, who concluded his minor league managerial career in 1995 with a 4-year record of 296-266, made the jump to the major leagues in 1996, when he served as third base coach on Detroit manager Buddy Bell's staff...in 1997, he was named manager of a Philadelphia club that had finished 5th in the N.L. East with a 67-95 record in 1996...under Francona's leadership, the Phillies improved their record in each of the next 3 seasons...they went 68-94 in 1997, including the league's 3rd-best record (44-33) after the All-Star break...the 1998 Phils finished 75-87, vaulting to 3rd place in the division and staying in the Wild Card chase until mid August...in 1999, Francona's Phils started 61-48 through August 6 en route to a 77-85 record and a 3rd-place finish...the Phillies went 65-97 in 2000...in 2001, he served Indians General Manager John Hart as a Special Assistant to Baseball Operations and guided Team USA to a 7-3 record and the Silver Medal in the Baseball World Cup in Taipei, Taiwan, dropping the title game to Cuba...Francona returned to the dugout as Jerry Narron's bench coach with the Rangers in 2002 and spent 2003 as Ken Macha's bench coach with the A.L. West champion Athletics.

PLAYING CAREER

A first-round draft pick (22nd overall) by the Montreal Expos in 1980, Francona played 12 pro seasons from 1980-91, including 10 years in the majors with the Expos (1981-85), Cubs (1986), Reds (1987), Indians (1988) and Brewers (1989-90)...he batted .274 with 16 homers and 143 RBI in 708 major league games as a first baseman and outfielder, the same positions played by his father Tito, who spent 15 seasons in the major leagues with 9 teams from 1956-70...Terry played only 194 minor league games over parts of 2 seasons before being promoted to the majors for the first time on August 18, 1981 after hitting .350 for Double-A Memphis and Triple-A Denver...hit his first major league home run off Cardinals relief ace Bruce Sutter September 16, 1981...went 4-for-12 in five games in Montreal's 1981 Division Series vs. Philadelphia...was 0-for-1 in 2 games in the 1981 N.L. Championship Series vs. Los Angeles...his 2 best major league seasons were derailed by knee problems...was hitting .321 through 46 games in 1982 before undergoing season-ending surgery on his right knee...was batting .346 through 58 games in 1984 before a June 14 injury to his left knee necessitated season-ending surgery...made one major league appearance on the mound, fanning one in a perfect inning for the Brewers May 15, 1989 at Oakland...concluded his pro career with 86 games at Triple-A Louisville (Cardinals) in 1991, including 5 pitching appearances in which he allowed just one earned run in 7.2 innings.

PERSONAL

Terry and his wife Jacque make their full-time home in Boston...they have 4 children: Nicholas (7/11/85), Alyssa (4/7/87), Leah (1/27/90) and Jamie (11/24/93)...oldest son Nick, a sophomore left-handed pitcher at the University of Pennsylvania, was drafted by the Red Sox out of high school in 2004...Terry attended the University of Arizona, where he played baseball for 3 seasons...as a junior in 1980, won the Golden Spikes Award, presented annually by USA Baseball to the nation's top amateur player...batted .401 en route to also being named College Player of the Year by The Sporting News...batted .458 at the College World Series and was named the series MVP...is a 1977 graduate of New Brighton (PA) High School, where he batted .769 in 1976...toured Italy with Team USA in 1978...his father Tito spent 15 seasons in the majors with 9 teams from 1956-70.

In 2006, attended the Mass Mentoring breakfast, participated in the Jimmy Fund Radiothon in between a doubleheader with the Yankees on August 18, attended Christmas at Fenway, and spoke to Boston Scientific Corporation employees at a Pep Rally for the Boston Heart Walk.

First Base Coach

FULL NAME: Luis Rene Alicea De Jesus
OPENING DAY AGE: 41 (Turns 42 on July 29)
BORN: July 29, 1965 in Santurce, Puerto Rico
RESIDES: Loxahatchee, FL
MINOR LEAGUE COACHING CAREER: Manager of the Short-Season Single-A Lowell Spinners (2004-05), Manager of the Single-A Greenville Drive (2006), Manager of the Arizona Fall League Peoria Javelinas (2006)

COACHING CAREER

Alicea joins the major league coaching staff after 3 seasons as a manager in Boston's minor league system...guided Single-A Greenville of the South Atlantic League to a 67-70 overall record in 2006...was integral in the development of pitcher Clay Buchholz, Red Sox 2006 Minor League Pitcher of the Year, and infielder Jeff Natale, Red Sox 2006 Minor League Offensive Player of the Year...earned his 100th career minor league managerial victory with a 7-2 win over Kannapolis on June 1...spent the previous 2 years at Short-Season Single-A Lowell in the New York-Penn League with the Spinners posting a 74-77 overall record in that span...in 2005 led Lowell to a 42-33 record and 2nd-place finish in the Stedler Division...in the fall after the 2006 minor league season, managed the Peoria Javelinas in the Arizona Fall League...7 players from the Red Sox organization, pitchers Lenny DiNardo, Barry Hertzler, Kyle Jackson and David Pauley; catcher Dusty Brown; infielder Chad Spann; and outfielder Jacoby Ellsbury, were members of that AFL team.

PLAYING CAREER

Played 13 seasons in the major leagues with St. Louis (1988; 91-94; 96), Boston (1995), Anaheim (1997), Texas (1998-2000), and Kansas City (2001-02), compiling a .260 batting average with 47 homers and 422 RBI in 1341 games...primarily a second baseman, he also saw action at the other 3 infield positions and in the outfield in his big league career.

The switch-hitter enjoyed his best season with the Rangers in 2000, establishing career highs with a .294 average, 139 games, 85 runs, 159 hits, and 63 RBI...was Boston's regular second baseman in his lone season with the A.L. East champion Red Sox in 1995 with a .270 batting average in 132 games...went 6-for-10 (.600) with a home run in Boston's 1995 Division Series loss (0-3) to the Cleveland Indians...his 43 triples from 1992-2000 tied for 15th in the majors in that span...ranked 4th in the National League with 11 triples in 1992...tied for 13th in the American League with 22 stolen bases for the Angels in 1997.

Luis was the Cardinals' first-round pick in the 1986 First-Year Player Draft after an outstanding career at Florida State University, where he earned First-Team All-America honors in 1986.

PERSONAL

Luis has 2 children, son Ryan Luis (12/8/92) and daughter Alana Nicole (8/19/94)...graduated from Liceo International Castro High School in Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico in 1983...lettered in baseball and track...his brother Edwin also played second base at Florida State and was selected by the Atlanta Braves in the 9th round of the 1988 First-Year Player Draft.

52-JOHN FARRELL

Pitching Coach

FULL NAME: John Edward Farrell

OPENING DAY AGE: 44 (Turns 45 on August 4)

BORN: August 4, 1962 in Monmouth Beach, NJ

RESIDES: Westlake, OH

FRONT OFFICE/COACHING CAREER: Assistant Coach/Pitching & Recruiting Coordinator at the University of Oklahoma (1997-2001), Director of Player Development for the Cleveland Indians (2001-06).

FRONT OFFICE/COACHING CAREER

Farrell enters his first season as Red Sox pitching coach after serving as the Cleveland Indians Director of Player Development since November 2001...in that role, oversaw all elements of the Tribe's player development system, including the organization's 6 minor league affiliates and the Latin American programs in Venezuela and the Dominican Republic...also supervised the signing of all minor league free agents while assisting in major league player acquisitions...with the Indians, was instrumental in the development of such pitchers as Fernando Cabrera, Jason Davis, Jeremy Guthrie, Edward Mujica, Rafael Perez, and Jeremy Sowers...under Farrell's tutelage, the Indians were named "Organization of the Year" in consecutive seasons in 2003-04 by USA Today's Sports Weekly and were named by Baseball America as having the number one farm system in professional baseball in 2003.

After his retirement as an active player, spent 5 seasons from 1997-2001 as Assistant Coach/Pitching & Recruiting Coordinator at Oklahoma State University, completing his bachelor's degree at OSU in 1996...with the Cowboys, instilled new disciplines and methods into the program and mentored 14 pitchers that were drafted or signed as non-drafted free agents at the professional level, including righthander Scott Williamson, who earned National League Rookie of the Year honors with Cincinnati in 1999.

PLAYING CAREER

Farrell was selected by Cleveland in the 2nd round of the 1984 First-Year Player Draft after an outstanding career at Oklahoma State University...the righthander was 36-46 with a 4.56 ERA in 116 major league games (109 starts) with the Indians (1987-90; 1995), Angels (1993-94), and Tigers (1996).

Went 28-25 with 12 complete games and a 3.86 ERA (209 ER/487.1 IP) in 72 games (all but 2 as a starter) in his first 3 big league seasons from 1987-89...recorded a career-high 14 wins in 1988 and posted a 3.63 ERA with 7 complete games in 1989 but was hampered by injuries for the remainder of his playing career, missing the entire 1991 and 1992 seasons with right elbow problems...after returning to the big leagues in 1993, combined to go 4-16 with a 7.77 ERA (99 ER/114.2 IP) in 27 games (22 starts) over the remainder of his career...appeared in just 6 games (5 starts) over his final 3 major league seasons.

PERSONAL

John and his wife, Sue, reside in Westlake, Ohio...they have 3 sons – Jeremy, Shane, and Luke...Jeremy is a sophomore infielder at the University of Virginia.

.208 batting average (15-for-72) with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...held foes to a .189 batting average (43-for-227) with 2 outs and a .159 mark (59-for-371) with 2 strikes...went 7-6 with a 4.84 ERA (59 ER/109.2 IP) in 17 starts at home and 9-5 with a 5.21 ERA (55 ER/95.0 IP) in 16 starts on the road...defeated 14 of the 16 teams he faced, going winless against only Detroit and Cleveland...beat 11 American League clubs and 3 National League clubs in 2006...owned a 2.22 ERA (27 ER/109.2 IP) in his 16 wins, a 10.36 ERA (66 ER/57.1 IP) in his 11 losses and a 5.02 ERA (21 ER/37.2 IP) in his 6 no-decisions.

HAVING A BLAST: May 20 in Philadelphia, became the first Red Sox pitcher since the advent of interleague play in 1997 to hit a home run, connecting for a solo homer off Brett Myers in the 7th inning...was the first homer by a Red Sox hurler since September 26, 1972 (Marty Pattin)...it was the 2nd home run Josh has hit in his career...on September 8, 2005 at Washington, he took John Patterson deep with a solo shot in the 5th.

TURNING 50: Earned career win No. 50 on June 23 vs. Philadelphia, retiring his first 16 batters faced before David Bell broke up the perfect game bid with a single...limited the Phillies to just 2 runs on 3 hits and no walks in 8.0 innings in Boston's 10-2 win.

3-YEAR EXTENSION: The Red Sox on July 19 announced a 3-year contract extension with Beckett with a club/vesting option for 2010...the announcement was made after Boston's 1-0 win over Kansas City that day at Fenway Park...Beckett was the starter and winner in that game, allowing 4 hits with 7 strikeouts in his 8.0 innings of work.

MORE 2006 HIGHLIGHTS: On May 9, pitched in Yankee Stadium for the first time since Game 6 of the 2003 World Series and earned a 14-3 win, his first start against the Yankees with the Sox...win snapped a 3-start winless streak...May 15 on his 26th birthday, collected an 11-1 win at Baltimore, limiting the Orioles to a first-inning solo homer from Miguel Tejada...allowed only 2 hits in 7.0 innings, walking none and fanning 6...on June 10, was rained out for the 3rd time of the season and made the start June 11 vs. Texas instead, recording a no-decision in Boston's 5-4, walk-off win...was also rained out May 14 vs. Texas and May 3 vs. New York...July 14 lost 15-3 to Oakland, his first loss at Fenway after beginning the season 5-0 at home...before that start had won 4 of his previous 5 outings, going 4-1 with a 3.63 ERA (14 ER/34.2 IP)...turned in one his finest performances of the season on July 19 vs. Kansas City, limiting the Royals to 4 hits over 8.0 shutout innings...struck out 7 and did not walk a batter...became the first 13-game winner in the majors on July 24 in Oakland, allowing 3 runs over 6.0 innings in Boston's 7-3 victory...August 19 vs. the Yankees was touched for 9 runs on 7 hits and 9 walks in 5.2 innings, striking out 2...the 9 earned runs were a career high...the 9 walks were also a career high, and most by a Red Sox pitcher since Roger Moret, who walked 9 in a complete game win over the White Sox on August 22, 1975 vs. the White Sox at Fenway...earned his first win in exactly one month on August 24 in Anaheim, holding the Angels to one run on 4 hits over 6.0 innings in Boston's 2-1 win...had his start cut short due to a small cut on his right middle finger...tossed a season-high 8.0 innings for the 3rd time on September 9 vs. Kansas City, allowing 4 runs on 8 hits in Boston's 12-inning, 10-4 loss...notched his 15th win of the season September 16 at Yankee Stadium, holding the Yankees to 2 runs on 4 hits despite 5 walks over 6.0 innings in Boston's 5-2 win...set a new career high with his 16th win September 21 vs. Minnesota, tossing 8.0 scoreless innings and scattering 6 hits with no walks and 5 strikeouts in a 6-0 win.

SUMMARY: Finished 15-8 with 2 complete games (one shutout) and a 3.38 ERA in his final year with the Marlins...one of only 11 N.L. pitchers to win at least 15 games, Beckett established then career highs in wins, starts (29), innings (178.2) and strikeouts (166), while ranking among league leaders in strikeouts per 9 innings (tied for 7th with 8.4), opponents average (9th at .234), winning percentage (tied for 9th at .652) and ERA (11th).

EXCLUSIVE COMPANY: Became just the 8th Marlins pitcher to win 15 games...combined with Dontrelle Willis (22 wins) to become the 3rd pair of Florida teammates to both reach 15 wins, joining Kevin Brown (17) and Al Leiter (16) in 1996 and Brown (16) and Alex Fernandez (17) in 1997.

CENTURY CLUB: Made his 100th career start September 8 at Washington, earning his 13th win, 8-4...became just the 5th pitcher to make 100 starts with the Marlins, joining A.J. Burnett (131), Brad Penny (130), Ryan Dempster (121) and Pat Rapp (115).

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Allowed 3 earned runs or less in 23 of his 29 starts, surrendering 2 earned runs or fewer in 19, including each of his final 5 starts, when he went 3-0 with a 2.25 ERA (8 ER/32.0 IP)...also worked at least 6.0 innings in 23 of his 29 starts...went 10-2 with a 2.47 ERA (25 ER/91.0 IP) in 14 starts at Dolphins Stadium, but went just 5-6 with a 4.31 ERA (42 ER/87.2 IP) in 15 starts on the road...started the season strong, going 4-1 with a 1.36 ERA (5 ER/33.0 IP) in 5 April starts...endured 2 trips to the D.L. in 2005, the 8th and 9th D.L. stints of his big league career.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Posted then-career highs with 26 starts and 156.2 innings and matched his career bests with 9 wins and 152 strikeouts...recorded a 9-9 record and 3.79 ERA while limiting opponents to a .235 average...would have ranked 8th in the N.L. with 8.7 strikeouts per 9 innings and 9th in the league in opponents average, but fell 5.1 innings shy of qualifying...with only 54 walks, posted a 2.8-to-1 strikeout-to-walk ratio...made 3 trips to the D.L., first with a blister on his right middle finger May 31, then with a strained lower back June 24 and finally with a skin tear on his right middle finger July 6.

2003: Posted a career-best 3.04 ERA, going 9-8 in 24 games (23 starts) for the Marlins before turning in an MVP performance in the World Series to help Florida to the World Championship...recorded 152 strikeouts in 142.0 innings, an average of 9.6 strikeouts per 9 innings...struck out 7 or more in a start 14 times, including a season-high 11 punchouts September 14 vs. Atlanta...his 2.55 ERA (25 ER/88.1 IP) after the All-Star break was 8th-best in the N.L...made his first career Opening Day start March 31 vs. Philadelphia, but took the loss after allowing 7 runs (2 earned) in 2.2 innings...became the 9th-youngest Opening Day starter since 1980 at 22 years, 320 days and the 2nd-youngest Opening Day starter in 2003 behind only Cleveland's C.C. Sabathia (22 years, 253 days)...was named the MVP of Florida's World Series victory over the Yankees...went 2-2 with a 2.11 ERA (10 ER/42.2 IP) and 2 complete-game shutouts in the 2003 postseason, including a complete-game 5-hitter for a 2-0 win in Game 6 of the World Series at Yankee Stadium to wrap up the championship for the Marlins...pitching on just 3 days rest, became the first pitcher since Minnesota's Jack Morris in 1991 to go the distance in a deciding World Series game (19th in baseball history), while his 47 strikeouts in the NLDS, NLCS and World Series matched the big league record for a single postseason set by Arizona's Randy Johnson in 2001...was the youngest pitcher (23 years, 5 months, 10 days) to win a deciding World Series game since Kansas City's Bret Saberhagen (21 years, 6 months, 16 days) in 1985...it was the first World Series complete-game shutout since Randy Johnson turned the trick for Arizona against the Yankees October 28, 2001.

2002: Averaged more than a strikeout per inning pitched in his first big league season, fanning 113 in 107.2 innings...went 6-7 with a 4.10 ERA in 23 games (all but 2 as a starter) for the Marlins, limiting opposing batters to a .232 average...a right middle finger blister landed him on the D.L. 3 times: May 1-14, June 5-July 16 and August 23-September 11...closed the season by going 1-1 with a 2.77 ERA (4 ER/13.0 IP) in 5 September games (3 starts)...however, went just 4-5 with a 5.12 ERA over his final 15 games after going 2-2 with a 2.90 ERA in his first 8 outings...fanned 11 or more twice: April 23 vs. Houston (11 K's) and July 21 vs. Montreal (a career-high 12 K's)...the 12 strikeouts tied for 2nd-most by a starter in Florida history and contributed to a franchise-record 17 strikeouts in a 9-inning game.

2001: Was named Marlins Rookie of the Year by the South Florida chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America after going 2-2 with a 1.50 ERA (4 ER/24.0 IP) in 4 starts for the Marlins after a September 1 promotion from Double-A Portland...was also named Florida's Minor League Player of the Year after going 14-1 with a 1.54 ERA in 26 games (25 starts) between Portland and Single-A Brevard County...was honored as Minor League Pitcher or Player of the Year by Sportsticker, USA Today, Baseball Weekly, Baseball America and The Sporting News...Baseball America labeled Beckett as Florida's top prospect and the 3rd overall prospect in baseball...in Baseball America's annual Best Tools survey of league managers, was rated as the top pitching prospect in the Eastern League and Florida State League, and his fastball and breaking ball were ranked as the best in the FSL...was named the organization's Minor League Pitcher of the Month in April, June and August, and earned Pitcher of the Week honors in his league 3 times...tossed 7.0 innings in a combined no-hitter August 13 with Portland vs. Binghamton, only the 2nd no-hitter in Sea Dogs history...made his major league debut September 4 vs. Chicago, allowing just one hit and walking 3 over 6.0 innings, fanning 5 in Florida's 8-1 win...became just the 4th Marlins starter to win his major league debut.

2000: In his pro debut, was rated by Midwest League managers as having the league's Best Fastball in Baseball America's Best Tools survey...pitched in the All-Star Futures Game in Atlanta...was named the Marlins' No. 1 prospect and the 19th-best prospect in the game by BA.

PERSONAL

Became the first high school pitcher to be selected in the first round by the Marlins when he was the 2nd overall pick in 1999...prior to the draft, was named the top high school prospect in the country by Baseball America...was the first high school righthander to be selected as high as number 2 in the draft since Montreal took Bill Gullickson with the 2nd pick in 1977...was named USA Today's High School Pitcher of the Year in 1999 after going 10-1 with a 0.46 ERA as a senior at Spring High School...enjoys hunting and fishing.

JOSH IN THE COMMUNITY: Was nominated for the Sporting News Good Guy Award in 2002...while with Florida, was active with the Florida Marlins Community Foundation, including sponsorship of the Josh Beckett Baseball Tournament, held for 6 straight years in South Florida...participated in the Buses for Baseball program sponsored by the MLB Players Association.

CAREER NOTES

SUMMARY: Begins his 9th professional season and has played in the majors with Detroit (2000-03), Colorado (2003-04), Atlanta (2005), Philadelphia (2006) and Kansas City (2006)...reached the big leagues in just his 2nd professional season in 2000 with the Tigers, a year after leading all Detroit minor leaguers with a 2.54 ERA for Single-A West Michigan...has split time between the major leagues and minors in every season beginning in 2000.

SUMMARY: Split the season between the Philadelphia and Kansas City organizations...went 1-0 with a 1.38 ERA (2 ER/13.0 IP) in 3 games for the Royals, including just one run allowed in 11.2 innings in his 2 starts...struck out 12 with just one walk in those 2 contests...opened the season with Triple-A Omaha, going 2-2 with one save and a 3.27 ERA in 11 games (7 starts) before being released on June 2...signed a minor league deal with the Phillies and made 5 starts for Triple-A Scranton and one start for Philadelphia before being outrighted on July 7...re-signed with the Royals on July 14 and was sent to Omaha, where he compiled a 3-1 record and 2.00 ERA in 5 starts to earn an August 11 call-up to Kansas City, where he closed the season...was on the disabled list from August 17-September 10 with right elbow inflammation.

MORE 2006 HIGHLIGHTS: Made his Royals debut on August 11 at Cleveland, allowing just one run on 7 hits in 5.2 innings...struck out 5 without issuing a walk in Kansas City's 4-3 loss...struck out 6 over 6.0 shutout innings to earn the win in his final start of the season on August 16 at Chicago, his first big league victory since June 18, 2005 with Atlanta at Cincinnati...marked the first start of his career in which he did not allow a run...after being reinstated from the D.L. on September 10, made his final appearance of the season in relief on September 30 at Detroit, allowing one run on 3 hits in 1.1 innings...was outrighted to Omaha on October 13 and elected free agency.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2005: Spent the majority of the season with Atlanta, going 4-3 with a 6.51 ERA in 36 relief appearances...started the season strong, going 3-0 with a 2.42 ERA (7 ER/26.0 IP) in his first 20 outings, but was 1-3 with an 11.57 ERA (27 ER/21.0 IP) in his final 16 games leading to his July 14 option to Triple-A Richmond...went 5-5 with a 3.40 ERA in 10 games (9 starts) with Richmond.

2004: Missed the season's first 75 games while on the D.L. with a right shoulder impingement...alternated between the Colorado bullpen and the Triple-A Colorado Springs rotation for the remainder of the year...picked up the win with 2.0 shutout relief innings on July 4 vs. Detroit, his first victory since May 31, 2003, snapping an 8-game losing streak that spanned 39 appearances...pitched in only 4 of Colorado's final 26 games after his September 7 recall...allowed 5 runs in both of his spot starts, July 7 and July 18, both against the Giants.

2003: Began the season in Detroit's starting rotation before being acquired by Colorado prior to the All-Star break...allowed just 2 earned runs in his first 13.2 National League innings (1.32 ERA), but then allowed 17 runs in his final 19.0 innings (8.05 ERA)...received

WITH BOSTON: Had 3 separate stints with Boston, going a combined 0-2 with 3 holds and a 3.75 ERA (5 ER/12.0 IP) in 13 relief appearances...had 12 strikeouts in his 12.0 innings...9 of his 13 outings came at Fenway Park, where he posted a 3.00 ERA (3 ER/9.0 IP) with all 12 of his strikeouts...originally had his contract purchased from Pawtucket on July 13 and made his Red Sox debut the following night vs. Oakland, allowing just one hit with 2 strikeouts in 1.2 innings...was optioned back to Pawtucket the next day before being recalled on August 14...pitched that night vs. Detroit, fanning 3 in 1.2 scoreless innings, but was again optioned to Pawtucket on August 18...earned a September 1 call-up to Boston, where he stayed for the remainder of the season...appeared in 11 games with the Sox to close the year, going 0-2 with a 5.19 ERA (5 ER/8.2 IP)...allowed one run in 1.0 inning to suffer his first career big league loss on September 9 vs. Kansas City...however, recorded all 3 of his outs via the strikeout in that game...also took the loss in night game of September 16 split doubleheader at Yankee Stadium, giving up 2 runs in 0.1 innings.

WITH PAWTUCKET: Went 7-1 with 7 saves and a 2.69 ERA (20 ER/67.0 IP) in 39 relief appearances with Pawtucket and was selected as the team's Most Valuable Pitcher in a vote of his teammates...was also Pawtucket's lone representative on the International League team for the 2006 Triple-A All-Star Game (did not pitch)...led the PawSox in appearances and ranked 2nd in saves while holding opposing batters to a .200 average...had 77 strikeouts in 67.0 innings, an average of 10.3 K's per 9 innings...did not allow an earned run in his final 11 appearances covering 17.1 innings, going 2-0 with 2 saves in that span.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Did not allow a run in his first 4 big league games (4.1 innings) before being charged with 2 runs in 1.0 inning on September 3 vs. Toronto...overall, pitched scoreless ball in 10 of his 13 big league outings...with Pawtucket, held lefties to a .179 (10-for-56) average and righties to a .206 (39-for-189) mark...allowed just 3 homers in 67.0 Triple-A innings and did not give up a long ball in his 13 big league appearances.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2005: Made his major league debut with 3 separate stints with the Padres, posting no record and a 2.20 ERA (4 ER/16.1 IP) in 14 games out of the bullpen...with San Diego, limited left-handed hitters to a .063 (1-for-16) average...averaged 8.1 K's per 9 innings between Double-A Mobile, Triple-A Portland and San Diego, recording 70 strikeouts in 77.2 innings...began the season with Mobile, going 2-1 with a 2.90 ERA (16 ER/49.2 IP) in 39 relief appearances to earn a July 23 promotion to San Diego...made his big league debut that night in Philadelphia, striking out 3 in 1.2 innings of scoreless relief...was optioned back to Mobile the following day before being recalled by the Padres 5 days later...was optioned to Triple-A Portland on August 11, and he made 7 appearances before his 3rd recall to San Diego September 1.

2004: Began his 3rd season in the Brewers organization with Single-A High Desert, going 1-3 with a 7.19 ERA in 23 games before being released July 6...signed with the New Jersey Jackals of the Independent Northeast League in late July, and went on to post a 3-1 record with a save and a 4.10 ERA in 19 games...held Northeast League foes to a .204 average and recorded 37 strikeouts in 26.1 innings, an average of 12.6 K's per 9 innings.

2003: Averaged 11.1 strikeouts per 9 innings for Single-A Beloit, fanning 80 batters in 65.0 innings...issued only 27 walks for a 3-to-1 strikeout-to-walk ratio...held opponents to a .254 average and gave up only 4 home runs in 65.0 innings, an average of one homer per 16.1 innings.

2002: Ranked 5th in the Pioneer League with 6 wins in his first professional campaign, going 6-2 with a 1.82 ERA (11 ER/54.1 IP) in 23 appearances out of the pen for Rookie-level Ogden...struck out 56 in 54.1 innings and limited the opposition to a .218 average.

PERSONAL

Graduated from Yale University in 2002, and in 2005 became the first Bulldog to reach the major leagues since Ron Darling...a molecular biophysics and biochemistry major, Breslow earned All-Ivy honors in a junior season that included a 16-strikeout performance vs. Cornell and a one-hit shutout at Harvard...was named captain of the 2002 squad...is a 1998 graduate of Trumbull High School...hobbies include golf, reading and crossword puzzles.

Attended a BoSox Club Luncheon during the 2006 season and in the off-season participated in the Red Sox Holiday Goodwill Tour, making stops in Vermont, New Hampshire and Connecticut.

SUMMARY: Spent most of the season in the Reds organization before being acquired by the Red Sox for righthander Tim Bausher on August 28...a member of Cincinnati's Opening Day roster, Burns had 3 stints with the Reds during the season: Opening Day-April 19, May 14-23 and June 18-26...until his trade to Boston, spent the remainder of his time with Triple-A Louisville...joined Boston's 25-man roster on August 29 and spent the rest of the season with the Red Sox...agreed to terms on a 2007 contract on October 13 and was assigned outright to Triple-A Pawtucket.

WITH BOSTON: Spent the final 34 days of the season with the Red Sox, posting no record and a 4.70 ERA in 7 relief appearances...boasted a 1.50 ERA (1 ER/6.0 IP) in his first 5 outings and combined to allow 3 runs in 1.2 innings in his final 2 appearances...had 4 games finished with the Red Sox...struck out 7 in 7.2 innings and walked only one, which was intentional...between the Red Sox and Cincinnati, combined to post a 7.29 ERA (17 ER/21.0 IP) in 18 relief appearances...recorded a 4.0-to-one strikeout to walk ratio with 16 strikeouts and only 4 walks, 2 of which were intentional.

WITH CINCINNATI: Posted no record and a 8.78 ERA in 11 relief appearances with the Reds...a member of his first-career Opening Day roster, he allowed runs in 4 of his first 7 appearances with the Reds before his April 19 option to Louisville...made only 4 relief outings the rest of the way during his next 2 stints with the Reds.

WITH LOUISVILLE: Went 6-1 with a 1.75 ERA in 40 appearances, including a pair of starts...held opposing batters to a .200 batting average and did not allow an earned run in his final 8.2 innings covering 5 appearances...had the lowest ERA on Louisville's staff among pitchers with at least 10 innings pitched.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2005: Split the season between Triple-A Round Rock and the Astros...in his Major League debut appeared in 27 games over 3 stints in Houston...at Round Rock posted a 2.10 ERA in 25 relief appearances and led the staff with 13 saves...began the season with Round Rock...was promoted on May 13 and optioned back on May 22...was recalled on June 10 and returned to Round Rock on August 31...on September 6 was promoted again and spent the rest of the season with the Astros...made his big league debut on May 13 vs. San Francisco, allowing one hit in 1.1 innings...did not allow an earned run in any of his last 5 appearances of the season (5.0 IP)...didn't allow a run in July (8 games, 10.0 IP)...posted a 1.29 ERA in September and a 3.10 ERA on the road...in 9 games from July 3-August 3 threw 11.0 scoreless innings...5 times threw 2.0 innings.

2004: At Double-A Round Rock was a Texas League All-Star after finishing 11-3 with 9 saves and a 1.67 ERA in 56 appearances...was one of 8 Express players named to that All-Star team...led the club in ERA (1.67) and appearances (56) and ranked 2nd in wins (11) despite making all 56 outings in relief...ranked among league leaders in appearances (3rd) and Rolaids Relief Man Award points (3rd).

2003: At Double-A Round Rock went 2-13 with a 6.13 in 38 games (14 starts)...ranked 3rd in the Texas League in losses.

2002: At Single-A Michigan was a Midwest League All-Star after going 14-9 with a 2.49 ERA in 28 starts...led the club in complete games (3), shutouts (2) and innings pitched (181.0)...led the Midwest League in starts and innings pitched and ranked among the MWL leaders in shutouts (2nd), victories (3rd), complete games (3rd), ERA (4th) and fewest walks per 9 innings (1.39, 5th)...was MWL Pitcher of the Week from April 15-21.

2001: At Single-A Michigan went 7-7 with one complete game, one save and a 3.95 ERA in 29 games (21 starts)...ranked 2nd on the staff in strikeouts (108) and 3rd in innings pitched (132.0).

BEHIND THE PLATE: Has appeared in 398 career major league games at catcher (309 starts), throwing out 88 of 241 attempted basestealers (36.5 percent)...has only 23 career big league errors and 20 passed balls, posting a .990 career fielding percentage...starting pitchers own a 4.36 ERA all-time with Castillo behind the plate.

2006 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Played in the Washington Nationals organization in 2006, batting .268 with 30 RBI in 88 games at Triple-A New Orleans...had almost as many walks (35) as strikeouts (42), contributing to his .356 on-base percentage...appeared in 79 games at catcher with 6 errors and 10 passed balls...batted .299 (20-for-67) with runners in scoring position, including 3-for-6 with the bases loaded...had his best offensive month in May, when he hit .371 (23-for-62) with 14 RBI and 13 runs scored in 19 games...batted in the No. 9 spot in the order 13 times, hitting .432 (16-for-37) in those contests...after the season, played for Aguilas in the Dominican Winter League and for the Dominican Republic in the Caribbean World Series.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2005: Spent the majority of the season as Kansas City's backup catcher...was released by the Royals on August 4 and signed with Oakland as a minor league free agent on August 21...was a September call-up for the A's, but appeared in just one game (September 2 vs. New York Yankees)...overall, batted .208 with 14 RBI in 35 games for Kansas City and Oakland...also had a stint with Triple-A Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League after signing with Oakland, going 1-for-13 in 4 games.

2004: Spent the bulk of the season as Kansas City's backup catcher after being released by the San Francisco Giants in spring training...batted .270 with a homer and 11 RBI in 29 games for Kansas City...hit .290 with all 11 RBI against righthanded pitching...began the regular season with Triple-A Omaha, batting .255 with 10 extra-base hits (9 doubles, one home run) in 15 games.

2003: Signed a minor league contract with the San Francisco Giants, but began the season on loan to the Mexican Summer League...returned to the United States and joined Fresno of the Triple-A Pacific Coast League in July...had his contract purchased by the Giants on July 7 after only 2 games with Fresno...blasted his first and only grand slam on July 20 vs. Colorado off Denny Neagle...spent time on the D.L. from July 28-August 26 with a right wrist contusion...signed a one-year contract extension with the Giants on November 5.

2002: Began the season as the Yankees' backup catcher to Jorge Posada, but was designated for assignment on June 30 after playing in just 15 games (.135 with 4 RBI)...was later outrighted to Triple-A Columbus of the International League, batting .275 in 30 games over the remainder of the season.

2001: Batted .198 in 66 games for Toronto in the last of 3 consecutive seasons spent exclusively in the big leagues...was Darrin Fletcher's backup...batted .357 (11-for-30) in 15 June contests.

2000: Served as Toronto's backup catcher to Darrin Fletcher, who clubbed 20 homers for the Jays...5 of his 16 RBI came against the Tigers...13 of his 16 RBI came before the All-Star break.

1999: Enjoyed his finest big league season, setting career bests in games played (93), at-bats (255), hits (67), home runs (4), RBI (31) and walks (24).

1998: Played in 38 games for the Mets in his 12th and final season in the New York organization...collected 2 home runs and 7 RBI...clubbed his first career major league home run on May 16 at San Francisco, a solo shot off Kirk Reuter...signed a minor league deal with Philadelphia after the season, but was then selected by the St. Louis Cardinals in the Rule 5 Draft on December 14.

1997: Earned a spot on the Mets' Opening Day roster, but had only 8 singles in 24 games before the All-Star break...was sent to Triple-A Norfolk for the final 2 months of the minor league season...returned to the Mets in September.

1996: Hit .208 with a career-high 11 homers and 39 RBI in 113 games for Norfolk...was a September call-up to the Mets.

1995: Began the season with Norfolk, but was called up to New York on May 27 for his first big league stint...had his first hit and called his first shutout on May 30 vs. San Diego.

1994: Advanced to Double-A for the first time, hitting 7 home runs with 42 RBI in 90 contests for Binghamton.

1993: Had a career-best 21 doubles and 7 sacrifice flies for Single-A St. Lucie.

1992: Batted just .204 in 60 games for St. Lucie.

1991: Set professional bests with 47 RBI and 6 stolen bases in 90 games for Single-A Columbia.

1990: Combined to hit .229 with 12 doubles, 4 triples, 6 home runs and 41 RBI in 91 games for 3 Mets Single-A affiliates (Columbia, Pittsfield and St. Lucie).

1989: Committed only 3 errors in 61 Single-A games for Kingsport and short-season Pittsfield.

1988: Combined to hit .280 with 24 RBI in 46 games for Kingsport and New York's Gulf Coast League squad.

1987: Signed with the Mets on April 15, but played in just 7 games for rookie-level Kingsport.

CAREER NOTES

30 STARTS STREAK SNAPPED: Had made 30 or more starts in each of his 7 full major league seasons from 1999-2005 before being limited by shoulder troubles to just 12 starts for Boston in 2006...before 2006, had won at least 9 games in each of his 7 seasons, including a career-high 14 wins with the Cubs in 2003 and 13 wins in his first season as a Red Sox in 2005, his 5th career campaign with 10 or more victories.

SEEING STARS: An All-Star for the first time in 2005, Clement became just the 6th pitcher in club history to make the A.L. All-Star team in his first season with the Red Sox...he joined RHP Don Swall (1961), RHP Bill Campbell (1977), RHP Erik Hanson (1995), RHP Pedro Martinez (1998) and RHP Curt Schilling (2004).

QUICK OUT OF THE GATE: In 2005 jumped out to a 6-0 start for the first time in his career, posting a 3.06 ERA over his first 11 starts...it was the longest winning streak to open a season by a Sox starter since both Pedro Martinez and John Burkett went 7-0 to start 2002.

2006 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Was limited by shoulder troubles to just 12 starts in his 2nd season with Boston, going 5-5 with a 6.61 ERA...did not pitch after June 14, when he prematurely left his start at Minnesota due to shoulder discomfort...was placed on the 15-day disabled list on June 16 (retroactive to June 15) with a right shoulder strain...went through a period of rest and rehabilitation over the next 3 months in hopes of returning to action in late September...made a rehab start for the Gulf Coast League Red Sox on July 4 vs. the Pirates GCL squad (1.0 IP, 1 H, 0 R, 1 K)...experienced further discomfort while attempting to throw a side session in Toronto on September 22.

SHOULDER SURGERY AND REHAB: Underwent arthroscopic right shoulder surgery by Dr. James Andrews on September 26 in Birmingham, AL...Matt began with a period of rest after the procedure, followed by an extensive rehabilitation process.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Worked 7.0 innings in 2 of his first 3 starts, but did not reach that mark in any of his final 9 outings...alternated a win with a loss for each of his 10 decisions...allowed 6 earned runs or more in a start 3 times, including a season high 8 earned runs on May 24 vs. the Yankees...reached 100 pitches in a start only 5 times, including a season-high 108 on May 19 at Philadelphia...went 1-3 with a 7.86 ERA (23 ER/26.1 IP) in 5 starts at Fenway Park and 4-2 with a 5.77 ERA (25 ER/39.0 IP) in 7 starts on the road...was 2-0 with a 3.97 ERA (5 ER/11.1 IP) in 2 starts during the day...opponents hit .291 off Clement, including a .414 (24-for-58) mark with runners in scoring position.

MORE 2006 HIGHLIGHTS: Had arguably his best start of the season on May 4 vs. Toronto, earning the win after allowing just 2 hits and a run over 6.0 innings in Boston's 7-4 victory...struck out a season-high 7 in his season debut on April 7 in Baltimore, when he notched the win with 7.0 innings of 4-run ball...walked a season-high 6 batters in a start 2 times, including his season finale on June 14 at Minnesota.

2005 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: In his first season in Boston, Clement was selected to the American League All-Star team and finished 13-6 with a 4.57 ERA in 32 starts...ranked 7th in the A.L. with a .684 (13-6) winning percentage and tied for 9th in the league with 6.9 strikeouts per 9 innings (146 K/191.0 IP)...his 68 walks were the fewest of any full season in his career...the Red Sox were 22-10 in his starts, their most wins behind any starter...went 9-1 with a 3.33 ERA (38 ER/102.2 IP) in 16 starts through the end of June and 4-5 with a 6.01 ERA (59 ER/88.1 IP) in 16 starts the rest of the way...lost 3 of his last 5 starts after losing only 3 of his first 27 outings...only Tim Wakefield and Bronson Arroyo threw more innings on the staff, while only Wakefield rang up more K's and made more starts...18 of his 32 starts were quality starts.

STAR SIGHTING: A first-time All-Star, Clement threw a scoreless 5th inning in the American League's 7-5 win in the Mid-Summer Classic July 12 at Comerica Park in Detroit...Luis Castillo and David Eckstein flew out before Clement walked Bobby Abreu and struck out Carlos Beltran to close out the inning...entered the All-Star break 10-2 with a 3.85 ERA (50 ER/117.0 IP) in 18 starts... in 14 starts after the break, went 3-4 with a 5.72 ERA (47 ER/74.0 IP).

CONTROLLING INTEREST: Issued 68 walks in 191.0 innings, an average of 3.2 per 9 innings... the total was his lowest ever in a full big league season but was tied for 9th-highest in the A.L... ranked 5th in the league with 13 wild pitches and was 2nd with 16 hit batsmen.

SUPPORT STAFF: Received an average of 6.88 runs of support per 9 innings, 3rd-highest in all of baseball behind teammate David Wells (7.97) and Chris Young of the Rangers (7.32)...the Red Sox scored 146 runs while he was in the game, the 5th-highest total in baseball...as a Cub in 2004, received an average of 2.6 runs while in the game, the 6th-lowest total in the N.L.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN: Left 6 starts with the lead and on line for a victory only to see the bullpen give up the advantage: May 11 vs. Oakland, July 21 at Chicago (AL), July 26 at Tampa Bay, August 9 vs. Texas, August 19 at Los Angeles (AL) and September 24 at Baltimore...4 of those came in a 5-start stretch between July 21 and August 19...nonetheless, the Red Sox won all 6 of those games, all by a single run and 3 in extra innings...the Red Sox scored a total of 14 runs in Matt's 6 losses, 3 or less in 5 and 2 or fewer in 3.

QUICK START: Raced out to a 6-0 start for the first time in his career, posting a 3.06 ERA over his first 11 starts...it was the longest winning streak to open a season by a Boston starter since Pedro Martinez and John Burkett both went 7-0 to start 2002...the streak was the 2nd-longest of Matt's career...he won 8 consecutive decisions September 5, 1999-May 2, 2000 with the Padres.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Made the start in Game 1 of the American League Division Series at Chicago, enduring a 14-2 setback...in 3.1 innings, allowed 8 runs on 7 hits and a pair of hit-by-pitches, walking none, fanning none and allowing 3 home runs to match the club post-season record (done several times)...the 8 runs allowed also matched the post-season club record set by Roger Clemens in Game 1 of the 1986 ALCS vs. California...the White Sox scored 5 runs in the first inning, capping their scoring with a 3-run homer by A.J. Pierzynski...Chicago scored another run in the 3rd and 2 more in the 4th to drive Clement from the game after recording only 10 outs.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Capped his 3-year stint with the Cubs by going 9-13 in 30 starts...posted a 3.68 ERA, 2nd-lowest of his career (3.60)...struck out 190 in 181.0 IP, an average of 9.4 K's per 9 innings (tied for 5th-best in the N.L.)...limited foes to a .229 average, 8th-lowest in the league...after starting the season 6-3 with a 3.05 ERA (22 ER/65.0 IP) in 10 starts through May 28, won just 3 games the rest of the way with a 4.03 ERA (52 ER/116.0 IP) over his final 20 starts...dropped his first start of the year April 8 at Cincinnati and then went 5-0 with a 1.53 ERA (6 ER/35.1 IP) in 5 starts April 14-May 6...tied his career high with a 5-game losing streak June 18-July 16 despite a stellar 2.61 ERA (11 ER/38.0 IP) over the 6-start stretch...was the victim of poor run support, as his average of 4.03 runs of support per game was 6th-lowest in the N.L.

2003: Set a career high in wins by going 14-12 with a 4.11 ERA (92 ER/201.2 IP) in 32 starts for the Cubs...limited foes to a .227 average, 6th-lowest in the NL...right-handers hit .209, 4th-lowest among NL starters...allowed just 169 hits in 201.2 innings, an average of 7.54 per 9 innings, the 6th-best ratio in the league...fanned 171 for an average of 7.63 K's per 9 innings, 10th-best in the NL...started the season 2-6 with a 4.99 ERA (34 ER/61.1 IP) in 10 starts through the end of May and went 12-6 with a 3.72 ERA (58 ER/140.1 IP) in 22 starts the rest of the way...in his final 18 starts beginning June 27, limited foes to a .197 average in 118.0 innings...allowed 3 earned runs or less in 8 straight starts June 27-August 3, going 4-2 with a 2.29 ERA (15 ER/59.0 IP)...held foes to a .146 average in that span...capped the stretch by earning NL Player of the Week honors from July 28-August 3.

2002: Went 12-11 with a 3.60 ERA in 32 starts in his first season with the Cubs...set career bests with a 3.60 ERA, 215 K's, 3 complete games and a .215 average against while matching his career high with 205.0 innings...ranked 3rd in the N.L. in opponents average...his strikeout total ranked 4th in the league, as did his average of 9.4 K's per 9 innings...boasted 6 double-digit strikeout efforts...led the league with a 2.55 road ERA (28 ER/98.2 IP)...held foes to a .145 average (10-for-69) with runners in scoring position and 2 outs.

2001: In his lone season with Florida, went 9-10 with a 5.05 ERA in 31 starts...had 134 strikeouts and 85 walks, 40 fewer than when he led the National League with 125 walks in 2000 with the Padres...lowered his ERA more than a point after the All-Star break compared to before, as he went 4-6 with a 5.47 ERA (60 ER/98.2 IP) in 18 starts before the break and 5-4 with a 4.46 ERA (35 ER/70.2 IP) in 13 starts after...went 2-0 with a 2.08 ERA (3 ER/13.0 IP) in 2 interleague starts, including a 4-2 win in Boston June 13, his lone outing at Fenway prior to 2005...with 15 wild pitches, led the league for the 2nd straight season.

2000: Wrapped up his Padres career by making a career-high 34 starts, going 13-17 with a 5.14 ERA...established a career high with 205.0 innings pitched, later matched in 2002...tied for 6th in the league in starts while leading the N.L. with 125 walks and 23 wild pitches...surrendered 4 grand slams, tying a major league single-season record...began the season 4-0 to extend his personal winning streak to a career-best 8 games dating to September 5, 1999...after going 9-7 with a 4.84 ERA (62 ER/115.1 IP) in 19 starts before the All-Star break, went just 4-10 with a 5.52 ERA (55 ER/89.2 IP) in 15 starts in the 2nd half.

1999: Became just the 4th rookie in Padres history to win 10 or more games in his first full season, going 10-12 with a 4.48 ERA in 31 starts...tied for first among N.L. rookies in starts while ranking 3rd in ERA, innings pitched and strikeouts (135)...led all N.L. starters with an average of 1.4 double plays induced per 9 innings...ended his campaign strong, going 4-0 with a 2.23 ERA (8 ER/32.1 IP) over his final 5 starts, the beginning of a career-best 8-game winning streak.

1998: Began the season at Triple-A Las Vegas and ended by making his major league debut with San Diego at the age of 24, going 2-0 with a 4.61 ERA (7 ER/13.2 IP) in 4 appearances (2 starts) as a September call-up for the eventual N.L. champs...went 10-9 with a 3.98 ERA in 27 starts for Las Vegas, leading all Triple-A pitchers with 160 strikeouts...following the season, was named to Baseball America's Triple-A All-Star team and to Howe SportsData's All-Prospect club...had 3 double-digit strikeout games, including a 13-strikeout effort June 11 at Salt Lake...recalled to San Diego September 4, he made his major league debut September 6 at Colorado with a 1.0-inning relief appearance...allowed 3 earned runs but fanned his first batter faced (Jamey Wright)...went 2-0 with a 2.84 ERA (4 ER/12.2 IP) in his final 3 outings (2 starts)...made his first major league start September 13 vs. Los Angeles, allowing 4 runs (3 earned) on 5 hits in 6.0 innings, picking up a no-decision in San Diego's 5-4, 10-inning loss...earned his first major league win his next time out September 19 vs. Colorado, limiting the Rockies to just one run on 6 hits in 5.2 innings in a 4-1 win...earned the lone relief win of his career with a scoreless 7th inning September 27 at Arizona, a 3-2 Padres victory...was not on the Padres' post-season roster.

1997: Earned Padres Minor League Pitcher of the Year honors after combining to go 12-8 with a 2.05 ERA in 27 starts for Single-A Rancho Cucamonga and Double-A Mobile...struck out 201 in 189.0 innings, an average of 9.6 K's per 9 innings...began his year at Rancho Cucamonga, where he went 6-3 with a 1.60 ERA and was named to the mid-season California League All-Star team...made 13 starts for Mobile, going 6-5 with a 2.56 ERA.

1996: Combined to go 12-8 with a 3.83 ERA in 27 starts between Single-A Clinton and Single-A Rancho Cucamonga...spent the first half season with Clinton, going 8-3 with a 2.80 ERA (30 ER/96.1 IP) in 16 Midwest League starts...struck out 109 in 96.1 innings, an average of 10.2 strikeouts per 9 innings, the 3rd-best ratio in the MWL...was promoted to Rancho Cucamonga and went 4-5 with a 5.59 ERA in 11 starts for the Quakes.

1995: Split his campaign between Single-A Rancho Cucamonga and Rookie-level Idaho Falls, making 26 starts and combining to go 9-7 with a 4.29 ERA...went 6-3 with a 4.33 ERA in 14 starts for Idaho Falls and 3-4 with a 4.24 ERA in 12 starts for Rancho Cucamonga.

1994: Made his pro debut and went 8-5 with a 4.43 ERA in 13 starts for Rookie-level Peoria...struck out 76 in 67.0 innings, an average of 10.2 strikeouts per 9.0 innings...was promoted late in the season to Single-A Spokane, going 1-1 with a 6.14 ERA in 2 starts.

PERSONAL

Matt and his wife Heather have 2 sons--Mattix (3) and Madden (1)--and make their offseason home in Butler, PA...graduated in 1993 from Butler High School, where he played both baseball and basketball...was a standout basketball player in high school and turned down several Division I scholarship offers to instead pursue a professional baseball career.

CAREER NOTES

BACK FOR SECONDS: Begins his 2nd season in Boston after enduring an injury-plagued first campaign in 2006...prior to last season, had improved his batting average and total of home runs, doubles and runs scored in every season since breaking into the big leagues with the Indians at the age of 22 in 2002...had a career-best 22 stolen bases in 2006, but saw declines in nearly every other offensive category from his 2005 campaign with Cleveland...per 162 games in his major league career, is averaging .282 with 35 doubles, 13 home runs, 66 RBI, 91 runs scored and 24 stolen bases.

WHY COCO?

As a youngster, Covelli Crisp's great-grandmother Wilda Smith called him "Co." His sister Sheileah and godbrother Marcus, inspired by Cocoa Krispies cereal, lengthened it to "Coco," and the nickname stuck.

2006 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Was bothered by a non-displaced fracture of his left index finger for much of his first season in Boston, batting .264 with 22 doubles, 2 triples, 8 home runs, 36 RBI and 58 runs scored in 105 games...had a career-best 22 stolen bases, while being caught only 4 times for an 85 per cent success rate...the 22 steals are the most by a Red Sox since Johnny Damon had 30 in 2003...saw declines in nearly every other offensive category from his 2005 campaign with Cleveland...made 103 appearances (100 starts) in center field, committing just one error in 250 total chances...began his Red Sox career with a season-high 10-game hitting streak from April 3-June 2, batting .333 (15-for-45) with 11 runs scored...started the season as the club's leadoff hitter, but began to consistently hit lower in the order on June 14 in Minnesota...saw the majority of his action from the No. 1 (56 games, .233, 55-for-236), No. 7 (22 games, .349, 29-for-83) and No. 8 (25 games, .266, 25-for-94) spots in the order.

FINGER FAILURE: Suffered a non-displaced fracture at the base of his left index finger on April 8 at Baltimore on a stolen base attempt of third in the 3rd inning...was placed on the disabled list on April 11 (retroactive to April 9) and missed 41 games, returning to the club May 28...was batting .333 (8-for-24) with a double, triple and 6 runs scored in 5 games at the time of the injury...continued to be bothered by the finger injury after being reinstated, which worsened toward the end of the season...did not play after September 20 and underwent surgery on September 26 to ensure full healing of the fracture...overall, batted .260 (101-for-389) in 100 games after being activated from the D.L.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: The switch-hitter batted .277 (31-for-112) with one home run from the right side of the plate and .259 (78-for-301) with 7 homers from the left...batted .281 (55-for-196) in 50 games at Fenway Park, but only .249 (54-for-217) in 55 games on the road...rebounded from a .243 July and .241 August to hit .292 (14-for-48) in September...hit .291 (86-for-296) in 76 night games, but just .197 (23-for-117) in 29 day contests.

MORE 2006 HIGHLIGHTS: Had a season-high 3 hits in a game 7 times (last on September 6 vs. the White Sox)...drove in a season-high 3 runs on September 12 at Baltimore...scored a season-high 3 runs on August 3 vs. Cleveland...tied for the team season high with 2 stolen bases in the 2nd game of the September 17 doubleheader at Yankee Stadium...stole a base in 4 straight games from August 4-8, the longest such stretch of his career...legged out 2 triples: April 5 at Texas and July 14 vs. Oakland...had 3 of his 8 home runs in a 14-game stretch from August 12-26...hit his first Red Sox home run in his 2nd game after being activated from the D.L. on May 29 at Toronto off Roy Halladay.

REHAB ASSIGNMENT: Was sent to the Red Sox' extended spring camp in Fort Myers on May 25 and was 2-for-11 in a pair of extended spring games...played center field for Triple-A Pawtucket on rehab assignment on May 27, going 1-for-3 with a 2-run single and a walk in the PawSox' 4-0 win over Norfolk before being reinstated from the D.L. on May 28.

A NEW DEAL: Less than 3 months after his trade from Cleveland to Boston, Coco and the Red Sox agreed to a 3-year contract extension through 2009 with a club option for 2010 on April 12...the deal came after the switch-hitter had an outstanding spring for Boston, batting .434 in 19 exhibition games...he was hitting .333 (8-for-24) with a double, triple, and 6 runs scored in 5 games to start the regular season before being placed on the D.L.

SUMMARY: Capped his Indians career by setting personal highs with a .300 average, 42 doubles, 16 homers and 86 runs in 145 games...also turned in career bests in at-bats (594), hits (178), walks (44), on-base percentage (.345) and slugging (.465)...led the A.L. with 13 sacrifice bunts...also ranked among the league's top 5 in doubles (tied for 5th), batting vs. righties (5th at .324), and road (5th at .323)...after hitting only .253 (25-for-99) with 5 doubles, one homer and 5 RBI in 23 games in April, was off and running the rest of the way, batting .309 (153-for-495) with 37 doubles, 15 homers and 64 RBI over his final 122 games...boasted an especially strong September, batting .331 (40-for-121) with 6 homers and 16 RBI in the season's final month...was named A.L. Player of the Week for September 6-12 after hitting .571 (16-for-28) with 3 homers and 7 RBI.

BRIEFLY ON THE SHELF: Was on the 15-day disabled list from May 18-June 2 with a sprained right thumb, which he suffered sliding into third base the night before vs. the Angels...after fears the injury would require surgery that could cost him 2-3 months of the season, Coco bounced back and rejoined the team 15 days later...from his June 2 activation through the end of the season, Crisp hit .305 (135-for-442) with 31 doubles, 13 homers and 58 RBI in 107 games.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: The switch-hitter batted .324 (127-for-392) vs. righthanders and .252 (51-for-202) vs. lefthanders...hit .323 (98-for-303) in 73 games away from Jacobs Field and .275 (80-for-291) in 72 games at The Jake...went 15-for-21 (71 percent) in stolen base attempts...made 133 starts in left field and 10 starts in center, compiling a .985 fielding percentage...hit better than .288 in every month of the season except April (.253)...hit .301 (69-for-229) with runners on base and .400 (40-for-100) when putting the first pitch in play...batted .364 (4-for-11) with 11 RBI with the bases loaded...his 28 bunts in play tied for 3rd in the A.L....his final day off of the season was July 30, as he appeared in the club's final 57 games.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Compiled a pair of 10-game hitting streaks: May 5-15, during which he batted .400 (14-for-35), and July 3-14, batting .349 (15-for-43)...his inside-the-park home run July 4 vs. Detroit was just the 3rd by an Indian at Jacobs Field...had three 4-hit games to match his career high for the 6th time, the last of which occurred September 11...equaled his career high with 4 runs scored August 9 at Kansas City.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Made his first Opening Day roster and eventually established himself as the club's everyday center fielder midway through the season en route to a .297 batting average with 15 homers and a career-high 71 RBI in 139 games...his campaign gained momentum as the season progressed, as he hit just .211 in April but improved to .278 in May, .289 in June and .278 in July before exploding to post a .337 average in August and a .336 mark in September...in fact, turned in an impressive .316 average (131-for-414) with 15 homers and 65 RBI in his final 110 games beginning May 21...ranked 9th in the A.L. with a .318 batting average after the All-Star break...had only 7 RBI in his

CAREER NOTES

HEADING EAST: Joins the Red Sox in 2007 after spending his entire major league career with the Angels (2002-06)...compiled a 23-8 record and a 2.87 ERA with 295 strikeouts in 295 innings over 276 relief appearances with the Angels in the last 5 seasons...his .742 winning percentage in that span ranks as the best among all major league relievers with at least 20 decisions...has 20 victories in the last 3 years, tied for the 3rd-most relief wins in the majors...his 2.87 ERA since the start of 2002 ranks 10th among American League relievers (min. 153 innings)...has made 230 appearances from 2003-06, 12th-most in the A.L. in that span...made his big league debut with the Angels in 2002 after 10 minor league seasons with 9 different organizations, including 2 independent teams.

WHAT A RELIEF: Into 2007, opponents are batting just .219 lifetime vs. Donnelly and he has held the opposition to a .214 average with runners in scoring position...has 74 holds and has permitted just 21.3 percent (32 of 150) of his inherited runners to score...has appeared in at least 62 games in 3 of the last 4 seasons and has had a sub-4.00 ERA in each of his 5 major league seasons.

ALL-TIME ANGEL: At the time of his trade to Boston, among Angels pitchers with at least 100 career appearances, Donnelly had the 5th-lowest ERA while averaging the 5th-most strikeouts per 9 innings (9.00)...ranked 6th on the team's all-time list for relief wins and 9th in total appearances...has won his last 9 decisions dating back to August 12, 2005, a club record for a reliever.

A STERLING START IN '03: Had a spectacular start in 2003, allowing just 2 earned runs in his first 50 innings of work with the lowest ERA (0.38) by a regular major league reliever at the All-Star break in 14 seasons...the performance earned him a spot on the American League All-Star team, and he was the winning pitcher in the A.L.'s 7-6 victory at Chicago...finished the year with a 1.58 ERA and a career-best 3 saves.

POST-SEASON PERFORMER: Has gone 1-0 with 4 holds and a 4.95 ERA (11 ER/20.0 IP) in 17 post-season appearances over 3 seasons with the Angels (2002, 2004-05)...has held opponents to a .192 (14-for-73) average in the playoffs with 23 strikeouts in 20 innings...allowed just one hit in 7.2 innings in the 2002 World Series, the most shutout innings by a reliever since Cincinnati's Tom Hall in 1972 (8.1 IP)...led Angels pitchers with 5 World Series appearances...worked 3.1 scoreless innings over 3 outings in the 2005 ALCS vs. the White Sox.

1-0 VICTOR: Earned his first major league win September 5 vs. the White Sox with a 1-0 triumph...became the first Red Sox pitcher to collect his first major league win with a 1-0 victory since Bobby Ojeda on August 2, 1980 vs. Texas...he became the 3rd pitcher in the big leagues in 2006 to earn his first win with a 1-0 victory, joining Houston's Chris Sampson (June 7 vs. the Cubs) and the Cubs' Ryan O'Malley (August 16 vs. Houston).

INSIDE THE NUMBERS WITH PORTLAND: The quickest Sea Dog to 9 wins in franchise history (he got there in his 13th and final start), he was named the Eastern League's Pitcher of the Week for the period of May 1-7 after going 2-0 with a 0.69 ERA (1 ER/13.0 IP) in 2 starts in that stretch, fanning 17 and walking only 2 in 13.0 innings...he won his final 5 starts leading to his Triple-A promotion, going 5-0 with a 1.45 ERA (5 ER/31.0 IP) in the 5 outings, including a 0.36 ERA (1 ER/25.0 IP) in his final 4 starts.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS WITH PAWTUCKET: Made his Triple-A debut June 27 and recorded a loss vs. Ottawa, allowing 7 runs on 8 hits and 4 walks in 5.2 innings...in fact, he lost his first 3 starts at Triple-A before breaking through with a dominating win July 13 vs. Charlotte, when he allowed just 2 hits and 2 walks in 7.0 scoreless innings...went 0-3 with a 6.87 ERA (14 ER/18.1 IP) in his first 3 starts at Pawtucket and went 1-0 with a 1.69 ERA (2 ER/10.2 IP) in his final 2 starts leading to his initial call-up on July 22.

YOUTH SHALL BE SERVED: Was one of a club-record 7 Red Sox pitchers to earn his first major league win in 2006, joining Devern Hansack, Manny Delcarmen, Lenny DiNardo, Craig Hansen, Jon Lester and Jermaine Van Buren...the Red Sox previously had 6 pitchers earn their first major league win in 1940 and 1969.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2005: Went 9-11 with a 4.61 ERA in 27 outings, 25 as a starter, in his first full season with Double-A Portland...only Jon Lester (11 wins) totaled more victories for the Sea Dogs...limited lefties to a .225 batting average, while righties batted .263...won his first 3 starts, going 3-0 with a 1.42 ERA (3 ER/19.0 IP) through April 21...had a tough May and June, going 3-6 with a 7.13 ERA in 12 outings (10 starts) before settling down to go 3-4 with a 3.27 ERA in his final 11 starts after July 1.

2004: Started the year with Single-A Sarasota, where he was a Florida State League mid-season All-Star...won back-to-back starts April 28 and May 5, allowing 2 runs in 11.0 innings...earned his first career save May 22 vs. Lakeland...promoted to Double-A Portland June 19...earned Eastern League Pitcher of the Week honors for August 10-16...overall, went 2-0 with 1.69 ERA in his 5 appearances at Portland's Hadlock Field...pitched for Peoria in Arizona Fall League.

2003: Made just 2 starts for Sarasota before injury shortened his season on April 10 due to a left elbow injury that required surgery, but not Tommy John ligament replacement surgery.

2002: Spent the season with Single-A Augusta...gave up 2 earned runs or fewer in 5 consecutive starts, April 19-May 11...started a tough-luck 0-4 with a 1.78 ERA that had him ranked among league leaders.

2001: Made 6 starts for the Gulf Coast League Red Sox...threw 2.0 no-hit frames in his first start, an 11-1 win vs. the Reds on June 29...fanned 5 batters in 3.0 innings, holding Reds to 2 hits, 0 runs in 9-0 win on July 10.

PERSONAL

Was a 2000 graduate of Royal Palm Beach (FL) High School where he was named first-team All-County...attended Indian River CC where he was named first-team All-Conference...became the 3rd member of Boston's 2000 Draft class to reach the big leagues, joining Manny Delcarmen (2nd round) and Freddy Sanchez (11th round)...was a "draft and follow" after his selection in 2000.

His off-season activities include golfing, vacationing and going to the gym...enjoys fishing, hunting and spending time with his family...attended the 2006 Christmas at Fenway event and participated in the 2006 Red Sox Holiday Goodwill Tour.

WEIGHT: 180

OPENING DAY AGE: 29

BORN: February 5, 1978 in Pearl Lagoon, Nicaragua

RESIDES: Pearl Lagoon, Nicaragua

MAJOR LEAGUE SERVICE: 13 days

ACQUIRED: Signed as a minor league free agent on December 9, 2005

SIGNED BY: Andres Reiner and Calixto Vargas (Astros)

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2007

SUMMARY: Joined the Boston organization after a 2-year absence from professional baseball and earned pitcher of the year honors for Double-A Portland...went on to win 2 games in the SeaDogs' Eastern League championship series victory...was rewarded with a promotion to Boston and went 1-1 in 2 starts, including a 5-inning no-hit complete game win over Baltimore on the final day of the season...did not play winter ball in Nicaragua after pitching career high 163.2 innings in 2006.

MAJOR LEAGUE DEBUT: Had contract purchased from Portland on September 19 and was the starter and 5-3 loser in major league debut on September 23 at Toronto...issued 6 hits and 3 runs in 5.0 innings with 2 walks...surrendered homers to Lyle Overbay and Troy Glaus.

THE NINTH NICARAGUAN: Was the 9th native of Nicaragua to appear in a major league game...others are pitchers Porfi Altamirano, Tony Chevez, Oswaldo Mairana, Dennis Martinez, Vicente Padilla, and Al Williams and outfielders Marvin Bernard and David Green...only other active player among that group is Padilla, who pitched for Texas in 2006.

A NON "NO-NO": Pitched 5 hitless innings in a 9-0 rain-shortened complete game victory over Baltimore on the final day of the regular season, October 1 at Fenway Park...was his 1st major league win...recorded 6 strikeouts and allowed just one baserunner, a 2nd inning walk to Fernando Tatis, who was then erased on a double play...retired the final 10 batters he faced and threw just 61 pitches...the game was delayed 3:23 at the start due to rain before beginning at 5:28 p.m...play was suspended at 7:05 p.m. because of rain, and the game was officially called at 7:46 p.m.

That effort was a complete game and a shutout but is not considered an official no-hitter under baseball rules that were amended in 1991 to indicate that a no-hitter must go at least 9 innings...was the 24th no-hitter of less than 9 innings since 1900, the 11th in the American League (see list below), the 1st since Boston's Matt Young worked 8 hitless frames in a 2-1 CG loss on April 12, 1992 at Cleveland...was the 1st complete game shutout for a Red Sox pitcher since Pedro Martinez won, 6-0 on April 12, 2004 versus Tampa Bay (9 IP) and the 1st CG SHO for a Boston rookie since Paul Quantrill was a 6-0 winner on July 4, 1993 at Seattle (9 IP).

NO-HITTERS OF LESS THAN 9 INNINGS IN AMERICAN LEAGUE HISTORY

1. Rube Waddell, Philadelphia, August 15, 1905, 2-0 win vs. St. Louis (5.0 IP)
2. Ed Walsh, Sr., Chicago, May 26, 1907, 8-1 win vs. New York (5.0 IP)
3. Rube Vickers, Philadelphia, October 5, 1907 (Game 2), 4-0 win at Washington (5.0 IP)*
4. Jay Cashion, Washington, August 20, 1912 (Game 2), 2-0 win vs. Cleveland (6.0 IP)
5. Walter Johnson, Washington, August 25, 1924, 2-0 win vs. St. Louis (7.0 IP)
6. John Whitehead, St. Louis, August 5, 1940 (Game 2), 4-0 win vs. Detroit (6.0 IP)
7. Dean Chance, Minnesota, August 6, 1967, 2-0 win vs. Boston (5.0 IP)*
8. Andy Hawkins, New York, July 1, 1990, 4-0 loss at Chicago (8.0 IP)
9. Melido Perez, Chicago, July 12, 1990, 8-0 win at New York (6.0 IP)
10. Matt Young, Boston, April 12, 1992, 2-1 loss at Cleveland (8.0 IP)
11. Devern Hansack, Boston, October 1, 2006, 9-0 win vs. Baltimore (5.0 IP)

PORTLAND: Led the SeaDogs staff with a 3.26 ERA, 132.1 innings, and 124 strikeouts...was 6-6, 3.75 (42 ER/100.2 IP) in 18 starts and 2-1, 1.71 (6 ER/31.2 IP) in 13 relief appearances...went 0-1, 6.27 (13 ER/18.2 IP) in 4 April starts before posting a 2.77 ERA (35 ER/113.2 IP) the rest of the year...beginning May 1 made 11 of next 12 outings in relief, earning 1st pro save on May 1 against Connecticut...returned to rotation on June 17...finished regular season with 17 scoreless innings and 2-0 record in last 3 appearances/one start...issued one hit with season high 12 strikeouts over 7 scoreless frames in final outing, August 31 at Binghamton...worked 6 or more innings in 10 of 18 starts...opponents hit .244...was 4-2, 2.20 in 15 games at Portland and 4-5, 4.30 on the road...fanned 36 in 31.2 innings of relief.

EASTERN LEAGUE PLAYOFFS: Went 2-1, 2.11 (5 ER/21.1 IP) in 3 starts in the Eastern League playoffs...was the starter and loser in Game 1 of the Northern Division Series versus Trenton (6.1 IP/5 H/2 R-ER) before winning both starts in the Championship Series against Akron...issued just 4 hits with no walks and 6 strikeouts in 7 shutout innings in a 4-3 SeaDogs win in the opener...permitted 7 hits and 3 runs with no walks and 8 strikeouts in an 8-5 Portland victory in Game 5 that gave the franchise its 1st ever Eastern League crown.

2004-05: Did not pitch professionally after being released by Houston on March 29, 2004...was a member of Nicaragua’s national team...was 1-1, 3.38 (5 ER/13.1 IP) in 3 games/2 starts in the 2005 IBAF World Cup in the Netherlands...pitched 6.2 shutout innings to defeat Australia, 2-0, in pool play...also pitched in the Nicaraguan winter league.

2003: Ranked 3rd in wins (10) and 4th in games started (16) at Single-A Lexington in final season in Houston organization...was 7-5, 4.38 in 16 starts and 3-1, 5.27 in 6 relief appearances...went 4-1 in season’s final 7 starts...was 6-0, 2.38 at home...fanned season high 9 batters, July 23 against Hagerstown.

2002: Went 2-4, 3.30 in 10 starts and 1-0, 7.36 in 2 bullpen outings for Single-A Tri-City...won 3 of 1st 4 decisions but was 0-3 in his last 4 starts...held opposition to a .240 batting average.

2001: Made 13 relief appearances for Houston’s team in the Venezuelan Summer League.

2000: Appeared in 10 games for Houston’s team in the Dominican Summer League.

PERSONAL

Is single...played amateur baseball in his native Nicaragua...worked as a lobsterman in Nicaragua in 2004-05.

PROSPECT WATCH: Begins 2007 as the No. 8 prospect in the Red Sox organization, according to Baseball America...is the No. 5 Red Sox pitching prospect.

ON THE FAST TRACK: Less than 5 months removed from the campus of St. John's University, made his major league debut for the Red Sox in 2005, in the process becoming the first player in Red Sox history to reach the majors the year he was drafted...became the 3rd member of the 2005 draft class to reach the big leagues, following Braves righthander Joey Devine and Nationals third baseman Ryan Zimmerman.

SUMMARY: Had 3 stints with Boston in 2006 (June 6-9; June 20-August 21; September 5-end of season), going 2-2 with 8 holds and a 6.63 ERA (28 ER/38.0 IP) in 38 relief appearances...allowed only 16.7 percent (3 of 18) of his inherited runners to score, tied with Jonathan Papelbon (4 of 24) for the best percentage on the team...in the minors, was 1-0 with a 0.82 ERA in 5 games at Double-A Portland and 1-2 with a 2.75 ERA in 14 games (4 starts) at Triple-A Pawtucket...at the major league level, had no record and a 13.50 ERA (1 ER/0.2 IP) in one appearance in his first stint; was 1-1 with a 6.44 ERA (21 ER/29.1 IP) in 27 appearances in his 2nd stint; and 1-1 with a 6.75 ERA (6 ER/8.0 IP) in 10 appearances in his 3rd stint...had his roughest stretch of the season leading up to his 2nd option to Pawtucket, posting an 11.32 ERA (13 ER/10.1 IP) in 10 games from July 29-August 20 before being sent to Triple-A on August 21...pitched scoreless ball in 3 straight outings (all 1.0-inning appearances) on 3 occasions with Boston: June 30-July 5, July 23-26 and September 6-10.

WITH PAWTUCKET: Spent 3 portions of the season in Pawtucket (April 27-June 5; June 10-19; August 22-September 4), going a combined 1-2 with a 2.75 ERA (11 ER/36.0 IP) in 14 games (4 starts)...did not allow a home run in 36.0 Triple-A innings...limited the opposition to a .238 batting average, including a .200 (13-for-65) mark by righties...struck out 26 and walked 19 in 36.0 innings, an average of 6.5 K's and 4.7 walks per 9 innings...all 4 of his starts came from May 15-June 2 leading up to his first big league call-up...went 0-2 despite a 2.30 ERA (4 ER/15.2 IP) in his 4 starting assignments.

WITH PORTLAND: Started the season in Portland, going 1-0 with a 0.82 ERA (1 ER/11.0 IP) in 5 relief appearances...began the year by pitching 10.0 scoreless innings for the Sea Dogs before allowing his first run on April 24...that was the first run he had surrendered in his minor league career, a span of 22.2 innings over 2 seasons...also set a Sea Dogs franchise record with 20.1 consecutive scoreless innings with the club dating to the 2005 season...worked at least 2.0 innings in each of his 5 outings with Portland, including 3.0 innings in his final appearance on April 24 at Altoona.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: At the major league level, had an 8.69 ERA (19 ER/19.2 IP) in 21 outings at Fenway Park and a 4.42 ERA (9 ER/18.1 IP) in 17 road games...had his most success when pitching on back-to-back days, posting a 3.68 ERA (3 ER/7.1 IP) in the back end of those contests (7 games)...major leaguers hit Hansen at a .305 (46-for-151) clip, including a .344 (22-for-64) mark by lefties...did not allow a hit in 5 at-bats with the bases loaded, but opponents hit .333 (15-for-45) with men in scoring position and .318 (7-for-22) in those situations with 2 outs...30 of his 38 big league games were of 1.0 inning or less...went 0-for-2 in save opportunities.

MORE 2006 HIGHLIGHTS: Earned his first career major league win on June 26 vs. Philadelphia, working 0.2 scoreless innings in Boston's 8-7 win...picked up his 2nd victory on September 12 at Baltimore (1 ER/0.2 IP)...suffered his first 2 major league losses on August 20 vs. New York (3 ER/1.0 IP) and September 20 vs. Minnesota (4 ER/0.0 IP)...worked a season-high 2.0 innings in his 2nd major league game of the season on June 20 vs. Washington...struck out the side in the 8th inning in Boston's 5-2 loss on July 5 at Tampa Bay...the 3 strikeouts in the outing were a season high...gave up 2 homers in his final game before his 2nd option to Pawtucket on August 20 vs.

New York (Jason Giambi and Jorge Posada)...allowed a season-high 4 runs without recording an out on September 20 vs. Minnesota.

SUMMARY: Boston's 2nd pick in the first round (26th overall) in the 2005 draft, Hansen signed a major league contract and reached the big leagues in his first pro season...made 2 appearances for the Rookie-level Gulf Coast Red Sox before pitching 10 times in the regular season and 3 times in the Eastern League playoffs for Double-A Portland...including his post-season outings, did not allow a run in the 15 minor league games (15.2 IP)...was recalled by Boston September 19 and recorded no record and a 6.00 ERA in 4 relief games, allowing 2 runs on 6 hits and a walk in 3.0 innings...fanned 3.

FIRST TIME FOR EVERYTHING: Made his major league debut on September 19...entered the game at Tampa Bay in the bottom of the 5th, with the Red Sox trailing 5-4...worked a 1-2-3 inning, striking out Toby Hall, the first batter he faced in the majors...induced Damon Hollins to pop to shortstop before striking out Julio Lugo...in his 2nd outing, September 24 at Baltimore, allowed 4 hits, including a Melvin Mora 2-run homer in 0.2 innings...rebounded to not allow a run in 1.1 innings over his final 2 outings.

2005 IN THE MINORS: Held opponents to a .229 average (11-for-48) with one walk and 14 K's in 12.2 shutout regular season innings in the minors...made his pro debut August 4 for the GCL Sox and earned a win against the Reds with a perfect inning that featured 2 K's...after allowing 2 hits and fanning 2 in a 2.0-inning start 4 days later, was promoted to Portland...with the North Division champion Sea Dogs, allowed 9 hits and no runs with a walk and 10 K's in 9.2 innings over 8 regular season relief outings before hurling 3.0 scoreless innings over 3 appearances in the postseason...picked up his first pro save in his August 11 Double-A debut vs. Norwich...allowed one hit and struck out one in 1.0 inning...worked more than an inning in 3 of his 8 Portland outings, including a 2.0-inning stint in game 2 of an August 16 doubleheader vs. Binghamton...after blanking New Hampshire for 1.1 innings August 26, was shut down with mild arm fatigue...did not pitch again until September 11, when he made the first of 3 scoreless post-season outings...threw 2.0 innings over 2 games in the North Division playoffs against Trenton and 1.0 inning in Game 3 of the Eastern League Championship Series at Akron prior to his recall by the Red Sox.

PERSONAL

Pitched 3 seasons at St. John's University...was named the 2005 Big East Pitcher of the Year after going 3-2 with a school-record 14 saves and a 1.68 ERA in 31 appearances (all but one in relief) for the Red Storm... was honored as a First-Team All-Big East selection and Third-Team Louisville Slugger All-American...as a sophomore in 2004, led the Big East with a team-best 31 appearances and ranked 2nd in the conference with 10 saves...did not allow an earned run in 69.0 innings in his senior campaign at Glen Cove (NY) High School, going 8-0 with 3 saves to earn conference MVP honors...was an All-County selection as a junior and senior...also played 4 years of basketball in high school, earning All-Conference distinction as a junior and senior.

Made an appearance at the 2006 Diamond Dinner in spring training to benefit the Children's Hospital of Southwest Florida...participated in the Winter Caravan in January of 2006 and the 2006 Holiday Goodwill Tour.

CAREER NOTES

SUMMARY: Joins the Red Sox organization in 2007 after pitching for the Kansas City Royals since 2002, going 25-33 with a 5.38 ERA in 78 big league starts...had spent his entire pro career in the Royals system since signing as a non-drafted free agent in 1998.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: Ranked 2nd on the Royals staff in 2006 in starts (21) and was 3rd in wins (6) and innings (109.2)...after missing all of 2004 due to ligament transplant surgery on his right elbow in September 2003, led the Royals with 8 wins and ranked 3rd with 159.2 innings, both career bests, in 2005...was the team's June pitcher of the month, going 3-1 with a 2.37 ERA in 5 starts...was Kansas City's Opening Day starter in 2003 and was the major leagues' first 4-game winner, going 4-0 with a 1.36 ERA in April.

SUMMARY: Went 6-10 with a 6.48 ERA in 21 starts with Kansas City and 5-6 with a 4.59 ERA in 12 games (11 starts) with Triple-A Omaha...made 3 starts at Omaha to open the season before defeating Minnesota in his 2006 K.C. debut on April 26...was 1-4 when he was optioned to Omaha on May 28 before returning to the Royals for the rest of the season on July 21...his best stretch of the year was a 3-1, 2.88 performance over 5 starts from August 10-September 1...that included a complete game, 2-0 victory on August 26 at Toronto...overall, ranked 2nd on the Royals staff in starts and was 3rd in wins and innings (109.2)...was released by Kansas City on December 7 and signed with the Red Sox on December 22.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Struck out 50 and walked 48...opponents batted .327, the highest average in Royals club history for a pitcher with at least 20 starts...went 6.0 innings or more in 8 of his 21 starts, with the Royals going 6-2 in those contests...went at least 7.0 innings 5 times, with the Royals winning all 5 games...was 2-10 with a 8.67 ERA in his other 16 starts...earned the win in his Royals debut on April 26 vs. Minnesota, allowing just one run on 2 hits in 7.0 innings...was 1-2 with a 10.67 ERA in 3 starts in his first stint with the O-Royals and 4-4 with a 3.17 ERA in 9 outings (8 starts) in his 2nd stint.

MORE 2006 HIGHLIGHTS: In his complete game shutout on August 26 at Toronto, allowed just 7 hits and a walk with 4 strikeouts...marked Kansas City's first complete game shutout since 2004...threw a career-high 121 pitches in the game...gave up at least one home run in each of his first 12 starts (17 HR total), becoming just the 2nd pitcher since 1920 to do so (Bert Blyleven, 1987, 14 straight starts).

2005: After missing all of 2004 due to ligament transplant surgery on his right elbow in September 2003, led the Royals with a career-high 8 wins and ranked 3rd with 159.2 innings, also a career best...made the Royals Opening Day roster for the 2nd time (also 2003)...was named Kansas City's Pitcher of the Month for June after going 3-1 with a 2.37 ERA in 5 starts...his ERA ranked 6th in the A.L. and 9th in the majors...in interleague play, went 3-1 with a 2.59 ERA (7 ER/24.1 IP) and .193 opponents batting average...his 3 wins were tied for 2nd-most in the majors...combined for a 6-2 record and 3.17 ERA in 10 starts in June and July, but finished the season by going 0-5 with a 9.45 ERA in his last 8 starts...was thrown out of the game on July 17 at Detroit for hitting the Tigers' Carlos Guillen, which incited a bench-clearing brawl...was given a 10-game suspension by Major League Baseball, which he served from September 6-17...was placed on the 15-day D.L. on August 26 with a lower back strain...was activated on September 6, when he started serving his suspension...made 4 starts after returning from the suspension, going 0-3 with a 9.33 ERA.

2004: Missed the entire 2004 season after undergoing Tommy John surgery on September 5, 2003...the surgery was performed by Dr. Lewis Yocum in Los Angeles.

2003: Was the Royals Opening Day starter after making the big league roster to open the season for the first time in his career...became the first Latin pitcher to start for the Royals on Opening

Day...was the youngest Royal to start the opener since Kevin Appier in 1992...led the Royals to a 3-0 win vs. the White Sox, allowing just 2 hits over 6.0 shutout innings...was Kansas City's first-ever shutout on Opening Day...became the majors' first 3- and 4-game winner, earning Royals Pitcher of the Month honors for April after going 4-0 with a 1.36 ERA...lost 3 straight starts from May 3-14 and was placed on the D.L. on May 27 with inflammation in his right elbow...missed 42 games before being activated on July 11...went 3-2 with a 7.75 ERA in 7 starts after being reinstated, culminating in a 3.1-inning, 9 ER performance on August 16 vs. Minnesota...was optioned to Wichita the next day, but did not report after citing soreness in his right elbow...had his option voided on August 26 and was placed on the D.L. (retro to August 17) with a partial tear in his right ulnar collateral ligament...missed the remainder of the season after undergoing Tommy John surgery on September 5.

- 2002: Advanced from Single-A Wilmington to Double-A Wichita before making his major league debut with Kansas City on July 15 vs. Texas...was 1-1 with a 3.75 ERA in 2 starts for Wilmington and 8-3 with a 2.71 ERA in 14 starts for Wichita, securing Texas League All-Star honors...earned his first major league win in his 2nd start, July 20 vs. Cleveland, allowing 3 runs on 7 hits in 7.0 innings...struck out 9, tying the club's individual season high for K's in a game...was optioned to Wichita after the game...rejoined the Royals for good on August 1.
- 2001: Pitched for Single-A Burlington after spending the previous 3 seasons with KC's rookie-level Dominican Summer League squad...went 7-5 with a 3.40 ERA in 17 starts, leading the team with 100 strikeouts in 100.2 innings...joined the Bees on May 30 from extended spring training.
- 2000: Went 7-3 with a 2.25 ERA in 14 games (10 starts) for KC's DSL team.

CAREER NOTES

ROOKIE OF THE YEAR: Acquired by Toronto from the Oakland A's in December 2001, Hinske was selected as the BBWAA American League Rookie of the Year in 2002, when he established major league highs with a .279 average, 24 homers and 84 RBI in 151 games...led all major league rookies in homers, RBI, runs (99), hits (158), and doubles (38)...followed that by finishing 5th in the A.L. with 45 doubles in 2003.

AT FENWAY PARK: Went a combined 18-for-55 (.327) with 2 homers, 7 doubles, 8 runs scored and 5 RBI in 20 games for the Red Sox and Blue Jays in 2006...over the last 4 seasons (2003-06), he is hitting .311 (51-for-164) with 23 doubles, 5 home runs, 22 RBI and 27 runs scored in 47 games at Fenway Park.

SUMMARY: Batted a combined .271 for Boston and Toronto in 2006, his highest average since his 2002 A.L. Rookie of the Year campaign (.279)...reached double digits in home runs for the 5th time in his 5 major league seasons and is now averaging 19 home runs, 75 RBI and 85 runs scored per 162 games in his big league career...appeared in a career-low 109 games in 2006, resulting in declines in most offensive categories...between the Red Sox and Blue Jays, appeared in 40 games (35 starts) in right field, 16 games (12 starts) at first base, 10 games (5 starts) at third base and 6 games (3 starts) in left field...marked the first season in which he played the outfield in his major league career, and did not commit an error in 59 total chances there.

WITH BOSTON: Acquired from Toronto on August 17, Hinske batted .288 (23-for-80) with 8 doubles, one home run, 5 RBI and 8 runs scored in 31 games with Boston...started 11 games at first base, 7 in right field, 3 in left and 2 as the designated hitter...made his Red Sox debut August 18 and collected 3 doubles (in his first 3 Sox at-bats) in the first game of the doubleheader vs. the Yankees to match his career high...went 1-for-21 (.048) in his next 9 games before putting together a 5-game hitting streak from August 28-September 1 (.375, 6-for-16)...then went hitless in 10 at-bats over his next 5 games before ending the season with a 10-game hitting streak from September 14-October 1.

ENDING ON A HIGH NOTE: Closed the season on a 10-game hitting streak, batting .448 (13-for-29) with a homer, 3 doubles, 3 RBI and 5 runs...hit his first home run as a Red Sox in the final game of the season, a solo shot in the 5th inning off Baltimore's Russ Ortiz.

WITH TORONTO: Was batting .264 with 12 home runs and 29 RBI in 78 games for the Blue Jays at the time of his trade to Boston...started 28 games in right field, 19 as the designated hitter, 5 at third base, and one at first base...started 2006 with a .351 (13-for-37) average in his first 17 games through May 4...had his most productive month in July, batting .284 with 7 homers and 15 RBI in 22 games...hit .294 (47-for-160) with 11 home runs against righthanded pitchers, including a pair of homers on July 24 at Seattle (both off Joel Pineiro).

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Batted .293 (67-for-229) with 12 homers off righties, but hit just .167 (8-for-48) with one home run against lefties...went 12-for-31 (.387) with 5 doubles, 2 triples, 2 home runs, 8 RBI and 10 runs in 14 interleague games...batted .352 (56-for-159) from the 7-9 spots in the order, but only .161 (19-for-118) from the top 6 positions...adjusted to a pitcher as the game progressed, batting .228 (37-for-162) the first time he faced a pitcher in a game, .313 (21-for-67) the 2nd time and .370 (17-for-46) the 3rd time...went 17-for-57 (.298) with a .403 on-base percentage when leading off an inning...batted .288 (19-for-66) with runners in scoring position.

MORE 2006 HIGHLIGHTS: September 19 vs. Minnesota recorded career hit No. 600...had a season-high 3 hits in a game 4 times: April 13 at Boston, June 29 vs. Washington, August 18 vs. New York (1) and September 26 vs. Tampa Bay...had 3 RBI in the June 29 game and matched that season-high performance on July 23 vs. New York...scored 2 runs in a game 7 times, including his final game of the season on October 1 vs. Baltimore.

SUMMARY: Saw his stellar rookie season cut short after being diagnosed with a treatable form of anaplastic large cell lymphoma in late August...went 7-2 with a 4.76 ERA in 15 starts with the Red Sox after his June 10 call-up from Triple-A Pawtucket...despite only 15 starts and 81.1 innings, tied for 4th among A.L. rookies with 7 wins...became the first Red Sox rookie to win 7 games since Ken Ryan and Aaron Sele in 1993, the first to win 7 starts since Sele went 7-2 in 1993...after undergoing treatment, was pronounced cancer-free in December.

A 5-0 START: Became the first Red Sox rookie left-handed pitcher in club history to win his first 5 decisions, securing his 5th win with a 1-0 win July 18 vs. Kansas City...was the first Red Sox rookie overall to win his first 5 decisions since Aaron Sele won his first 6 decisions in 1993...in his big league debut at Fenway Park June 10, recorded a no-decision in Boston's 7-4 loss to Texas...his debut, originally scheduled to be in the first game of a day-night DH, was delayed 4 hours, 47 minutes due to rain (2nd game was PPD)...earned his first win June 16 in Atlanta, defeating Tim Hudson, 4-1...limited the Braves to one run on 5 hits and 3 walks in 6.0 innings, fanning 5...at 22 years, 160 days of age, became the youngest Red Sox starter to win a game since Juan Pena on May 14, 1999 vs. Anaheim (21 years, 321 days)...became the first Sox pitcher with 10 strikeouts in a game in 2006 en route to a 9-3 win vs. Washington on June 21, his first win at Fenway...was the first Sox rookie to strike out 10 since Casey Fossum on September 18, 2002 vs. Cleveland...did not suffer his first big league loss until his 10th start July 28 vs. the Angels...won his final start on August 23 at Angel Stadium before being placed on the disabled list August 28.

ONE-HIT WONDER: On July 18, tossed 8.0 innings and combined with Jonathan Papelbon (1.0 IP) to one-hit the Royals in a 1-0 win at Fenway Park...Mark Teahen accounted for Kansas City's lone hit in the 2nd inning, a clean single to center field...was Boston's first one-hitter since June 14, 2005 vs. Cincinnati when David Wells (7.0 IP), Mike Timlin (1.0 IP) and Keith Foulke (1.0 IP) turned the trick...Lester was the first Red Sox rookie to start a one-hitter since Billy Rohr tossed a one-hit shutout April 14, 1967 at Yankee Stadium.

YOUNG GUNS: Lester and Papelbon were the first Sox rookies to combine on a shutout since Dana Kiecker (8.0 IP) and Jeff Gray (1.0 IP) on August 24, 1990, a 2-0 win at Toronto...was the first combined one-hitter by major league rookies since May 25, 1979 by the White Sox' Ross Baumgarten (8.0 IP, 1 H) and Randy Scarbery (1.0 IP) in a 6-1 win vs. the Angels.

WITH PAWTUCKET: Made the jump to the majors with only 11 Triple-A starts under his belt, going 3-4 with a 2.70 ERA (14 ER/46.2 IP) for Pawtucket...at the time of his call-up, would have ranked 10th in the league in ERA if he had enough innings to qualify...allowed one earned run or less in each of his final 6 starts, going 3-0 with a 0.90 ERA (3 ER/30.0 IP)...foes batted just .094 (5-for-53) with runners in scoring position.

SUMMARY: After posting an 11-6 record, a league-leading 2.61 ERA and a league-best 163 strikeouts for Double-A Portland, was named Eastern League Pitcher of the Year and Red Sox Minor League Pitcher of the Year...was selected as the left-handed pitcher on the Eastern League's year-end All-Star team and on the year-end Topps Double-A All-Star squad...also earned mid-season All-Star honors, but did not appear in the game...was named Red Sox Minor League Pitcher of the Month in both June and July, going 3-1 with a 1.69 ERA (6 ER/32.0 IP) in 6 starts in June and 2-2 with a 1.54 ERA (4 ER/23.1 IP) in 4 starts in July.

LEADER IN THE FARM: Ranked first in the organization with his 163 strikeouts and first among full-season pitchers with his 2.61 ERA...was one of 3 Sox farmhands with an organization-best 11 wins, joining Pawtucket's Abe Alvarez and Tim Kester.

INNINGS EATER: Pitched a career-high 148.1 innings over 26 starts...tossed 3 complete games, including a pair of 7-inning complete-game efforts.

SUMMARY: Went 1-0 with one save and a 2.70 ERA in 27 relief appearances covering 4 stints with the Red Sox...his 2.70 ERA was 2nd-lowest by any Red Sox reliever in 2006, trailing only Jonathan Papelbon's 0.92 ERA, and was the best ERA posted by Lopez in any of his 4 big league campaigns (had a 3.70 ERA in his rookie season of 2003 with Colorado)...began the year as a non-roster invitee to major league spring training with the Chicago White Sox and pitched exclusively for their Triple-A Charlotte affiliate before being acquired by the Red Sox on June 15...combined between Triple-A Charlotte and Pawtucket, went 3-1 with 16 saves (in 16 opportunities) and a 1.99 ERA in 39 outings...is his 2nd stint in the Boston organization, as he was selected by the Red Sox in the 2002 Rule 5 Draft but traded to Colorado on March 18, 2003 for righthander Ryan Cameron.

WITH CHARLOTTE: Began the season with Chicago's Triple-A affiliate and went 2-1 with 12 saves and a 0.55 ERA in 26 relief appearances with the Knights...at the time of his June 15 trade to Boston, he ranked 4th in the International League in saves and 8th in appearances.

WITH BOSTON: Had his contract purchased by the Red Sox upon his acquisition from the White Sox on June 15 and made his Boston debut that night at Minnesota, tossing a scoreless inning...was one of 4 stints with the Red Sox in 2006: June 15-July 17, July 28-August 1, August 20-22 and September 4 through the end of the season...boasted a 0.90 ERA (1 ER/10.0 IP) in 15 appearances after the All-Star Break.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Had no record and a 0.84 ERA (1 ER/10.2 IP) in 15 appearances at Fenway and went 1-0 with one save and a 6.00 ERA (4 ER/6.0 IP) in 12 outings on the road...righties batted .208 (5-for-24) while lefties hit .250 (8-for-32)...held foes to a .136 batting average (3-for-26) in situations deemed close-and-late.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2005: Combined to go 1-1 with an 11.02 ERA (20 ER/16.1 IP) in 32 relief outings for Arizona and Colorado...the 11.02 ERA was the highest among all major league relievers with at least 30 appearances...righthanders hit .410 (16-39), while left-handers batted .286 (10-35)...allowed 12 of his 29 inherited runners to score...worked less than 1.0 IP in 25 of his 32 appearances...went 2-4 in save situations with 6 holds...made his 3rd consecutive Opening Day roster with the Rockies...suffered a blown save on Opening Day vs. San Diego (2 ER/0.1 IP)...made 2 additional appearances with the Rockies before being optioned to Triple-A Colorado Springs on April 11...was claimed off waivers by Arizona on April 14 and recalled by the D'Backs on April 24...earned saves for Arizona on April 27 at the Dodgers and June 6 at Philadelphia...was designated for assignment on July 5...went 0-1 with a 2.22 ERA and 2 saves in 27 games with Triple-A Tucson to end the season.

2004: Made 64 appearances with the Rockies...ranked 2nd in the majors in inherited runners scored percent (13.1, 6 of 46), trailing only Houston's Brad Lidge (9.3)...his 64 games ranked 13th among NL lefties...his 7.52 ERA was the highest among all relievers with at least 40 games...was scored upon in only 15 of 64 outings, but allowed 3 or more runs on 6 occasions...did not allow a run when pitching on back-to-back days (15 G/9.1 IP)...lefties batted .221, while right-handers hit .350...was 0-1 with an 11.08 ERA (16 ER/13.0 IP) in his first 15 appearances...was optioned to Triple-A Colorado Springs on July 18 despite leading the Rockies in games (46)...was recalled on August 8...was 1-0 with a 1.54 ERA (2 ER/11.2 IP) in his last 18 games after returning to Colorado.

2003: Established a Colorado rookie record with 75 appearances...trailed only Arizona's Oscar Villarreal (86) and Houston's Brad Lidge (78) in games by a rookie hurler...tied for the club lead in games pitched and ranked 2nd with 15 holds...recorded a 5.35 ERA in the first half and a 1.49 ERA after the break...ERA was 1.71 at home and 6.08 on the road...1.71 home ERA was the lowest ever by a Rockies reliever at Coors Field with at least 10 games...inherited a team-high 43 runners, allowing just 18.6 percent to score, the 4th-best mark in the N.L....63 of 75 appearances were scoreless...made his major-league debut on Opening Day at Houston (1.0 IP)...picked up his first win on April 10 vs. St. Louis...did not allow a run in his first 8 games...compiled an 18.2 scoreless IP streak from April 22-June 8, 5th-longest in club history...worked a scoreless month of May (12.0 IP)...allowed just two earned runs in his first 30 appearances, the first major league reliever since 1980 to accomplish the feat.

2002: Appeared in 61 games with Double-A El Paso, compiling a 2.72 ERA...ranked 2nd in the Texas League in games...opponents batted just .204...made 21 consecutive scoreless appearances from July 21 to the end of the season...was 1-0 with a 1.80 ERA for Santurce of the Puerto Rican Winter League...was taken by Boston in the Rule 5 Draft on December 16.

2001: Combined to go 2-4 with a 5.63 ERA in 37 games (one start) for El Paso and Single-A Lancaster...began the year with El Paso, posting a 9.19 ERA before being sent to Lancaster...was on the disabled list from May 30-June 24 with a right elbow contusion.

2000: Went 4-8 with a 5.22 ERA and 2 saves in 30 games (21 starts) for Single-A High Desert...earned his first 2 professional saves in back-to-back outings on August 21 and August 24.

1999: Made 20 starts with Single-A South Bend, going 4-6 with a 6.00 ERA...struck out 4 batters in one inning on April 20 at Lansing (4th inning).

1998: Made his professional debut with South Bend...went 2-4 with a 6.55 ERA in 16 games.

PERSONAL

Graduated from Robinson High School in Fairfax, VA in 1995...attended the University of Virginia, going 12-9 with a 6.30 ERA in 40 games (31 starts)...also hit .319 with 15 home runs, 71 RBI and 22 stolen bases...served as Colorado's player representative in 2004-05...is married to Renee...attended luncheons in 2006 for the BoSox Club and the Blohards.

CAREER NOTES

MR. CONSISTENCY: Including 2006 - his first season with the Red Sox - has now reached the 20-homer, 80-RBI plateau 5 times in his major league career (every year beginning in 2000 except 2001 and 2005)... has appeared in at least 140 games in 6 of the last 7 seasons, 150 games or more in 3 straight and 4 of the last 5 campaigns...owns 2 seasons with at least 100 RBI (2001 and 2003) and 6 seasons of at least 36 doubles (2000-02, 2004-06)...is the only major league third baseman to post as many as 4 years with at least 35 doubles, 20 homers and 80 RBI since the start of 2000 (2000, 2002, 2004 and 2006).

WITH THE GLOVE: Lowell's .977 career fielding percentage is best in major league history among third basemen appearing in at least 1,000 games...in 2005, earned his first career Rawlings Gold Glove Award for defensive excellence at third base...led all N.L. third basemen with a .983 fielding percentage, committing only 6 errors to match the league record for fewest errors in a season by a third baseman with at least 135 games played...in 2006, started 148 games at third and ranked 2nd among major league third basemen with a .9870 fielding percentage (6 E/463 TC), just behind Oakland's Eric Chavez at .9872 (5 E/391 TC)...was the 6th-highest single-season fielding percentage in major league history for a qualifying third baseman...his 6 errors as a third baseman matched his career low set in 2005 (minimum of 84 games played)...went 70 games without an error between miscues on May 24 and August 18, the 2nd-longest streak by a third baseman in Red Sox history...the record is 77 straight errorless games by Rico Petrocelli in 1971.

AWARDS AND HONORS: In addition to his 2005 Rawlings Gold Glove, Lowell is a 3-time N.L. All-Star (2002-04)...in 2003, he won the N.L. Silver Slugger Award after establishing career highs with 32 home runs and 105 RBI...was selected as the recipient of the 2006 Jackie Jensen Award by the Boston Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America, presented annually to a major league player for "spirit and determination"...a testicular cancer survivor, Lowell was honored by the Red Sox with the 1999 Tony Conigliaro Award, presented annually to a major leaguer who has overcome adversity through attributes typified by the former Red Sox great.

A CAREER YEAR: Turned in the finest season of his career in 2003, when he hit .276 with a career-high 32 home runs and 105 RBI in helping the Marlins to the World Championship...was named to the N.L. All-Star team and earned the N.L. Silver Slugger Award...tied for 2nd in the N.L. with 28 homers at the All-Star break in 2003...finished with 32 home runs despite not going deep after August 15, as he suffered a fractured left finger August 30 and did not return until the last game of the regular season...also led the N.L. with a .973 fielding percentage at third base.

DOUBLE YOUR FUN: Had a career-high 47 doubles in 2006, eclipsing his previous high of 44 in 2002 and 2004 with the Marlins...the 47 doubles also tied for 7th-most in a single season in club history and are the most by a Red Sox since David Ortiz had 47 in 2004...hit 46 of his doubles as a third baseman, the 3rd-most by a 3B in franchise history...Wade Boggs had 49 doubles in 1989 and 47 in 1986 (while playing 3B only).

2006 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: In his first season with the Red Sox, established a career high with 47 doubles and reached the 20-homer, 80-RBI plateau for the 5th time in his major league career...the 47 doubles ranked 3rd in the American League behind only Grady Sizemore (53) and Michael Young (52)...batted .284 with 79 runs in 153 games...his .284 batting average was the 2nd-highest of his 9-year big league career (.293 in 2004)...started 148 games at third base and ranked 2nd among major league third basemen with a .9870 fielding percentage (6 E/463 TC), just behind Oakland's Eric Chavez at .9872 (5 E/391 TC)...went 70 games without an error from May 25-August 17 and committed just one error in his final 41 games of the season.

SEEING DOUBLES AT THE BREAK: Lowell on July 5 recorded his 30th double of the season to become just the 4th Red Sox in the last 47 seasons beginning in 1960 to reach 30 doubles by the All-Star Break...he joined David Ortiz (33 in 2004), Bill Mueller (30 in 2003) and Nomar Garciaparra (30 in 2002) in this exclusive company...Lowell added another double on July 8 to finish the first half with 31 two-base hits.

TRENDS: His average peaked at .350 (36-for-103) after 27 games on May 5...collected 19 doubles in his first 30 games through May 9, but had just 7 doubles in his next 44 games ending June 30...batted .261 (75-for-287) in his final 77 games starting July 3 to go from .308 to .284...his average never went below .281 after April 23.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Fared far better against right-handed pitching, batting .302 (123-for-407) compared to a .241 (40-for-166) average vs. lefties...batted .260 (75-for-289) at Fenway and .310 (88-for-284) on the road...hit just .268 (41-for-153) with runners in scoring position, including a .214 (15-for-70) mark in those situations with 2 outs...batted .317 (19-for-60) in 17 interleague games...spent the majority of his time batting in the No. 5 (.208, 22-for-106), No. 6 (.274, 74-for-270) and No. 7 (.357, 56-for-157) spots in the order...went 9-for-29 (.310) in 7 games as the cleanup hitter.

MORE 2006 HIGHLIGHTS: Homered in back-to-back games 4 times, last on September 21 vs. Minnesota and September 22 at Toronto...August 13 vs. Baltimore hit his 5th career grand slam, his first as a Red Sox...was his first slam since June 10, 2005 vs. Texas with Florida...matched his career high with 3 doubles in a game on April 11 vs. Toronto (Red Sox home opener), May 5 vs. Baltimore and July 1 at Florida...equaled his career high with 4 hits in the April 11 contest (4-for-4, RBI, R)...had a season-high 4 RBI on August 13 vs. Baltimore.

SUMMARY: In his final season with the Marlins, won his first National League Gold Glove after leading league third basemen with a .983 fielding percentage...became the 4th different Marlin and first Marlins third baseman to win the award...at the plate, batted just .236 with 8 home runs and 58 RBI, his lowest totals since becoming Florida's everyday third baseman in 2000...however, collected 36 doubles, the 5th time in his career to reach that total, and struck out only 58 times, the lowest total of his career.

GOLD GLOVE: Committed only 6 errors in 356 total chances at third base en route to earning the Gold Glove...his .983 fielding percentage at the hot corner was the best in the majors, while his 6 errors in 135 games at third were his lowest single-season total since making 4 errors in 83 games in 1999...in National League history, only Vinny Castilla (2002 with

2004: Earned N.L. All-Star honors for the 3rd season in a row...in 158 games with the Marlins, set career highs with a .293 batting average and a .365 on-base percentage, and matched his then career best with 44 doubles...added 87 runs scored, 27 homers and 85 RBI...it was his 3rd-straight 20-homer campaign and 4th overall in his Marlins career, joining Derrek Lee and Preston Wilson as the lone Marlins with 4 seasons with at least 20 homers...his batting average was above .300 in 4 of the season's 6 months...began the year by batting .346 (65-for-188) in 50 games through the end of May, including a .373 mark in May (3rd-best in the NL) before batting .236 in June...rebounded to bat .301 in July, dipped to .221 in August and hit .313 in September/October...tied for 2nd in the league with 31 go-ahead RBI and 18 game-winning RBI...his .344 batting average vs. lefties ranked 4th, his 44 doubles tied for 7th and his 72 extra-base hits tied for 12th...ranked 2nd among league third basemen with a .982 fielding percentage, trailing only Vinny Castilla's .987 mark...went 70 games without an error before committing a miscue September 30 at Philadelphia...became the first Marlin to hit 3 homers in a game April 21 at Philadelphia, connecting for blasts off Eric Milton, Tim Worrell and Billy Wagner...established several Marlins all-time franchise records throughout the season: hit his club record 130th homer as a Marlin July 27, surpassing Derrek Lee; surpassed Lee as the club's extra-base hit leader with a first-inning double June 24 vs. Atlanta, his 307th extra-base hit; passed Lee's club record of 1,328 total bases June 30 at Atlanta; became the first Marlin to reach 500 RBI August 16 at Los Angeles.

2003: Received the N.L. Louisville Silver Slugger Award at third base and earned his 2nd-straight All-Star nod after setting career highs with 32 homers and 105 RBI in just 130 games...missed all but one game in September after suffering a fractured fourth metacarpal on his left hand August 30 and returned to play in 15 of Florida's post-season contests, helping to lead the Marlins to the World Championship...led all National League third basemen with a .973 fielding percentage (9 errors in 336 total chances)...at the time became just the 4th Marlin to be named to the All-Star team in back-to-back seasons, joining Luis Castillo (2002-03), Jeff Conine (1994-95) and Kevin Brown (1996-97)...posted the club's 7th 100-RBI campaign, the first player to do so twice...set a new single-season career high with his 25th homer June 28 at Fenway Park, a 2-out, 2-strike, 3-run homer off Brandon Lyon in the top of the 9th to give the Marlins a 9-8 win and complete a 7-run comeback, the largest in club history...entered the All-Star Break with a career-high 28 homers, tied for 2nd in the N.L. and 3rd in the majors...ranked 4th in the league with 76 RBI prior to the break...set Marlins pre-All Star break records in homers and RBI...became Florida's all-time RBI leader with his 423rd RBI August 8 at Milwaukee...was later surpassed by Jeff Conine September 25, but passed Conine for good in 2004...saw his season interrupted August 30 vs. Montreal when he was hit by a Hector Almonte pitch in the 8th inning, fracturing the 4th metacarpal on his left hand...was placed on the disabled list the next day...was activated from the disabled list September 28, the regular season's final day, and made the start at third base...played in 15 post-season games and hit .196 (9-for-46) with 2 homers and 5 RBI...became the 6th player in post-season history to hit a pinch-hit homer in extra innings when he led off the 11th inning of Game 1 of the NLCS with a solo homer off Chicago's Mark Guthrie, leading the Marlins to a 9-8 win at Wrigley Field...hit safely in 4 of 6 games in the World Series vs. New York, including a 2-for-3 effort with a double in Florida's Series-clinching 2-0 win in Game 6 at Yankee Stadium.

2002: Became an All-Star for the first time and set career highs with 160 games, 88 runs, 44 doubles (surpassed in 2006) and 24 homers (surpassed in 2003)...turned in a .276 batting average and drove in 92 runs...his 44 doubles ranked 2nd in the National League (behind Bobby Abreu's 50) and, at the time, tied for the 2nd-most doubles by a Marlin in a single season in club history...held a .311 mark through the All-Star break, the 11th-best average in the N.L. at the time of his All-Star game selection...had a 16-game hitting streak in September, matching his 2000 career best.

2001: Batted .283 with 18 homers and 100 RBI in 146 games...became the 6th Marlin in club history to reach 100 RBI...his .283 batting average and 146 games played were career bests at the time...ranked 3rd in the majors with a .976 fielding percentage at third base, committing 9 errors in 377 total chances...his 9 errors were fewest in club history, bettering the 12 errors set by himself in 2000 and Terry Pendleton in 1996.

2000: Batted .270 with 38 doubles, 22 homers and 91 RBI in 140 games with the Marlins, his first full big league campaign...led the club in doubles and ranked 3rd in the National League with a .968 fielding percentage (12 errors in 374 total chances)...became the 2nd player in club history with 20 homers, 35 doubles and 90 RBI, joining Cliff Floyd's effort in 1998...named the Charlie Hough "Good Guy" Award by the South Florida chapter of the BBWAA, presented annually to

CAREER CHANGE: A catcher for his first 5-plus minor league seasons, Martinez moved to the mound in the middle of 2004 and has gone 6-4 with 20 saves and a 2.19 ERA in 101 relief appearances over the last 3 seasons...in 131.1 innings, he has fanned 123 and allowed only 91 hits and 32 earned runs.

2006 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Pitched for the Eastern League champion Portland Sea Dogs, going 5-3 with a 2.61 ERA (20 ER/69.0 IP) and team-leading 12 saves...his ERA was best among all Sea Dogs relievers with at least 38.0 innings pitched...was selected to play for the World Team at the 2006 XM Satellite Radio All-Star Futures Game on July 9 at PNC Park in Pittsburgh...was the lone representative from the Red Sox organization...had 59 strikeouts in 69.0 innings and held opponents to a .205 batting average...had 2 saves in the postseason...posted a 2.40 ERA (4 ER/15.0 IP) in 14 games for Pastora de los Llanos of the Venezuelan Winter League.

SCORELESS STREAKS: Went 1-0 with 3 saves over a 13.0-inning scoreless streak covering 8 outings from April 29-May 24...had a 12.0-inning scoreless streak over 8 appearances from August 8-26, going 2-0 with 2 saves in that span...collected 3 saves without allowing an earned run in his first 7 games of the season (8.2 IP).

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Compiled a 2.13 ERA in April before posting ERAs of 4.85 and 3.60 in May and June, respectively...rebounded to go 3-0 with 4 saves and a 1.62 ERA (6 ER/33.1 IP) in his final 22 appearances beginning July 1...held lefthanders to a .135 (15-for-111) batting average.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2005: At the Yard magazine honored Martinez as its Breakout Player of the Year after the catcher-turned-pitcher posted a combined 1.89 ERA and 59 strikeouts in 52.1 innings over 43 appearances with Single-A Wilmington and Double-A Portland...opponents hit just .175 (32-for-183) with 3 home runs...opened the year 1-1 with 7 saves and a 2.10 ERA (8 ER/34.1 IP) in 25 outings at Wilmington...had no record, one save and a 1.50 ERA (3 ER/18.0 IP) in 15 games with Portland...allowed 2 runs in 6.1 innings over 5 post-season outings for the Sea Dogs...tossed 3.0 shutout innings over 2 games in the Eastern League Championship Series vs. Akron.

2004: Started the season at Double-A Portland, where he played in 52 games behind the plate...hit .163 with one homer and 10 RBI before being sent to Single-A Augusta August 3 to begin his pitching career...made 9 appearances out of the bullpen, including 6 straight scoreless outings (6.0 innings) out of the gate...allowed only one run in 10.0 innings overall for a 0.90 ERA...pitched in the Venezuelan Summer League.

2003: Hit .201 with no homers and 11 RBI in 66 games for Single-A Sarasota...had a career-high 6 steals.

2002: Batted .249 with 2 home runs and 29 RBI in 77 games with Single-A Augusta.

2001: In his finest offensive season, hit .320 with 25 RBI in 49 games for short-season Single-A Lowell.

2000: Began the year at Single-A Augusta, going just 5-for-50 (.100) in 16 games before being reassigned to the Gulf Coast League Red Sox...batted .168 with 3 homers.

1999: At the age of 17, played for the Gulf Coast League Red Sox in his first pro season.

PERSONAL

Attended Escuela Tecnica High School in his native Venezuela...signed with the Red Sox July 2, 1998 at the age of 16, and just less than one year later made his pro debut with the GCL Red Sox.

WORLD BASEBALL CLASSIC: Was instrumental in Japan's victory in the inaugural World Baseball Classic in March 2006...was selected as the WBC's Most Valuable Player, winning all 3 of his starts with a 1.38 ERA (13.0 IP, 8 H, 2 R-ER)...was the only pitcher in the tournament to record 3 wins and pitched the 4th most innings...earned wins against Chinese Taipei in Round 1 on March 4 at Tokyo (4 IP, 3 H, 1 R-ER); Mexico in Round 2 on March 14 at Anaheim (5 IP, 1 H, 0 R); and Cuba in the Championship Game on March 20 at San Diego (4 IP, 4 H, 1 R-ER)...held opposition to a .178 batting average in the 3 games.

MORE INTERNATIONAL SUCCESS: Was a member of Japan's national team for both the 2000 and 2004 Summer Olympic Games...had a 1-1 record and 1.69 ERA in 2 starts in 2004 at Athens, defeating Cuba, 6-3 in pool play (2 ER/8.1 IP) and losing to Australia, 1-0 in the semifinals (1 ER/7.2 IP)...became 1st Japanese pitcher to be clocked at 100 miles per hour on radar gun during Athens Olympics...was 0-1, 2.33 in 3 starts in 2000 at Sydney...recorded no decisions in pool play versus the United States (2 ER/10 IP) and Korea (5 ER/9 IP) and lost to Korea, 3-1 in the Bronze Medal Game (3 ER/8 IP CG)...pitched in 3 games in the 2000 Regional Olympic Qualifying tournament with a 1-1 record.

VERSUS MLB: Was a member of the NPB All-Star team that faced the Major League Baseball All-Star squad in its 2004 Japan tour...pitched a 5-hit complete game to defeat the MLB club, 5-1 on November 11 at the Sapporo Dome...did not allow a walk and fanned 6 in 9 innings with the lone MLB extra base hit being a double by Jack Wilson.

JOINING THE RED SOX: On November 2, 2006, the Seibu Lions officially granted permission for Matsuzaka to participate in the "posting" process as outlined in the agreement between Major League Baseball and Nippon Professional Baseball...on November 14, Seibu informed Major League Baseball that they had accepted the highest bid, submitted by the Red Sox, for the negotiating rights to Matsuzaka...as a result, the Red Sox had a 30-day period in which to negotiate an agreement with the pitcher...the signing was completed and announced on December 14.

SUMMARY: Led all NPB teams with 13 complete games, ranked 2nd in the Pacific League with 17 wins, a 2.13 earned run average, and 200 strikeouts...placed 3rd in the PL with 186.1 innings, and tied for 5th with two shutouts...established a lifetime best for victories, posted the lowest ERA of his pro career and finished 3rd in the Pacific League's Most Valuable Player Award voting.

BY THE NUMBERS: Allowed one earned run in 8-inning complete game loss to Fukuoka in season's 1st start on March 30, then was 7-0, 2.12 (14 ER/59.1 IP) in his next 8 starts through May 26...went 4-3, 2.14 (15 ER/63 IP) in his next 9 outings before winning 6 consecutive starts from August 16-September 19 with a 1.41 ERA (8 ER/51 IP)...allowed season high 6 earned runs in 5 innings in season-ending defeat to Chiba on September 26...issued 3 runs or less 21 times, permitting one or fewer earned runs in 15 starts...allowed just 34 walks in 186.1 innings, an average of 1.64 every 9 innings...permitted just 20 walks in final 128 innings beginning May 26...limited opponents to a .206 batting average.

COMPLETE WHAT YOU START: His 13 complete games were 2 shy of career high set in 2005... went the route in consecutive starts on 3 occasions...worked 7 or more innings in 19 of 25 starts with high of 10 innings in CG win on July 8 versus Hokkaido...had a pair of CG shutouts, a 3-hitter on May 26 versus Hanshin and a 5-hitter on September 13 against Hokkaido...worked less than 6 innings just 4 times, lasting just 0.2 innings on June 24 against Chiba.

PLAYOFFS: In final appearance with Seibu, defeated Fukuoka, 1-0 in opening game of Pacific League playoffs on October 7...issued 6 hits with no walks, 13 strikeouts, and 4 hit batters in the complete game, 9-inning performance...threw 137 pitches...Lions dropped the next 2 games of the best of 3 series to the Hawks.

MISCELLANEOUS: Fanned 10 or more batters in a game 10 times with season best 14 on 3 occasions: May 26 and June 9, both vs. Hanshin and August 30 against Orix... recorded 56 strikeouts in 40 innings over 5 starts, May 19-June 16...surrendered as many as 2 homers just 3 times and did not allow a long ball in his last 6 starts, a span of 47 innings, beginning August 23...hit just 3 batters, 2 of those coming in his final start, September 26 versus Chiba...won all 4 starts versus Hokkaido with 1.03 ERA (4 ER/35 IP)...finished 2nd to Fukuoka's Kazumi Saitoh in all 3 triple crown pitching categories (wins, ERA, strikeouts)...was 3-for-9 at the plate in interleague play, including 1st pro homer on June 9 off former major leaguer Darwin Cubillan of Hanshin...has a .211 (4-19) career average with 3 RBI.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2005: Topped the Pacific League with 15 complete games and 226 strikeouts, both career highs, and 215 innings...tied for league lead in shutouts (3), had the 3rd lowest ERA (2.30), and tied for 5th in wins (14) despite limited run support...his 15 complete games were 2 less than combined total for PL's 2nd and 3rd place finishers...recorded 1000th career strikeout in May in 5th fewest innings in NPB history...won his 6th Gold Glove for defensive excellence with no errors in 33 total chances.

2004: Was the Pacific League's ERA champion at 2.90...of his 10 victories, 5 were complete game shutouts...did not make an error in 29 regular season fielding chances...went 1-1 in 2 starts in the Japan Series against Chunichi...lost Game 2 but issued just 6 hits and 2 runs in 8 innings to defeat the Dragons, 4-2 in Game 6 as Seibu went on to win its 1st championship in 14 years.

2003: Returned from injury the previous season to lead Pacific League with 215 strikeouts...tied Fukuoka's Kazumi Saitoh for the ERA crown at 2.83, the 1st such tie in NPB history...ranked 2nd in the league in wins.

2002: Was limited to just 14 games and 73.1 innings due to a right elbow injury...recorded 78 strikeouts for 9.57 K's per 9 innings...marked only pro season where failed to finish 1st in the PL in at least one major pitching category.

2001: Finished as the Pacific League leader in wins (15), losses (15), complete games (12), shutouts (2), innings (career high 240.1), walks (117), strikeouts (214), and home runs allowed (27)...won the Sawamura Award as the top pitcher in Japan...was selected to the Best Nine at season's end for 3rd consecutive year.

2000: Ranked 1st in the Pacific League with 14 wins, 144 strikeouts, and 2 shutouts...started on opening day at the age of 19 years, 11 months, the NPB's 1st teenage opening day starter in 15 years.

1999: Was the 1st player selected in the 1998 NPB draft...went on to be named as the Pacific League's Rookie of the Year...topped the PL with 16 wins and placed 3rd with a 2.60 ERA...became 1st rookie to come directly from high school and be selected to Best Nine...pitched 5 perfect innings in his regular season debut for Seibu on April 7 and became the 1st rookie a year out of high school to pitch a shutout in April in 44 years...in 1st matchup versus Ichiro Suzuki, fanned the Orix outfielder in 3 straight at bats...tied NPB rookie record with 15 strikeouts in one game...received the most all-star votes of any pitcher, the 1st time for a rookie since 1970, and had a rookie record 5 strikeouts in the all-star game.

HIGH SCHOOL: Had an outstanding career at Yokohama High School...finished 1998 unbeaten with a then Japan high school record 208 strikeouts...led Yokohama to the championship of the 1998 Koshien National High School Tournament with a legendary performance...defeated traditional powerhouse P.L. Gakuen in the quarterfinals with a 17-inning, 250-pitch complete game effort...the following day in the semifinals played the outfield but came on in relief to record a save as Yokohama rallied from a 6-run deficit to win...completed the tournament with a no-hitter in the final versus Kyoto Seisho High School, the 2nd no-hitter ever pitched in the Koshien championship game...established a Koshien single game record with 14 strikeouts...led Japan to the world amateur championship title that summer, earning MVP honors for the tournament.

CELEBRATING THE LIFE OF JACKIE ROBINSON

On March 2nd, 2005, in the Great Rotunda of the Capitol of the United States, President George W. Bush presented to Rachel Robinson the Congressional Gold Medal, given posthumously in honor of her late husband, Jackie Roosevelt Robinson.

Ms. Robinson's daughter, Sharon, and her son, David, were present at the special ceremony. Joining them were leaders of Congress and more than 500 other Americans-- leaders in business, the arts, science, medicine, education, literature and sports.

The Congressional Gold Medal given Mr. Robinson took place 58 years after he became the first black player in major league baseball. It is worthy of note that the first recipient of the Gold Medal, the nation's highest civilian award, was first presented to George Washington.

The story of how Jackie Robinson was finally awarded an honor he had long deserved began on January 31, 2003, at the first Red Sox birthday tribute to his remarkable life. On that occasion at Fenway Park, Red Sox President/CEO Larry Lucchino announced that Senators John Kerry and John McCain, joined by Congressmen Richard Neal and Peter King, would introduce legislation to obtain for Jackie Robinson the Congressional Gold Medal.

The Boston Red Sox are proud of their role in helping make that memorable day possible. The organization's efforts to keep alive the memory of Jackie Robinson remain a key component of the team's commitment to a color-blind society. For the fifth consecutive year, the team celebrated the Hall of Famer's birthday on January 31, 2007 with a special luncheon at Fenway Park. Sharon Robinson joined former Red Sox players Dennis "Oil Can" Boyd and Tommy Harper in honoring the man who ended major league baseball's color barrier in 1947.

A FINE '99: Finished 6th in National League Rookie of the Year balloting in 1999, when he hit .275 with career bests of 152 games played, 65 runs scored, 141 hits, 28 doubles, 4 triples, 9 home runs, 44 RBI and 41 walks...put together a 25-game hitting streak from June 8-July 4, during which he hit .318 (35-for-110)...the streak set a Cardinals rookie record and was the 5th-longest in major league history by a rookie...was the 3rd-longest run overall in the N.L. in 1999.

SUMMARY: Ranked 8th in the Triple-A Pacific Coast League with a .315 batting average for Round Rock (Astros)...went to spring training with the Royals before a March 30 trade to Houston...spent time with the Astros from May 7-21, but went hitless in 6 at-bats, all as a pinch-hitter (7 games total)...played 112 games for Round Rock, collecting 21 doubles, 10 homers, 46 RBI and 64 runs scored...ranked 3rd on the club with 16 stolen bases...hit .377 (49-for-130) against lefties...was at his best in the 2nd half of the season, batting .368 (81-for-220) over his final 56 games beginning July 1...closed the season with a 13-game hitting streak from August 22-September 4, batting .420 (21-for-50)...saw action at every position except pitcher and catcher.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2005: Played in 83 games for the Royals in his first American League season, batting .239 with a homer and 6 RBI...with just 6 RBI in 180 at-bats, tied for the 6th-fewest RBI in the majors (with at least 180 AB) since 1950...opened the season with Triple-A Omaha before having his contract purchased on April 13...batted .291 at Kauffman Stadium but only .191 on the road...with the Royals, appeared in 20 games at first base, 11 games at second base, 29 games at third base, 6 games at shortstop and 5 games in the outfield.

2004: Marked his 3rd and most recent season exclusively at the big league level, but appeared in just 75 games for the Mets due to injury...was sidelined for the season after being placed on the 60-day D.L. on August 20 with a fractured left fibula...suffered the injury the previous day on a collision during a fielding play at second base...prior to the injury, played every position except pitcher and catcher...played 34 games (15 starts) at second base, one game at third base, 11 games at first base, 13 games (10 starts) at shortstop, 6 games (4 starts) in centerfield, 8 games (2 starts) in leftfield and one start in rightfield.

2003: Spent the majority of the season with the Mets, appearing at every position except pitcher and catcher...played in 119 games for New York, his highest total as a Met...batted .241 with 16 RBI and 31 runs...had only a 5-game stint in the minors, April 17-23 with Triple-A Norfolk.

2002: Played in 105 games for the Mets, but hit just .199 with 26 RBI and 22 runs...became only the 5th outfielder since 1990 to record an unassisted double play on April 4 vs. Pittsburgh...while playing leftfield in the first inning, caught a line drive off the bat of Armando Rios and tagged out Jason Kendall, who was running from first to second on the play...spent time on the D.L. from July 14-30 with a left rib cage strain...rehabbed with Single-A Brooklyn and Double-A Binghamton...appeared at every position except pitcher and catcher.

2001: Played the entire season for the New York Mets, batting a major league career-best .283 with 17 doubles in 116 games...had a 10-game hitting streak from June 27-July 7, batting .366 (15-for-41)...was hit by a pitch 10 times, 3 shy of the club record.

2000: Split the season between the National League champion Mets and Triple-A Norfolk...started spring training with the Cardinals before his March 18 trade to New York in exchange for LHP Jesse Orosco...batted .222 in 87 big league games and .257 in 43 games in the minors...appeared in 11 post-season games, but had only 2 at-bats (1-for-2)...scored 3 runs.

1999: Finished 6th in National League Rookie of the Year voting after batting .275 with 9 homers, 44 RBI and 65 runs scored in 152 games for the Cardinals...featured a 25-game hitting streak from June 8-July 4, the 5th-longest streak in major league history by a rookie...played every position except pitcher and catcher...hit his first major league home run on May 15 vs. Los Angeles off Mike Maddux.

1998: Advanced from Double-A all the way to the majors, making his big league debut as a September call-up for the Cardinals...ranked 2nd among all minor leaguers with 189 hits...made his first major league start on September 12 at Houston...played second base and led off the game with his first career hit off Randy Johnson.

1997: Played for Arkansas of the Double-A Texas League, batting .259 with 35 RBI in 103 games.

1996: Led all Texas League outfielders with a .993 fielding percentage for Double-A Arkansas.

1995: Split the season between Single-A St. Petersburg and Double-A Arkansas...played in a combined 117 games.

1994: Was named to the Midwest League All-Star team after ranking 3rd in the league with a .324 batting average for Single-A Madison.

1993: Led the South Atlantic League with 94 runs and also ranked among league leaders in games (3rd with 138), doubles (3rd with 35) and walks (3rd with 89) for Single-A Savannah.

1992: Began his pro career with the rookie-level Cardinals of the Arizona League, earning league All-Star honors...led the league with 55 runs scored and was 3rd with a .336 batting average...had a .415 on-base percentage, 4th in the league.

STAYING WITH THE SOX: Returns for his 7th season with the Red Sox after signing a one-year contract for the 2007 season on December 15...the veteran catcher enters 2007 with a .234 career average with 53 homers and 190 RBI in 518 games with San Francisco (1996-2000), Texas (2001), Boston (2001-06), and San Diego (2006)...had his best offensive season with Boston in 2004, when he hit .281 with 9 homers and 32 RBI in 59 games.

STICKING TOGETHER: Has been Tim Wakefield's regular catcher for much of his tenure with the Red Sox, starting Wakefield's final 18 starts of 2006 after catching 704.2 of the knuckleballer's 779.1 innings from 2002-05.

SOMETHING EXTRA: 130 of his 314 career major league hits (41 percent) have gone for extra bases: 75 doubles, 2 triples and 53 home runs...96 of his 221 hits (43 percent) with the Red Sox have been for extra bases: 53 doubles and 43 home runs.

SUMMARY: Began the season with San Diego before being re-acquired on May 1 by Boston, where he spent the previous 4-plus seasons (2001-05)...arrived at Fenway just in time to start behind the plate on May 1 vs. New York, as he was reunited with batterymate Tim Wakefield...18 of his 45 starts behind the plate with Boston came with Wakefield on the mound (all of Wakefield's 18 starts beginning May 1)...made 50 starts at catcher between the 2 clubs, his most since 59 starts with Texas and Boston in 2001...at the plate, batted a combined .191 (35-for-183) with 7 doubles, 6 homers, 25 RBI and 13 runs scored in 73 games for Boston and San Diego...hit .193 (31-for-161) with 6 doubles, 6 homers, 25 RBI and 12 runs in 59 games with the Red Sox and .182 (4-for-22) in 14 games (5 starts) with the Padres...started at catcher for the Red Sox 15 times from August 1-September 2 while Jason Varitek was on the disabled list.

TOGETHER WITH TIM: Was behind the plate for 18 of Wakefield's 23 starts, missing only Wakefield's 5 starts prior to May 1...Wake went 6-7 with a 4.85 ERA (58 ER/107.2 IP) with Doug behind the plate and 1-4 with a 3.90 ERA (14 ER/32.1 IP) without him...from 2002-05, Mirabelli was behind the plate for 704.2 of the 779.1 regular season innings thrown by Wakefield.

ON THE DEFENSIVE: Caught a total of 449.0 innings between Boston and San Diego, committing just 2 errors in 357 total chances for a .994 fielding percentage...had 12 passed balls for the 2 clubs, exactly double his 2005 amount...threw out 7 of 46 (15.2 percent) attempted basestealers.

HOT STREAKS: Had 12 RBI in a 12-game stretch (with an AB) from June 5-July 17, clubbing 3 home runs in that span...also drove in 7 runs in an 8-game period from August 10-24...began that streak with a home run in 3 straight games from August 10-13, the first time he accomplished that feat in his big league career.

SUMMARY: Appeared in 50 games, making 33 starts behind the plate, in his 4th full season with the Red Sox, batting .228 with 6 homers and 18 RBI...batted .255 (14-for-55) with 5 homers and 11 RBI in 20 games through July 1, then hit .210 (17-for-81) with 2 homers and 7 RBI in his final 30 contests...29 of his appearances came in games started by Wakefield.

WALKING WITH WAKE: Was behind the plate for 29 of Wakefield's 33 starts, missing 4 in May and June while on the D.L. with a left wrist sprain...Wake went 16-8 with a 3.66 ERA (83 ER/204.0 IP) with Doug behind the plate and 0-4 with an 8.86 ERA (21 ER/21.1 IP) without him...in 2003 and 2004, Mirabelli was behind the plate for all but 4.1 of Wakefield's 390.2 innings...Mirabelli started 4 games behind the plate when Wakefield was not on the hill, with the Red Sox going 3-1 in those contests.

ON THE DEFENSIVE: Was charged with 6 passed balls, all with Wakefield on the mound...opposing base stealers went 20-for-25 (80 percent)...Mirabelli threw out 4 of 13 runners trying to steal through May 9 then just 1 of 12 the rest of the way.

MAN ON THE RUN: Stole 2 bases in 2005 (July 27 at Tampa Bay and August 31 vs. Tampa Bay) after just one steal in 395 career games prior to '05...his last steal had been May 16, 2000 with the Giants at Atlanta.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Went 1-for-4 with a 2-run home run off Mike Mussina (the 250th hit of his career) April 11 vs. New York...slugged his 3rd career grand slam May 3 at Detroit...missed 21 games on the D.L. with a left wrist sprain May 19-June 12...the D.L. stint was the first of his career...hit the Red Sox' only pinch-hit home run of the season, the 3rd of his career, on the final day of the regular season October 2 vs. New York (AL).

2004: Enjoyed the finest offensive season of his career, setting career highs in batting average (.281), RBI (32), slugging percentage (.525), on-base percentage (.368) and runs scored (27)...his 9 home runs were the most since clubbing a career-high 11 in 2001 (9 with Texas and 2 with Boston)...appeared in 53 games (41 starts, including one as the designated hitter)...was behind the dish for all but 2.1 of Wakefield's 188.1 innings in 2004, a year after missing just 2.0 of the knuckleballer's 202.1 regular-season innings...posted a .305 batting average (43-for-141) with 9 homers, 29 RBI and 25 runs scored in his 41 starts...after going 6-for-17 (.353) against the Yankees in 2003, Mirabelli went 7-for-18 (.389) with 3 doubles, 2 home runs and 7 RBI against the Yanks in 2004...played in 2 games (one start) during the Red Sox' run to the World Championship, going 1-for-4 with a run scored...did not appear in the ALDS vs. Anaheim...was 0-for-1 in his lone ALCS action (Game 3) vs. New York...made one World Series appearance, starting Game 1 and going 1-for-3 with a run scored.

2003: In his 3rd season in Boston, made 62 appearances, including 55 (43 starts) at catcher...after opening the season by hitting .176 (6-for-34) in 12 games through May 1, batted .279 (36-for-129) in 50 contests the rest of the way...caught all but 2.0 innings out of the 202.1 Wakefield threw during the 2003 regular season...made 55 appearances (43 starts) behind the plate...gunned down 9 of 48 runners trying to steal (19 percent)...was charged with 4 errors and 14 passed balls, all with Wakefield on the hill...4 of the passed balls came in a single game, July 29 at Texas...also made the first 2 appearances of his major league career at first base June 27 vs. Florida and July 21 vs. Detroit...appeared in 5 post-season games against the A's and Yankees, batting .364 (4-11) with a double and 2 runs...made 3 starts, all with Wakefield on the mound.

2002: In his first full season with the Red Sox, appeared in 57 games, including 50 (41 starts) behind the plate...did not commit an error, and gunned down 19 of 37 runners attempting to steal, 51 percent...batted .364 (16-for-44) against lefties...14 of his 34 hits went for extra bases (7 doubles and 7 homers)...6 of his 7 doubles, 5 of his 7 homers and 17 of his 25 RBI came at Fenway Park...batted .320 with 2 homers and 10 RBI vs. Tampa Bay...was 2-for-4 with a double, 2 RBI and 3 runs scored, matching his career high, June 23 at Los Angeles...clubbed his 2nd career pinch-hit home run (his first since 1998) July 28 vs. Baltimore, a 2-run shot off Yorkis Perez.

2001: Dealt from San Francisco to Texas on March 27, then again from the Rangers to the Red Sox on June 12...between the Rangers and Red Sox, slugged a career-best 11 homers, 9 for Boston...posted a .518 slugging percentage in 54 games with the Red Sox...threw out 31 of 71 runners attempting to steal (44 percent), 2nd-best in the A.L...also ranked 2nd among A.L. catchers taking part in 12 double plays...was 12-for-20 (60 percent) throwing with Texas and 19 of 51 (37 percent) for the Sox...made his Red Sox debut starting behind the plate June 14 vs. Florida...picked up his first Boston hit June 17 at Atlanta, and hit his first Sox homer July 31 vs. Anaheim off Ramon Ortiz...slugged his first career grand slam August 21 at Anaheim off Scott Schoeneweis...batted .304 (17-for-56) with 6 doubles, 4 RBI and a team-leading 17 RBI in 20 August games.

2000: Reached the majors to stay and hit .230 with 6 homers and 28 RBI in 82 games for the N.L. West champion Giants...the Giants went 41-30 in Mirabelli's starts, and San Francisco pitchers

CAREER NOTES

SUMMARY: A veteran of 8 major league seasons, Ochoa returns to the United States in 2007 after a 4-year stint with the Chunichi Dragons of Nippon Professional Baseball's Central League from 2003-06...batted .283 with 106 doubles, 75 home runs, 309 RBI and 262 runs in 550 games for Chunichi...has a career major league average of .279 with 46 homers, 261 RBI and 320 runs in 807 games with the Mets (1995-97), Twins (1998), Brewers (1999, 2002), Reds (2000-01), Rockies (2001) and Angels (2002)...has spent his entire career as an outfielder, appearing in 488 big league games (373 starts) in right field, 206 games (123 starts) in left and 24 games (10 starts) in center.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: Had arguably his best major league season with the Reds in 2000, when he set career bests with a .316 batting average, 13 home runs and 58 RBI in 118 games...appeared in a career-high 148 games for the Reds and Rockies in 2001, when he established career bests in doubles (30), runs scored (73) and stolen bases (17)...was a member of the 2002 World Series champion Angels team...posted batting averages of .294 in both of his first 2 seasons with Chunichi, ranking among the top 15 players for the 2003 Central League batting title...clubbed at least 15 home runs in each of his 4 seasons in Japan, including 21 apiece in 2003 and 2004.

SUMMARY: In his 4th and final season with Chunichi, batted .273 with 30 doubles, 15 homers, 77 RBI and 57 runs in 138 games...his 30 doubles were the most of his 4-year stay in Japan...ranked 2nd on the Dragons in doubles and 3rd in home runs...hit .340 with runners in scoring position...committed just 2 errors in 201 total chances in the outfield (.990 fielding percentage).

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Began the season by hitting safely in his first 7 games (11-26, .423), 12 of his first 13 (19-50, .380) and 18 of his first 21 contests (28-81, .346) through the end of April...had a season-best 10-game hitting streak from May 6-17, batting .395 (17-43) with 5 RBI...over a 14-game stretch from July 29-August 16, hit .390 (23-59) with 16 RBI...featured his best game of the season on August 13 against Hanshin, when he went 4-for-4 with 6 RBI...overall on the season, had 10 games of 3 or more hits.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2005: Ranked 3rd on the Dragons with 18 home runs and 78 RBI...batted .269 in 137 games, the lowest average of his time in Japan...legged out 24 doubles for the 2nd straight season...made 3 errors in 137 games in the outfield.

2004: Had perhaps his best season in Japan, batting .294 with 21 home runs and a career-high 89 RBI in 138 games for the Dragons...led the club in RBI and ranked 2nd in home runs...his .369 on-base percentage was the highest of his career in Japan.

2003: Signed a minor league contract with the St. Louis Cardinals on February 1 before signing to play in Japan for the Chunichi Dragons on February 17...in his first season in Japan, cracked 21 homers and scored a career-high 83 runs while batting .294 in 137 games...ranked among the top 15 players for the Central League batting title...collected 28 doubles and 65 RBI.

2002: Began the season with Milwaukee before his July 31 trade to the eventual World Champion Angels...had 3 homers in his first 4 games for the Brewers and put together a 7-game hitting streak from July 19-27...made his Angels debut on August 2 vs. the Yankees...batted .310 with 4 homers on the road for the Angels...appeared in 12 post-season games, going 0-for-5 with 2 runs scored...all 12 of his playoff games came as a rightfielder.

2001: Split the season between the Cincinnati Reds and Colorado Rockies...hit a combined .276 with 30 doubles, 7 triples, 8 homers and 52 RBI between the 2 clubs...set personal bests in games (148), doubles, runs (73), triples and stolen bases (17)...had a career-best 12 outfield assists, tied for 5th in the National League and for 10th in the majors...tied for 6th in the N.L. with 24 infield hits...collected career hit No. 500 on August 5 vs. Pittsburgh.

2000: Had perhaps his finest major league season, setting career bests with a .316 batting average, 13 home runs and 58 RBI for the Reds...led the club with a .358 average with runners in scoring position...hit .355 in September/October, including a career-best 9-game hitting streak from September 10-18...earned N.L. Player of the Week honors for September 11-17...batted .319 in his final 85 games after returning from an emergency appendectomy in June...his grand slam on August 22 vs. Philadelphia off Bruce Chen was the first of his career and the 142nd grand slam in the majors in 2000, a new record...his bat was sent to the National Baseball Hall of Fame...did not commit his first error until August 1, snapping a streak of 52 consecutive errorless games to begin the season.

1999: Led all Brewer pinch hitters with a .270 batting average and 10 pinch hits, the 8th-highest single-season total in club history...split time in left field with Geoff Jenkins and took over in right field in July and August while Jeromy Burnitz was on the D.L.

1998: In his first full season in the American League, led the Twins in pinch hits (5) and pinch-hit at-bats (19)...tied for the club lead in pinch-hit RBI (3)...had 8 outfield assists, 2nd-most among Twins outfielders.

1997: Had a .982 fielding percentage and 7 assists for the Mets...recorded his first 2 career pinch-hit home runs on July 13 at Atlanta off Mike Bielecki and September 22 at Florida off Dennis Cook...following the season, played for Santurce of the Puerto Rican Winter League.

1996: Split the season between the Mets and Triple-A Norfolk...began the season with Norfolk before his June 22 promotion to New York...hit .355 with 3 homers and 17 RBI in his first 16 starts for the Mets...on July 3 at Philadelphia, became the 21st Met to hit for the cycle...came in his 22nd major league game, 3rd-fastest in history...after the season, played for Licey in the Dominican Winter League.

1995: Was a Triple-A International League All-Star after combining to hit .283 with 10 homers, 61 RBI and 24 steals for Rochester and Norfolk...ranked 3rd in the league in stolen bases...led all league outfielders in games, total chances and putouts...had a 13-game hitting streak from May 5-19...was traded to the Mets on July 28 and sent to Triple-A...was recalled on September 15 and made his major league debut on September 18 at Atlanta...collected his first hit in the game, a single off Steve Avery.

1994: Ranked among International League leaders in hits (tied for 3rd with 156) and batting average (7th at .301)...led all league outfielders with 22 assists and tied for the league lead with 5 double plays...on June 5 at Harrisburg, combined with Brent Miller to become the first pair of teammates in 47 years to both hit 2 home runs in the same inning...was named Baltimore's Minor League Player of the Month for June after batting .383 with 24 RBI...was a teammate of Michael Jordan at Scottsdale of the Arizona Fall League.

1993: Earned Carolina League All-Star honors after ranking among league leaders in nearly every offensive category...earned the Brooks Robinson Award as the top hitter in the Orioles minor league system.

1992: Was named to the Midwest League All-Star team after ranking among league leaders in batting average (7th at .295), hits (4th with 147) and triples (tied for 3rd with 7)...led the league with 17 outfield assists...was named Orioles Minor League Player of the Month for May.

1991: After his first pro season, was rated the No. 7 prospect in the Gulf Coast League by Baseball America...had a 13-game hitting streak from July 23-August 10.

PERSONAL

HEIGHT: 6-4 WEIGHT: 230
OPENING DAY AGE: 26
BORN: November 23, 1980 in Baton Rouge, LA
RESIDES: Jacksonville, FL
MAJOR LEAGUE SERVICE: 1 year, 64 days
ACQUIRED: Selected in the 4th round of the 2003 First-Year Player Draft
SIGNED BY: Joe Mason (Red Sox)
CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2007

SUMMARY: Produced one of the top performances ever for a rookie relief pitcher, despite missing the final month of the season with right shoulder soreness...ranked 8th in the American League with 35 saves, 3rd most ever for a major league rookie, and was 10th with 49 games finished...issued just 7 earned runs in 68.1 innings for a 0.92 ERA, 8th lowest in ML history among pitchers with at least 50 innings...also held opponents to a .167 batting average, 2nd lowest in the majors and tied for the best in club history.

HONORS: Was selected as the Red Sox Pitcher of the Year by the Boston BBWAA Chapter...joined Don Schwall (1961) and Dick Radatz (1962) as the only rookies to ever capture that honor...was the 1st full-time reliever to win the award since Bob Stanley in 1983...also received the team's Rookie of the Year Award, the 1st pitcher so honored since Casey Fossum in 2002 and the 1st fulltime reliever since Radatz in 1962...completed the trifecta as the Boston's Fireman of the Year...finished 2nd in the BBWAA A.L. Rookie of the Year voting with 63 points (20 2nds; 3 3rds) behind Detroit's Justin Verlander at 133 points (26 1sts, 1 2nd)...was the highest finish for a Red Sox player in the rookie voting since Nomar Garciaparra won in 1997 and the best for a pitcher since Mike Nagy placed 2nd in 1969...was named as the 2nd team relief pitcher on Baseball America's Major League All-Star Team.

SHUT DOWN: Left after facing 3 batters on September 1 versus Toronto after feeling discomfort in right shoulder, caused by a slippage in the joint and fatigue in the shoulder...after a period of rest began a shoulder strengthening program...threw to hitters in batting practice on September 30 without discomfort...is expected to be fully ready for spring training.

SEASON RUNDOWN: Opened the season as a set-up man before becoming the closer in the 3rd game of the year, earning 1st major league save on April 5 in Texas...worked 15.1 scoreless innings over his 1st 14 appearances before permitting a run in a 7-6 loss to Toronto on May 3...was the longest scoreless innings streak by a Red Sox rookie to open a season since Vaughn Eshelman tossed 18.0 frames without allowing a run, May 2-13, 1995...ended a 2-season span of 21.1 scoreless innings over 19 games since issuing last run on September 19, 2005 versus Tampa Bay.

After allowing May 3 run to Blue Jays, put together 21.2 scoreless innings in 19 outings, May 4-June 24, to lower his ERA to 0.24 (1 ER/38.0 IP)...was just the 2nd pitcher in the last 40 years to issue no more than one run in his 1st 38 innings of a season...the Dodgers' Fernando Valenzuela began 1981 with one run in 50 innings...after that streak ended with a run on June 26 against Philadelphia, permitted just one run in 15.2 frames over next 13 games and was at 0.49 (3 ER/55.0 IP) through August 4...worked 10.0 scoreless innings, July 9-August 4, including 8.0 hitless frames in final 7 outings of that span...allowed 4 runs in 8 innings in next 6 games to raise season mark to 1.00 on August 20...pitched 5 scoreless frames in his next 4 games before allowing only unearned run of the year in final outing, September 1 vs. Toronto...allowed runs in 7 of 59 games...permitted just 4 of 24 inherited runners to score (16.7%) and 1st batters hit .196 (11-56).

A GREAT APRIL: Won the American League Rookie of the Month and the DHL Presents the Major League Baseball Delivery Man of the Month Award for April...pitched 14.1 scoreless innings and led the majors with 10 saves in his 13 appearances...established a major league rookie record and a team record for saves in April, one shy of the ML rookie mark for any month...was also the 1st rookie in history to earn 10 saves in April after entering the season without a career ML save...previous record was 9 by Los Angeles' Eric Gagne in 2002 and Kansas City's Mike MacDougal in 2003...earned saves in 1st 7 appearances as the closer, April 5-18.

SAVES: His 35 saves were 3rd most ever for a major league rookie behind 37 for Seattle's Kazuhiro Sasaki in 2000 and 36 for St. Louis' Todd Worrell in 1986...eclipsed Red Sox rookie record of 24 set by Radatz in 1962...overall was the 5th highest save total in club history, most since Ugueth Urbina had 40 in 2002...earned 35th save on August 31, earliest ever for a major league rookie and 2nd earliest ever by a Red Sox (Tom Gordon, August 18, 1998).

Converted 35 of his 41 save opportunities, an 85.4% success rate that ranked 9th best in the A.L...was successful on season's 1st 20 save tries before blown save on June 9 versus Texas, the longest streak to open a season in Red Sox history and by a major league rookie...Jeff Russell converted his 1st 18 save opportunities in 1993 and Baltimore's Gregg Olson went 16-for-16 to start 1989...in addition to April performance (see above), also established an ML rookie mark with 9 saves in May...failed in consecutive saves tries, August 6 & 9...retired all batters faced in 19 of his saves...recorded 8 saves of more than one inning, all 4-out saves...recorded at least one save against 15 of the 17 clubs he faced, the exceptions being Minnesota (1 game) and Oakland (3 games).

Saves For: 8—Josh Beckett; 7—Curt Schilling; 4—Jon Lester; 3—Matt Clement and Mike Timlin; 2—Keith Foulke, Rudy Seanez, and Tim Wakefield; 1—Manny Delcarmen, Julian Tavarez, Jermaine Van Buren, and David Wells.

ERA AND OTHER NUMBERS: At 0.92, recorded the 8th lowest earned run average for a season in major league history among pitchers with at least 50 innings pitched...was the 3rd best figure among rookies to Cincinnati's Tom Murphy (0.72 in 1986) and Pittsburgh's Nick Maddox (0.83 in 1907)...was also the lowest in Red Sox history, bettering Dutch Leonard's 0.96 in 1914.

Permitted opponents to hit just .167 (40-240), 2nd lowest in the majors (50 or more innings) behind Minnesota's Joe Nathan at .158 and matching Pedro Martinez (128-768 in 2000) for the best in club history...held opposition to .211 on-base percentage and 7.11 baserunners per 9 innings, both the lowest in Sox history (Martinez, .213 and 7.22 in 2000) and 2nd in the majors in 2006 in both categories to San Diego's Cla Meredith (.207 and 6.75)...opponents had a .254 slugging percentage, 4th lowest in 2006 and 2nd in club history (50 or more innings) to .247 for Tom Gordon in 1998.

STRIKEOUTS: Recorded 75 strikeouts in 68.1 innings, an average of 9.88 per 9 innings, the 3rd best for a rookie in Sox history (50 or more innings) behind 10.40 for Radatz in 1962 and 10.01 for Ken Brett in 1970...had at least one strikeout in 46 of 59 games with highs of 5 on August 20 versus the Yankees and 4 on June 24 against Philadelphia...struck out the side on 14 pitches, April 29 at Tampa Bay.

SEEING STARS: Received the most votes (283) of any relief pitcher in All-Star balloting conducted by A.L. managers, coaches, and players...was just the 2nd Boston rookie pitcher ever selected to the A.L. All-Star Team, joining Don Schwall in 1961 (2nd game) and the 8th Red Sox rookie All-Star overall...did not see action in the July 11 contest at Pittsburgh's PNC Park.

RHP

FULL NAME: David Wayne Pauley
THROWS: Right BATS: Right HEIGHT: 6-2 WEIGHT: 210
OPENING DAY AGE: 23 (Turns 24 on June 17)
BORN: June 17, 1983 in Longmont, CO RESIDES: Longmont, CO
MAJOR LEAGUE SERVICE: 46 days
ACQUIRED: Acquired with OF Jay Payton, INF Ramon Vazquez and cash considerations from San Diego for OF Dave Roberts on December 20, 2004
SIGNED BY: Darryl Milne (Padres)
CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2007

SUMMARY: Pitched at 3 levels in the Red Sox system, making his major league debut May 31 at Toronto when David Wells left the rotation with a right knee contusion...began the year at Double-A Portland before making the direct leap to the big leagues...after 3 starts with Boston from May 31-June 11, was optioned to Pawtucket for his first-career stop at Triple-A...went a combined 3-8 with a 4.33 ERA (61 ER/126.2 IP) in 22 starts for the 3 clubs, striking out 82 and walking 41.

WITH THE RED SOX: Was recalled from Double-A Portland to make his major league debut May 31 at Toronto and made 3 starts with the big league club before being optioned to Pawtucket on June 11...went 0-2 with a 7.88 ERA in the 3 outings...became the first Red Sox pitcher to make the jump from Double-A to the majors since Craig Hansen in 2005, the first to do so as a starter since Abe Alvarez in 2004...recorded a no-decision in Boston's 8-6 win in Toronto on May 31...was charged with 6 runs on 11 hits and 3 walks in 4.1 innings...had allowed only 2 runs into the 5th inning before 4 more crossed that frame...turned in his best start June 6 at Yankee Stadium, enduring a tough-luck 2-1 setback to Chien-Ming Wang...limited New York to 2 runs on 8 hits and 2 walks in 6.2 innings, fanning 2...also started June 11 vs. Texas, a 13-6 setback...was optioned to Pawtucket the next day, where he remained the rest of the season.

IN THE MINORS: Began the season with Double-A Portland, where he went 2-3 with a 2.39 ERA in 10 starts...struck out 47 and walked only 16 in 60.1 innings, an average of 7.0 strikeouts and 2.4 walks per 9 innings...following his 3 major league starts was optioned to Triple-A on June 11 for his first-career Triple-A stint...went 1-3 with a 5.54 ERA in 9 starts at Pawtucket before being placed on the disabled list on August 2 with a right forearm strain, ending his campaign...was transferred to Boston's 60-day disabled list on August 29.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2005: In his first season in the Red Sox organization, set career bests for Double-A Portland with 9 wins, 27 starts and 156.0 innings...ranked 8th among Sox farmhands in ERA...his 156 innings were 7th-most in the EL and 2nd to only Tim Lincecum (165.1) in the system...allowed 2 earned runs or less in 17 of 27 starts, including 8 of his first 10...went 3-1 with a 3.02 ERA (19 ER/56.2 IP) in his first 10 outings...walked one or less in 17 starts...named EL Pitcher of the Week for May 30-June 5, going 2-0 with a 2.57 ERA (4 ER/14.0 IP) in 2 starts...tossed his first career complete game in game 2 of a July 11 doubleheader at New Hampshire, allowing an unearned run on 4 hits in 7.0 innings...lost both of his post-season starts, but allowed only 2 earned runs in 9.1 innings (1.93 ERA).

2004: Named the Padres' No. 7 prospect by Baseball America before the season...went 7-12 with a 4.17 ERA in 27 games, including a team-high 26 starts, for Single-A Lake Elsinore...led the Storm with 153.1 innings and 128 K's, 2nd-most in the organization...limited opponents to a .245 average, a career low...after going 1-3 with a 6.10 ERA (14 ER/20.2 IP) in 4 April starts, went 6-9 with a 3.87 ERA (57 ER/132.2 IP) in 23 games (22 starts) the rest of the way.

2003: Tied for 4th in the Padres organization with a 3.29 ERA at Single-A Fort Wayne...was 2nd on the club with 21 starts, 117.2 innings and 117 K's despite being on the D.L. June 6-July 5 with a right shoulder impingement...struck out a career-best 11 over 7.0 innings in a 1-0 win August 17 vs. Dayton...made his first career relief outing July 6 at South Bend, earning his first pro save with 3.0 innings of one-hit shutout ball.

2002: His 2.81 ERA at short-season Single-A Eugene led Padres minor leaguers and ranked 10th in Northwest League...led the league with 15 starts, allowing 2 earned runs or less in 11 of them.

2001: Made his pro debut with short-season Single-A Idaho Falls, where he led the league with 15 starts and tied for 2nd with 4 wins.

PERSONAL

Graduated from Longmont (CO) High School in 2001...off-season activities include golf, spending time with friends and family, and taking vacations.

SIGNED BY: Cornelio Pena (Mets)

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2007

CAREER NOTES

POWER PLAYER: The 25-year-old Pena has belted a combined 56 home runs in 293 games over the last 3 seasons, averaging one long ball every 16.5 at-bats in that span...set career highs with 26 home runs, 66 RBI and a .527 slugging percentage in 110 games for the Reds in 2004, connected for 19 homers in 99 games in 2005 and slugged 11 homers in his 2006 debut with the Red Sox despite playing only 84 games due to injury.

BOMBS AWAY: Has hit 4 home runs into the left field bleachers at Great American Ball Park in Cincinnati, the most by any player...owns 2 of the 6 longest homers on record at GABP, including a 498-foot shot off Houston's Brandon Duckworth April 17, 2005 (2nd-longest) and a 473-foot blast off San Diego's Rod Beck August 14, 2004 (6th)...also drilled the longest home run on record at St. Louis' old Busch Stadium, a 492-foot shot off Matt Morris June 29, 2005.

SUMMARY: Acquired from the Cincinnati Reds on March 20, Pena batted a career-best .301 with 15 doubles, 11 home runs, 42 RBI and 36 runs in 84 games in his first season with Boston...posted an OPS (on-base plus slugging) of .838 (.349 OBP, .489 SLG)...made 73 starts: 35 in right, 25 in center, 11 in left and 2 as the DH...committed 3 total errors, 2 in right, one in left and none in center...had the American League's 7th-best batting average in May with a .354 (23-for-65) mark in 18 games...saw regular action while Coco Crisp was on the disabled list from April 9-May 27, making 30 starts, including 20 in center...batted .321 (35-for-109) with 4 homers and 17 RBI in 34 games overall during that stretch...was limited to just 84 total games in part due to injuries...joined the Aguilas Cibaenas of the Dominican Winter League late in their regular season.

INJURY UPDATES: Was placed on the D.L. on May 28 and underwent surgery on June 1 for a fractured hamate bone in his left wrist...was batting .321 (36-for-112) with 4 homers and 18 RBI in 35 games at the time of the D.L. stint...was activated on July 18 after a rehab assignment with Single-A Lowell (2 G, 1-for-6, R) from June 30-July 1 and Triple-A Pawtucket (12 G, .244, 10-for-41, 2 HR, 7 RBI) from July 2-17...hit .287 (47-for-164) with 7 homers and 24 RBI in 48 games after being reinstated...also missed 8 games from August 26-September 2 with soreness in his left wrist and 5 games from September 17-21 with tightness in his right quadriceps muscle.

STREAKING: Had a season-high 9-game hitting streak from August 6-15, batting .361 (13-for-36) with 2 doubles, a triple, 3 home runs, 9 RBI and 9 runs scored...was 2 games shy of his career-best 11-game run with the Reds from June 24-July 5, 2005.

CYCLE IN SIGHT: Fell a single shy of the cycle on August 12 vs. Baltimore, going 3-for-4 with a homer, triple, double, 3 RBI and 3 runs...was the first Sox player to be a single away from the cycle since Johnny Damon on June 12, 2005 at Wrigley Field...was the first Sox player to do so at Fenway since Nomar Garciaparra on July 24, 1997 vs. Oakland.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Fared far better against righties, batting .326 (56-for-172) compared to a .260 (27-for-104) mark against lefties...batted .322 (48-for-149) at Fenway and .276 (35-for-127) on the road...hit just .256 (21-for-82) with runners in scoring position, including .150 (6-for-40) in those situations with 2 outs...made 7 appearances as a pinch hitter, going 2-for-5 (.400) with 2 doubles, 2 RBI, 2 runs and a walk.

WORLD BASEBALL CLASSIC: Played for the Dominican Republic in the inaugural World Baseball Classic, batting .400 (4-10) with an RBI and a run scored in 3 games.

SUMMARY: Belted 19 homers and a career-best 17 doubles in 99 games for the Reds, contributing to his .492 slugging percentage...hit .291 (32-for-110) with 6 doubles, 7 homers and 18 RBI against lefthanders...shot out of the gates, batting .326 (14-for-43) with 5 homers and 11 RBI in 17 April games before missing 26 games while on the D.L. from May 9-June 6 with a strained left quadriceps muscle...initially suffered the injury April 23 at Florida, and started just one of Cincinnati's next 13 games before officially going on the D.L...batted just .243 (64-for-243) in 80 games after being reinstated...also missed the final 4 games of the Reds season after suffering a hyperextended lower back while slamming into the outfield wall September 28 at Milwaukee.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Had at least one extra-base hit in each of his first 9 starts of the season April 7-21, the 2nd-longest such streak in the big leagues in 2 seasons from 2004-05 (Bobby Abreu, 11 games in May 2005)...had a career-high 11-game hitting streak from June 24-July 5, batting .348 with 3 homers and 10 RBI to lift his average to .297 from .275...had 4 2-homer games: April 20 vs. Pittsburgh, June 8 vs. Tampa Bay, August 21 vs. Arizona and September 12 at Chicago...clubbed his 3rd career pinch-hit home run May 1 at Milwaukee off Doug Davis...on Wily Mo Pena Bobblehead Doll Night June 8 vs. Tampa Bay, went 3-for-5 with 2 home runs and 3 RBI, including a walk-off homer off Danys Baez...had a career-high 6 RBI August 21 vs. Arizona...connected for his first career sacrifice fly September 18 at Pittsburgh off Brian Bullington...came in his 870th career plate appearance and his 40th career plate appearance with a runner on third base and less than 2 outs...played for Aguilas of the Dominican Winter League after the regular season.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Established career highs with 26 home runs, 66 RBI, a .527 slugging percentage and 110 games for the Reds...ranked 2nd on the club in homers and 4th in RBI...with 26 homers in only 336 at-bats, averaged one long ball every 12.9 at-bats...his numbers were especially impressive against lefties, batting .302 (26-for-86) with 9 homers and 22 RBI, going deep once every 9.6 at-bats...had his best month in July, when he led the club and ranked among N.L. leaders with 9 homers and 19 RBI...all 9 homers came in a 15-game stretch from July 9-26, when he hit .364 with 18 RBI and 11 runs scored...was named N.L. Player of the Week for July 15-18, going 7-for-14 with 2 homers and 6 RBI...became an everyday player in May after Ken Griffey Jr. and Austin Kearns went down with injuries...hit .271 with 25 homers and 61 RBI in his final 89 games beginning May 18, including 19 homers and 43 RBI in 53 games starting July 9...ranked among team leaders with a .294 average with runners in scoring position...had 3 2-homer games: July 11 at Milwaukee, August 14 vs. San Diego and September 18 vs. Chicago...clubbed his first 2 career grand slams, June 13 at Cleveland off Cliff Lee and June 25 vs. Pittsburgh off Mike Gonzalez...also connected for his first 2 career pinch-hit homers, May 30 at Montreal off Tomo Ohka and June 25 vs. Pittsburgh off Mike Gonzalez...his 5 RBI August 8 at Colorado tied a Reds single-game season high...played in the Dominican Winter League for Aguilas.

2003: Appeared in 80 games (39 starts) for the Reds in his first full big league season...started the club's last 27 games of the season, producing all 5 of his home runs and 12 of his 16 RBI in September...was on the D.L. from July 5-29 with a strained right hamstring...rehabbed with Triple-A Louisville and rejoined the club July 30 after Jose Guillen was traded to Oakland...had his first career multi-hit game August 1 vs. San Francisco...legged out the first triple of his big league career September 5 at St. Louis...laid down his only career sac bunt September 12 at Chicago...as a pinch runner/defensive replacement May 28 at Atlanta, made his only career appearance in the infield (third base)...played for Aguilas of the Dominican Winter League.

2002: Advanced from Double-A Chattanooga to make his major league debut with the Reds in September, skipping the Triple-A level altogether...became the first 20-year-old to appear for the Reds since Gookie Dawkins in 1999 and the 6th Reds player in 2 seasons (2001-02) to make his major league debut without a Triple-A stop...had a pinch-hit infield single off Kip Wells in his big league debut September 10 vs. Pittsburgh...made his first big league start September 12 vs. Chicago, and drilled a solo home run off Steve Smyth...suffered a torn left hamstring while playing in the Arizona Fall League, and underwent surgery October 18.

2001: With 26 homers and 26 steals for Single-A Dayton, was one of only 3 minor leaguers to record at least 25 homers and 25 steals in 2001...represented the Reds organization at the All-Star Futures Game in Seattle and was named to the Midwest League All-Star team, Topps Single-A Alla pinch-hitter once...made his major league debut on September 5 vs. Texas...was added to the 40-man roster in November of 2001, but visa problems kept him from attending spring training until mid-March.

2001: Was named the Orioles' No. 5 prospect by Baseball America...had 30 doubles between Double-A Bowie and Single-A Frederick, 3rd-most among all Baltimore farmhands...his 28 steals ranked 5th.

2000: After completing just his 3rd professional season, was named by Baseball America as the No. 3 prospect in the Orioles system...combined to hit .276 for Single-A Delmarva and Double-A Bowie...was promoted to Bowie on June 2, becoming the youngest player in BaySox franchise history (18).

1999: Led the rookie-level Gulf Coast League Orioles in hits (51), walks (23) and stolen bases (20), and was 2nd in runs (34), games (53) and at-bats (177)...began the season with the San Pedro Orioles in the Dominican Summer League and led the team with a .447 batting average and 3 home runs.

1998: Hit .289 with 33 runs scored in 58 games for the DSL Orioles in his first pro season.

PERSONAL

Originally signed with the Orioles as a non-drafted free agent on November 1, 1997...his brother Omar also played in Baltimore's minor league system from 1999-2005...both were signed by the same Orioles scout.

PERSONAL

Curt and his wife Shonda have 4 children: Gehrig (5/27/95), Gabriella (5/22/97), Grant (10/3/99), and Garrison (6/27/02)...attended Yavapai Junior College in Prescott, AZ, where he helped team advance to the 1985 Junior College World Series...graduated from Shadow Mountain High School in Phoenix in 1985...born in Anchorage, is one of 9 Alaskan-born players in major league history... is an avid history buff, who is particularly interested in the World War II era...Curt's father Cliff served over 20 years in the U.S. Army as a paratrooper in the 101st Airborne Division ("Screaming Eagles") prior to his passing in 1988...now makes his year-round home in the Boston area.

In September 2006 launched 38 Studios, LLC, a company dedicated to producing innovative massively multiplayer online games (MNOs)...based in Maynard, MA, 38 Studios' (www.38studios.com) 1st title will feature the artistic vision of Todd McFarlane (creator of Spawn) and celebrated author R.A. Salvatore (creator of Drizzt, one of modern fantasy's most memorable characters)... together with a growing team of experienced industry professionals, 38 Studios is now in pre-production on its premier title.

CURT IN THE COMMUNITY: Has been extensively involved in community and charitable endeavors throughout his career...Curt and his wife Shonda have worked tirelessly on behalf of numerous charitable causes with a particular focus on raising funds for research as well as elevating awareness of Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS) and melanoma...the Schillings have been responsible for generating over $8 million for the ALS Association over the last 14 years, beginning in 1992, when they adopted the Philadelphia chapter of that organization to benefit from their fundraising and public awareness efforts...that year they created "Curt's Pitch" (www.curtspitchforals.org), a pledge drive for Phillies fans to donate to the ALS Association based on Curt's annual strikeouts and wins totals...that program continued when he went to Arizona and is now operated in conjunction with the ALS Association of Massachusetts...has held the Curt Schilling ALS Golf Outing in the Philadelphia area for the last 13 years and has hosted the Curt Schilling FORE ALS Golf Tournament in Arizona.

In September 2002, Curt and Shonda, a survivor of melanoma, directed their energy at prevention and awareness of melanoma by launching SHADE, The Curt and Shonda Schilling Melanoma Foundation of America (www.ShadeFoundation.org), which has raised over $2 million through their fund-raising efforts...in October 2003, the SHADE Foundation received the "Excellence in Cancer Awareness Award," presented by Congressional Families for Cancer Awareness...since 2004, over 25,000 youngsters in New England have participated in the SunWise with SHADE Poster Contest which generates awareness for the need to practice responsible sun behaviors...SHADE has also provided over 100 playground shade covers across the United States.

Curt donated $500,000.00 to the Jimmy Fund on the day he was traded to the Red Sox...also contributed $1 million to 3 organizations: United Way ($500,000) and the ALS Chapter of Philadelphia and Phoenix ($250,000 each) when he signed a contract extension with Arizona in 2001.

Has received numerous honors for his initiatives...was named as the winner of The Sporting News #1 Good Guy of the Year Award in 2004...was included in Barbara Walters' 10 Most Fascinating People of 2004 program on ABC-TV...was the recipient of the 2001 Roberto Clemente Award, presented by Major League Baseball to the player who best combines excellence on the field with devotion to community service...that same year, received the Branch Rickey Award from

SUMMARY: One of Portland's 4 mid-season Eastern League All-Stars, Spann spent the entire season with the Sea Dogs and tied for 5th in the league with a .294 batting average and tied for 7th with 28 doubles...had 10 home runs, 50 RBI and 53 runs scored in 99 games for the Sea Dogs...was named Eastern League Player of the Week for May 29-June 4 after leading the league with a .471 (13-for-27) batting average and .778 slugging percentage...played exclusively in the field as a third baseman...was placed on the disabled list on August 4 and missed the rest of the season with a left ankle injury suffered while running the bases on August 2.

HEATING UP WITH THE WEATHER: After a slow start that saw him hit just .242 (15-for-62) in April, batted .298 (28-for-94) in May, .330 (33-for-100) in June and .309 (30-for-97) in July before being sidelined for the season 2 days into August...hit .324 (34-for-105) with runners in scoring position, including a .341 (14-for-41) mark in those situations with 2 outs...the right-handed batter hit .333 (34-for-102) against lefties and .279 (72-for-258) off righties...had his best stretch of the season from May 28-June 16, when he went 27-for-64 (.422) with 7 doubles, a triple, 3 home runs, 15 RBI and 15 runs scored in 17 games...lifted his batting average from .252 to .305 during the tear.

ARIZONA FALL LEAGUE: Returned from his ankle injury to play for the Peoria Javelinas of the Arizona Fall League, batting .268 (22-for-82) with 5 doubles, a triple, a home run, 12 RBI and 11 runs scored in 21 games...split his time between third base and first base for Peoria.

SUMMARY: Spent the majority of the season with advanced Single-A Wilmington of the Carolina League, tying for the team lead with 13 home runs while establishing a then career-high with 23 doubles...batted .248 with 48 RBI and 55 runs in 111 games for the Blue Rocks to earn a late August promotion to Portland for his first taste at the Double-A level...the call-up came shortly after a season-high 11-game hitting streak with Wilmington from August 2-13, during which he hit .333 (16-for-48) with 6 doubles, 2 triples, 2 home runs, 5 RBI and 13 runs scored...went 6-for-29 (.207) in 9 games with the Sea Dogs over the remainder of the regular season.

A GRAND FINISH: Spann, who made his Double-A debut on August 25, started at third base in Game One of the Northern Division Championship Series vs. Trenton and clubbed a 2-out, walk-off grand slam to give the Sea Dogs a 5-3 win...it was the first grand slam and the first walk-off hit in Sea Dogs post-season history...the next night in Game 2, Spann snapped a 2-2 draw in the 6th with a 2-run homer that proved to be the difference in the 5-2 win.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Began the season with Single-A Sarasota of the Florida State League and compiled a 9-game hitting streak from May 3-11 before landing on the disabled list on May 19 with a knee injury...appeared in 7 rehab games for the Gulf Coast Red Sox from July 22-28, batting .333 (8-for-24), before returning to the SaraSox on July 29...hit just .215 (17-for-79) in 23 games over the rest of the season...participated in the Fall Instructional League after the season.

2003: Was named Red Sox Minor League Player of the Year for Single-A Augusta...was also selected to the SAL mid-season and post-season All-Star team...his team-leading .312 average ranked 3rd among Red Sox minor leaguers and 6th in the South Atlantic League.

ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD

Since 1971, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award that recognizes a player who best exemplifies the game of baseball through sportsmanship, community involvement, and positive contributions to his team.

In 1973, following the tragic death of Roberto Clemente, the award was named to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The 12-time All-Star and Hall of Famer was killed in a plane crash in 1972 delivering food and medical supplies to earthquake victims of Nicaragua. The award recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

A panel of baseball dignitaries, including Vera Clemente and Commissioner Bud Selig, annually selects the winner from a list of 30 candidates, one from each Major League club. The local winners are honored during the season with the recipient of the national award being announced at the World Series. David Ortiz was the Red Sox nominee for the 2006 award. Carlos Delgado of the New York Mets was the 2006 Roberto Clemente Award recipient.

4.35 ERA in 33 appearances at home and 1-2 with 4 saves and a 4.36 ERA in 35 appearances on the road...was most effective when pitching on no days of rest, posting a 1.37 ERA (3 ER/19.2 IP) in 21 games in those situations...turned in a 5.68 ERA (28 ER/44.1 IP) in 47 appearances otherwise...had a 1.93 ERA in April and a 0.90 ERA in May, giving him a sub-2.00 ERA in 6 of 8 months starting in April of 2005...allowed a .305 batting average, including a .303 (40-for-132) mark by righties and a .306 (38-for-124) mark by lefties...surrendered 7 homers after allowing only one homer in 81 appearances in 2005...pitched scoreless ball in 51 of 68 appearances and allowed more than one run only 9 times in 2006.

MORE 2006 HIGHLIGHTS: Made his 900th career appearance April 18 vs. Tampa Bay...won back-to-back days April 17 vs. Seattle and April 18, becoming the first Red Sox pitcher to win consecutive days since 1999, when John Wasdin earned the win against Detroit both May 31 and June 1...earned a victory in consecutive outings for the first time since April 10 and 15, 2003...had a season best 11.2-inning scoreless streak covering 12 games from April 23-May 20...pitched a scoreless 9th inning to preserve Boston's 6-3 win vs. Washington on June 19 for his first save since September 30, 2005 vs. New York...jumped out to a 5-0 start following his July 17 victory vs. Kansas City, the first 5-0 start of his 16-year major league career...earned saves in both games of the September 17 doubleheader at New York, the first Red Sox pitcher to turn that trick since Alan Embree on July 2, 2002 vs. Toronto...capped a stretch with a save in 4 straight outings from September 14-17...earned the save with a scoreless inning in 5 of his final 7 appearances and had 7 saves in his last 13 outings.

SUMMARY: In his 3rd Red Sox season, led the American League and set an all-time Red Sox record with 81 appearances, establishing a career high for the 2nd consecutive season...finished 7-3 with 13 saves, 24 holds and a 2.24 ERA, his lowest since he posted a 2.14 mark with Toronto in 1995...was named the team's Fireman of the Year by the Boston chapter of the BBWAA...ranked 5th among A.L. relief pitchers with 80.1 innings pitched and 24 holds...spent most of the season as the Red Sox' primary right-handed set-up man but finished the year as Boston's closer...the owner of 130 career saves, Timlin's 13 saves were his highest total since he had 27 for Baltimore in 1999...retired 55 of 81 first batters faced...stranded 14 of 32 inherited runners.

KEEPING THEM IN THE YARD: Allowed only 2 home runs, his lowest full-season total since serving up one long ball in only 31 games (42.0 innings) for Toronto in 1995...both came in Toronto: May 24 by Reed Johnson and September 12 by Vernon Wells.

MODEL OF CONSISTENCY: Posted a sub-2.00 ERA in every month of the season except August (3.94) and September-October (3.65)...finished with a 1.64 ERA in April, a 1.29 ERA in May, a 1.88 ERA in June and a 0.71 ERA in July...went 4-0 with 9 saves in 10 chances and a 1.34 ERA (6 ER/40.1 IP) in 43 games at Fenway Park and 3-3 with 4 saves in 10 chances and a 3.15 ERA (14 ER/40.0 IP) in 38 appearances on the road...was 3-1 with 2 saves and a 1.69 ERA (8 ER/42.2 IP) in 42 outings before the All-Star break and 4-2 with 11 saves and a 2.87 ERA (12 ER/37.2 IP) in 39 games after the break.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Pitched once in the ALDS vs. Chicago, allowing a run on one hit with one strikeout in 1.0 inning in Game 3 at Fenway Park...the appearance was his 20th post-season outing as a Red Sox, establishing a club record (Alan Embree had 19).

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Made a team-high 76 appearances, at the time 3rd-most in Red Sox history and tied for 4th in the AL...went 5-4 with a save and a 4.13 ERA, limiting opponents to a .257 average...joined Keith Foulke (72) and Alan Embree (71) to give the Red Sox their first-ever trio of relief pitchers with 70 appearances in a single season...the Red Sox previously had 2 pitchers make 70 or more appearances in a single season just once in club history, in 1993, when Greg Harris (80) and Tony Fossas (71) turned the trick...did not allow an earned run in 66 of his 81 appearances, surrendering as many as 2 earned runs only 4 times all year...pitched in 11 of 14 post-season games, logging no record and a 6.09 ERA (8ER/11.2 IP).

2003: In his first season with the Red Sox, finished 6-4 with 2 saves, 17 holds and a 3.55 ERA in a team-high 72 appearances, which matched his career high for the 2nd straight season and tied for 8th in the league...his 83.2 relief innings were 3rd-most in his career (108.1 in 1991 and 96.2 in 2002) and ranked 7th in the A.L...Timlin's 65 strikeouts in 83.2 innings were his most since striking out a career-best 85 in 108.1 innings as a Blue Jays rookie in 1991...allowed 8 earned runs in his first 9 appearances (14.2 innings) of the season for a 4.91 ERA, then posted a 3.26 ERA (25 ER/69.0 IP) in his final 63 outings of the season beginning April 27...his 72 outings were 3rd-most by a pitcher in his first season with the team...only Heathcliff Slocumb (76 appearances in 1996) and Rob Murphy (74 appearances in 1989) pitched in more games in their first year as a Red Sox...issued just 9 walks in 83.2 innings, an average of 0.97 walks per 9.0 innings, the best ratio by any major league relief pitcher...limited first batters faced to a .181 on-base percentage, 2nd-best in the A.L. and 3rd-best in the majors...was dominant during the post-season, working 9.2 innings of one-hit shutout ball in the A.L. Division Series vs. Oakland and the A.L. Championship Series vs. New York.

2002: Splitting the year between St. Louis and Philadelphia, appeared in a then career-high 72 games (one start)...ranked 4th in the N.L. with 92.1 relief innings pitched, and held opponents to a .206 average...at 2.98, his final ERA was below 3.00 for the 3rd time in his career, for the first time since 1998...was traded to Philadelphia in the July 29 deal in which the Cardinals acquired Scott Rolen...allowed more than one earned run in just 3 of his 30 appearances with Philadelphia.

2001: In his lone full season with the Cardinals, went 4-5 with 3 saves and a 2.51 ERA in 67 outings...recorded 16 holds...tore the medial meniscus in his left knee while stretching in the bullpen July 26 at Chicago...had surgery the next day in St. Louis and was placed on the 15-day D.L...returned August 17 vs. Philadelphia...appeared in 19 games and allowed 13 runs (12 ER) in 17.2 innings after his return...grounded to third in his first M.L. at-bat October 6 vs. Houston...earned the win in the game, allowing one earned run in 2.0 innings-plus.

2000: Opened the season by going 2-3 with 11 saves and a 4.89 ERA in 31 games with the Orioles before being dealt to St. Louis July 29...went 3-1 with a save and a 3.34 ERA for the Cardinals...between the 2 stops, was 5-4 with 12 saves in 18 chances and a 4.18 ERA...his first N.L. save was the 100th of his major league career, September 5 vs. Montreal.

1999: After signing a free agent deal with the Orioles, recorded 27 saves (10th-most in the A.L.) and a 3.57 ERA in 62 relief appearances...finished 52 games, 9th-most in the league...for the 2nd straight year, converted 18 of 19 save chances after the All-Star break...overall, held opponents to a .221 average, 8th-best among A.L. relievers...saved 10 games in 11 chances and led the major leagues with 28 Rolands Relief points in September.

1998: In his lone full season with the Mariners, went 3-3 with 19 saves in 24 chances and a 2.95 ERA in a then-career high 70 appearances...allowed just one earned run in 10 June outings (10.1 IP), posting a 0.87 ERA...took over as Seattle's closer at the All-Star break and converted 18 of 19 save chances in the 2nd half...converted his last 14 saves in a row beginning August 2.

1997: Made a total of 64 appearances for the Blue Jays and Mariners, traded to Seattle July 31...between the 2 stops, went 6-4 with 10 saves and a 3.22 ERA...allowed just one earned run in his last 11 appearances and posted a 1.93 ERA in September...made one appearance in the ALDS vs. Baltimore, allowing 4 runs in 0.2 innings of work.

1996: Recorded a career-high 31 saves, 6th-most in the A.L., in his final full season with Toronto...ranked 5th in the A.L. with 56 games finished...led the club with 59 appearances, and limited first batters faced to a .208 average.

1995: Registered 4 wins, 5 saves and a career-best 2.14 ERA in 31 appearances for Toronto...allowed just one homer in 42.0 innings, a 9th-inning game-winning grand slam by Milwaukee's Jose Valentin on June 21...was placed on the 15-day D.L. immediately after that appearance, and underwent arthroscopic surgery on June 27 to remove bone chips from his right elbow...was activated August 18, and retired the first 19 batters he faced upon his return to Toronto.

1994: Fanned 38 in 40.0 innings in 34 relief appearances for the Jays...saw his ERA drop every month of the season...was placed on the 15-day D.L. May 27 with a sprained AC joint in his right shoulder...after the D.L. stint, posted a 2.91 ERA in 16 games (21.2 IP)...his only decision was a July 30 loss at Baltimore.

1993: Worked exclusively in relief for the entire season for the first time in his career, helping the Blue Jays to their 2nd consecutive World Series championship...ranked 3rd on the Toronto staff with 54 appearances.

in the World Series vs. Atlanta...recorded the last out of the series, coming out of the pen to retire Otis Nixon one unassisted, after Nixon attempted to bunt his way on, closing out the Blue Jays' 11-inning 4-3 win in Game 6.

1991: With only 17 Double-A appearances under his belt, made the jump to the major leagues, spending the entire season with Toronto, where he went 11-6 with 3 saves and a 3.16 ERA in 63 games, all but 3 in relief...his 11 wins, 108.1 innings pitched and 85 strikeouts are all career bests that stand to this day...finished 10-5 with a 3.36 ERA in 60 relief outings, and tied Detroit's Mike Henneman for the A.L. lead in relief wins...was 2nd on the Blue Jays staff in appearances...made his major league debut with 1.1 scoreless innings of relief Opening Day, April 8, vs. Boston...fanned 2 in a perfect 8th to notch his first major league win April 10 vs. Boston.

1990: Split the season between Single-A Dunedin and Double-A Knoxville, combining to go 8-4 with 30 saves and a 1.53 ERA (13 ER/76.1 IP) in 59 games, all in relief.

1989: Spent the season with Single-A Dunedin, working primarily in relief for the first time...went 5-8 with the first 7 saves of his professional career and a 3.25 ERA.

1988: Posted a 10-6 record and 2.86 ERA in 35 games, including a career-high 22 starts, for Single-A Myrtle Beach...worked 151.0 innings, which still stands as most in his pro career.

1987: Toronto's 5th-round draft choice, Timlin made his pro debut with 13 appearances (12 starts) for Medicine Hat of the short-season Single-A Pioneer League.

2007 RED SOX

FACTS ON THE 500-HOME RUN CLUB

There have been three years since 1967 in which two batters each joined the 500 Homer Club:

5/14/1967	Mickey Mantle	(Yankees)
7/14/1967	Eddie Mathews	(Astros)
8/10/1971	Harmon Killebrew	(Twins)
9/13/1971	Frank Robinson	(Orioles)
4/04/2003	Sammy Sosa	(Cubs)
5/11/2003	Rafael Palmeiro	(Rangers)

In the six years from September 13, 1965 through September 13, 1971, seven players hit #500: Willie Mays, Mickey Mantle, Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron, Ernie Banks, Harmon Killebrew and Frank Robinson. Mays and Robinson each joined the club on September 13 to start and end the period. These seven are the most players to join the club in the shortest time in history.

In less than five years from August 5, 1999 through June 20, 2004, five players hit #500: Mark McGwire, Barry Bonds, Sammy Sosa, Rafael Palmeiro and Ken Griffey, Jr.

AWARDS AND HONORS: Cemented his status as the best all-around catcher in baseball in 2005, when he was honored with his first career Silver Slugger Award as well as his first Rawlings Gold Glove...became the first Red Sox catcher to receive a Silver Slugger honor (presented since 1980)...is the 3rd Red Sox backstop to take home a Gold Glove, joining Carlton Fisk (1972) and Tony Pena (1991)...Varitek's Gold Glove was the first by any Red Sox player since Pena's honor 14 years earlier...in 2005, only 3 other major leaguers won both a Silver Slugger Award and a Gold Glove: Andruw Jones of the Braves, Derrek Lee of the Cubs and Mark Teixeira of the Rangers...only 2 other Red Sox have ever won a Silver Slugger and Gold Glove in the same season: Dwight Evans in 1981 and Ellis Burks in 1990.

Varitek was honored with the 2006 Red Sox Heart and Hustle Award from the local chapter of the Major League Baseball Players Alumni Association...the honor is presented to a player who exemplifies the values, tradition, and spirit of the game of baseball.

Received the Thomas A. Yawkey Award in 2003, presented annually by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America to the Red Sox MVP.

In his first full ML season in 1998, was named Red Sox Rookie of the Year by the Boston baseball writers.

OH CAPTAIN, MY CAPTAIN: Upon signing his 4-year contract on December 24, 2004, Varitek was named the 18th full-time captain in Red Sox history...according to research by Howard W. Rosenberg, Varitek is the first Sox captain since Jim Rice (1986-89)...before

Rice, Carl Yastrzemski served as captain in 1966 and 1969-83...Yaz was the club's first captain since Jimmie Foxx (1940-42) and only the 2nd Sox captain since 1923...from the inaugural 1901 season through 1923, the Red Sox had 14 different full-time captains, most serving for a single season.

SEEING STARS: A 2-time American League All-Star (2003, 2005), Varitek in 2005 was voted to start the All-Star Game for the first time in his career...went 1-for-1 with a walk and a run scored in the July 12 All-Star Game at Comerica Park in his native Detroit...delivered an infield single to short off John Smoltz in the 2nd inning...walked against Livan Hernandez and came around to score in the 4th.

Although he did not appear in the game in 2003, Varitek was selected to his first A.L. All-Star team in the etopps All-Star Final Vote on MLB.com...joined teammates Manny Ramirez (who was chosen to start in fan balloting) and Nomar Garciaparra (who was selected as a reserve in the first Player Vote) on the roster for the 74th All-Star Game, which was played July 15 at U.S. Cellular Field in Chicago...more than 10.6 million votes were cast in the Final Vote...Varitek outpolled White Sox first baseman Frank Thomas, Yankees first baseman Jason Giambi, A's outfielder Eric Byrnes and Angels catcher Bengie Molina.

POST-SEASON PERFORMER: Has appeared in 39 career post-season games with the Red Sox over 5 separate seasons (1998-99, 2003-05), batting .254 (36-for-142) with 9 homers, 22 RBI and 27 runs scored...his 9 career post-season home runs are most in franchise history, one more than David Ortiz...appeared in 28 of Boston's 29 post-season games from 2003-05, batting .268 (26-for-97) with 7 home runs, 17 RBI and 19 runs scored...went 3-for-10 (.300) with an RBI and a run scored in 3 games in the 2005 ALDS vs. Chicago...appeared in every game and started 13 of 14 post-season contests behind the plate in 2004 (all but Game 1 of the World Series, when Doug Mirabelli got the starting nod for Tim Wakefield's lone post-season start)...hit .245 (13-for-53) in the post-season with 3 homers and 11 RBI...went 2-for-12 (.167) in the ALDS vs. Anaheim, but, with the Sox down 3-1 in the 6th in Game 2, launched a 2-run homer off Bartolo Colon to tie the game they'd eventually win 8-3...hit .321 (9-for-28) with a double, 2 homers, 7 RBI and 5 runs scored in the ALCS against the Yankees...went just 2-for-13 (.154) with 2 runs scored in the World Series, but one of his hits was a 2-run triple with 2 outs in the first inning of Game 2 that set Sox on their way to a 6-2 win...appeared in 11 of the Red Sox' 12 post-season games in 2003, starting 9 (all but Tim Wakefield's 3 starts)...hit .294 (10-for-34) with 2 doubles, 4 homers, 5 RBI and 8 runs...his 4 homers were 2nd on the club to Todd Walker, and are tied for 2nd-most in club history in a single postseason.

1,000 HITS IN SIGHT: Begins the 2007 season 48 hits shy of 1,000 in his big league career.

SUMMARY: Was limited by a left knee injury to only 103 games, his lowest total since 2001 (51 games)...batted .238 with 19 doubles, 12 home runs, 55 RBI and 46 runs scored...drew 46 walks, contributing to his .325 on-base percentage...marked his 5th straight season with double digits in home runs...has accomplished the feat in 7 of the last 8 seasons...however, his batting average was the lowest of his major league career, 10 percentage points below his 2000 mark of .248.

KNEE DEEP: Was placed on the 15-day disabled list on August 1 with torn cartilage in his left knee that required surgery on August 3...was activated on September 3 after appearing in 2 rehab games for Triple-A Pawtucket, going 3-for-7 (.429) with a homer, RBI and 2 runs scored...was batting .243 with 11 homers and 50 RBI in 85 games at the time of the D.L. stint and hit .213 (13-for-61) with a homer and 5 RBI in 18 games after being reinstated.

TRENDS: Batted just .228 (29-for-127) in his first 38 games through May 24, but lifted his season mark to .262 after hitting .320 (24-for-75) in his next 20 contests ending June 21...hit just .209 (34-for-163) over his final 45 games to finish at .238...of his 55 RBI, 23 came in 7 games (2 4-RBI; 5 3-RBI).

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: The switch-hitter batted .242 (57-for-236) from the left side and .233 (30-for-129) from the right...hit .276 (16-for-58) with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...enjoyed his most success from the No. 6 spot in the order, batting .285 (63-for-221) with 8 homers and 43 RBI in 58 games.

MORE 2006 HIGHLIGHTS: Established a career high with 4 runs scored on May 15 at Baltimore, when he was 2-for-2 with a home run, 3 RBI and 3 walks...homered in back-to-back games on July 21 and July 23 at Seattle...his home run on September 8 vs. KC was his first at home since a May 7 grand slam vs. Baltimore, as his previous 9 homers had all come on the road...including his 2nd career grand slam May 7 vs. Baltimore, has hit 2 of Boston's last 5 slams (also August 4, 2005 vs. Kansas City)...September 20 matched his career high with his 2nd triple of the season...also had 2 triples in 1999...has at least one triple in each of the last 8 seasons...had a season-high 3 hits 5 times.

WORLD BASEBALL CLASSIC: Appeared in 3 games for Team USA in the inaugural World Baseball Classic, going 2-for-7 (.286) with a homer, 4 RBI and a run scored...his home run was a grand slam off Canada's Eric Cyr in an 8-6 loss on March 8.

2005 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: An All-Star starter for the first time in his career, Varitek batted .281 with 22 home runs and 70 RBI in 133 games for the Red Sox...earned his first career Silver Slugger Award as well as his first Rawlings Gold Glove Award.

HAPPY HUNDREDTH: Became the 26th Red Sox to hit 100 home runs when he went deep off the Yankees' Randy Johnson April 14 at Fenway...the 4th-inning solo homer came on the first pitch and tied the game 5-5...the Sox went on to win the game 8-5 with Varitek adding a 2-run triple off Tom Gordon in the decisive 3-run 8th.

PATIENCE IS A VIRTUE: Led the club with a career-high average of 4.15 pitches seen per plate appearance, tied for 6th most in the A.L...the Red Sox collectively led the majors in 2005 with an average of 3.86 pitches seen per plate appearance.

HEROICS: On the 2nd day of the season, April 5 at New York, hit a one-out solo homer in the top of the 9th off Mariano Rivera to tie the Yankees 3-3...the long ball, his first of the year, came on a 1-2 pitch...Derek Jeter led off the bottom of the 9th with a homer of his own to give New York the win...slammed his 2nd career walk-off homer, the team's 2nd in as many days, May 11 off Oakland's Octavio Dotel...the one-out, 2-run blast just inside the right field foul pole gave the Sox a 6-5 win and a 3-game series sweep after Oakland had scored 4 in the top of the 9th...Tek's previous walk-off homer was May 13, 2001 vs. Oakland off Jeff Tam.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: On the strength of a quick start and an August surge, batted a career-best .296 with 18 home runs and 73 RBI in 137 games...his 2004 average was 23 points higher than his previous career high...also established personal bests with 137 hits, 62 walks and 10 stolen bases, finishing 2nd on the team in steals, 9 behind Sox leader Johnny Damon...his .390 on-base percentage, 10th-best in the A.L., was another career best...had a 15-game hitting streak from August 17-September 10, one shy of his 2002 career high...batted .424 (25-for-59) with 8 doubles, 3 homers, 8 RBI, and 11 runs during the tear, raising his average to .311 from .292...the 10 stolen bases by Varitek dwarfed his previous career high of 4 from 2002...ranked 2nd in the American League and 3rd in all of baseball with a .449 (31-for-69) August batting average, trailing Seattle's Ichiro Suzuki (.463) and San Francisco's J.T. Snow (.452).

2003: Was selected to his first A.L. All-Star team and received the Thomas A. Yawkey Award, presented annually by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America to the Red Sox MVP...established career highs with 25 home runs, 85 RBI and a .512 slugging percentage in 142 games, 2 shy of his 1999 career best...among major league catchers, ranked 2nd to Jorge Posada of the Yankees in home runs and slugging and tied Florida's Ivan Rodriguez for 2nd, also behind Posada, in RBI...was hitting .292 with 18 homers and 65 RBI at the end of July, but batted .237 with 7 homers and 20 RBI in 49 August-September contests...became just the 2nd catcher in Red Sox history to twice hit 20 homers in a season...only 2 others have done it once... Carlton Fisk turned the trick 4 times (1972-73, 1977-78), Rich Gedman once (1984) and Mike Stanley once (1996)...the only catcher to hit more in a season is Fisk, who slammed 26 in 1973 and 1977...his career-best 85 RBI were the 3rd-most RBI ever by a Boston catcher...Carlton Fisk knocked in 102 in 1977 and 88 in 1978...the Sox connected for 11 sets of back-to-back home runs in 2003, and Varitek was involved in 6...according to SABR's David Vincent, only one Red Sox has been involved in more sets of back-to-back home runs in a season...George Scott was involved 7 times in 1977...the only other Boston player to participate in 6 sets was Manny Ramirez in 2001...Vern Stephens (1948), John Valentin (1995) and Ramirez (2002) were each involved in 5 sets.

2002: After missing the final 4 months of 2001, came back to appear in 132 games, including 121 starts behind the plate...his 127 appearances at catcher were 3rd-most in the A.L., while his 121 starts behind the plate were 4th in the league...posted a .996 fielding percentage (4 errors in 970 chances), 3rd-best in a season by a Boston catcher...his 912 putouts were 2nd-most in a season in club annals, while his 970 total chances ranked 2nd in the A.L...got off to a quick start, hitting .318 with 4 doubles, 2 homers and 9 RBI in 17 April contests...hit a team-best .360 in 25 July games...had 7 doubles, a triple, 2 homers, 11 RBI and 17 runs during the month, which was highlighted by a career-best 16-game hitting streak July 14-31...hit .400 (24-for-60) with 5 doubles, a triple, 2 homers and 7 RBI during the longest hitting streak by a Red Sox catcher since Carlton Fisk hit in 16 straight to end 1977 season.

2001: Appeared in only 51 games before he fractured his right elbow on a diving catch of a foul pop up June 7 vs. Detroit...underwent season-ending surgery performed by Dr. Bill Morgan on June 12...was behind the plate for Hideo Nomo's no-hitter April 4 at Baltimore...his first long ball of the season was his first career walk-off blast, an 11th-inning shot off Jeff Tam that gave the Sox a 5-4 win May 13 vs. Oakland...posted a career-best 3-homer, 7-RBI day in a 10-3 win May 20 at Kansas City...finished the day 4-for-4 with homers off Brian Meadows in the 2nd and 4th and off Mac Suzuki in the 8th...the 3-home run game was the first by a Red Sox since Trot Nixon turned the trick August 24, 1999 at Detroit...it was the 10th 3-homer game ever by an A.L. catcher...was named A.L. Player of the Week for the week of May 14-20 after batting .444 with 4 homers, 10 RBI, a .474 on-base percentage and a 1.167 slugging percentage.

2000: Hit .248 with 10 homers and 65 RBI in 139 games...finished April with a .339 average, a .492 slugging percentage and a .444 on-base percentage...enjoyed a season-best 9-game hitting streak April 24-May 5...threw out 23 percent of runners attempting to steal (34 of 148)...made 128 appearances (119 starts) behind the plate...the Sox were 70-49 in his starts...led A.L. catchers with 14 passed balls, 9 with knuckleballer Tim Wakefield on the mound...underwent post-season surgery on his right wrist.

1999: Appeared in a career-high 144 games and established personal bests that still stand with 483 at-bats, a team-high 39 doubles, 70 runs and 233 total bases...his 20 homers and 76 RBI stood as career bests until 2003...his 39 doubles matched Carlton Fisk's 1978 total for most ever by a Red Sox catcher...hit .299 with 11 homers and 45 RBI after the All-Star Break...finished 2nd among A.L. catchers with 140 games and 130 starts...led M.L. catchers with 1,049 chances and 972 putouts...batted .238 (5-for-21) with a homer and 3 RBI in 5 ALDS games vs. Cleveland and .200 (4-for-20) with a homer and an RBI in 5 ALCS games vs. New York...was 4-for-5 with a 2-run homer, 3 RBI and a M.L. post-season record 5 runs in the Red Sox' 23-7 Game 4 win vs. Cleveland in the ALDS.

1998: In his first full M.L. season, was named Red Sox Rookie of the Year by the Boston baseball writers...batted .253 with 7 homers and 33 RBI...the Sox went 38-18 in his starts...was 1-for-5 in his first career start April 2 at Oakland...delivered his first RBI April 10 vs. Seattle, and collected his first steal May 8 at Kansas City...2 days later, hit his first homer off the Royals' Jose Rosado...posted his first 2-homer game and knocked in 5 September 15 at New York...went 1-for-4 with an RBI in

FULL NAME: Timothy Stephen Wakefield
THROWS: Right BATS: Right HEIGHT: 6-2 WEIGHT: 210
OPENING DAY AGE: 40 (Turns 41 on August 2)
BORN: August 2, 1966 in Melbourne, FL
RESIDES: Melbourne, FL
MAJOR LEAGUE SERVICE: 13 years, 6 days
ACQUIRED: Signed as a minor league free agent on April 26, 1995
SIGNED BY: Fred Goodman (Pirates)
CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2007 with annual club options thereafter

CAREER NOTES

SENIOR SOX: Signed by the Red Sox on April 26, 1995, Wakefield enters his 13th season in Boston and is the active player with the longest continuous service in a Red Sox uniform...only 3 other active major league pitchers have worn the same uniform continuously since at least 1995: John Smoltz of the Braves (1988), Trevor Hoffman of the Padres (1993) and Mariano Rivera of the Yankees (1995)...on April 19, 2005, Wake agreed to a contract extension through the 2006 season with club options thereafter...his 2007 option was exercised on October 30, 2006.

STAYING POWER: Wakefield is one of only 10 players in club annals with at least 12 continuous years of service, including one of only 3 pitchers...Roger Clemens (1984-96) and Bob Stanley (1977-89) lead the way among pitchers with 13 years of continuous service with the Sox...Carl Yastrzemski leads among all players with 23 straight seasons (1961-83).

CLIMBING THE CHARTS: With 1,570 strikeouts, ranks 3rd on the Red Sox all-time list, trailing only Roger Clemens (2,590) and Pedro Martinez (1,683)...with 137 wins as a Red Sox, stands 3rd in club history...only Clemens and Cy Young, both with 192, have more Red Sox wins...with 2,211.2 IP as a Red Sox, is 3rd on the club list behind Clemens (2776.0) and Young (2728.1)...has made 306 starts as a Red Sox, 2nd in club history behind only Clemens (382)...Wakefield is 2nd in club history with 443 appearances, trailing only Bob Stanley (637).

MILESTONE WATCH: Enters 2007 needing 20 appearances for 500 in his career and 68.0 innings for 2,500.0 in his career...is 13 wins shy of 150 as a Red Sox.

STARTING AND RELIEVING: Is 141-121 with a 4.37 ERA (1049 ER/2160.2 IP) in 339 career starts and 10-13 with 22 saves and a 3.75 ERA (113 ER/271.1 IP) in 141 career relief appearances...over the last 4 years, has made 119 of his 123 appearances as a starter...Wake pitched exclusively as a starter in 2005 and 2006, which he had not done for a full season since 1996.

AWARDS AND HONORS: Among the most community-minded players in the game, Wakefield has been honored as the Red Sox recipient of the Roberto Clemente Award 7 times, including a run of 6 straight years (1998, 2000-2005)...Wakefield's area of focus has been with the Franciscan Children's Hospital in Boston and the Space Coast Early Intervention Center in his hometown of Melbourne, FL.

The longest-tenured member of the Red Sox enjoyed one of his finest seasons in 2005, leading the club in wins, starts, innings pitched, strikeouts, complete games and opponents average by a starter en route to being honored as the club's Pitcher of the Year by the Boston chapter of the BBWAA...finished 16-12 with a 4.15 ERA in 33 starts.

POST-SEASON PERFORMER: Has appeared in 16 career playoff games (9 starts) over 7 different post-seasons (1992, 1998-99, 2003-05), going 5-5 with 2 complete games, 2 games finished and a 6.12 ERA (44 ER/64.2 IP)...made 10 post-season outings (5 starts) for the Sox from 2003-05, going 3-3 with a 5.45 ERA (23 ER/38.0 IP).

Started Game 3 of Boston's 2005 American League Division Series against the White Sox, and allowed 4 runs on 6 hits in 5.1 innings en route to a 5-3 loss that gave Chicago a 3-game series sweep...in 2004, was 1-0 with a 9.82 ERA (12 ER/11.0 IP) in 4 games (one start)...did not pitch in the 3-game sweep of Anaheim in the ALDS...made 3 relief appearances in the ALCS vs. New York, going 1-0 with an 8.59 ERA (7 ER/7.1 IP)...in one of the key efforts of the series, saved the Sox pen with 3.1 innings of relief in the 19-8 Game 3 loss...in the process, sacrificed his scheduled Game 4 start...earned the Game 5 win with 3.0 innings of one-hit shutout relief...started Game 1 of the World Series at Fenway and did not figure in the decision, allowing 5 runs on 3 hits and 5 walks in 3.2 innings...in 2003, went 2-2 with a 2.91 ERA (7 ER/21.2 IP) in 5 post-season appearances (3 starts)...was 0-1 with a 3.52 ERA (3 ER/7.2 IP) in 2 games (one start) in the ALDS vs. Oakland...was 2-1 with a 2.57 ERA (4 ER/14.0 IP) in 3 games (2 starts) in the ALCS vs. New York...started and won both Game 1 and Game 4, in both cases out-dueling Mike Mussina...took the loss in relief in Game 7...after working a 1-2-3 10th, allowed a first-pitch home run to Aaron Boone leading off the bottom of the 11th, giving the Yankees a walk-off 6-5 win.

SUMMARY: Went 7-11 with a 4.63 ERA in his 12th season in a Red Sox uniform, limited to 23 starts due to just his 2nd stint on the disabled list in his 14-year major league career...landed on the disabled list from July 22-September 13 with a stress fracture in his rib cage, his first D.L. stay since missing only 15 days in 1997 due to right elbow inflammation...his 23 starts were his fewest appearances in a season since his rookie season of 1992 (13) with Pittsburgh while his 140.0 innings were his fewest since 1999 with the Red Sox (also 140.0).

LOW ON SUPPORT: In his 11 losses, Boston scored a total of 6 runs while Wakefield was in the game, an average of 0.54 runs per contest, including one run 4 times and no runs 5 times...the Red Sox scored 46 runs in Tim's 7 wins, an average of 6.6 runs per win...the Red Sox did not score a run while Wakefield was on the mound in 4 starts in a row, covering 18.1 innings, from July 17-September 25.

A TOUGH APRIL: Finished April with a 1-4 record in 5 starts despite a 3.90 ERA...Boston scored only 6 runs in his 5 starts, an average of 1.67 runs per start, 2nd-lowest in the majors behind Kansas City's Scott Elarton (1.15), who also lost 4 games in April despite a 3.16 ERA...since 1959, only 3 other Red Sox starters have lost 4 games in April: Roger Clemens (0-4, 6 starts in 1996), Danny Darwin (0-4, 4 starts in 1993) and Marty Pattin (1-4, 5.73 ERA in 1973)...Wakefield's 3.90 ERA is the best of the 4 Red Sox starters who lost 4 times in April, as Clemens posted a 4.17 ERA, Darwin an 8.20 ERA and Pattin a 9.00 ERA.

TURNAROUND IN MAY AND JUNE: Combined to go 4-4 with a 3.84 ERA (31 ER/72.2) in 11 starts in May and June...on May 1, the Red Sox reacquired catcher Doug Mirabelli from San Diego and, following a cross-country flight for Mirabelli, the pair was reunited 13 minutes prior to the first pitch that night vs. the Yankees, an eventual 7-3 Red Sox victory...Wakefield threw his first 32.1 innings with Josh Bard and his final 107.2 innings with Mirabelli...had a 3.90 ERA (14 ER/32.1 IP) with Bard and a 4.85 ERA (58 ER/107.2 IP) with Mirabelli.

INJURED IN JULY: Was unbeaten in 5 starts from June 20-July 17, going 3-0 with a 4.73 ERA, before lasting only 4.0 innings on July 17 vs. Kansas City and landing on the disabled list 5 days later with a stress fracture in his rib cage...returned on September 13 at Baltimore and the Red Sox lost his last 4 starts, combining to score a total of 7 runs in those games.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Had a 1.55 ERA (7 ER/29.0 IP) during the day (2-1 in 4 starts) and went 5-10 with a 5.43 ERA (67 ER/111.0 IP) in 19 starts at night...went 7-1 with a 3.11 ERA (22 ER/63.2 IP) when working on 4 days rest and 0-10 with a 6.01 ERA (51 ER/76.1 IP) when pitching on 5 days

MORE 2006 HIGHLIGHTS: Earned the starting nod in Boston's 2nd game of the season for the 4th time in his Red Sox career, the first time since 2003 at Tampa Bay, and endured a 10-4 loss at Texas...also started in Boston's 2nd game in 1998 at Oakland and 1997 at Anaheim...tossed the 29th complete game in his career April 15 vs. Seattle in a 3-0 loss...now has 4 complete games since the start of the 2005 season after not tossing a complete game from 1999-2004...notched his 5th quality start in a row in defeating Washington 11-3 on June 20...was his 298th start as a Red Sox, surpassing Cy Young (297) for 2nd on the club's all-time list...allowed 3 runs in 6.0 innings on June 26 vs. Philadelphia for his 6th straight quality start, an 8-7 Red Sox win in 12 innings...July 1 at Florida earned his 150th career win in his 300th major league start.

SUMMARY: Was named Red Sox Pitcher of the Year by the Boston chapter of the BBWAA after leading the club in wins (16), starts (33), innings (225.1), strikeouts (151), complete games (3) and opponents average by a starter (.245)...finished 16-12 with a 4.15 ERA in 33 starts, pitching exclusively as a starter for the first time since 1996...established a career high in innings pitched, while his victory total was one shy of his 1998 career high...matched his 1998 and 2003 personal best in starts...his strikeout total tied for 2nd-most in his career...topped 10 wins for the 4th year in a row and for the 8th time in 11 seasons with Boston.

A CHECK OF THE LEADERBOARD: Ranked among A.L. leaders in wins (tied for 5th with 16), starts (tied for 8th with 33), complete games (tied for 4th with 3), innings pitched (6th with 225.1) and strikeouts (11th with 151)...his .245 opponents average allowed was 6th-best in the A.L.

EVERY 5TH DAY: Made at least 30 starts for the 3rd season in a row and for the 5th time in his career...topped 200.0 innings pitched for the 5th time, for just the 2nd time since 1999.

A LITTLE HELP?: Received a staff-low average of 4.8 runs per game worth of support (158 runs in 33 starts)...the Sox scored a total of 38 runs in his 12 losses (3.2 per game), including 4 games in which they scored 2 runs or fewer.

DECISIONS, DECISIONS: Got the win or the loss in 28 of his 33 starts, including 15 in a row from June 24-September 11...after 2 no-decisions in his first 4 starts, got a win or a loss in 24 of his next 25 starts April 29-September 11 and in 26 of his last 29 starts.

TOUGH TO HIT: Opponents batted just .245, 7th-best in the A.L...held lefthanders to a .202 average (74-for-367), 5th-best by any A.L. starter...righthanders hit .278 (136-for-490)...opponents hit .165 (68-for-413) with 2 strikes and .037 (1-for-27) after his 105th pitch.

1...2...3 STRIKES YOU'RE OUT: En route to fanning 151 in 225.1 innings, twice set personal single-game strikeout highs...fanned 11 in 8.0 innings August 7 at Minnesota, then punched out 12 in 8.0 innings September 11 at New York (AL).

LET'S STICK TOGETHER: Went 16-8 with a 3.66 ERA (83 ER/204.0 IP) in 29 starts with Doug Mirabelli behind the plate and 0-4 with an 8.86 ERA (21 ER/21.1 IP) without him...Mirabelli missed 21 games, including 4 of Wakefield's starts, while on the D.L. with a sprained left wrist, May 19-June 12...in 2003 and 2004, Mirabelli was behind the plate for all but 4.1 of Wakefield's 390.2 innings.

YOU COMPLETE ME: His 3 complete games were his most since 1997 (4)...went the distance July 17 vs. New York (AL), September 6 vs. the Angels and September 11 at New York (AL)...threw back-to-back complete games September 6 and 11 for the 6th time in his career, for the first time since July 29 and August 3, 1997...Wakefield's July 17 complete game, a 5-3 loss Fenway Park to the Yankees, was his first in 154 starts since August 19, 1998 at Kansas City...Wake's gap between complete games was the 2nd-longest in major league history, trailing only San Francisco's Kirk Rueter, who ended his career with 193 straight starts without a complete after July 4, 1999.

NOT SO FAST: Allowed 18 steals in 25 attempts after surrendering 33 in 41 tries in 2004...has averaged 27 stolen bases allowed over the last 10 seasons, last allowing fewer than 18 in 1995.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: The knuckleballer finished his 10th season in Boston 12-10 with a 4.87 ERA in 32 appearances (30 starts), the 2nd year in a row he made at least 30 starts...his 12 wins were his most since 1998 and gave him 11 or more wins for a 3rd straight season...held opponents to a .264 average...the Sox were 16-14 in his 30 starts with wins in 9 of his last 13...Boston averaged 5.8 runs per game in his starts (173 runs in 30 starts)...14 of his starts were quality starts...threw all but 2.1 of his 188.1 innings to Doug Mirabelli...Jason Varitek caught the other 2.1 innings...in 2003, Mirabelli caught all but 2.0 of Wake's 202.1 innings...allowed 19 unearned runs, tied with Bronson

Arroyo and Kansas City's Brian Anderson for 3rd-most in the major leagues...in all of baseball, only teammate Derek Lowe (28) and Arizona's Brandon Webb (28) allowed more.

2003: Finished 11-7 with a save and a 4.09 ERA in 35 games (33 starts)...finished 2nd on the club with 202.1 innings pitched, one behind Derek Lowe...tied Lowe for team-high honors with 33 starts, matching his 1998 personal best...his .246 opponents average, career-best 169 strikeouts and 7.5 K's per 9 innings, trailed only Pedro Martinez among Sox starters...tied for 8th in the A.L. with 169 strikeouts and tied for 6th in the league with 7.5 K's per 9 innings...limited opponents to a .246 average, tied for 8th in the league...topped 200.0 innings for the 4th time (1996-1998)...won 5 of his last 7 decisions to reach double figures in victories for the 6th time...won at least 11 games for the 6th time in 9 Boston seasons...reached the 30-start plateau for the 3rd time in his career (made 32 starts in 1996 and a career-high 33 in 1998)...had a 3.44 ERA (51 ER/133.1 IP) in his last 21 starts but had just 6 wins, 5 losses and 9 no-decisions to show for it...went 2-1 with a 2.01 ERA (7 ER/31.1 IP) in 5 September starts...threw all but 2.0 of his 202.1 regular-season innings with Doug Mirabelli behind the plate...August 3 at Baltimore, became the 9th pitcher to win 100 games as a Red Sox (Pedro Martinez later became the 10th).

2002: Enjoyed one of his finest seasons, finishing 11-5 with 3 saves and a 2.81 ERA in 45 games (15 starts)...struck out 134 and walked only 51 in 163.1 innings of work, an average of 7.38 K's and 2.81 walks per 9 innings...his 2.6-1 strikeout-to-walk ratio was a career best, as was his ratio of walks per 9 innings...ranked 2nd in the A.L. with a .204 opponents average and finished 4th in the A.L. in ERA...was 2nd in the league with 6.67 hits allowed per 9 innings and 4th with 7.38 K's per 9 innings...limited lefties to a .195 average (3rd in the A.L.) and righties to .214 mark (4th in the A.L.)...was the only pitcher in the league to place in the top 5 in each category, and--with Pedro Martinez--was one of only 2 in the top 10 in both...split the year between the rotation and the bullpen, entering the rotation to stay for his final 10 appearances beginning August 6...was 9-3 with a 2.39 ERA (26 ER/98.0 IP) in 15 starts and 2-2 with 3 saves and a 3.44 ERA (25 ER/65.1 IP) in 30 bullpen outings.

2001: At 9-12, finished with a sub-.500 record for the 3rd year in a row despite a 3.90 ERA in 45 games (17 starts)...ranked 7th in the A.L. with 7.9 K's per 9 innings...was 4-2 with 3 saves and a 3.24 ERA (23 ER/64.0 IP) in 26 relief appearances and 5-9 with a 4.39 ERA (50 ER/104.2 IP) in 17 starts...worked 6.0 innings or more in 15 of his 17 starts.

2000: Appeared in a career-high 51 games, 34 in relief...finished 6-10 with a 5.48 ERA...began the season in the bullpen and did not make a start until a no-decision May 11 in Baltimore, when he became the first Red Sox pitcher to start a game the day after appearing in relief since Vaughn Eshelman pitched in relief September 9, 1996 vs. Milwaukee and started against the Brewers the following day...made a pinch-hitting appearance, dropping down a sac bunt in the 11th inning June 28 vs. Baltimore...started the next night, becoming the first A.L. pitcher to pinch hit one day and start the next since Gene Nelson of the White Sox, who pinch hit at Cleveland on July 7, 1985 and started against the Indians the following day.

1999: Used primarily out of the bullpen for the first time in his career, Wakefield made 49 appearances, 32 in relief...finished the year 6-11 with a career-high 15 saves and a 5.08 ERA...was 1-2 with 15 saves and a 3.50 ERA (18 ER/46.1 IP) in 32 relief appearances...opened the year in the rotation, going 1-2 with an 8.01 ERA (19 ER/21.1 IP) in 5 starts, but was moved to the pen when Tom Gordon went on the D.L. on April 17...earned his first major league save with a scoreless 9th inning in a 3-2 win May 6 vs. Texas...returned to the rotation when Gordon was activated from the D.L...made 2 relief appearances in the ALDS vs. Cleveland...allowed 3 runs on 3 hits in 2.0 innings for a 13.50 ERA.

1998: Went 17-8 with a 4.58 ERA in 36 games (33 starts), winning at least 12 games for the 4th season in a row...established career highs with 17 wins, 216.1 innings pitched and 33 starts...finished 8-3 with a 4.63 ERA in 18 games (16 starts) at Fenway Park...dropped down a sacrifice bunt April 22 at Detroit, the first Red Sox pitcher to be used as a pinch hitter since Tim Lollar in game 2 of an August 12, 1986 doubleheader at Kansas City...won 6 starts in a row with a 2.98 ERA (14 ER/42.1 IP) April 24-May 22...had a career-best 10 wins at the All-Star break...started and lost Game 2 of the ALDS at Cleveland, allowing 5 runs on 3 hits and 2 walks in 1.1 innings...was the Red Sox' nominee for Major League Baseball's Roberto Clemente Award and was named Red Sox Man of the Year by the BoSox Club for his cooperation in community endeavors and contributions to team success.

FULL NAME: Kevin Edmund Youkilis

THROWS: Right

BATS: Right

HEIGHT: 6-1

WEIGHT: 220

OPENING DAY AGE: 28

BORN: March 15, 1979 in Cincinnati, OH

RESIDES: Scottsdale, AZ

MAJOR LEAGUE SERVICE: 2 years, 93 days

ACQUIRED: Selected in the 8th round of the 2001 First-Year Player Draft

SIGNED BY: Matt Haas (Red Sox)

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2007

2006 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Spent his first full season in the majors, batting .279 with 42 doubles, 13 home runs, 72 RBI, 100 runs and 91 walks in 147 games...batted at least once in every spot in the batting order except 9th...started 117 games at first, 17 in left and 10 at third.

CHECKING THE LEADERBOARD: Youkilis in 2006 ranked among American League leaders in walks (7th with 91), doubles (8th with 42), runs scored (T14th with 100) and on-base percentage (T14th at .381).

A WORTHY SACRIFICE: Tied for the major league lead with 11 sacrifice flies, one shy of the club record shared by Jackie Jensen (1955 and 1959) and Jimmy Piersall (1956).

PATIENCE IS A VIRTUE: Led the A.L. with an average of 4.42 pitches faced per plate appearance and ranked 2nd with 3,004 total pitches seen (Grady Sizemore, 3,013)...only Bobby Abreu (4.45) saw more pitches per plate appearance in the majors.

LEADING THE WAY: Posted a .385 on-base percentage (112 hits, 63 walks, 5 HBP in 467 plate appearances) in 95 games as Boston's leadoff hitter, the majors' 2nd-best figure from that spot in the order (Toronto's Reed Johnson, .391).

Youkilis had 4 homers to lead off the game in 2006, also the first 4 of his career...he is just the 6th Red Sox in club history to hit at least 4 leadoff homers in a season, joining Nomar Garciaparra (7 in 1997), Dwight Evans (5 in 1985), Mike Andrews (4 in 1970), Tommy Harper (4 in both 1972 and 1973), Bernie Carbo (4 in 1975) and Ellis Burks (4 in 1987).

On July 2 at Dolphin Stadium, both Youkilis and Florida's Hanley Ramirez led off the game with a homer...the Red Sox were last involved in a game in which both teams hit a leadoff homer on July 15, 1999, when Jose Offerman led off the game for the Red Sox and Doug Glanville led off for the Phillies at Fenway Park.

CLUTCH PERFORMER: Led the club and tied for 8th in the A.L. with a .375 (24-for-64) batting average with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...boasted a .524 on-base percentage with runners in scoring position and 2 outs, the 4th-best figure in the A.L...also led the team with a .325 (40-for-123) mark overall with men in scoring position...hit .305 (25-for-82) in close-and-late situations...went 4-for-13 (.308) with the bases loaded.

TALE OF 2 HALVES: Batted .297 (94-for-317) with 10 homers and 43 RBI in 83 games before the All-Star break and .258 (65-for-252) with 3 homers and 29 RBI in 64 games after the break...was hitting .318 (88-for-277) with 9 home runs and 38 RBI in his first 72 games through June 28, but hit just .243 (71-for-292) over his final 75 contests...batted .299 (26-for-87) in April, .333 (33-for-99) in May, .309 (30-for-97) in June, .236 (25-for-106) in July, .274 (29-for-106) in August and .216 (16-for-74) in September.

ON THE DEFENSIVE: Appeared in 127 games at first base, 18 in left field and 16 at third base...committed 5 errors at first, 3 at third and none in left...ranked 4th among A.L. first basemen with a .995 fielding percentage...his action in left field came mainly when Manny Ramirez was out of the lineup with soreness in his right knee...marked the first outfield experience of Youkilis' major league career...made his debut in left on May 27 and started 15 games at that position from August 27 through the end of the season.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Batted .310 (91-for-294) in 74 games at Fenway but only .247 (68-for-275) in 73 games on the road...renowned for his patience at the plate, still hit .364 (12-for-33) when putting the first pitch of an at-bat in play...batted .386 (22-for-57) on an 0-1 count...hit .296 (119-for-402) at night but just .240 (40-for-167) in day games.

MORE 2006 HIGHLIGHTS: Dates of his 4 leadoff home runs: April 19 vs. Tampa Bay off Doug Waechter; May 5 vs. Baltimore off Rodrigo Lopez; June 17 at Atlanta off Lance Cormier; and July 2 at Florida off Josh Johnson...had a season-high 3 hits in a game 9 times, last on August 3 vs. Cleveland...scored 3 runs in a game on 3 occasions, last on September 10 vs. Kansas City...had a season-high 3 RBI 4 times...had 3 games with 3 or more walks, including a career-high 4 free passes on July 9 at Chicago...that July 9 contest also saw the last of his 5 stolen bases on the season...legged out 2 triples: May 20 at Philadelphia and September 24 at Toronto.

SUMMARY: Split the year between Boston and Pawtucket, appearing in 44 games during 5 stints with the Red Sox and 43 games over 4 stints with the PawSox...with Boston, batted .278 (22-for-79) with 7 doubles, a home run and 9 RBI...with Pawtucket, finished at .322 (49-for-152) with 15 doubles, a triple, 8 homers and 27 RBI...September 18 vs. Baltimore, fractured the tip of the ring finger on his right hand fielding a ground ball...did not play again until October 2, the final day of the regular season, when he went in the field but did not bat.

UPS AND DOWNS: On the Opening Day roster for the first time in his career, Youkilis was optioned to Triple-A Pawtucket April 13, when Curt Schilling was activated from the 15-day D.L...was recalled April 30 before again being optioned July 10...returned to the big leagues July 18, but was optioned back to Triple-A 2 days later without having appeared in a game...was recalled August 8 only to again be optioned to Pawtucket August 16...was recalled for the final time August 31.

PLAYING THE FIELD: Made 23 appearances (14 starts) at third base, while also playing 9 games (5 starts) at first base and 2 games (one start) at second...had not previously played first or second in the majors...made his first appearance and start at first base May 16 at Oakland...appeared as a defensive replacement at second September 2 vs. Baltimore before making his first career start at the position the next night...did not commit an error in 88 chances (48 at third base, 38 at first base and 2 at second base).

PLATE DISCIPLINE: Saw an average of 4.68 pitches per plate appearance, most by any Red Sox player with at least 50 at-bats.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: In just his 3rd full professional season, made his major league debut and appeared in 72 games for the Red Sox...batted .260 with 7 homers and 35 RBI, starting 55 games at third base...was named the club's Rookie of the Year by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America...ranked among A.L. rookie leaders in on-base percentage (2nd at .367), walks (2nd with 33), batting average (4th at .260), RBI (4th with 35), slugging (4th at .413), runs (4th with 38), home runs (tied for 5th with 7), total bases (6th with 86), hits (7th with 54), doubles (8th with 11), multi-hit games (8th with 13) and extra-base hits (tied for 8th with 18)...after opening the year at Triple-A Pawtucket was recalled May 15 and made his major league debut that afternoon, starting at third base in Toronto...went 2-for-4 with a 4th-inning homer off Pat Hentgen for his first M.L. hit...became just the 7th player in club history to hit a homer in his first major league game, the first since Sam Horn on July 25, 1987 at Seattle...the other 5 to turn the trick are Danny Sheaffer (April 9, 1987), Merl Combs (September 12, 1947), Eddie Pellagrini (April 22, 1946), Ben Steiner (April 17, 1945) and Lefty LeFebvre (June 10, 1938)...Youkilis was the first Red

MAJOR LEAGUE PERSONNEL

BRIAN O'HALLORAN, Director of Baseball Operations

Brian was named Director of Baseball Operations in January 2006 after serving as Manager of Major League Administration since 2004. He plays a key role for the Red Sox in contract negotiations, salary arbitration, budgets, and the club's compliance with league rules. Brian joined the Red Sox as Baseball Operations Assistant in 2002. Prior to that, he served as Baseball Operations intern with the San Diego Padres, and worked previously for the Pawtucket Red Sox.

The Weymouth, MA native has a BA from Colby College and an MBA from UCLA. Before working in baseball, he spent two years in Tbilisi, Republic of Georgia studying ethnic conflict and three years in Moscow, Russia supervising business operations for an international logistics company. Brian is fluent in Russian and Georgian. He lives in Weymouth with his wife Jean and son Sean.

JACK MCCORMICK, Traveling Secretary

Jack McCormick is in his 19th season with the Red Sox organization, his 12th as traveling secretary since being appointed to that position in 1996. He coordinates all of the Major League club's travel plans during spring training, the regular season and post season and oversees the home and visiting clubhouses operations. Jack coordinates the Children's Hospital Golf Tournament in Fort Myers each spring.

McCormick won the 2004 Donald Davidson Memorial Award as the major league's top traveling secretary. He previously served as the Red Sox manager of food and beverage and as manager of the old 600 Club at Fenway Park. Jack attended Boston State College as an undergraduate and holds a Masters Degree from Anna Maria College.

TODD CLAUS, Major League Advance Scout

Todd Claus was promoted to the position of Major League Advance Scout on November 7, 2006. Claus, named Baseball America's 2006 Double-A Manager of the Year after guiding Portland to the Eastern League Championship, joins Dana Levangie in that role. The pair will split time handling the advance scouting duties and serving as coaching assistants to Terry Francona and the major league staff.

Claus, who managed West Oahu in the Hawaii Winter League after the 2006 minor league season, joined the Boston organization in 2004 as the skipper at Single-A Sarasota before leading Portland to a pair of playoff appearances. He had spent his entire baseball career in the Angels organization before joining the Red Sox. Todd, his wife Kim and son Trey reside in Wellington, FL.

DANA LEVANGIE, Major League Advance Scout

Dana Levangie returns for his second season as Major League Advance Scout after serving as a pro scout in 2005 and as Boston's bullpen catcher for the previous eight seasons. Dana will split time in 2007 with Todd Claus to handle the advance scouting duties and serve as coaching assistants to Terry Francona and the major league staff.

The 2007 season will be Levangie's 15th in the Red Sox organization, as the former catcher has remained with the club since being selected in the 14th round (17th Red Sox pick) of the 1991 First-Year Player Draft. The Brockton, MA native attended Cape Cod Community College (1987-89) and American International College in Springfield, MA (1989-91) after graduating in 1987 from Whitman-Hanson (MA) High School. He was recently inducted into the AIC Athletic Hall of Fame. Dana's playing career peaked at Triple-A Pawtucket in 1995. Dana and his wife Traci live in East Bridgewater, MA with their six-year-old son Liam and three-year-old daughter Avery.

JOE COCHRAN, Equipment and Home Clubhouse Manager

Joe Cochran became Equipment and Home Clubhouse Manager for the Red Sox in 1992 after spending two years as the Visiting Clubhouse Manager. Cochran joined the organization in 1984 and worked for team Supervisor of Grounds and Maintenance Joe Mooney through 1989. He was the recipient of the 2004 Tommy McCarthy Good Guy Award from the Boston BBWAA chapter.

Cochran attended The Pomfret School, Worcester Academy, and the University of Maine at Orono. A native of So. Yarmouth, MA, Joe and his wife Marcy live in Chelsea, MA. He enjoys golf and traveling.

TOM McLAUGHLIN, Visiting Clubhouse Manager

Tom McLaughlin has been in charge of the visiting clubhouse at Fenway Park since 1992. He also assists in the home clubhouse and runs the visiting clubhouse during spring training at City of Palms Park in Fort Myers.

McLaughlin began his tenure with the Red Sox as a batboy in the visiting clubhouse in 1986 and served as a clubhouse assistant from 1988-91. Born and raised in Boston, Tom attended St. John Don Bosco High School. He enjoys golf and running.

MEDICAL STAFF AND TRAINERS

DR. THOMAS J. GILL, Medical Director

Named Red Sox Medical Director in February of 2005, Dr. Thomas J. Gill coordinates all aspects of the club's medical operation. In addition to the medical care of the players, Dr. Gill is responsible for the selection of assistant team physicians and a team of medical consultants. He oversees all major league and minor league coverage and supervises the Red Sox training staff as well as the club's strength and conditioning and injury-prevention programs.

A Boston native, Dr. Gill graduated from Harvard College and Harvard Medical School. He is currently an Assistant Professor of Orthopedic Surgery at Harvard Medical School and a member of the Sports Medicine and Shoulder services in the Department of Orthopedic Surgery at Massachusetts General Hospital. Dr. Gill has extensive experience in the research and care of athletic injuries, having served as a team physician for the NFL's New England Patriots, the NHL's Boston Bruins and the New England Revolution of the MLS.

In addition to his other responsibilities with the Red Sox, Dr. Gill has assumed the position of Co-Director of Medical Research, seeking to develop new injury prevention and rehabilitation techniques.

DR. LAURENCE J. RONAN, Chief Internist

Dr. Laurence J. Ronan is a staff physician at Massachusetts General Hospital. Dr. Ronan has been Chief Internist for the Boston Red Sox since 2004. He graduated from Harvard College (1978) and Harvard Medical School (1987). He did his internship and residency training in internal medicine and pediatrics (1991) at Massachusetts General Hospital. He is board certified in Internal Medicine. He presently serves as the MGH Director of Team 4 Hospitalist Service.

Dr. Ronan has served as director of residency training for the MGH and Harvard Combined Medicine/Pediatrics Training Programs (1992 – 2002). He is Acting Co-Director of the Division of Primary Care at Harvard Medical School. He has served on a number of boards including Partners HealthCare, Inc. and the Massachusetts General Physicians Organization. Dr. Ronan is the author of articles, textbook chapters, and a book on primary care related issues.

Dr. Ronan is a member of the American College of Physicians, Association of Major League Baseball Team Physicians, Society of General Internal Medicine, and Society of Hospital Medicine. Dr. Ronan is the Director of the MGH Thomas S. Durant Fellowship in Refugee Medicine and is on the Executive Committee of the Harvard Humanitarian Initiative. He has served in a number of disaster relief efforts including the Indonesian tsunami (2004) and Katrina (2005).

JIM ROWE, Medical Operations Coordinator

Jim Rowe was named Medical Operations Coordinator in November of 2005 after serving as the Red Sox head trainer for 11 seasons. Jim now coordinates all medical services for Red Sox major and minor leaguers.

Rowe graduated from Springfield College in 1986. He joined the Brewers Single-A affiliate in Beloit, WI in 1985 while a student at Springfield. After receiving his degree in physical education and athletic training, Rowe moved on to El Paso, TX, where he served as athletic trainer for the Brewers' Double-A team. Rowe then left baseball for five years to work at Beverly Sports Medicine Clinic in Beverly, MA and at the Pingree

School in South Hamilton, MA. In 1994 Rowe returned to pro baseball as athletic trainer for the Pawtucket Red Sox. He then moved to the big league club as head trainer in 1995.

Jim is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and the Athletics Trainers Association of Massachusetts. The Dover, NH native currently resides in Newmarket, NH with his wife, Elizabeth, and their daughter, Brittany.

PAUL LESSARD, Head Athletic Trainer

Paul Lessard was named Red Sox Head Athletic Trainer in November of 2005 after serving in the same role with the Arizona Diamondbacks for the previous eight seasons. A Stamford, CT native, Lessard graduated from Northeastern University in 1986 with a degree in athletic training.

Paul was the only head trainer in Diamondbacks' history, having been appointed to the position before the club's inaugural season in 1998. Prior to that Lessard spent a total of 10 years at Boston University (1988-94) and the College of the Holy Cross (1994-97) as head athletic trainer. Before joining BU, he spent two years as the assistant athletic trainer for the NFL's Atlanta Falcons and one season in the New York Yankees organization as the trainer at their Fort Lauderdale affiliate in 1987.

Paul is a member of the Eastern Athletic Trainers Association and the Athletic Trainers Organization of Massachusetts.

MIKE REINOLD, Assistant Athletic Trainer

Mike Reinold returns for his second season as Red Sox Assistant Athletic Trainer after spending the previous two years as the director of rehab and clinical education at the American Sports Medicine Institute (ASMI) run by Dr. James Andrews in Birmingham, AL. Mike developed rehab programs for professional baseball pitchers seeking the care of Dr. Andrews. At ASMI Reinold used his expertise in the biomechanics of a pitcher's motion to assess flaws in the pitcher's delivery and address ways to prevent future injury. He worked with the player and the corresponding members of major league training staffs to develop appropriate rehab programs both during the regular season and off-season. Since 2001 Mike had been a rehab consultant for the Tampa Bay Devil Rays.

In addition to his doctorate in physical training, he is a certified athletic trainer and a certified strength and conditioning coach. Reinold, a Winthrop, MA native and a 2000 graduate of Northeastern University with a degree in physical therapy, earned a doctorate in physical therapy from the Massachusetts General Hospital Institute of Health Professions in 2003. Mike and his wife Sandi currently live in Winchester, MA.

MASAI TAKAHASHI, Assistant Athletic Trainer

Masai Takahashi joins the Red Sox as Assistant Athletic Trainer in 2007 after serving as the Double-A Portland Sea Dogs' trainer for the last two seasons (2005-06). Takahashi was the trainer at Single-A Sarasota in 2004, his first season in the Red Sox organization.

Prior to joining the Red Sox farm system, he was an intern in the Yankees organization and also worked for the Hiroshima Carp of the Japanese League. Masai makes his off-season home in Henderson, NV with his wife, Ayumi.

DAVID PAGE, Strength and Conditioning Coach

David Page returns for his second season as the Red Sox Strength and Conditioning Coach. He came to the Red Sox from the Arizona Diamondbacks where he served in the same capacity for the previous six seasons and where he worked with Red Sox head athletic trainer Paul Lessard.

The Malden, MA native began his baseball strength coaching career in 1996 with the Portland Sea Dogs, then an affiliate of the Florida Marlins. He joined the Diamondbacks in 1998 as their minor league strength and conditioning coordinator, designing both winter and in-season programs for all minor league players. David also trained and supervised the strength coaches for each affiliate before moving to the big league club midway through the 1999 campaign.

In 1989 he graduated from the University of Southern Maine where he was a four-year letterman in baseball. He is a certified strength and conditioning specialist with the National Strength and Conditioning Association and has served as Secretary of the Professional Baseball Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society. Dave and his wife Lori currently live in Methuen, MA with their sons Jackson and Noah.

DON KALKSTEIN, Major League Sports Psychology Coach

Don Kalkstein is back for his second season as the Red Sox Major League Sports Psychology Coach. Don works with the major league club to design and implement a performance enhancement program, primarily focusing on educating and developing the mental side of the game with players and coaches to promote consistent successful performance.

For the previous nine years Kalkstein was the major league performance enhancement coach for the Texas Rangers. In addition he joined the NBA's Dallas Mavericks in 2002 in a similar capacity.

Upon earning an advanced graduate degree in athletic counseling from Springfield (MA) College in 1988, Don has since directed a sports psychology business designed for professional and Olympic athletes. He also worked as a pitching coach and associate professor at Northwood (TX) University from 1994-96. He and his wife, Debbie, live in Cedar Hill, TX with sons, Dakota and Drey.

SCOTT WAUGH, Rehabilitation Coordinator

Scott Waugh enters his third season as the Rehabilitation Coordinator for the Red Sox. In this role Scott is responsible for implementing the rehabilitation care for the Red Sox injured players.

He is a 1990 graduate of the University of Lowell with a degree in Physical Therapy and Athletic Training. He spent one year with the Atlanta Falcons of the NFL and then three years working for Boston College, where he functioned as an assistant trainer and physical therapist. For the past nine years Scott has been the rehabilitation coordinator for the Boston Bruins Hockey Club, a position that he still holds.

In addition to his duties with these Boston sports teams, he is also co-owner of the Sports and Physical Therapy Associates clinics of Boston and Wellesley. Scott is a member of the National Athletic Training Association and American Physical Therapy Association. The Hingham, MA native presently lives in Hanover, MA with his wife, Kim, and daughter, Caitlin.

2006 SEASON IN REVIEW

2006 Red Sox Pitcher and Rookie of the Year Jonathan Papelbon earned 35 saves and compiled a 0.92 earned run average.

2006 BOSTON RED SOX SEASON RECAP AND HIGHLIGHTS

THIRD IN A.L. EAST DIVISION, 11 GAMES BEHIND NEW YORK

HOME: 48-33; ROAD 38-43

ATTENDANCE: The Red Sox finished with a home attendance of 2,930,588 in 81 dates at Fenway Park. It marked the 7th consecutive season in which Boston has established a home attendance record, a major league record. It was the 10th straight season that the Red Sox have had an increase in home attendance, the longest current streak in the majors, and 12th year in a row the club has surpassed the two million mark at Fenway Park.

• Despite having the 2nd smallest announced capacity of the 14 American League parks, the Red Sox' home average of 36,180 ranked as 4th highest in the league. Boston sold out its entire 81-game home schedule for the 3rd consecutive year and joins the Cleveland Indians (1996-2000) as the only two franchises in major league history to sell out an entire season more than once.

• The Red Sox ended 2006 with a string of 307 consecutive Fenway Park regular season sellouts (plus 12 in the post-season from 2003-05). That streak, which began on May 15, 2003, is the 2nd longest in major league history to Cleveland's 455 from June 12, 1995 through April 2, 2001 at Jacobs Field.

• The largest home crowd in 2006 was 36,920 on June 10 versus Texas, the highest attendance for a game at Fenway Park in the last 60 years (beginning 1946).

• On the road, the Red Sox played in front of 2,924,019 fans in 81 dates, an average of 36,099. It was the 2nd highest road figure of any major league team behind the New York Yankees at 3,081,271 and the 2nd most in club history to 3,054,442 in 2005.

BATTING: Boston had a .269 team batting average in 2006, 12th in the American League. It was the club's lowest figure and A.L. ranking since 2001 (13th at .266) after the Red Sox led the majors at .281 in 2005.

• Boston ranked 6th in the A.L. with 820 runs, down a major league high 90 runs from its big league best 910 in 2005. The Red Sox led the majors in runs each season from 2003-05. Boston's 672 walks were a major league best, the team's most since 1956 (727) and the 10th highest total in club history. It marked the 2nd straight season the Red Sox have topped the majors in walks.

• Boston had the majors' 2nd best on-base percentage at .351 behind the Yankees at .363. The Sox tied for 2nd in the A.L. with 56 intentional walks and 56 sacrifice flies, placed 3rd with 66 hit by pitches, and ranked 5th with 327 doubles.

•The Red Sox hit .283 (861-3041) with 114 home runs and 386 runs in 86 1st half games (4.49 runs/game). Boston ranked 3rd in the majors in runs and 5th in batting average in the 1st half. After the all-star break, the Sox had a .252 (649-2578) average in 76 games, a figure that ranked 29th of the 30 major league clubs ahead of only Cincinnati at .251. Boston homered 78 times and scored 334 runs in the 2nd half (4.39 runs/game).

•At Fenway, the Red Sox batted .285 (784-2754), 5th in the A.L., with 83 homers and 425 runs in 81 games. After producing a .281 road average in 2005, Boston dropped to .253 (726-2865) in 2006 with 109 homers and 395 runs in 81 games. The Sox ranked 3rd in the majors in road homers (Atlanta and Detroit—122 each) but were 13th in the A.L. in road average (Tampa Bay—.250), their lowest figure since a .247 mark in both 1993 and 1994.

CLOSE AND LATE WINS: The Red Sox won nine games at home in the bottom of the 9th inning or later, tying Minnesota for the most walk-off victories of any American League team and matching their 2005 total. Between July 29 and September 4, five of Boston's ten victories at Fenway were of the walk-off variety.

WALK THIS WAY

Boston featured 2 of the 5 American League players who walked at least 100 times. It was the 4th time the Sox have had multiple players with 100 walks in one season.

•Boston had a 29-20 record in games decided by one run, ranking 2nd in the A.L. in both one-run games and wins behind Oakland (32-22). It was the Sox' most one-run victories since 1991 (31). Boston won 18 straight one-run decisions at Fenway Park from May 10, 2005-April 17, 2006, tying the major league record shared by the St. Louis Browns (1925-26) and Baltimore Orioles (1963-64).

•The Red Sox came from behind to win 41 times, including ten victories when trailing after six innings and six wins when trailing after eight innings. Boston overcame a four-run deficit to win three times and lost after having a four-run lead three times. Team was 68-14 when leading after six innings and 73-5 when having a lead after eight frames.

WALK-OFF MAGIC

•The Sox were 5-7 in extra innings, 5-3 at Fenway Park and 0-4 on the road. Club won its final 2005 road extra inning contest, September 12 at Toronto. Boston's 19-inning loss on July 9 at Chicago's U.S. Cellular Field was its longest game by innings since a 19-inning defeat on August 1, 2000 at Seattle.

DAYS IN EACH POSITION: First (110); Second (68); Third (6); Fourth (0); Fifth (0). The Red Sox held outright possession or were in at least a statistical tie for 1st place in the A.L. East for 110 of the season's 1st 121 days through August 3, including a season high 44 consecutive days, June 16-August 2. The club relinquished the top spot for the final time on August 3 and dropped to 3rd place on September 25. Boston's final 3rd place finish snapped a string of eight consecutive seasons in which the team has placed 2nd in the A.L. East behind the Yankees.

DESIGNATED HITTERS: Red Sox DH's combined to bat .278 (160-576), 5th in the American League. Boston set a major league record with 50 home runs from the designated hitter position and also led the league with 122 walks, 4th most ever. Sox dh's ranked 2nd in slugging at .594 and were 3rd with 112 runs scored and a .405 on-base percentage.

•David Ortiz batted .282 (146-518) in 138 starts as Boston's dh. He set a major league record with 47 homers from the dh spot, four more than his 2005 total, had the 2nd most extra base hits ever at 75 (Ortiz, 83 in 2005), and tied for the 2nd most walks by a dh in a season at 115 (Edgar Martinez, 122 in 1996 and 115 in 1997). His 123 RBI as the dh were 4th highest. Ortiz led A.L. designated hitters in games, at bats, hits, homers, RBI, and walks and was 2nd in runs (103) and doubles (26).

•Mark Loretta had Boston's 2nd most dh starts, going 3-for-23 in six games. Manny Ramirez went 7-for-18 (.389) with three homers and six RBI in five contests.

DOUBLEHEADERS: The Red Sox participated in four doubleheaders in 2006, all day-night twinbills with two separate admissions. It was Boston's most split doubleheaders since 1970 (4 at Fenway Park). At Fenway Park, Boston split two games with Texas on June 11 and lost twice to New York on August 18. The club then played consecutive day-night dhs at Yankee Stadium, splitting on September 16 and winning twice on September 17. That marked the 1st time that the Red Sox had played doubleheaders on consecutive days since split twinbills on September 20-21, 2000 versus Cleveland at Fenway Park.

•Beginning in 1970, the Red Sox have participated in 42 day-night doubleheaders at Fenway Park, winning 14, losing eight, and splitting 20. The club is 48-36 in 84 games in those twinbills.

FIELDING: Boston had the highest single season team fielding percentage in major league history in 2006 at .98910 with 66 errors in 6053 total chances. That surpassed the .98887 mark by Seattle in 2003. The Red Sox' 66 errors were 2nd fewest ever behind Seattle's 65 in 2003 and 14 less than any other major league club in 2006 (Houston-80).

•The Red Sox' previous club records were a .984 fielding percentage and 93 errors, both in 1988. Boston fielded .9819 in 2005, and the .0072 increase in 2006 represented the largest improvement by an A.L. team over two seasons since Detroit (.0073 from 1996 to 1997). The Red Sox last led both the majors and the American League in team fielding at .981 in 1950.

HOME/ROAD: The Red Sox were 48-33 (.593) at Fenway Park, the 6th best home winning percentage in the American League. It marked the 9th consecutive season that Boston has had a winning record at home but was its fewest victories at Fenway Park since 2002 (42-39). The club was 13-9-5 in 27 home series, including 3 of just one game, going 9-3-2 in the 1st half but just 4-6-3 after the all-star break. That included a 5-game sweep by the Yankees, August 18-21, the 1st time the Sox had lost all games in a 5-game series since June 11-14, 1954 versus Cleveland at Fenway Park.

•On the road, Boston was 38-43 (.469), its 1st losing away mark since 1997 (39-42) and the fewest victories since 1996 (38-43). The Red Sox were 13-13 in their 26 road series.

HOME RUNS: Boston ranked 6th in the American League with 192 home runs, its fewest since 2002 (177). It was the 4th consecutive season and 5th time in the last six years that the Red Sox hit at least 190 homers.

•The club was 9th among A.L. teams with 83 long balls at home, its fewest at Fenway Park since 2002. The Sox and their opponents combined for 157 homers at Fenway Park, the 6th lowest total among the 30 big league ballparks and the fewest since 2002 (145).

•Boston ranked 3rd among all major league teams with 109 home runs on the road (Atlanta and Detroit, 122 each), two more than in 2005 and the most since 2004 (111). It was the 7th straight year the Red Sox have had at least 100 homers away from home.

•The Sox homered at least once in 115 of 162 games with a high of five long balls on July 21 at Seattle.

•Boston homered in a season best ten straight games from August 12-21 and went a 2006 high of five contests in a row without a long ball, September 12-16. The club had four grand slams, and

•In addition to the disabled list stints, RHP Jonathan Papelbon did not pitch after September 1 due to right shoulder discomfort, missing the final 27 games of the year (13-14). David Ortiz was sidelined from August 28-September 4 after experiencing palpitations. Curt Schilling went 20 days between starts on August 30 and September 20 due to a strained latissimus dorsi muscle in his right side. Coco Crisp last played on September 20 due to a fracture of his left index finger that required surgery on September 26.

MONTH-BY-MONTH: April: 14-11; May: 17-9; June: 17-9; July: 15-12; August: 9-21; September: 13-14; October: 1-0. The Red Sox had the majors' 4th best winning percentage in May at .654, its most wins in that month since 2002 (20-8). Club was 17-9 in June for the 2nd consecutive year.

•Boston had a string of 13 consecutive full months (excluding October) with a winning record ended when it went 9-21 (.300) in August, its 1st losing month since June 2004 (11-14). That was the lowest winning percentage in the majors for August and Boston's lowest winning percentage in any month since September 2001 at .286 (6-15) It was the Sox' most defeats in a month since August 1985 (8-21), the only other time in the last 40 seasons (beginning 1967) that the club has had a 20-loss month.

•Boston tied a major league record for most defeats in a month in which it started with a league or division lead. The Sox were 63-41 with a one-game advantage in the A.L. East through July 31. The other 5 teams to lose 21 games after being in 1st place to start a month: 1908—New York Highlanders (7-21 in June); 1919—New York Yankees (13-21 in July); 1929—Boston Braves (8-21 in May); 1951—Chicago White Sox (11-21 in July); 1971—St. Louis Cardinals (8-21 in June). 2006 RED SOX SEASON RECAP AND HIGHLIGHTS, continued

•Relievers: The Red Sox bullpen had a 25-20 record and 4.51 ERA (252 ER/503.1 IP). Boston tied for 4th in the A.L. in relief wins and had the 9th highest relief ERA, down from 5.15 in 2005. The relief corps had 46 saves in 69 opportunities, a 67.7% success rate that was 9th in the league. It was Boston's most saves in a season since 2002 (51) and tied for the 5th most in club history.

•Rookies: Boston's 11 rookie pitchers combined for 19 total victories. Seven different hurlers (Lenny DiNardo, Manny Delcarmen, Kason Gabbard, Devern Hansack, Craig Hansen, Jon Lester, Jermaine Van Buren) recorded their 1st major league wins, the most Sox pitchers to ever accomplish that feat in a single season (6 in 1940 and 1969).

PLAYERS USED/ROOKIES: Boston had 53 players appear in a game, its most since a club record 55 in 1996. Of that number, 28 were pitchers, two more than any previous season in Sox history. Boston used 14 different starting pitchers, the most since 1966 (14). The club employed 13 rookies, 11 pitchers (Abe Alvarez, Craig Breslow, Bryan Corey, Manny Delcarmen, Kason Gabbard, Devern Hansack, Craig Hansen, Jon Lester, Jonathan Papelbon, David Pauley, Jermaine Van Buren) and 2 position players (OF David Murphy, IF Dustin Pedroia). Of that group, Gabbard, Hansack, Lester, Murphy, Pauley, and Pedroia made their major league debuts in 2006.

STREAKS: The Red Sox won a season high 12 consecutive games from June 16-29, matching the 3rd longest winning streak in club history. It was the longest winning streak in the majors since Houston captured 12 straight games, August 27-September 8, 2004, and the longest by an American League team since 12 consecutive wins for Tampa Bay, June 9-22, 2004. The team's next longest win streak was five games accomplished twice, April 5-11 and July 17-21.

•Boston lost a season high six straight games on two occasions, August 18-22 and August 25-30. Those were the Sox' longest losing streaks since nine defeats in a row, August 25-September 4, 2001.

WINS: At 86-76 (.531), the Red Sox had their fewest victories in a season since 2001 (82-79). It was the 9th consecutive season that Boston has had a winning record, the 2nd longest active streak among the 30 major league teams behind the New York Yankees (14). Atlanta's string of 15 straight winning seasons was ended in 2006. 2006 marked the 10th time in the last 12 years that the Red Sox won at least 85 games.

POST SEASON HISTORY

The Red Sox celebrate after completing four-game sweep of the St. Louis Cardinals on October 27, 2004, giving Boston its first World Championship since 1918.

RED SOX IN THE POST-SEASON

The Red Sox are 62-61-1 all-time in post-season play, having advanced to the post-season 17 times in 106 American League seasons, including 9 times in the last 21 years. The Red Sox are 12-11 in 23 post-season series, having gone 3-3 in 6 trips to the A.L. Division Series (10-13 in Division Series play), 3-4 in 7 trips to the A.L. Championship Series (15-22 in ALCS play) and 6-4 in 10 trips to the World Series (37-26-1 in World Series games).

The Red Sox set a major league record with an 8-game winning streak to close out their run to the World Championship in 2004. In 2005, the Chicago White Sox matched that mark by winning their final 8 games en route to the World Championship

The Red Sox are 34-27-1 in post-season home games, including a 27-25-1 post-season mark at Fenway Park. They hosted home World Series games at the Huntington Avenue Grounds in 1903 and at Braves Field in 1915 and 1916.

RED SOX IN THE WORLD SERIES

The Boston Americans, who became the Red Sox in 1908, won the first World Series ever held (1903), which also was one of only four best-of-nine Series to be played (again in 1919-21). By beating the Pittsburg Pirates of the more established National League, they caused such an embarrassment that the N.L. refused to participate the following year, when the Red Sox repeated as A.L. Champions. The Red Sox have won 6 of the 10 Series in which they have played (with seven-game losses in 1946-67-75-86), holding an overall record of 37-26-1 in games played.

The Cardinals battled back from 7-2 and 9-7 deficits to tie the score, but Mark Bellhorn's 2-run homer off the right-field foul pole on a 1-2 pitch from Julian Tavarez in the 8th proved too much, as the Red Sox won their first World Series game since Game 5 of the 1986 Fall Classic. Boston jumped out to a 4-0 advantage in the first on David Ortiz's 3-run blast and Bill Mueller's RBI single. After the Cardinals tied it at 7-7 in the 6th, the Sox took a 9-7 lead on RBI singles by Manny Ramirez and Ortiz. St. Louis came back in the next half inning to tie the score again, using an Edgar Renteria RBI single off Keith Foulke and a Ramirez fielding error on Larry Walker's fly to left that scored Roger Cedeno. Foulke worked out of a bases-loaded jam to end the threat in the 8th, getting Scott Rolen to pop out and striking out Jim Edmonds.

Curt Schilling, who earlier in the day had all but ruled himself out of his start because of pain from his sutured tendon in his right ankle, decided to pitch just hours before the game and went on to allow just one unearned run over 6.0 innings as the Red Sox were able to overcome 4 errors, 3 by Bill Mueller, to win 6-4 and take a 2-0 series lead over the Cardinals. Mark Bellhorn's 2-run double in the 4th proved to be the difference. Varitek got things going in the first with a 2-out, 2-run triple to the triangle in right-center field, and Orlando Cabrera closed out Boston's scoring with a 2-out, 2-run single to left. Alan Embree relieved Schilling in the 7th, striking out the only 3 batters he faced. Keith Foulke fanned Jim Edmonds to end the 8th, and retired the side in order in the 9th to close it out.

Pedro Martinez allowed just 3 hits in 7.0 shutout innings, and Manny Ramirez hit his 4th career World Series home run as the Red Sox stymied the Cardinals 4-1 to move within one win of ending their 86-year title drought. It was 2 key defensive plays that helped keep St. Louis scoreless through the first 8 innings. After Ramirez's solo homer in the top of the first, the Red Sox left fielder in the bottom half ended a one-out, bases-loaded jam by throwing out Larry Walker at the plate trying to tag up from third on Jim Edmonds' fly-ball out. Then in the 3rd inning, with Jeff Suppan on third and Edgar Renteria on second, Walker grounded one to Mark Bellhorn, who threw to David Ortiz at first for the out. Suppan was caught between third and home on the play, and Ortiz threw a strike to Bill Mueller at third to get the Cardinals pitcher diving back to the bag. The Sox used RBI singles from Trot Nixon (4th inning), Ramirez (5th) and Mueller (5th) for their other 3 runs.

The Red Sox shut out the Cardinals 3-0 to clinch their first World Series Championship since 1918. With 2 outs and Albert Pujols on second in the 9th, Edgar Renteria grounded a comebacker to Keith Foulke, who flipped to Doug Mientkiewicz at first for the final out and a 4-game sweep of the National League champs. Derek Lowe matched Pedro Martinez's effort from the night before, allowing only 3 hits in 7.0 scoreless innings. Johnny Damon's first-inning, lead-off homer got things started, and the Sox offense tacked on 2 more in the 3rd when Trot Nixon smacked a 3-0 pitch off the right-center field wall for a 2-run double. Boston never trailed in the series, becoming only the 4th team in history to win a World Series in that manner, joining the '63 Dodgers, '66 Orioles and '89 Athletics. Manny Ramirez was named World Series MVP, going 7 for 17 (.412) with a homer and 4 RBI.

RED SOX IN THE

RED SOX FACTS - Walking Away A Winner

The Red Sox have 8 walk-off wins overall in their post-season annals, 4 in the last 4 years...here's the complete list:

- Game 8, 1912 World Series Larry Gardner's sacrifice fly with one out in the bottom of the 10th scored Steve Yerkes and capped a 2-run rally that gave the Red Sox a 3-2 win over the New York Giants and the World Series championship in their first season at Fenway Park...the Sox won the Series 4 games to 3 with one tie.
- Game 3, 1915 World Series Duffy Lewis delivered an RBI single with one out in the bottom of the 9th, bringing Harry Hooper home with the game-winner as the Red Sox edged the Phillies 2-1 at Braves Field.
- Game 2, 1916 World Series Pinch hitter Del Gainer singled home Mike McNally with one out in the bottom of the 14th to give the Red Sox a 2-1 win over Brooklyn at Braves Field.
- Game 6, 1975 World Series Carlton Fisk led off the bottom of the 12th with a homer off Cincinnati's Pat Darcy, giving Boston a 7-6 victory and forcing a decisive Game 7.
- Game 3, 2003 A.L. Division Series A loss from elimination, the Red Sox lived to fight another day after pinch hitter Trot Nixon drilled a 2-run homer off Rich Harden with one out in the bottom of the 11th.
- Game 3, 2004 A.L. Division Series David Ortiz gave the Red Sox a 3-game sweep of the Angels with a 2-run homer into the Green Monster Seats with 2 outs in the bottom of the 10th lifting the Sox into the ALCS with an 8-6 win.
- Game 4, 2004 A.L. Championship Series Down 3 games to none, the Red Sox stayed alive when David Ortiz crushed a 2-run blast to right field off the Yankees' Paul Quantrill.
- Game 5, 2004 A.L. Championship Series The Red Sox continued their quest toward the greatest comeback in baseball history when, for the 2nd night in a row, David Ortiz delivered the game-winning run in walk-off fashion. This time, facing Esteban Loaiza, Ortiz singled Johnny Damon home from 2nd with 2 outs in the bottom of the 14th for a 5-4 win.

Jim Rice scored the game's lone run in the 7th when Rich Gedman's grounder went through second baseman Tim Teufel's legs, as the Red Sox took Game One 1-0. Bruce Hurst struck out 8 over 8-0 shutout innings and Calvin Schiraldi worked a scoreless 9th after walking Darryl Strawberry to lead off the inning. Rice had worked a leadoff walk before advancing to 2nd on a wild pitch and coming around to score on Teufel's error. Strong defensive plays by Wade Boggs (7th) and Dave Stapleton (9th) helped preserve the win.

The dream matchup between Roger Clemens and Dwight Gooden didn't last long, as neither starter made it past the 5th inning in Boston's 9-3 win over the Mets, giving the American League champs a 2-0 series lead. Clemens, going on 3 days rest and battling the flu, gave up 3 runs on 5 hits and 4 walks before Steve Crawford and Bob Stanley allowed just 4 baserunners in the final 4.2 innings. Dwight Evans hit a 2-run homer in the 5th, and Dave Henderson stroked a solo shot in the 4th, as the Red Sox outlit the Mets 18-8. Henderson, Jim Rice and Spike Owen collected 3 hits apiece.

Mets starter Bobby Ojeda made his return to Boston and became the first lefty since Hippo Vaughn in 1918 to beat the Red Sox in a World Series game at Fenway, as the Mets used a 4-run first en route to a 7-1 win. Lenny Dykstra led off the game with a home run off Oil Can Boyd, who surrendered 6 runs on 9 hits in 7.0 inning. Ojeda gave up only one run on 5 hits in 7.0 innings, and Roger McDowell finished with 2.0 perfect innings, as the Mets narrowed Boston's series lead to 2-1.

Ron Darling pitched 7.0 shutout innings, and Gary Carter slugged 2 home runs, as the Mets evened the series at 2-2 with a 6-2 triumph. Red Sox starter Al Nipper, in his first career postseason appearance, allowed 3 runs in the 5th, and gave up 7 hits in his 6.0 innings of work. Lenny Dykstra's solo blast in the 7th made it 5-0. A Dwight Evans RBI single and a Dave Henderson sacrifice fly plated Boston's 2 runs.

RED SOX FACTS - That'll Do It

David Ortiz's walk-off homer in Game 4 of the 2004 ALCS was the 4th post-season walk-off homer in Red Sox history (all in extra innings), the 3rd in the last 2 years and the 2nd of 2004...the first in club annals was Carlton Fisk's legendary blast off Pat Darcy, which gave the Sox a 7-6 win over Cincinnati in Game 6 of the 1975 World Series...in Game 3 of the 2003 ALDS, Trot Nixon beat Rich Harden and the Athletics with an 11th-inning blast...Ortiz clinched the 2004 ALDS vs. Anaheim with a walk-off blow off Jarrod Washburn before playing hero again against the Yankees in Game 4 of the ALCS.

Bruce Hurst earned the complete-game victory, allowing 2 runs and scattering 10 hits for his 2nd World Series win as the Red Sox doubled up the Mets 4-2. In Boston's 2-run 5th, Don Baylor singled home Jim Rice, and Baylor later came around to score on Dave Henderson's double. Hurst struck out Lenny Dykstra in the 9th with the tying run on first to end the game.

Mookie Wilson's grounder through the legs of Bill Buckner at first base scored Ray Knight and capped a 3-run rally in the 10th as the Mets notched a 6-5 win to send the series into a decisive Game 7. All 3 runs were scored after Calvin Schiraldi retired the first 2 hitters of the inning. Boston had scored 2 in the top of the 10th on Dave Henderson's homer and Marty Barrett's RBI single. Roger Clemens, who allowed 2 runs (one earned) on 4 hits in 7.0 innings, left the game prior to the 8th with a blister. The Sox were up 3-2 in the 8th when Gary Carter's sacrifice fly tied the score at 3-3.

RED SOX FACTS – Who Said It Can't Be Done?

The 2004 Red Sox became the first team in baseball history and just the third team in the history of Major League Baseball, the NBA and the NHL, to overcome a 3-0 deficit to win a best-of-7 post-season series when they beat the Yankees in a 7-game ALCS...both previous instances had come in hockey...Toronto rallied past Detroit in the 1942 Stanley Cup Finals, and the Islanders turned the trick against Pittsburgh in the 2nd round of the 1975 playoffs.

Ray Knight's leadoff homer ignited a 3-run 8th that snapped a 3-3 tie, and Jesse Orosco retired the only 6 batters he faced for the save, as the Mets captured the World Series championship with a 8-5 win. After a rainout on Sunday, Red Sox skipper John McNamara elected to go with Bruce Hurst on 3 days rest to face Ron Darling in the deciding game. Hurst allowed 3 runs on 4 hits in 6.0 innings, while Darling gave up 3 runs on 6 hits in 3.2 innings. Boston had jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the 2nd, including back-to-back home runs by Dwight Evans and Rich Gedman to lead off the inning.

HISTORY AND RECORDS

Carl Yastrzemski won the American League's Triple Crown in 1967 with a .326 average, 44 home runs, and 121 RBI as the Red Sox captured the A.L. pennant.

THE HISTORY OF THE BOSTON RED SOX

1901-1909

The American League was formed in 1901, and Boston, Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland are the lone remaining charter members 106 years later. The Boston American League Base Ball Club, officially known as the Americans, but also known by the media as the Pilgrims or Somersets after owner Charles Somers, started their inaugural season on the road April 26 against the Baltimore Orioles (now the New York Yankees), but didn't pick up their first win until April 30 in Philadelphia, a 10-inning 8-6 decision pitched by Cy Young. Young also pitched and won the Huntington Avenue Grounds home opener May 8 against Philadelphia, 12-4. In 1903, the team finished in first place with a 91-47 record earning themselves a berth in the first-ever World Series against the National League Pittsburgh Pirates. Game 1 of the first World Series was played at Huntington Avenue and pitched by Young, who lost but then won two games in the Series. The Pilgrims won five games to three, in a best of nine series, bolstered by their band of fans, the "Royal Rooters" who were known for their rowdy behavior. 1904 brought another successful year for the Pilgrims, with Cy Young pitching the first perfect game of the modern era in the Huntington Avenue Grounds against Philadelphia on May 5. With a 95-59 record, the 1904 Pilgrims were set to play the New York Giants in the World Series, but Giants manager John McGraw and owner John Brush refused to play, making this the first of only two times since 1903 when the World Series was not played. The Americans, also were unofficially known as the Puritans in 1905. In 1907, the cross-town National League Red Stockings adopted the name "Doves" and changed the team colors from red to blue. Puritans owner John I. Taylor snapped up the popular color, and renamed his team the Red Sox. In the latter half of the decade, Young continued to dominate, throwing a no-hitter in New York in 1908 on the way to his record 511 career wins. The Red Sox, however, would not see post-season play again until the next decade.

Taylor decided the Red Sox needed a new ballpark, Fenway Park opened in 1912, and a decade of dynasty began. The new park, called Fenway Park because of its location in the Fenway part of Boston, opened April 20, 1912, with the Red Sox taking a 7-6, 11-inning decision from the New York Highlanders (Yankees). With a 105-47 record, the Sox headed for the World Series led by fireballer Smoky Joe Wood's 34-5 record, and centerfielder Tris Speaker's .383 batting average. This time, John McGraw did bring the New York Giants to the World Series, and the Sox summarily defeated them four games to three. The Red Sox picked up a young left-handed pitcher in 1914 by the name of George Herman "Babe" Ruth, who would figure prominently in the Red Sox World Series dynasty of the next several years. The Red Sox went to the World Series three more times in the teens, and emerged victorious with each visit. The 1915 World Series was marked by the strong hitting performances of the legendary Sox outfield of Duffy Lewis, Tris Speaker, and Harry Hooper. After dropping Game One, the Sox won the next four to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies for the championship. In 1916, Ruth was the season and the Series hero, with a 23-12 regular season record and a 1.75 ERA. In Game Two of the World Series, Ruth pitched a 14-inning, complete game 2-1 win against the Brooklyn Dodgers, while the Sox went on to take the Series four games to one for the second straight year. The Red Sox played their World Series games in 1915 and 1916 in the new and larger capacity National League Braves Field on Commonwealth Avenue, which held 40,000 fans. In 1918, Ruth extended his streak to 29 2/3 scoreless World Series innings, a record that stood until 1961, and also tied for the league lead with 11 home runs. In the World Series against the Chicago Cubs, Ruth and Carl Mays each won two games to lead the Sox to their fourth world championship in seven years. The next decade, however, would not be so kind to the Red Sox.

After Sox owner Harry Frazee sold Ruth and most of his best players to the Yankees, the "Roaring Twenties" were anything but for the ailing Red Sox. The team failed to clear the .500 mark in each year of the decade, losing over 100 games in three consecutive seasons from 1925-1927. To add to the difficulty on the field, the ballpark itself suffered a setback. In 1926, fire roared through Fenway Park, destroying much of the left-field bleacher sections. Unable to cover the cost of repairing the damage, then-owner Bob Quinn could not rebuild the sections, and the difficult decade for the Sox continued. All was not gloomy, however, as there were several stand-out performances by individual players during the decade. Pitcher Sam Jones won 23 games in 1921, and Howard Ehmke won 39 games for the Sox in 1923-1924, including a no-hitter against Philadelphia in 1923. First baseman Stuffy McInnis, a member of the 1918 world champion team, set American League fielding records with a .999 fielding pct. in 1921 and still holds the Red Sox career fielding pct. record at first base of .996.

The 30's brightened for the Red Sox, and though the team did not make it back to the great years of the teens, a new dynasty of ownership began in 1933, when 30-year-old millionaire Tom Yawkey bought the club. His first order of business was to rebuild the fire-scarred stadium. Ironically, on the night of January 4, 1934, during the construction of the new Fenway Park, another fire raged through the ballpark, destroying much of the progress. The park was ready for Opening Day 1934, however, when the Sox lost to Joe Cronin and his Washington Senators on April 17. The Red Sox fielded far better teams in the 1930's than they had in the decade prior, and also saw attendance figures increase, especially after Fenway was refurbished. On August 12, 1934, 46,766 fans attended Ruth's farewell game at Fenway, spilling out onto the field. The next season, the Sox set their record single-day attendance which still stands, with 47,627 fans attending a double-header on September 22 against the Yankees. 1935 also saw shortstop Joe Cronin traded to the Sox from Washington to become player-manager. 1938 was the high point of the decade, with Cronin leading the Sox to an 88-61 record, and MVP Jimmie Foxx hitting 50 home runs, a team record which stood until 2006, with 175 RBI and a league-high .349 average. Veteran Lefty Grove led the league in ERA for four of the last five years of the decade. 1939 also brought forth a new era in Red Sox baseball, when Ted Williams began his legendary career. That season, the Red Sox had five future Hall of Famers on the roster including Williams, Cronin, Foxx, Grove and Bobby Doerr, and they finished with a strong 89-62 record. This decade also saw the Red Sox take the field with numbers on their uniforms for the first time in 1931. For some Red Sox players, these were the numbers that would forever be associated with them as Boston legends.

The 40's got even better for the Red Sox. 1941 was a landmark year for the team, with Williams hitting .406 and Grove picking up his 300th career win. Williams is the last man to hit over .400 for a season, and Grove is one of 2 pitchers to get his 300th win as a Red Sox, the other being Cy Young. Williams continued his consistent hitting by picking up his first Triple Crown in 1942, and his second of four batting titles in the forties. Rookie Dave Ferriss was 21-10 in 1945, on his way to helping the team return to the World Series in 1946 when he was 25-6. The Sox won the pennant by a comfortable 12-game margin in 1946, winning 104 games in the process, but lost the World Series for the first time in franchise history to the St. Louis Cardinals in seven games. Fenway also played host to the 1946 All-Star Game, in which Williams went 4 for 4 with two home runs and five RBI. Coming off the AL pennant year, Williams won a 2nd Triple Crown in 1947. Lights were also installed that season to start the era of night baseball at Fenway. 1948 and 1949 were both tough seasons for the Red Sox. While collecting 96 wins in each year, they finished both seasons only one game out of first place. They lost a one-game playoff to the Cleveland Indians in 1948. Had the Sox won that game, they would have played the Boston Braves in the World Series. In 1949, they lost the final two games of the season in Yankee Stadium to finish one game behind the Yankees. The Sox teams of the late 40's were led by pitcher Mel Parnell who won 25 games and the ERA title in 1949, while Ellis Kinder also picked up 23 victories in 1949. By the end of the 1940's, however, Williams had clearly established himself as one of the greatest players in baseball. He had played eight seasons of major league baseball through 1949, during which time he amassed two MVPs, two Triple Crowns, four RBI titles (one tied with teammate Vern Stephens), four home run titles, and four batting titles. Dom DiMaggio, one of baseball's greatest centerfielders, had a .298 career average, scored 100 runs seven times, was a seven-time All-Star and led the AL in 1950 with 11 triples, 15 stolen bases, and 131 runs scored. In 1948, he had 503 putouts, playing in the AL's smallest park, a record that stood until 1977. He is one of only 5 outfielders to have 500 putouts in one season. Johnny Pesky, an excellent all-around shortstop, had 200 hits in each of his first three major league seasons, and had a .313 career average for the Red Sox. The decade, overall, was the most successful for the team since the teens.

1950-1959

The 50's were another decade of strong hitting for the Sox, starting off with the Rookie of the Year Award-winning performance by first baseman Walter Dropo in 1950. Walter was a part of perhaps the best hitting Red Sox team ever, with the starting lineup averaging .313, and the entire team hitting .302. Infielder Billy Goodman won the batting championship in 1950 with his .354 average, while the team amassed a 94 – 60 record, which would ultimately be their best for the decade. For the second time in his career, Williams put off baseball for military service in the Korean War in 1951 and 1952, after serving three years during World War II. Upon his return, he continued his usual impressive hitting numbers with a tremendous league-leading .388 in 1957 with 38 home runs and winning a second straight title with a .328 average at the age of 40 in 1958. Meanwhile, Jackie Jensen won the RBI title in 1955 (tied), 1958 and 1959, and the MVP in 1958. Rookie third baseman Frank Malzone joined the team full-time in 1957 and won three Gold Glove Awards in 1957, 1958, and 1959. Some Red Sox pitchers also fared well in the 1950's, as Parnell continued his successful pitching through the first half of the decade, winning 69 games for the Sox from 1950 to 1953 along with a no-hitter in 1956. Frank Sullivan had 90 wins from 1954 to 1960, and Ellis Kinder became one of the American League's best relief pitchers of the early 1950's. In 1959 infielder Pumpsie Green made his debut as the first Red Sox African-American ballplayer.

The end of the 50's also brought the end of the Williams era in Red Sox history. Never one to go out quietly, Williams hit his 521st and final home run into the Red Sox bullpen in his final at-bat on September 28, 1960. The spot he vacated in left field was filled in 1961 by rookie Carl Yastrzemski who would later match some of Williams' feats, while pitcher Don Schwall would collect Rookie of the Year honors after winning his first 10 straight decisions at Fenway on the way to a 15 - 7 record overall. Fenway Park also hosted the 1961 All-Star Game, only the second such game in the park's 50-year history. Sox pitching landmarks continued in 1962 when both Earl Wilson and Bill Monbouquette pitched no hitters, while Monbouquette went on to win 20 games in 1963, and Yaz won his first batting title. Dave Morehead would also throw a no-hitter on September 16, 1965 against Cleveland at Fenway Park, but the Sox had their worst record of that decade, losing 100 games overall. One bright spot of 1965 was the emergence of Lynn, MA native Tony Conigliaro, who hit a league-leading 32 homers in his second season, the second of his six consecutive seasons of 20 or more home runs. After another losing season, finishing ninth in 1966, the Red Sox overcame 100-1 odds and won the "Impossible Dream" pennant in 1967, with a 92 - 70 record. Though they did not win the World Series, that season lives on as one of the greatest in Red Sox history. 1967 proved to be career years for Jim Lonborg, who had a 22 - 9 record plus two wins in the World Series on his way to the Cy Young Award, and Yastrzemski, who won the Triple Crown and MVP. First baseman George Scott and outfielder Reggie Smith were key performers in the Red Sox pennant drive. Ken Harrelson led the league with 109 RBI in 1968, while Yaz continued his strong hitting and won his third batting title. Yaz and Rico Petrocelli finished the 60's with a 40-home run season in 1969, ready to lead the Sox into the next decade.

The era of Yaz continued into the 70's while he again hit 40 home runs and led younger players, such as Conigliaro, who notched 36 home runs in 1970. In 1972, another young player made his mark by winning the Rookie of the Year Award. Catcher Carlton Fisk, a New Hampshire native, made his first full year in the majors count, leading the Red Sox to a second-place finish, just ½ game out of first place, for their best finish since 1967. His batterymate, Luis Tiant, thrilled Sox fans and took home the ERA title that season. Two other famous rookies, Jim Rice and Fred Lynn, were added to the mix in 1975, and made their mark on another AL championship season. Lynn won both MVP and Rookie of the Year honors, the first player to do so in the same year, while Rice hit 22 home runs and Lynn hit 21. Tiant, Rick Wise, and Bill Lee combined for 54 of the Red Sox 95 wins in 1975, with Tiant and Wise pitching all three of the Red Sox wins in the World Series. In Game 6, Bernie Carbo's two-out, three-run home run in the 8th inning tied the game paving the way for the subsequent dramatics. Fisk left his mark on baseball history during Game 6 of the Series, when he hit a 12th-inning pitch off the left-field foul pole for a dramatic finish for the Red Sox, in what many consider to be the greatest World Series game ever. Once again, however, the Sox came up short, and were defeated by Cincinnati Reds in 7 games. On July 9, 1976 owner Tom Yawkey passed away. Mrs. Jean R. Yawkey, Haywood Sullivan and Edward "Buddy" LeRoux were approved by the A.L. as the new owners in May, 1978. The Sox continued to be successful through the end of the 1970's. In 1977 they had 97 wins and finished just 2 ½ games out of first. They finished 1978 with 99 wins, just one game out after losing 5-4 in a one-game playoff against the Yankees. Those 2 seasons were great years for Rice, who won the home run title in 1977, and took home MVP honors in 1978, after ending the season with the home run and RBI crowns. Lynn had a terrific 1979 season and won the batting championship, while Yaz got his 3,000th hit on September 12. That July, he also hit his 400th home run. Dwight Evans also did his part, not only with his bat, but also in right field, picking up three Gold Glove Awards in the last four seasons of the decade. Versatile Bob Stanley made his entry upon the scene in 1977, and in his 12-year Red Sox career racked up a club-record 132 saves and became the club's all-time leader in games pitched. Shortstop Rick Burleson teamed with second baseman and Fall River, MA native Jerry Remy to form one of the club's best double play combinations.

3B Carney Lansford won a batting championship in 1981. Dwight Evans tied for the 1981 league HR title, one of seven of his 20-plus HR seasons in the decade. Rice won the HR title in 1983 with 39, followed closely by Tony Armas, who had 36. Armas then hit 43 in 1984 to lead the league. The early 80's were not particularly successful for the Red Sox as a team, however, and they failed to finish higher than 3rd until their A.L. championship season of 1986. Evans got 1986 off to an auspicious start, hammering a home run in Detroit on the first pitch of the season. Roger Clemens, who won the Cy Young Award and MVP honors, dominated AL batters in 1986, winning 24 games, including his first 14 decisions in a row, with a 2.48 ERA. He also broke a major league record, striking out 20 in one game April 29 vs. Seattle. Under manager John McNamara's leadership, the team won 95 games and came from a 3 games to one deficit in the ALCS to a World Series matchup with the Mets, which the Sox lost in 7 games. Overall, however, the season was filled with many personal milestones, with Rice accumulating his 2000th hit, Don Baylor hitting his 300th homer, Clemens winning 20 games for the first time, and Wade Boggs winning his third of five batting titles in the decade. In 1987, Boggs won another batting title, while Clemens had his 2nd 20-win season and Cy Young Award, but the Red Sox finished a disappointing 5th. The Red Sox returned to their winning ways in the late '80s, topping the AL East again in 1988 with Joe Morgan's miracle team. After Morgan took over from John McNamara in July, the Sox won 12 straight and 19 of 20 games, to come from 9 games behind and move into first place in the AL East. "Morgan's Magic" became the team's slogan, but the Red Sox were overpowered by Oakland in the ALCS. Nevertheless, the successful teams of the late 80's ushered in a decade of milestones and achievements in the 1990's.

The Sox started the decade off on the right foot. They won the AL East in 1990 with strong performances by Boggs, Evans, Clemens, Mike Boddicker, and rightfielder Tom Brunansky, whose great diving catch saved the final game of the season. Once again, the Sox played the A's in the ALCS, and met the same fate, losing in 4 games. The 1990 season also saw the Red Sox put players' names on the back of their road jerseys for the first time in club history. 1991 brought the beginning of the Mo Vaughn era, and the hard-hitting first baseman took his place as a fan favorite, while Dalton, MA native Jeff Reardon pitched his way to 40 saves as the Sox headed to a 2nd-place finish. In February 1992 Mrs. Yawkey passed away leaving her majority general partnership to the continued direction of John L. Harrington with Haywood C. Sullivan as general partner. After the 1993 season Sullivan sold his interest in the club to the Yawkey Trust and Harrington became CEO of the organization. The Sox fared well after the new division set-up was established in 1995, reaching post-season play 3 times in the last 5 years of the decade, including back-to-back appearances in 1998 and 1999, the first time the team had accomplished that feat since 1915-1916. In 1995, the Red Sox and the Cleveland Indians started a Division Series rivalry that would last throughout the decade. Behind the powerful hitting of Vaughn, who led the league in home runs and picked up the MVP Award, and the stable pitching of Clemens and knuckleballer Tim Wakefield, the Sox won the East Division title and battled the Indians in the 1995 Division Series, only to be swept in 3 games. In 1996, Clemens struck out 20 batters in a game for the 2nd time in his career, tying his own major league record. In 1997, highly-touted shortstop Nomar Garciaparra made his way to Fenway and picked up the Rookie of the Year Award while leading the league in hits. In 1998, he was joined by another superstar, Pedro Martinez. The '98 Sox won the Wild Card for the first time. Strong pitching was the key to the team's success with Martinez going 19-7 with a 2.89 ERA, while Tom Gordon achieved a major league record 43 consecutive saves on his way to 46 saves in all. The Sox went on to face Cleveland in the Division Series, where they were defeated once again. The pitching would figure into another great season for the Sox in 1999, a year in which Fenway hosted the final All-Star Game of the century, the 3rd in the history of the park. Martinez was MVP of the game, retiring all 6 batters he faced, 5 on strikeouts, ultimately winning the Cy Young Award unanimously, and falling just short of MVP honors with a 23-4, 2.07 season. Once again, he led the Sox to a Wild Card berth and the Division Series against the Indians. This time, the Sox emerged victorious, coming back from losing the first 2 games to dramatically win the series and travel to the ALCS for the first time since 1986. In some form of poetic perfection, the Sox met the Yankees in the series, and the high point was game 3, where Sox ace Martinez met former Sox ace Clemens at Fenway Park. Riding home runs by Garciaparra, John Valentin and Brian Daubach, the Sox cruised to a 13-1 win, their only win in the series.

2000-06

2nd, just 2 ½ games behind the Yankees, with an 85- 77 record, and set a new Fenway Park attendance record of 2,586,024. On December 13, 2000, the Red Sox signed outfielder Manny Ramirez to bolster the team's offense into the new millennium. Despite major injuries to Garcia-parra, Martinez, John Valentin and catcher Jason Varitek the Red Sox led the A.L. East for most of the first half in 2001. Through August 24, the Sox were still only 3 games behind the Yankees before they went into a tailspin that resulted in 21 losses in the next 26 games. They won the last 5 games of the season to finish with an 82-79 second-place record. Manager Jimmy Williams was replaced by pitching coach Joe Kerrigan prior to the August 16 game vs. Seattle. Newcomer Ramirez had a tremendous first half and despite a late-season hamstring injury hit .306 with 41 homers and 125 RBI. OF Trot Nixon won the team's MVP Award for his .280 average in 144 games with 27 HR, 100 runs and 88 RBI. RHP Hideo Nomo made his Sox debut April 4 in Baltimore and won 3-0 with the club's first no-hitter since 1965. Nomo also pitched a one-hitter May 25 vs. Toronto and led the A.L. with 220 strikeouts. Varitek hit 3 HR with 7 RBI in a 10-3 win in K.C. May 20, the first Sox catcher to hit 3 HR in one game. The team set new attendance records at home, 2,625,333 in 81 dates with 69 sellouts and 2,700,811 on the road in 80 dates. The 68-year Yawkey era would come to a close when a new ownership group led by John Henry, Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino took control prior to the 2002 season. In March of 2002 the new ownership replaced General Manager Dan Duquette with Vice President of Baseball Operations Mike Port, on an interim basis, and brought in Grady Little as manager to replace Joe Kerrigan. The team had a hot start, winning its first 8 road games for the first time, and had a M.L.-best 40-17 record through June 6. The Sox led the A.L. East from April 15 through June 22 and ultimately finished 2nd in the A.L. East with a 93-69 record, including 51-30 on the road (tied with the Yanks for the best road record in baseball), the most road wins in club history. Derek Lowe pitched Fenway Park's first no-hitter since 1965 when he blanked Tampa Bay 10-0 April 27. Lowe (21-8) and Pedro Martinez (20-4) gave the Sox two 20-game winners for the first time since 1949. Ramirez led the A.L. with a .349 avg. despite missing 39 games with a fractured left index finger. Lowe, Martinez, Ramirez, Garcia-parra, Shea Hillenbrand, Johnny Damon and Ugueth Urbina were selected for the A.L. All-Star team and Lowe, Hillenbrand and Ramirez started the game. The team again set an attendance record (2,650,063 in 81 dates). The 2003 Red Sox had an exciting 95-67 regular season, their most wins since 1995, a second-place East Division finish and the 16th trip to the postseason. The club won its third Wild Card playoff berth and came from a 2-0 game deficit in the ALDS to win 3 straight and eliminate Oakland to advance to the ALCS vs. the Yankees. A dramatic 7-game series developed that wasn't resolved until Aaron Boone's 11th-inning homer stopped the Red Sox' World Series bid. Some astute off-season deals by new GM Theo Epstein helped make the team an offensive powerhouse that set many club, league and major league records. The additions of David Ortiz, Kevin Millar, Bill Mueller and Todd Walker, solidified a batting order that produced 961 runs, 2nd-most in club history. A club record 6 players hit 20 home runs and the Sox set a new team mark with 238. They set new M.L. records of 2,822 TB, 649 extra-base hits and a .491 slugg. pct., while their 371 doubles fell 2 shy of the M.L. mark held by the Sox (1997) and the Cardinals (1930). The Red Sox came from behind to win 40 games, including 13 in which they trailed by at least 3 runs, had an A.L. best 23 last at bat wins. Their 26 one-run wins, 11 extra-inng. wins and 8 walk-off wins were also league highs. They were 53-28 .654 at home, 2nd best in the A.L. (their most home wins since they also won 53 in 1988). Derek Lowe (17-7), Pedro Martinez (14-4), John Burkett (12-9) and Tim Wakefield (11-7) led a staff whose 1,141 strikeouts led the A.L., 4th best in club history. The Sox tied the 1995 club record by using 26 pitchers. Johnny Damon (30), Nomar Garcia-parra (19) and valuable sub Damian Jackson (16) gave the team 3 players with 15 SBs for the first time since 1914. Mueller (.326) edged Manny Ramirez (.325) for the A.L. batting title while Garcia-parra (105), Ramirez (104) and Ortiz (101) gave the Sox 3 players with 100 RBI for the 1st time since 1984. It was the Sox' 4th straight season with a new home attendance figure, 2,724,162. In his first year as manager Terry Francona led the 2004 Red Sox to a 98-64 record, clinching a Wild Card berth to enter the postseason for the 17th time in franchise history. The Sox swept the Anaheim Angels in the ALDS as David Ortiz's dramatic HR in the 10th inning of game 3 insured a rematch with the Yankees for the AL pennant. After dropping the first 3 games to New York, the Red Sox rallied behind the bat of Ortiz, the baserunning of Dave Roberts, an airtight bullpen, and the gritty performance of Curt Schilling to win the final 4 games of the series, completing the greatest comeback in ML history. The Red Sox then swept the St. Louis Cardinals to win the World Series for the 6th time in franchise history, and the first since 1918. Led by Series MVP Manny Ramirez, the Red Sox never trailed. Derek Lowe became the first pitcher ever to win the clinching game of 3 playoff series in one postseason. Key off-season acquisitions Schilling and Keith Foulke lived up to their billing, while the mid-season trade of Nomar Garcia-parra for Orlando Cabrera, Doug Mientkiewicz, and the separate acquisition of Roberts, improved the club's defense and speed and added depth to the bench. Schilling (21) combined with Pedro Martinez (16) to win more games than any other pair in the AL. Martinez (227) and Schilling (203) also became the first Red Sox teammates ever to strike out 200 batters in the same season. Offensively the Sox were led by Ramirez and Ortiz, who became the first AL teammates to bat .300, hit 30 HRs and drive in 100 runs since 1931. They also became just the second pair of Red Sox to hit over 40 HRs in a single season. The Red Sox sold out their entire 81-game home schedule for the first time in franchise history and 4th time in ML history. In his second year as manager Terry Francona led the 2005 Red Sox to a 95-67 record, winning the AL Wild Card and securing a post-season berth for a club-record 3rd straight season. Despite topping 90 wins for the 4th year in a row, the Red Sox were swept in the Division Series by the eventual World Champion Chicago White Sox. During the regular season David Ortiz (47 HR and 148 RBI) and Manny Ramirez (45 HR and 144 RBI) paced the club, combining for 92 home runs and 292 RBI, more than any other duo in baseball. Behind these two the Red Sox led the majors in runs scored, batting average, walks, on-base percentage and on-base plus slugging. Ortiz tallied career-highs in home runs, RBI, runs scored, walks, slugging percentage and on-base percentage. He continued to deliver in the clutch, leading the AL with 34 go-ahead RBI and 21 game-winning RBI and finished 2nd in AL MVP voting. The pitching staff was led by Tim Lincecum (16-12) who posted team-highs in wins, starts, innings pitched, strikeouts, complete games and opponents' average by a starter. Mike Timlin anchored the bullpen with a league-high and single-season club record 81 appearances, and rookie Jonathan Papelbon was impressive down the stretch holding opponents scoreless in 10 of his last 11 appearances. The Red Sox continued to break records at the gate. The club set a new attendance mark for the 6th straight season with a total of 2,847,888, the only M.L. team to increase their attendance in each of the last 8 seasons. In 2006 the Red Sox set a home attendance record (2,930,588) for the 7th straight season, a major league record. The Red Sox ended 2006 with 307 consecutive regular season sellouts at Fenway Park, the 2nd longest streak in M.L. history (Cleveland 455, 6-12-95 through 4-2-01). A host of late-season injuries contributed to the team falling to an 86-76 record, their fewest wins since 2001 (82-79). The team missed post-season play for the first time since 2002. Still, it was the 9th straight winning season, 2nd best active M.L. streak (NYY, 15). A 12-game win streak (June 16-29) tied the club's 3rd best all-time streak and was their best in nearly 11 years. The Red Sox were 53-33 .616 at the All-Star break, its best winning percentage at that point since 1986 (56-31 .644), and led the A.L. East by 3 games. Boston set a M.L. fielding pct. record (.98910) (Sea. .98887, 2003) with just 66 errors in 6,053 total chances. The 66 errors and 108 errorless games were the 2nd fewest ever behind Seattle's 65 and 112 in 2003. The Red Sox set a M.L. record with 17 straight errorless games June 11 (night game) through June 30. Alex Gonzalez led A.L. SS with a .985 fielding pct. (a club record), the first Sox SS to lead the A.L. since Rick Burleson in 1979. He also set a club SS record with 57 straight errorless games (Apr. 11-June 30). 2B Mark Loretta was 2nd in the A.L. with a .994 fielding pct. and broke the club record (Bobby Doerr .993 in 1948). Mike Lowell was 2nd among A.L. and M.L. 3B with a .98704 fielding pct. and broke the club record (Vern Stephens .981 in 1950). Boston was 16-2 vs. N.L. teams to tie Oak. (2002) and Minn. (2006) for the most wins by a M.L. team in interleague play. David Ortiz led the A.L. with a club-record 54 HR and also led with 137 RBI, 355 TB and 119 BB. His 32 road HR tied Babe Ruth (1927) for the A.L. record. He became the first Sox player to lead A.L. in RBI in consecutive seasons since Jackie Jensen (1958-59). He had five walk-off hits including three HR. Rookie Jonathan Papelbon became one of the M.L.'s most dominant closers until shoulder problems sidelined him after Sept. 1. He had 35 saves and a 4-2 record in 59 relief appearances and held opponents to a .167 batting average. Was the 2nd Sox rookie pitcher selected for the All-Star Game (Don Schwalt 1961) but did not pitch. He set a club record with 20 saves in 20 chances to start the season. Manny Ramirez hit .321 with 35 HR, 102 RBI and 100 BB but played in just 11 games the final six weeks due to right knee tendinitis. It was the first time he played in less than 152 games since 2002. He received the most votes of any A.L. player to start the All-Star Game but his knee problem prevented him from playing. Curt Schilling made a comeback from his injury curtailed 2005 season and was 15-7 with a 3.97 ERA in 31 games. On May 27 he beat Tampa Bay 6-4 for his 200th M.L. win. Kevin Youkilis became the regular 1B and hit .279 in 147 games with 100 R and 91 BB. RHP Josh Beckett was 16-11 in 33 games to lead the staff in wins in his first Red Sox season.

HOW THEY BECAME THE RED SOX

As one of four clubs to enter into the newly formed American League in 1901, the Red Sox were initially called the Boston Americans. Other nicknames for the club at that time were the Somersets, after original owner Charles W. Somers; Plymouth Rocks; Speed Boys; Puritans; but they were mainly called the Americans or Pilgrims. These various names were applied until December of 1907, when the current name "Red Sox" was adopted. The origin of this name is traced to the Boston Red Stockings of the powerful National League in the 1870's and 1880's. In 1907 the Red Stockings (who later became the Braves) abandoned the red hosiery they customarily wore. Manager Fred Tenney believed that the red dye in the socks could possibly cause infection in spike wounds. Red Sox Owner John I. Taylor stated, "From now on we'll wear red stockings, and I'm grabbing that name Red Sox!"

BOSTON RED SOX OWNERSHIP HISTORY

- 1901-02 Charles W. Somers of Ohio was one of the founders and financiers of the new American League who also owned the Cleveland team and made his fortune in the lumber and coal business.
- 1903-04 Henry J. Killilea was a Milwaukee lawyer and expert on baseball law who played an important role in the negotiations that ended the National League-American League war in early 1903.
- 1904-11 John I. Taylor was an avid sportsman and son of the owner, publisher and editor of The Boston Globe. He changed the team's nickname to "Red Sox" in 1907 and oversaw the land acquisition and construction of Fenway Park, which opened in 1912.
- 1912-13 James R. McAleer was a National League outfielder during the 1890s who came out of retirement to help form the new American League's St. Louis franchise in 1901 as a player-manager. In December 1911 he bought 50 percent of the Red Sox from Taylor and was named club president.
- 1914-16 Joseph J. Lannin was a Canadian-born hotel and real estate tycoon in New York and Boston. He was a zealous baseball fan with a minority share in the National League Boston Braves before he purchased McAleer's 50 percent controlling interest in the Red Sox in early 1914.
- 1917-23 Harry H. Frazee was a long-time flamboyant baseball fan who was born in Peoria, IL and became successful in real estate management, stock brokerage and as a Broadway theatrical producer. He purchased the Red Sox in late 1916 from Lannin in a deal that included Fenway Park.
- 1923-33 J.A. Robert Quinn was a career baseball executive who was business manager of the St. Louis Browns prior to putting together a syndicate that purchased the Red Sox from Frazee August 1, 1923. He was appointed team president and presiding owner.
- 1933 Thomas A. Yawkey was a New York entrepreneur who bought the team February 25, 1933, four days after his 30th birthday, and placed the club in a Trust.
- July 9, 1976 Tom Yawkey died leaving his widow, Jean, as the primary beneficiary.
- 1978 The Yawkey Estate sold the team to a partnership including Jean R. Yawkey, Edward G. (Buddy) LeRoux, Jr. and Haywood C. Sullivan. The sale was approved by the American League May 23, 1978.
- 1981 Jean R. Yawkey moved to Boston, established the Jean R. Yawkey Trust, and transferred team ownership interests to it. She appointed John L. Harrington as co-Trustee.
- 1987 The Jean R. Yawkey Trust bought out Edward G. (Buddy) LeRoux, Jr., giving it two out of three General Partner votes.
- 1992 Jean R. Yawkey died in February and the Jean R. Yawkey Trust continued with John Harrington as Trustee with sole authority over Red Sox matters.
- 1993 The Jean R. Yawkey Trust bought out Haywood C. Sullivan's one General Partnership unit, giving it all three General Partnership units of the Red Sox, along with the three Red Sox limited partnership units previously acquired (53.49 %).
- 2002 The Jean R. Yawkey Trust sold the club to a group led by John Henry, Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino December 20, 2001. The sale was approved by Major League Baseball January 16, 2002 and closed February 27, 2002.

THOMAS A. YAWKEY RED SOX MOST VALUABLE PLAYER AWARD

Each year the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America presents the Thomas A. Yawkey Award to the Red Sox Most Valuable Player...From 1937 through 1952 the award went to either a Red Sox or a member of the Boston Braves...The Braves moved to Milwaukee prior to the 1953 season and the award became strictly a Red Sox MVP selection...After Mr. Yawkey's death in 1976, the Boston Writers renamed the award in his honor...In 2006 DAVID ORTIZ won the Thomas A. Yawkey Award for the 3rd straight year...In 1996, MO VAUGHN won for the 4th straight year, the first player to do so...CARL YASTRZEMSKI is the leader with 6 selections...VAUGHN, ROGER CLEMENS, DWIGHT EVANS and TED WILLIAMS are tied for 2nd with four...Thirteen Red Sox have been picked more than once...PEDRO MARTINEZ and DAVID ORTIZ have three honors, and NOMAR GARCIAPARRA, JIM RICE, RICK BURLESON, CARLTON FISK, FRANK MALZONE, JACKIE JENSEN and ELLIS KINDER have two...Six members of the Braves won the MVP Award from its inception in 1937 through 1952.

TONY CONIGLIARO AWARD

In 1990 the Red Sox instituted a national award to honor the memory of their former star outfielder Tony Conigliaro. The award is presented to a major leaguer who has overcome adversity through the attributes of spirit, determination and courage that were trademarks of Tony C. A special panel composed of the media, members of the MLB office, Tony's brothers Billy and Richie, and a fan make the selection. Announcement of the award is made at the annual major league winter meetings in December and the formal presentation takes place at the Boston Baseball Writers' Association dinner in January.

The first winner was Royals OF Jim Eisenreich, who overcame a neurological movement disorder, Tourette Syndrome, to become a productive performer after being out of baseball for 2 1/2 years. Bret Saberhagen, as a Red Sox, won the honor in 1998. Bret underwent reconstructive surgery for a right shoulder injury in May 1996 after months of intensive rehab proved futile. He missed the 1996 season and was signed in Nov. '96 by the Red Sox. After further rehab he made his first start in 2 years on Aug. 22, 1997. In 1998 Saberhagen went 15-8, 3.96 in 31 starts. Marlins' 3B Mike Lowell won the award in 1999. He underwent testicular cancer surgery Feb. 19 but returned to baseball May 29. He became the Marlins regular third baseman and hit 12 homers with 47 RBI in 97 games. The 2006 winner was INF Freddy Sanchez of the Pirates. Sanchez was born with a club right foot and a severely pigeon-toed left foot. The initial medical opinion was that he might never be able to walk. Surgery at 13 months of age and years of therapy enabled Freddy to walk and run and actively pursue his love of baseball. He was Boston's 11th round choice in the 2000 June draft and that summer made his pro debut with the Lowell Spinners of the NYP League. He played parts of 2002-03 with Boston and was traded to Pittsburgh July 31, 2003. In 2005, his first full M.L. season, Sanchez hit .291 for the Pirates and then led the National League at .344 in 157 games in 2006.

Conigliaro died February 24, 1990 after an 8-year struggle to come back from a massive heart attack that left him severely handicapped. Tony signed with the Red Sox in 1963 after graduation from St. Mary's High School in Lynn, MA. In his only minor league season he hit .363 with 24 homers and 74 RBI in 83 games for Wellsville, earning New York-Penn League MVP Rookie of the Year honors. He broke in with the Red Sox the next year, 1964, hit a home run in his first at-bat at Fenway Park, and finished with a .290 average and 24 homers to earn an All-Rookie selection. Tony became the youngest player to lead a major league in home runs when he hit 32 in 1965 and the youngest A.L. player to reach 100 career long balls. Mel Ott was the youngest in history at 22 years, 4 months and 10 days. Tony was 2nd-youngest (22 years, 6 months and 16 days). His promising career was tragically shortened when he was hit in the face by a pitch at Fenway Park August 18, 1967. He made a dramatic comeback in 1969, hit 56 homers with 198 RBI in 2 years, but his performance fell off and he was never the same player. Conigliaro spent 1971 with the Angels and was out of baseball until he tried another comeback with the Red Sox in 1975. After an excellent spring training he made the regular season roster and got the team's first hit of that season and later the club's first home run. He was outrighted to Triple-A Pawtucket in mid-June and retired shortly thereafter.

THE HUTCH AWARD

The Hutch Award has been given annually to the Major League player who best exemplifies the character, fighting spirit and competitive desire of the late pitcher (Detroit 1939-53) and manager (Tigers, Cardinals, Reds), Fred Hutchinson. The award, which sits in the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY, was instituted in 1965 and is sponsored by the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center in Seattle, WA. Four Red Sox players have received the award: Carl Yastrzemski in 1967, Tony Conigliaro in 1970, Andre Dawson in 1994 and Mark Loretta in 2006. Mickey Mantle was the first recipient in 1965.

ALL-STAR GAMES AT FENWAY PARK

On July 13, 1999 the Red Sox hosted the third All-Star Game ever to be played at Fenway Park. The American League defeated the National League 4-1 as Pedro Martinez, the eventual MVP of the Mid-Summer Classic, started and struck out five of the first six batters he faced for the win. The first game held at Fenway was on July 9, 1946 after a one-year hiatus due to World War II-related travel restrictions. The American League defeated the National League 12-0 in a game highlighted by the hitting heroics of Ted Williams. Williams delivered two home runs, two singles and a walk in his five at-bats scoring four runs and driving in five. The A.L. had 14 hits, the N.L. three. In addition to Williams, seven other Red Sox were A.L. All-Stars in '46: Johnny Pesky, Dom DiMaggio, Bobby Doerr, Rudy York, Hal Wagner, Dave Ferriss and Mickey Harris. Fenway Park was the site of the second All-Star Game played in 1961. That game featured solid pitching by both sides and ended in a 1-1 tie that was called after nine innings and a 30-minute rain delay. The Tigers' Rocky Colavito hit a first-inning home run for the A.L., which managed only four hits in the game. The Nationals' only run scored on an RBI single by the Cardinals' Bill White off Red Sox rookie Don Schwall, who allowed all five N.L. hits in three innings. The other Red Sox representative at the '61 game a Fenway was manager Mike Higgins, who served as a coach.

1945 ALL-STAR REPLACEMENT GAME

Due to the on-going war in Europe and with Japan, no All-Star Game was scheduled for 1945, the only year no game has been played since the series began in 1933.

However, on July 10, 1945 there were 9 exhibitions played with proceeds going to benefit various war relief efforts. On July 9 games were played at Chicago's Comiskey Park (Cubs vs. White Sox), New York's Polo Grounds (Yankees vs. Giants), in Great Lakes, IL (Athletics vs. Great Lakes Navy Team), in Cleveland (Reds vs. Indians) and Indiantown Gap, PA (Pirates vs. Indiantown Gap Army Team). The biggest crowds were 47,144 in Chicago and 41,267 in New York.

On July 10, games were played at Washington's Griffith Stadium (Dodgers vs. Senators), St. Louis' Sportsmans Park (Cardinals vs. Browns), Boston's Fenway Park (Braves vs. Red Sox) and Philadelphia's Shibe Park (Phillies vs. Athletics). The largest attendance was in Washington (28,791) and St. Louis (24,113).

The only major league team that didn't play was Detroit, who was denied permission to travel to Pittsburgh by the U.S. Government. The Pirates therefore played a U.S. Army team. The A's played a game each day in two locations.

The game at Fenway Park drew 22,809 plus 846 servicemen and women and raised $70,000 for the United War Fund. New Commissioner Senator A.B. "Happy" Chandler, made his first official visit to Boston and took part in the first-pitch ceremonies with Massachusetts Governor Maurice Tobin.

The Red Sox won the game 8-1 behind rookie pitching star Dave Ferriss and three hits, including a home run, by rightfielder George "Catfish" Metkovich.

MOST HITS IN AN ALL-STAR GAME

Ted Williams and Carl Yastrzemski are tied with Joe Medwick for most hits in an All-Star Game with four. Williams had his four (two singles, two home runs) on July 9, 1946 at Fenway Park in an American League 12-0 win. Yastrzemski hit three singles and a double July 14, 1970 in Cincinnati in a 12-inning, 5-4 National League win. He was named Outstanding Player of the game.

THE BOSTON RED SOX HALL OF FAME

In 1995 the Red Sox Hall of Fame was instituted to recognize the outstanding careers of former Red Sox players and managers. A 15-member selection committee of Red Sox broadcasters and executives, past and present media personnel, and representatives from The Sports Museum of New England and the BoSox Booster Club is responsible for nominating candidates. The feats of non-uniformed Red Sox personnel are also considered for induction into the Hall. A memorable moment in Red Sox history is regarded as well for its special significance.

To be eligible for nomination, players must have played at least three years with the Red Sox and must also have been out of uniform as an active player at least three years.

The non-uniformed person(s) selected and the memorable moment selected will be chosen only by a unanimous vote of the Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame Selection Committee.

There are 19 former Boston Red Sox personnel who spent a significant portion of their careers with the Red Sox in the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY. They are automatically enshrined into the Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame.

In November 2006, there were seven inductions into the Red Sox Hall of Fame: Ellis Kinder, Joe Morgan, Jerry Remy, George Scott, Vern Stephens and Dick Williams. The non-uniformed inductee was Red Sox Vice President Dick Bresciani. The great Red Sox moment was Dave Roberts' stolen base in the last of the 9th inning in Game 4 of the 2004 ALCS vs. the New York Yankees.

RED SOX RETIRED NUMBERS

The Red Sox first wore numbers on their uniforms in 1931. Since then they have retired five uniform numbers: 4 for Joe Cronin and 9 for Ted Williams on May 29, 1984, 1 for Bobby Doerr on May 21, 1988, 8 for Carl Yastrzemski on August 6, 1989 and 27 for Carlton Fisk on September 4, 2000. In 1997, the Red Sox also retired No. 42, joining the rest of Major League Baseball in honoring the legacy of Jackie Robinson.

The Red Sox' policy on retiring uniform numbers is based on the following criteria:

- Election to the National Baseball Hall of Fame
- At least 10 years played with the Red Sox
- Finish his career with the club

- Elected to National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1956.
- Compiled a .301 batting average in 20 major league seasons.
- Spent 24 seasons with Red Sox as player, manager and general manager.
- Sold to Red Sox after 1934 season for $250,000 (a tremendous amount in the Depression era) (Red Sox also sent SS Lyn Lary to Washington to complete deal).
- Managed the Red Sox for 13 seasons (1935-47), most in team history.
- Leads all Red Sox managers with 1,071 wins (Mike Higgins is 2nd with 543).
- Playing career ended with a broken leg at Yankee Stadium, April 19, 1945.
- Managed Red Sox to A.L. pennant in 1946.
- Managed Senators to A.L. pennant in first season as player/manager in 1933.
- Member of Pirates' 1927 World Series team but did not play; received loser's share of $3,985.47.
- A.L. MVP in 1930 at the age of 23 with Senators.
- Led A.L. in Doubles 1933 and 1938; led A.L. in Triples 1932.
- Holds A.L. record with 5 pinch-hit home runs in 1943.
- Became first player to hit pinch homers in both games of a doubleheader, June 17, 1943 (in a stretch when he hit three 3-run pinch homers in 4 at-bats).
- Participated in 12 All-Star Games for A.L.: Player in 6 (1933-35-37-38-39-41), Player/Manager in 1 (1934), Manager in 2 (1940 and 1947), Coach in 2 (1936 and 1944), & Honorary Captain in 1 (1983)...the A.L. won 9 of the 12 games in which he took part.
- In 1940, was named to manage A.L. All-Stars team after league officials ruled Yankees manager Joe McCarthy had managed too many consecutive games (4).
- Promoted to Red Sox general manager, September 29, 1947.
- Named A.L. President, January 31, 1959.
- Named A.L. Chairman, January 1, 1974.
- Formally inducted into the Red Sox Hall of Fame, November 1, 1995.

CARLTON FISK'S CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Became the 13th catcher to be inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY on July 23, 2000.
- On September 4, 2000 became the fifth Red Sox to have his number retired by the organization.
- Inducted into the Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame on September 8, 1997.
- Caught more games (2,226) and hit more home runs (351 of his career 376) than any catcher in M.L. history.
- After 24 seasons, he retired as one of three catchers in major league history to amass 300 home runs, 1,000 runs scored and 1,000 RBI.
- All-Time Red Sox leader in games caught, 990 and second in putouts, 5,111.
- Overall appeared in 11 All-Star Games, his last in 1991 at the age of 43.
- A 7-time All-Star (1972-74, 76-78, 80) for the Red Sox, he was voted to start 4 times as a Red Sox.
- Named A.L. Honorary Captain for the 1999 Game at Fenway Park.
- First unanimous winner of the A.L. Rookie of the Year Award in 1972, also led the A.L. in triples with 9.
- Won the 1972 A.L. Rawlings Gold Glove Award for defensive excellence.
- Helped lead the 1975 Red Sox to the A.L. pennant.
- Hit game-winning 12th-inning home run in Game 6 of the 1975 World Series, remembered as one of the most dramatic moments in baseball history.
- Became just the fifth catcher in major league history to score and drive in 100 or more runs in 1977, when he hit .315 with 106 runs scored and 102 RBI.
- Set the M.L. record in 1977 with only 4 passed balls in 151 games (broken by Gary Carter, 1 with Montreal in 1978).

RED SOX WHO HAVE PLAYED IN EVERY GAME

Twenty-five players have played in every game of a regular season for the Red Sox (a total of 43 times). Dwight Evans was the last player to do so in 1984. He also played all the team's games in 1981 and 1982. Shortstop Everett Scott did so five straight years (1917-21) when he set the club record by playing in 832 consecutive games from June 20, 1916 through Oct. 2, 1921. Evans, Buck Freeman, Freddy Parent and Candy LaChance did so three times while Hobe Ferris, Chick Stahl, Vern Stephens, Frank Malzone, Carl Yastrzemski and Jim Rice played all the games twice. Rice also missed only one game in 1977.

NOTE: The W-L-T columns total one game less than the 16,487 game total reflected above as a result of a protested game and a major league ruling. On July 28, 1924 the Red Sox played a 10-inning game vs. St. Louis, a supposed 10-5 win. St. Louis protested the game and A.L. President Ban Johnson ordered the game replayed on September 13 as the 2nd game of a doubleheader. The game of July 28 was discounted and Red Sox Manager Lee Fohl and the St. Louis manager were credited with a no decision. The Red Sox won the replay of the protested game 13-11.

The major league rule from 1920 on states: "If a protested game of at least five innings duration was ordered replayed in its entirety, then no win or loss is credited, but both managers are credited with a no-decision game."

RED SOX ROAD ATTENDANCE

The Red Sox set a club record with 3,054,438 on the road in 81 dates in 2005, most in the majors. It marked the 1st time the Sox have played in front of 3 million on the road. In 2006 the Sox played in front of 2 million on the road for the 20th time. They averaged 36,099 per road game. It was the 40th straight year they topped one million on the road. The years they have drawn 2 million or more away from Fenway Park:

CROWDS OF 60,000 ON THE ROAD

There are 22 known regular-season and three post-season games that the Red Sox have played that had a paid attendance of 60,000. In 2003 the Red Sox twice reached that figure, both times in Philadelphia. On June 22 the Red Sox lost 5-0 to the Phillies before 60,960 and on Sept. 1 they beat the Phillies 13-9 before a crowd of 61,608. Prior to 2003 the last previous such crowd was on April 11, 1992 when a Cleveland Indians Opening Day crowd of 65,813 watched the Red Sox win in 19 innings on a Tim Lincecum two-run home run.

PITCHERS BATTING SINCE DH RULE
(non-Interleague Games)

ROGER CLEMENS singled to CF on an 0-2 pitch in the last of the 8th from LH Norm Charlton (Sea.) 5/23/96 in Fenway Park. It was the first regular season hit by a RED SOX pitcher since 10/ 3/72 in Detroit, a single in the 7th inning by LUIS TIANT off Woody Fryman. Other than TIM LOLLAR, who singled as a PH 8/12/86 in K.C. (2nd G) and lined out as a PH 8/13/85 vs. K.C., PETE SCHOUREK, who singled as a PH 6/28/2000 vs. Balt. and TIM WAKEFIELD, who had sac. bunts as a PH 4/22/98 in Det. and 6/28/2000 vs. Balt., only eight pitchers have batted a total of nine times for the RED SOX since the DH rule went into effect in 1973. Prior to JOSH BECKETT in 2006 (see below), MARTY PATTIN hit the last HR by a Sox pitcher 9/26/72 in Fenway, off Bill Parsons of Milw. BILL LEE hit the last road HR 9/11/72 in Clev. off Ray Lamb.

NOTE: A uniform GWRBI rule was adopted by both leagues in 1979 — “The RBI that gives a team a lead it never relinquishes.” Until 1979 the Red Sox rule was simply, the run that was one more than the opposition’s final score. GWRBI was discontinued as an official statistic after the 1988 season, but the Red Sox still use the 1979 rule.

MOST HOME RUNS IN A SINGLE GAME

The Red Sox record for home runs in a game is 8, set July 4, 1977 vs. Tor. at Fenway Park. Fred Lynn and George Scott hit 2 apiece, and Bernie Carbo (PH), Butch Hobson, Jim Rice and Carl Yastrzemski each hit one. Scott's 2-run blast over the 420-foot sign in CF was the only one hit with a man on. The 7 solo HR still stand as a M.L. record. In the bottom of the 8th, Lynn, Rice, Yaz and Scott each went deep as the Sox overcame a 6-5 deficit to win 9-6 and end a 9-game losing streak. The Red Sox have also hit 7 HR in one game four times, most recently in a 10-3 win July 4, 2003 at Yankee Stadium (Varitek 2, Ortiz 2, Mueller 2 and Ramirez).

HR	DATE	OPP.	HOME RUNS	SCORE
8	7-4-77	vs. Tor.	Lynn (2), Scott (2), Carbo, Hobson, Rice, Yastrzemski	9-6
7	7-4-2003	at NY (AL)	Mueller (2), Ortiz (2), Varitek (2), Ramirez	10-3

a - grand slam (N) - night game of day-night DH

For the first time since 1988 the Red Sox did not hit a PH HR in 2006...They hit 1 in 2005: DOUG MIRABELLI (10/2 vs. NYY) and 2 in 2004: KEVIN MILLAR (6/18 in S.F.) and TROT NIXON (9/14 vs. T.B.). They hit 4 in 2003, 3 in 2002, 2 in 2001 and 3 in 2000...SCOTT HATTEBERG (2000), MIDRE CUMMINGS (1998) MIKE STANLEY (1997), RICH GEDMAN (1984) and TONY PEREZ (1982) are the only Sox to hit 2 in one season since BERNIE CARBO hit 3 in 1977...The RED SOX hit 5 in 1997, 2nd in the A.L. (Tex. 6)...It tied the Sox 2nd best total (1943, all by JOE CRONIN)...The club record is 6 in 1953...The Red Sox hit 3 in 1986, highlighted by RICH GEDMAN'S 2-out grand slam in the 8th inning in Det. Aug. 10 off LH Willie Hernandez for a 9-6 win...That was the Sox first PH grand slam since VIC WERTZ hit one in Fenway Park Aug. 25, 1960 vs. Clev... The A.L. PH HR season record is held by JOE CRONIN with 5 in 1943 (including successive 3-run blasts in a DH vs. Philadelphia in Fenway June 17)...CHARLIE MAXWELL (1951), DEL WILBER (1953) and BERNIE CARBO (1977) hit 3 pinch HR...Four of the 12 players who share the A.L. record for PH HR on consecutive AB were Red Sox: CRONIN (1943), WILBER (May 6 and 10, 1953), TED WILLIAMS (Sept. 17 and 20, 1957) and CHUCK SCHILLING (Apr. 30 and May 1, 1965)...Sox pitchers allowed 2 PH HR in 2006 and 2005, 1 in 2004, 4 in 2003, 1 in 2002, 2001 and 2000...They did not allow any PH HR in 1999.

LONGEST KNOWN HOME RUNS AT FENWAY PARK

On June 19, 1977 Carl Yastrzemski hit the longest known home run to the right of the bleachers, an 8th-inning bomb off Yankees righthander Dick Tidrow. It reached approximately 460 feet before striking the facing of the right field roof about 20 feet to the right of where the retired #42 now appears. It is the only ball to reach the RF roof facade.

On Sept. 21, 1956 Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, batting left-handed, hit the longest known HR to straight-away CF off RHP Frank Sullivan. The ball failed to clear the old brick wall by a foot. It carried approximately 480 feet when it struck the brick barrier located behind Section 36.

On June 9 1946 Ted Williams hit a monumental 502-foot home run to right off Detroit righthander Fred Hutchinson. The ball landed on top of the straw hat of Joseph A. Boucher, 56, a construction engineer from Albany, NY who was sitting in Section 42, Row 37, Seat 21. "The sun was right in our eyes," he said. "All we could do was duck. I'm glad I didn't stand up. They say it bounced a dozen rows higher, but after it hit my head, I was no longer interested." At that time the bleachers were real bleachers and not individual seats.

Six home runs were hit over the old center field wall to the right of the flag pole. The elevation over the old brick wall was installed prior to the 1976 season and was removed prior to the 2003 season. No one hit a home run over that elevation that was in place from 1976-2002.

MOST SUCCESSFUL RED SOX LEFTHANDERS AT FENWAY PARK

There have been some very successful Red Sox left-handed pitchers at Fenway Park. Lefty Grove, Babe Ruth, Roger Moret and Mel Parnell all won at least 70 percent of their home decisions. Grove won 20 consecutive Fenway decisions May 3, 1938 through May 12, 1941. The streak was broken in a 13-9 loss to the St. Louis Browns June 21, 1941.

MOST STRIKEOUTS BY AN OPPONENT (SINCE 1972)

Johan Santana's 16 strikeouts June 13, 2006 in Minn. were the most by a lefthander vs. the Red Sox through 1968. When Roger Clemens fanned 16 Red Sox July 12, 1997 at Fenway Park, it was the first time in 20 years an opposing pitcher struck out more than 13 Red Sox. From 1972 through 2006 only 6 pitchers struck out more than 14 Red Sox in a game (a total of 11 times). Nolan Ryan had 6 such efforts, all from 1972 through 1977, including 3 in 1974.

In 2006 six opposing pitchers struck out 10 or more Red Sox in one game with LH Scott Kazmir fanning 10 twice (4/30, 10 in 7 IP and 7/3, 10 in 9 IP). In 2004 LH Ted Lilly struck out 13 Red Sox (9 IP) 8/23 in Tor., the most since Mike Mussina's 15 strikeouts for Balt. Sept. 4, 2000.

RED SOX TRIPLE PLAYS

On July 8, 1994 at Fenway Park, SS JOHN VALENTIN turned an unassisted triple play (the 9th in regular-season M.L. history, 10th overall) in the 6th innng. vs. Seattle (1B George Burns 9/14/23 vs. Cleveland is the only other Red Sox to do so). With Mike Blowers on second and Keith Mitchell on first, Marc Newfield hit a line drive to VALENTIN, who tagged second to retire Blowers and also tagged Mitchell between first and second to complete the rare play. Ironically, VALENTIN led off the bottom of the innng. with the Sox trailing 2-0 and hit a 3-2 pitch off Dave Fleming into the LF net, only the 2nd of the 10 to homer in the same innng. in which he turned an unassisted triple play (SS Neal Ball of Cleveland vs. Boston on July 19, 1909). It was Boston's first triple play since July 28, 1979, when the club tied the M.L. record by turning 3 triple plays in a single season. Those were the first Red Sox triple plays since May 25, 1972 vs. Baltimore.

The Red Sox hit into their first triple play in more than 5 years when SCOTT HATTEBERG lined into a 6-4 triple play, August 6, 2001 in the 4th inning vs. Texas. In the 6th inning HATTEBERG hit a grand slam as the Sox won 10-7, making him the only player in history to hit into a triple play and hit a grand slam in the same game. Prior to HATTEBERG the last Red Sox to hit into a triple play was TIM NAEHRING, who grounded into one, 5-4-3 June 6, 1996 in the first inning vs. Chicago. The Sox won 7-4 as JOHN VALENTIN hit for the cycle. July 17, 1990 vs. Minnesota the Red Sox became the first M.L. team to hit into 2 triple plays in the same game. In fact it is the only game in M.L. history with 2 triple plays. In the 4th inning, with the bases loaded, TOM BRUNANSKY grounded to third baseman Gary Gaetti, who stepped on third, then threw to second baseman Al Newman who relayed to first baseman Kent Hrbek. In the 8th inning, with runners on first and second, JODY REED grounded to Gaetti, who stepped on third to start another 5-4-3 triple play. In spite of the history-making event, the Red Sox won the game 1-0.

Prior to 1990 the last triple play turned against the Red Sox was July 4, 1988 in Kansas City. JIM RICE flied out to Willie Wilson in center field. Wilson threw to 2B Frank White to double up MIKE GREENWELL. White then threw to 1B George Brett to get ELLIS BURKS. Prior to that the last one was Sept. 4, 1965 in New York. BOB TILLMAN grounded to Clete Boyer at third base. Boyer started a 5-4-3 DP with Bobby Richardson and Joe Pepitone who then threw back to Boyer to get TONY CONIGLIARO at third.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT AND SCOUTING

Jacoby Ellsbury combined for a .303 batting average and 41 stolen bases in 111 games at Single-A Wilmington and Double-A Portland in 2006.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT STAFF

MIKE HAZEN, Director of Player Development

Mike became Director of Player Development on February 8, 2006. He spent 5 seasons with the Cleveland Indians as Assistant Director of Player Development beginning September 2003. Previously, he coordinated and oversaw the club's major league advance scouting in 2001 and 2002 and spent the 2003 season as the Indians' Assistant Director of Professional Scouting. The Abington, MA native played 4 years of varsity baseball at Princeton University and was a first-team All-Ivy League outfielder in 1997 and 1998. A 31st-round draft pick by the Padres in 1998, he played 2 minor league seasons before joining the Indians' scouting department. Mike lives with his wife Nicole and son Charlie.

RAQUEL FERREIRA, Director of Minor Lg. Administration

Raquel enters her 8th year with the Red Sox and oversees the day-to-day operations for the team's 6 minor league affiliates. She became Director of Minor League Administration in 2002, handling administrative issues for all minor league players and staff such as payroll, contract tenders, insurance and player transactions. The Cumberland, RI native also heads the player immigration program and oversees the minor league budget. She received the 2002 Edward F. Kenney Award given for dedication, success and work ethic in baseball. Raquel graduated from the University of Rhode Island in 1992 and resides in Somerville, MA with her husband Erik.

ROB LEARY, Minor League Field Coordinator

Rob begins his 6th season with the Red Sox. He joined the organization in 2002 as a roving minor league catching instructor. Rob received the Edward F. Kenney Award in 2005. He was with the Florida Marlins as an advance scout, director of field operations, minor league field coordinator and catching instructor from 1995-01. The Montreal Expos' 1986 12th-round pick played five seasons in the minors and was a player-coach in 1990 with Single-A Rockford. He managed Rockford in 1991-92 and Single-A West Palm Beach in 1993-94. The 1986 LSU graduate lives in Melbourne, FL with his wife Candace and sons Connor (6) and Dawson (4).

SCOUTING STAFF

JASON MCLEOD, Director of Amateur Scouting

Jason joined the Red Sox as Director of Scouting Administration in 2003 and was named the Director of Amateur Scouting on November 15, 2004. The last 2 Red Sox amateur drafts were rated by Baseball America as the major league's 2nd best in 2005 and first in 2006. He worked for the San Diego Padres from 1994-03 as an intern, baseball operations assistant, minor league coach, assistant director of scouting and player development, and most recently as an area scout in Southern California in 2002-03. A 44th round draft pick by the Houston Astros in 1991, the right-hander pitched in the minors from 1991-92. Jason was signed out of Palomar College and was a high school teammate of Dave Roberts.

The San Diego native is the great grand-nephew of Hall of Fame pitcher Carl Hubbell. Jason and his wife Melody reside in Brookline, MA.

JOHN FANTAUZZI, Director of International Scouting

John begins his 2nd year in this position after 4 years as the New York Mets' Assistant Director of Minor League Operations. Previously, he served one year as Baseball Operations Assistant with the New York Yankees. From 1997-00, he was an academic counselor and tutorial coordinator in the Florida State University Athletic Department while earning his Masters degree in Sports Administration. John was drafted by San Diego Padres in the 10th round in 1992 and played in the minor leagues in the Padres and Colorado Rockies organizations.

LATIN AMERICAN OPERATIONS

EDDIE ROMERO, Jr. Coordinator of Latin American Operations

Eddie joined the Red Sox in February 2006 as International & Professional Scouting assistant. In November, he was named Coordinator of Latin American Operations. The Red Sox have players signed from 7 Latin American countries. Romero, a West Palm Beach (FL) native, oversees all aspects of player development in Latin America including the Red Sox Dominican Academy headquartered in El Toro, DR. The academy is open 40 weeks a year, has up to 80 players at a time, 40 employees and is home to Boston's Dominican scouting efforts.

Eddie graduated from the University of Florida for both undergrad (2002) and law school (2005). Before joining the Red Sox, he was a prosecutor for the State Attorney's Office for the 4th Judicial District of Florida. Eddie's father, Ed Sr., was a major league infielder with Milwaukee (1977-85, 1989), Boston (1986-89), Atlanta (1989), and Detroit (1989).

JESUS ALOU Director, Dominican Summer League Red Sox

Jesus joined the organization as the Director of the Red Sox Dominican Academy in 2002. He has been involved as a player, coach and scout for nearly 50 years. Originally signed by San Francisco as a pitcher in 1958, Alou converted to outfield the following year and played 15 seasons in the majors with the Giants (1963-68), Houston Astros (1969-73, 78-79), Oakland Athletics (1973-74) and New York Mets (1975). He played with his brothers Felipe and Matty on the Giants from 1963-65 and on September 15, 1963 they became the only 3 siblings ever to play the outfield together in a big league game. He won 2 world championships with the A's in 1973 and 1974. In his final 2 seasons with the Astros he served as a player/coach.

Manny Nanita
Coordinator of Dominican Baseball Ops.

MINOR LEAGUE ATHLETIC TRAINERS

GREG BARAJAS, Pawtucket Red Sox

Greg begins his 3rd season as an athletic trainer for the Pawtucket Red Sox. He spent the previous 7 years in the Milwaukee Brewers' system including 3 seasons with the Huntsville (AL) Stars of the Southern League (Double-A). In 2001 with Single-A High Desert, he won California League Trainer of the Year honors. Barajas graduated from Metropolitan State College of Denver with a degree in Sports Medicine and holds a Masters Degree in Sports Management from Northern Colorado University. Greg and his wife, Heather, reside in Phoenix, AZ.

BRAD PEARSON, Portland Sea Dogs

Brad will serve as athletic trainer for the Portland Sea Dogs after serving as athletic trainer for the Wilmington Blue Rocks last season and the Greenville Bombers in 2005. Previously, he held the same role with the Augusta Greenjackets in 2004. He was the athletic training intern for the Red Sox Fort Myers Rookie team in 2001. He has served as Head Baseball Athletic Trainer at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst (2002-03) and at Holy Cross College in Worcester (2000-02). The Ludlow, VT native attended Springfield College and has a B.S. in Athletic Training in 2000 and a Master's

JON JOCHIM, Lancaster JetHawks

Jon is in his first season as the trainer for the Lancaster JetHawks after serving one season as the Gulf Coast League Red Sox Trainer in 2006. He also spent 2 seasons as the trainer for the Lowell Spinners (2004-05), while serving as the Assistant Minor League Training Coordinator. He served as an intern for the Gulf Coast League Red Sox in 2003 and prior to joining the Boston Red Sox Baseball Club was a trainer for the Harlem Globetrotters Basketball Team.

PAUL BUCHHEIT, Greenville Drive

Paul is in his 2nd season as trainer for the Greenville Drive. He previously served as an intern with the Lowell Spinners in 2005 and with the Sarasota Red Sox in 2006. Paul graduated from Buena Vista (IA) University and received his Master's Degree in Athletic Training from the University of Northern Iowa last year. He is certified with the National Athletic Trainer's Association. Paul resides in Sioux City, IA.

BRANDON HENRY, Gulf Coast Red Sox

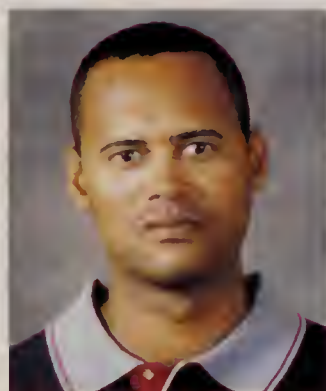

Brandon joins the Red Sox organization as the Gulf Coast League Red Sox trainer. He holds a Bachelor's degree from Xavier (OH) University and a master's degree from West Virginia University. Previously, he has held training positions with the Cincinnati Reds, Cleveland Indians and the University of Cincinnati men's soccer and baseball teams.

Brandon was born in Beckley, WV and resides in Mason, OH.

LUIS REYES, Dominican Summer League

Luis will serve his 5th season with the Red Sox as a trainer after spending 3 years as a trainer in the Florida Marlins organization. He pitched in the Oakland Athletics and Florida Marlins systems during his playing career.

ANTONIO DIAZ, Dominican Summer League

Antonio enters his 12th consecutive year as a trainer for all Red Sox Dominican Summer and Winter League clubs. The Dominican resident annually attends Spring Training to assist with the medical needs for the Red Sox Latin program.

JEAN CARLOS BLANCO, Dominican Summer League

Blanco will serve as a trainer for the Dominican Summer League Red Sox for the 2nd consecutive year. In 2006, he also worked at Red Sox spring training and for the Caracas Baseball Club in the Venezuelan Winter League. Jean Carlos was also a trainer for the Venezuelan Summer League and Paralela Winter League in 2004 and 2005 respectively. The Caracas, Venezuela native received a Physical Therapy degree from the Colegio Universitario de Los Teques in Venezuela in 2004.

MINOR LEAGUE INSTRUCTORS AND COORDINATORS

BRUCE CRABBE, Infield Coordinator

Bruce spent last season as the Minor League Infield Coordinator and as manager for the Lowell Spinners. He joined the Red Sox organization in 2005 as the hitting coach for the Single-A Wilmington Blue Rocks. Previously, Bruce spent 7 years with the Texas Rangers. He served as a hitting and infield coach for the Triple-A Oklahoma Red Hawks the last 3 seasons. From 1998-01, he served dual roles as a Triple-A coach, and Single-A Pulaski's manager. In 1999 he led Pulaski to the best record in the Appalachian League and was named Manager of the Year. Crabbe spent 1995-97 as manager, director of player development and scouting and infield coach for the professional women's baseball team Colorado Silver Bullets.

Crabbe played professionally in the Chicago Cubs, Toronto Blue Jays and Atlanta Braves organizations from 1984-92. Bruce played college baseball at the University of Florida where he was an All-American selection in 1984. He has a BS Degree in Liberal Arts. He and his wife Jenny reside in Ashburn, VA.

LOU FRAZIER, Outfield/Baserunning Coordinator

Lou begins his 4th year as the Red Sox Minor League Outfield and Baserunning Coordinator after spending 2003 as hitting coach for the Cleveland Indians' Single-A Kinston club. Frazier began his career coaching at Single-A Columbus in 2000.

Prior to becoming a coach, Frazier played professionally for 12 seasons, including 5 at the major league level. After being selected by the Houston Astros in the first round (5th overall) of the 1986 draft, Frazier played with 6 different organizations (Houston Astros, Detroit Tigers, Montreal Expos, Texas Rangers, Baltimore Orioles and Chicago White Sox).

He played in 302 games in the majors, batting .255 with a home run and 46 RBI. In 1993 with the Expos, he ranked 4th among N.L. rookies with 17 stolen bases. Frazier swiped 465 bases during his minor league career.

GOOSE GREGSON, Latin Pitching Coordinator - see page 530

VICTOR RODRIGUEZ, Hitting Coordinator

Victor will serve as hitting coordinator this year after spending the last 4 seasons as Latin Field Coordinator. He worked as a hitting instructor in 2003. In 2002, he also served as Red Sox minor league hitting coordinator after 6 seasons as a hitting coach in the system. He was the hitting coach for Rookie-level Sarasota from 1996-98, for the Gulf Coast League Red Sox in 1999 and 2001 and for Single-A Augusta in 2000. Victor began his coaching career in 1995 after playing in 31 games with Triple-A Pawtucket.

Rodriguez was originally selected by the Baltimore Orioles in 1977 at the age of 15 and went on to play 19 years in the minor leagues. He received the Clyde Kluttz Orioles Organization Player of the Year award in 1981, and in 1983 led Double-A Charlotte in hitting (.298) and runs scored (80). Victor made his major league debut in 1984, hitting .412 (7-for-17) in 11 games for the Orioles. He didn't play in the big leagues again until 1989 with the Minnesota Twins, going 5-for-11 in 6 games. Victor hit .429 in 17 career big league games overall.

Victor and his wife, Elba, reside in Cape Coral, FL with sons Victor Jr. (21) and Miguel (16).

PAT SANDORA, Strength and Conditioning Coord.

Pat joined the Red Sox as the Minor League Strength and Conditioning Coordinator in October, 2006. He was a high school physical education/health teacher before becoming a minor league strength coach with the Texas Rangers in 1998. After 2 seasons with Texas he was hired as the Minor League Strength Coordinator with the Philadelphia Phillies where he spent 5 seasons. He then became the Associate Director of Strength and Conditioning at West Virginia University overseeing Men's and Women's Basketball. The New Castle, PA native returned to baseball with the Milwaukee Brewers organization in 2005 and spent last year with the Cleveland Indians Double-A Akron club. Pat is a certified strength and conditioning specialist who graduated from West Virginia University and has a master's in athletic coaching.

BOB TEWKSBURY, Sport Psychology Coach

Bob is in his 3rd season as the minor league sport psychology coach. Bob is responsible for teaching and developing the mental skills component of performance with all players in the Red Sox farm system. After retiring as a pitcher following the 1998 season, he joined the Red Sox in 1999, providing advanced scouting information to the major league staff. From 1999-04 Bob served as a pitching consultant, working with select pitchers in Double-A and Triple-A on the mental aspects of performance. In 2004 Tewksbury earned a Masters degree in Sport Psychology and Counseling from Boston University. The right-hander went 110-102 with a 3.92 ERA in 302 major league games (277 starts) in his 13 year career (1986-98). Tewksbury turned in his best season in 1992 when his 16-5 record and 2.16 ERA with St. Louis earned him a spot on the National League All-Star team and placed him 3rd in the Cy Young Award voting.

RALPH TREUEL, Pitching Coordinator

Ralph will assume duties as the minor league pitching coordinator in 2007, after being the Major League Bullpen coach in 2006. He has 34 years of professional baseball experience. The Ohio native previously coached in the Red Sox system from 1996-05, including a brief stint as major league pitching coach in September 2001 when Joe Kerrigan assumed managerial duties with the club. In 2004, he managed the Gulf Coast League Red Sox to the league championship with a 34-24 record. The Sox lost to the GCL Yankees in a 3-game series, 2-0.

Treuel pitched in the Detroit Tigers system for 9 seasons (1974-82) before joining the coaching ranks in 1983. He was Bristol's (Rookie) pitching coach from 1983-84, roving pitching coach 1985-90 and Triple-A Toledo's pitching coach from 1991-92. He spent 1993-94 as Detroit's minor league field coordinator. He served as the Tigers' major league pitching coach under manager Sparky Anderson in 1995.

Treuel was the 1999 recipient of the Red Sox Edward F. Kenney Player Development Award. He attended Lorain County Community College. He has a daughter, Erica (22) and a son, Derik (19). Ralph and his wife, Donna, reside in Lakeland, FL with their son, William Henry (7).

DUNCAN WEBB, Latin Education Coordinator

Duncan became the Red Sox Latin Education Coordinator for 2007. Previously, he interned at the Red Sox Academy in the Dominican Republic in 2006. He also served as an assistant baseball coach at Amherst College.

The Lynn, MA native graduated from Amherst College in 2004 as a Psychology/Spanish double-major. Webb also graduated from St. John's Prep High School in Danvers, MA. He was a member of the 1999 and 2000 high school state championship teams. He also pitched at Amherst College and captained the team as a senior.

MINOR LEAGUE INSTRUCTORS AND COORDINATORS, continued

JIM YOUNG, Minor League Training Coordinator

Jim is in his 7th year as a minor league rehabilitation and medical coordinator for the Red Sox. Young supervises all minor league trainers and works with team physicians to coordinate medical needs of all minor leaguers. The Ohio University graduate served as Pawtucket's trainer from 1996-2000, overseeing medical needs, strength and conditioning and team travel. Prior to joining the Red Sox organization, Jim was an athletic trainer with the Montreal Expos' Triple-A Ottawa club for 3 years, Double-A Harrisburg for one year and Single-A Rockford for 2 seasons. Young earned a Masters degree in kinesiology from the University of Michigan in 1991 and an MBA from Florida Gulf Coast University in 2006.

Jim and his wife, Laura, live in Fort Myers, FL with their daughter Emila (4) and son AJ (1).

JOSE ZAPATA, Latin Field Coordinator - see page 533

DICK BERARDINO

Dick enters his 40th year in the Red Sox organization, his 4th season as a Red Sox player development consultant. After 8 seasons as a minor league outfielder, Berardino began a managerial career that spanned 21 seasons, including 20 in the Red Sox system starting in 1971. He joined the Red Sox as a coach in 1968 and served the Red Sox as big league bullpen and third base coach (1989-91), roving outfield/baserunning instructor (1992-96), manager at Single-A Lowell (1997-98), assistant field coordinator (1999-01) and Spring Training coordinator (2002). A 1955 graduate of Watertown High School and a 1959 graduate of Holy Cross, Berardino received the Red Sox Edward M. Kenney Player Development Award in 1998.

DWIGHT EVANS

A 3-time All-Star, 8-time Gold Glove Award-winning right fielder and a Red Sox Hall of Famer, Dwight Evans will serve as a Red Sox player development consultant for his 4th straight year. Evans was the Red Sox major league hitting coach in 2002 after rejoining the organization as a player development consultant in 2001, specializing in outfield and hitting instruction throughout the minor leagues. Evans played 19 years and 2,505 games in a Red Sox uniform, 2nd most in club history. He was a member of 4 A.L. East Championship squads (1975, 1986, 1988, 1990) and 2 A.L. Championship teams (1975, 1986). From 1981-90, Evans hit 251 home runs, the most of any A.L. player, and had 605 extra-base hits in the 1980s, more than any other major leaguer. He retired in 1991 and served as a roving minor league instructor with Chicago White Sox in 1993 and as the major league hitting coach with Colorado Rockies in 1994.

TOMMY HARPER

Tommy is in his 5th season as a player development consultant with the Red Sox after 3 seasons as the Red Sox major league first base, outfield, and baserunning coach. Harper spent 3 seasons in a Red Sox uniform (1972-74) and holds the club single season record with 54 stolen bases in 1973. He enjoyed a 15-year big league career with 8 teams, hitting .257 with 146 home runs, 567 RBI and 408 stolen bases. In 1970 with Milwaukee, Harper became the first infielder (5th overall) to eclipse both the 30 home run and 30 stolen base plateaus in the same season (31 homers and 38 steals). After his career ended, Harper worked in the New York Yankees system before returning to Boston in the public relations department in 1980 and as the major league first base coach and baserunning instructor from 1981-84. Before rejoining the Red Sox in 2000, Harper coached 10 years with Montreal Expos, his final 7 as the hitting, baserunning and outfield coach.

TONY CLONINGER

Tony is a player development consultant for his 3rd year after serving as senior pitching advisor in 2004 and pitching coach in 2002-03. Tony was diagnosed with bladder cancer in March 2003 and took a medical leave of absence in June. Cloninger is in his 35th year of professional baseball. He was a scout for the San Francisco Giants in 2001 after 15 years with the New York Yankees. He enjoyed a 15-year pro pitching career including 12 major league seasons with the Milwaukee and Atlanta Braves (1961-68), Cincinnati Reds (1968-71) and St. Louis Cardinals (1972). He has a career 113-97 record and a 4.07 ERA over 352 games.

FELIX MALDONADO

Felix will serve his 4th season as a player development consultant after 7 seasons as Red Sox coordinator of Latin American instruction. This will be his 44th year in the Red Sox organization as a minor league player, scout, manager, instructor or coordinator. In 1995, Maldonado concluded 7 years as manager of the Gulf Coast League Red Sox. He scouted for the Red Sox in Puerto Rico from 1971-89 while also serving as an instructor. Maldonado played minor league baseball from 1959-70 as an outfielder, including his final 8 seasons in the Red Sox organization.

FRANK MALZONE

Frank Malzone, a member of the inaugural Red Sox Hall of Fame class in 1995, returns as a player development consultant in 2007. He spent 11 seasons with the Red Sox and was an 8-time All-Star and 3-time Gold Glove award winner at third base. Malzone ranks among the all-time Red Sox leaders in several categories, and he hit .276 with 131 home runs, and 716 RBI in 1,359 Red Sox games. In 1957, his first full season with the Red Sox, Malzone recorded 103 RBI and tied an A.L. record with 10 assists in one game. He became the first player in history to lead all A.L. third basemen in games, putouts, assists, double plays and fielding percentage. Prior to his consultant role, Malzone served as a Red Sox scout.

CARL YASTRZEMSKI

Hall of Fame outfielder Carl Yastrzemski succeeded Ted Williams in left field as a rookie in 1961 and today still follows in his footsteps instructing young Red Sox hitters. A 3-time batting champion and 18-time All-Star, Yaz became the last major league Triple Crown winner when he led the A.L. in batting (.326), home runs (44) and RBI (121) in 1967. He was the first A.L. player to collect 400 home runs and 3,000 hits in a career. In 23 years with the Red Sox, Yaz won the MVP award in 1967 and 7 Gold Gloves. He retired ranked first on the major league all-time list for career games (3,308), ranked 3rd in at-bats (11,988) and walks (1,845), and was 6th in total bases (5,539), 7th in hits (3,419) and doubles (646) and 9th in RBI (1,844).

SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT INSTRUCTORS

JOHNNY PESKY

Johnny, who started his long career with the Red Sox as a minor league player in 1940, begins his 55th season with the club, his 37th in a row. Pesky has been with the Red Sox as a player, coach, manager, radio and TV announcer and advertising salesman. In 2007, Johnny will again work with young players in Spring Training as well as at Pawtucket and Lowell. The former All-Star shortstop will tutor minor league infielders on mechanics and defensive positioning. Previously, Pesky was a special assistant to former GM Lou Gorman from 1984-92 after 10 years as a Red Sox coach. Johnny was also Pawtucket's interim manager for part of the 1990 season. Pesky was an outstanding hitter and infielder who hit .307 in a 10-year career with the Red Sox, Detroit Tigers and Washington Senators. He held the Red Sox record for most hits by a rookie (205, broken by Nomar Garciaparra in 1997) and was the first to have 3 consecutive 200-hit years.

SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT INSTRUCTORS, continued

(Wade Boggs did so 7 years and Jim Rice 4). He shares the M.L. record for leading the league in hits 3 straight years and scoring 6 runs in one game (May 8, 1946). In 1985, Boggs broke his record of 172 singles in one season. Pesky coached for Ralph Houk with Triple-A Denver in 1955 and managed in the Detroit system from 1956-60. He coached with the Pittsburgh Pirates in the mid-1960's and was a manager in their system before joining the Red Sox broadcast crew in 1969. He spent 6 years as part of the radio and TV team. Johnny also managed Triple-A Seattle for the Red Sox from 1961-62 before moving up to manage the big league club from 1963-64. In 1982 the Boston Baseball Writers gave him their "Good Guy" award. On November 1, 1995, Johnny was honored as one of the first inductees into the Red Sox Hall of Fame.

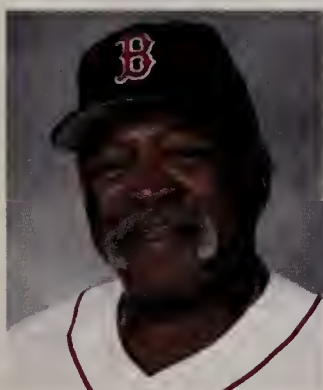

JIM RICE

Jim returns as a special organizational instructor in 2007, his 35th season with the Red Sox, with duties in Spring Training and throughout the system. The Red Sox Hall of Famer spent 6 years as the team's major league hitting coach. Rice was promoted to the post on February 18, 1995 after 3 seasons as the Red Sox roving minor league hitting instructor. He also serves as an analyst on NESN's pre and post-game Red Sox coverage.

The 8-time All-Star is among the top 5 career Red Sox hitters in 9 offensive categories and posted a .298 average with 382 homers in 2,089 games from 1974-89. He tallied 2,452 career hits, including 373 doubles and 79 triples.

Jim belted 20 or more homers 11 times and drove in 100 runs 8 times. He is the only player to have 3 straight 35-homer, 200-hit years (1977-79). Rice hit 3 home runs in a game twice, August 29, 1977 vs. Oakland and August 29, 1983 at Toronto. During his 15-plus big league seasons, he played in 86 percent of the Red Sox games, despite being limited to only 56 in an injury-filled final 1989 season.

Rice was the club's No. 1 draft pick in the 1971 June draft. In 1974 he won the International League Triple Crown, batting .337 with 25 long balls and 93 RBI for Pawtucket. He was also named Minor League Player of the Year, International League MVP and IL Rookie of the Year. Rice helped Boston win the 1975 A.L. pennant with a .309, 22-HR, 102-RBI rookie season. In 1978 he was the A.L. MVP as he led the majors with 46 home runs, 139 RBI, 15 triples, 406 total bases, 213 hits and a .600 slugging percentage. He is the only A.L. player to attain 400 total bases since 1937 and the only player to lead either league outright in home runs, triples and RBI the same season. Rice led the A.L. in total bases 3 straight years (1977-79) to tie Ted Williams and Ty Cobb for the A.L. record. He had 4 200-hit seasons, and in 1986 was 3rd in the MVP voting after a .324 average with 200 hits, 20 homers and 110 RBI in 157 games as the Red Sox won the A.L. pennant. He was in the top 5 in A.L. MVP voting 6 times. He was one of the first inductees into the Red Sox Hall of Fame in 1995. In February 2001 Rice was inducted into the Ted Williams Hitters Hall of Fame. Jim and his wife, Corine, are the parents of Chauncy Brandon and Carissa Jacinda.

LUIS TIANT

Luis will once again be a Special Assignment Instructor in 2007. He rejoined the Red Sox organization in 2002 as pitching coach at short-season Single-A Lowell.

"El Tiante," one of the greatest clutch pitchers in Red Sox history during his 8 seasons in Boston, was inducted into the club's Hall of Fame in 1997. From 1971-78 he compiled a 122-81 record with a 3.36 ERA and 3 20-win seasons. He was A.L. Comeback Player of the Year in 1972, when he went 15-6 and led the league with a 1.91 ERA. When the Red Sox won the 1975 A.L. pennant, Tiant had an 18-14 record. He then beat Oakland 7-1 with a 3-hitter in the first game of the ALCS, shut out Cincinnati 6-0 in the first game of the World Series and beat the Reds again 5-4 in Game 5 with an amazing 163-pitch complete game performance. His final Red Sox appearance was a 5-0 2-hitter vs. Toronto on October 1, 1978 at Fenway Park, the win that set up the one-game A.L. East playoff vs. the Yankees the next day.

In 19 seasons (1964-82) overall, Luis compiled a 229-172 (.571) record with a 3.30 ERA and 2,416 strikeouts. He also pitched for Cleveland Indians (1964-69), Minnesota Twins (1970), New York Yankees (1979-80), Pittsburgh Pirates (1981) and California Angels (1982). Tiant, who pitched in 3 All-Star Games, won 20 or more games 4 times, struck out 200 or more 3 times, led the A.L. in ERA in 1968 (1.60) and 1972 (1.91) and in shutouts 3 times.

From 1992-95, Luis was a minor league pitching coach in the Los Angeles Dodgers system, served as pitching coach for Nicaragua in the 1996 Atlanta Olympics and was the pitching coach for the White Sox Single-A Sarasota club in 1997. He spent 1998-01 as head coach for Division III Savannah College of Art and Design in Savannah, GA. Luis and his wife, Maria, have 3 children: Luis Jr., Isabel and Daniel.

RON JOHNSON, Manager

BORN: March 23, 1956 in Long Beach, CA

RESIDES: Morrison, TN

MINOR LEAGUE MANAGERIAL RECORD: 1048-1047 (.500)

A veteran of 29 years of professional baseball, Ron begins his 3rd season managing Triple-A Pawtucket, and his 6th season in the Red Sox organization. Last year, the PawSox finished 5th in the International League North Division with a 69-75 record. Ron earned his 1,000th career managerial win on May 21 at Scranton/Wilkes-Barre. He was later named as a coach for the International League Triple-A All-Star Game.

Previously, he managed 2 campaigns for Double-A Portland from 2003-04, and one for Trenton in 2002 before the Red Sox Double-A squad moved to Portland. Ron has been a manager for the past 14 seasons, spending his first 8 years as a skipper in the Kansas City organization following 6 seasons as a coach in the Royals chain. He left the Royals with a 586-521 record (.529).

The Long Beach, CA native took the Royals' Single-A Baseball City club to the playoffs in 1992, his first year as a manager. In 1995, he was named Texas League Manager of the Year after leading the Wichita Wranglers to a 72-64 record and a 2nd-half first-place finish in the American Conference's Central Division. He joined the Red Sox organization prior to the 2000 campaign, spending his first 2 years as skipper of the Single-A Sarasota Red Sox.

The Fresno State University graduate was a First Team All-American selection in 1978. He was drafted by Kansas City in the 24th round that year, and went on to hit .261 in 22 major league games with the Royals and Expos from 1982-84.

Ron and his wife Daphane have 5 children: Savannah (22), Christopher (21), Christian (14), Cheyenne (10) and Bridget (7).

MIKE GRIFFIN, Pitching Coach

OPENING DAY AGE: 49

BORN: June 26, 1957 in Colusa, CA

RESIDES: Hawthorne, NJ

Mike returns for his 5th consecutive season with the PawSox as pitching coach, and 9th year in the Red Sox organization. Previously, he held the same position with Double-A Trenton from 1999-2002. In 1999, the North Division Champion Thunder had a 92-50 record and led the Eastern League with 17 shutouts. Pawtucket was the 2003 North Division IL Champion. In 2004 Mike was selected as the IL pitching coach for the Triple-A All-Star Game.

The former major leaguer was a pitching coach with the Reds from 1990-95, and served as the Reds' minor league pitching coordinator from 1996-98. As a pitching coach, 4 of his teams captured league championships: Single-A Charleston (1990), Double-A Chattanooga (1992) and Triple-A Indianapolis (1994-95).

Mike pitched 14 years of professional ball; in the majors with the New York Yankees (1979-81), Chicago Cubs (1981), San Diego Padres (1982), Baltimore Orioles (1987) and Cincinnati Reds (1989). In 67 big league appearances (24 starts), he was 7-15 with a 4.60 ERA.

The California native graduated from Woodland High School and was drafted by the Texas Rangers in 1976. A year later, Mike went 17-9 with 19 complete games and 201 strikeouts in 209 IP for Single-A Asheville to earn Western Carolina League's Pitcher of the Year honors. He won the 1980 James P. Dawson Award as the Yankees top rookie in spring training. Mike and wife Denise have two children: Kimberly (20) and Brad (10).

MARK BUDASKA, Hitting Coach

OPENING DAY AGE: 55

BORN: December 27, 1952 in Sharon, PA

RESIDES: Kilheji, HI

Mark begins his 4th season as the hitting coach with Triple-A Pawtucket. Last year the PawSox hit .252 with 107 home runs. In 2002, his first year in the organization, he held the same position with Double-A Portland. In 2001, he coached for the Angels' Double-A Little Rock affiliate. The Travelers won the Texas League Championship that year and ranked 4th in the league with a .266 team average. Budaska was a hitting coach and first base coach for a major league team in Taiwan from 1998-2000.

The former switch-hitting outfielder played 10 years in the Oakland organization, including stints at the big league level in 1978 and 1981.

2006 Pawtucket Red Sox Season in Review

Record: 69-75, 5th, 16.0 GB (North Division)

Pawtucket finished in 5th place in the International League North Division with a 69-75 record, just the 3rd time in the last 11 years the PawSox ended a season below .500. The PawSox in 2006 welcomed 613,065 fans to McCoy Stadium.

Ron Johnson was at the helm for the PawSox for the 2nd straight season, and the 50-year-old earned his 1,000th career minor league managerial victory on May 21 at Scranton/Wilkes-Barre. Two days later, Johnson was named as a coach for the International League at the Triple-A All-Star Game. The 2006 season was Johnson's 15th consecutive year as a minor league manager.

In addition to Johnson, LHP Craig Breslow represented Pawtucket at the mid-season All-Star Game in Toledo on July 12. The lefthanded reliever did not pitch in the game because he was called up for his first stint in Boston the next day. 2B/SS Dustin Pedroia was the lone PawSox representative on the Post-Season IL All-Star team. He earned the utility player spot on the squad after finishing 2nd in the voting at both shortstop (74 games) and second base (33 games).

Breslow led all PawSox relievers with a 2.69 ERA and 39 appearances, posting a 7-1 record with 7 saves to earn team MVP honors. The Yale University product fanned 77 in 67.0 innings, an average of 10.3 K's per 9 innings. He also pitched scoreless ball in his final 11 Triple-A games (17.1 IP), going 2-0 with 2 saves in that span.

Pedroia, who turned 23 on August 17 and was the youngest member of the 2006 IL All-Star team, hit .305 in 111 games for the PawSox with 30 doubles, 5 home runs, 50 RBI and a .384 on-base percentage. At the time of his call-up to Boston on August 22, he was 4th in the league in doubles and OBP, 6th in batting average and 7th in hits (129). Boston's first pick in 2004 (2nd round, 6th overall) batted .331 in his final 42 games with Pawtucket.

Several other PawSox were among final International League leaders. 1B/OF Jeff Bailey tied for 6th with 22 home runs, was 5th with 82 RBI, tied for 4th with a .383 on-base percentage, 9th with a .489 slugging percentage, tied for 10th with 5 triples and 2nd with 74 walks. OF David Murphy tied for 10th with 5 triples. INF/OF Trent Durrington ranked 4th with 32 stolen bases. LHP Javier Lopez and RHP Jermaine Van Buren tied for 9th with 16 saves.

MIKE CATHER, Pitching Coach

BORN: December 17, 1970 in San Diego, CA

RESIDES: Roswell, GA

This will be Mike's first season as pitching coach for the Portland Sea Dogs. In 2006, his first year in the Red Sox organization, he held the same position with Single-A Wilmington. The Blue Rocks went 67-71 with a 3.82 ERA last season. Previously, he was a private instructor for youth, high school, college and professional pitchers from 2001-05. He pitched at the professional level for the Atlanta Braves from 1993-99.

Mike made his major league debut with the Braves in 1997, going 2-4 with a 2.39 ERA in 35 games. He also made 5 post-season appearances in 1997. Mike was taken by the Texas Rangers in the 41st round of the 1993 amateur draft and converted to a submarine-style delivery that same season. He was signed by the Braves as a free agent in 1996.

RUSS MORMAN, Hitting Coach

OPENING DAY AGE: 44

BORN: April 28, 1962 in Independence, MO

RESIDES: Blue Springs, MO

Russ returns for his 4th season as the Portland Sea Dogs hitting coach. In 2006, the club hit .256 en route to capturing their first-ever Eastern League Championship. Russ was named Portland's hitting coach in 2004 after managing the Augusta Greenjackets, Boston's Single-A affiliate, to a 49-87 record in 2003. He spent the 2002 season out of professional baseball, but in 2001 he was named Manager of the Year after leading the Kane County Cougars, the Marlins' Single-A affiliate, to an 88-50 record, winning the Midwest League Championship. Russ guided the Cougars to a playoff berth in 2000 as well, finishing the regular season with a 74-65 record.

Morman played 17 years of professional baseball, including parts of 9 seasons at the major league level with the White Sox (1986, 1988-89), Royals (1990-91) and Marlins (1994-99).

Russ was originally selected out of high school by the Royals in the 7th round of the 1981 January draft. He instead attended Iowa Western Community College and later Wichita State University. The first baseman was named to The Sporting News All-American team in 1983 after hitting .439 and leading the nation in RBI (105), tying for 3rd in HR (23). He was selected by the White Sox in the first round (28th overall) of the 1983 June draft. Russ was also a member of the 1997 World Series Champion Florida Marlins.

Morman was a .297 career hitter in the minors with 1,632 hits, 1,029 RBI and a .467 slugging percentage in 1,561 games. In 1997, he led the International League with 33 HR and a .623 slugging percentage as a member of the Marlins' Triple-A Charlotte affiliate, earning team MVP honors.

Russ and his wife, Loretta have two children: Katelyn (16) and Samuel (14).

2006 Portland Sea Dogs Season in Review

Record: 72-67, 2nd, 6.5 GB (Northern Division)

The Portland Sea Dogs in 2006 captured their first Eastern League Championship in franchise history. The Sea Dogs defeated the Akron Aeros, Double-A affiliate of the Cleveland Indians, 8-5 on September 17 at Hadlock Field to take the best-of-5 series, 3 games to 2. OF Brandon Moss was named Eastern League Playoff Most Valuable Player after hitting .361 in the postseason with 5 home runs and 10 RBI.

The Sea Dogs finished the regular season in 2nd place behind the Trenton Thunder (Yankees) with a 72-67 record. In the best-of-5 Northern Division Series vs. Trenton, the Sea Dogs lost the first game but rebounded to win the next 3 to take the series, 3 games to one, and advance to their 2nd straight Eastern League Championship Series.

The Portland Sea Dogs franchise has been around since 1994, spending their first 9 years as a Florida Marlins affiliate. The franchise has won 5 Northern Division titles, 3 with the Marlins (1995, 1996, and 1997) and 2 with the Red Sox (2005 and 2006). 2006 marked Portland's 4th trip to the Eastern League Championship Series and the first time they emerged victorious in their 13-year history.

The Sea Dogs' championship marks the first time a Red Sox Double-A team has won a league title since 1983 when the New Britain Red Sox took the Eastern League crown, a team that featured Roger Clemens.

Portland in 2006 established a new "per-game" attendance record at Hadlock Field, averaging 6,358 fans in 63 regular season openings, breaking the average mark of 6,290 fans in 2005. The Sea Dogs drew 400,534 fans to Hadlock Field during the 2006 regular season, the 6th time in franchise history that the team has eclipsed 400,000 fans. If not for 8 rainouts, the club would have made a run at breaking the overall franchise mark of 434,694 in 2004. The Sea Dogs on July 3 welcomed their 5 millionth fan in Hadlock Field history.

Portland had 4 mid-season All-Stars in 2006: OF Tyler Minges, RHP Chris Smith, 3B Chad Spann and 1B/DH Jeremy West. The Sea Dogs' coaching staff consisting of manager Todd Claus, hitting coach Russ Morman, pitching coach Ace Adams and trainer Masai Takahashi coached the Northern Division All-Star squad at the July 12 contest in Altoona, PA.

Minges batted .308 with 23 doubles, 39 RBI and 40 runs in 58 games with the Sea Dogs to earn a July 20 promotion to Pawtucket, where he closed the season. A non-roster invitee to Spring Training, the 26-year-old also started the season with 25 games for the PawSox.

Smith made the start for the Eastern League's Northern Division All-Star team, limiting the Southern squad to a run on 4 hits and no walks in 2.0 innings, fanning one and exiting with a 3-1 lead. The 25-year-old went 9-6 with a 4.05 ERA (52 ER/115.2 IP) in 20 starts for the Sea Dogs to earn an August 3 promotion to Pawtucket. Boston's 4th-round draft pick in 2002 went 1-1 with a 3.21 ERA (12 ER/33.2 IP) in 7 games (all but one as a starter) for the PawSox down the stretch.

Spann spent the entire season in Portland and tied for 5th in the Eastern League with a .294 batting average and tied for 7th with 28 doubles. The 22-year-old had 10 home runs, 50 RBI and 53 runs scored in 99 games for the Sea Dogs. He was named Eastern League Player of the Week for the week of May 29-June 4 after leading the league with a .471 (13-for-27) batting average and .778 slugging percentage.

West tied for 5th in the league with 32 doubles, while batting .269 with 13 home runs, 66 RBI and 64 runs in 124 games.

CHAD EPPERSON, Manager

OPENING DAY AGE: 35

BORN: March 26, 1972 in Louisville, KY

RESIDES: Cape Coral, FL

MINOR LEAGUE MANAGERIAL RECORD: 205-210 (.494)

Chad will manage the JetHawks as the Red Sox have moved its high Single-A affiliate from Wilmington to Lancaster. Last season, he led the Blue Rocks to a 67-71 record, capturing the Carolina League Northern Division first-half championship. In 2005, Chad managed the Capital City Bombers, the Red Sox Single-A affiliate, and in 2004 he skippered the Single-A Augusta Greenjackets. Chad also spent 2 seasons as Single-A Sarasota's hitting coach, and managed the Cook County Cheetahs of the independent Frontier League in 2001.

Epperson played 9 years of minor league ball with the New York Mets (1992-95), Red Sox (1997-99) and Baltimore Orioles (2000) prior to beginning his coaching career. Epperson's first professional season was with the Mets' Rookie Gulf Coast League affiliate in 1992. He then played at Rookie-level Kingsport in 1993, leading the team with a .342 average. The switch-hitting catcher made the jump to Single-A St. Lucie in 1994, then to Double-A Binghamton in 1995. The Mets released Chad prior to the 1996 campaign and he joined the Lafayette Leopards of the independent Heartland League, where he hit .336 with a league-leading 29 extra-base hits.

Chad signed with the Red Sox on February 3, 1997. He led the Florida State League with 25 doubles, ranked 2nd with 8 homers and ranked 3rd with 48 RBI, earning him a promotion to Double-A Trenton before season's end. Chad played in Trenton in 1998, and split time between Sarasota and Trenton in 1999.

The Orioles signed Epperson for the 2000 season. He split the season between Bowie and the Nashua Pride of the independent Atlantic League.

BOB KIPPER, Pitching Coach

OPENING DAY AGE: 42

BORN: July 8, 1964 in Aurora, IL

RESIDES: Greer, SC

After serving as the pitching coach with the Greenville Drive for the past 2 years, Bob will hold the same position with Lancaster in 2007. Last season, the Drive finished with a 67-73 record and a 3.55 ERA, 4th best in the South Atlantic League. Previously, he spent 2 years as pitching coach for the Double-A Portland Sea Dogs. He also served as Boston's bullpen coach in 2002. A veteran of 8 major league seasons as a left-handed pitcher, Kipper coached in the independent and minor leagues from 1995-2001. His 2001 Single-A Augusta staff led the South Atlantic League in ERA (2.93) and fewest walks allowed (314). In 2000, they led the league with 47 saves and ranked 2nd with a 3.45 ERA.

Kipper joined the Red Sox system in 1999 as pitching coach for the Lowell Spinners. He spent the previous 3 years as the pitching coach for Winnipeg of the independent Northern League. In 1995 Kipper began his coaching career with the Evansville Otters of the independent Frontier League.

The California Angels drafted Kipper as the 8th overall pick in the 1982 June draft. He was the Single-A California League Player of the Year at Redwood in 1984, finishing the season 18-8 with a 2.04 ERA. He made his major league debut the following year and was traded to the Pirates in August. The Greer, SC resident was 3-4 with 4 saves and a 2.93 ERA in 1989 with Pittsburgh. In 1990, he pitched on the N.L. East Division championship team, going 5-2 with a 3.02 ERA in 41 games. He got his first taste of post-season play when the Pirates repeated in 1991, appearing in Game 3 of the NLCS. In 8 major league seasons he went 27-37 with a 4.34 ERA in 271 games.

Kipper's last year in the majors was in 1992 with Minnesota. He sat out the 1993 season with a shoulder injury and attempted a comeback in 1994 with the Mets but was released from Triple-A Norfolk after appearing in just 9 games.

Bob and his wife, Kristin, have two daughters, Kaylyn (13) and Kendal (9).

DAVE JOPPIE, Hitting Coach

OPENING DAY AGE: 41

BORN: December 11, 1965 in Hastings, MI

RESIDES: Grand Rapids, MI

Dave begins as JetHawks hitting coach after holding the same position with the Wilmington Blue Rocks last year and managing the Kane County Cougars, Florida's Single-A club, in 2004 and 2005. In 2004, Dave led Kane County to the Western Division Championship with an 83-56 record. He was named the Midwest League Manager of the Year as well as Baseball America's Class Low A Minor League Manager of the Year.

Dave has 12 seasons of coaching experience in pro baseball. He served as hitting instructor for Double-A Midland (2001-03), Single-A Visalia (1999), Double-A Huntsville (1998, 1995-96) and Single-A Modesto (1997). He also managed Single-A Vancouver of the Northwest League in 2000.

Prior to his professional experience, Dave coached amateur baseball from 1988-94. In the offseason, Dave is an NCAA Division II, III and NAIA basketball official.

CALIFORNIA HERE THEY COME

On September 29, 2006, Boston announced a two-year affiliation agreement for the 2007 and 2008 seasons with the Single-A Lancaster (CA) JetHawks of the California League. Lancaster, a member of the California League since 1996, replaces Wilmington as Boston's High Single-A League affiliate. The Red Sox previously had an affiliate in the California League from 1947-'55, when the San Jose Red Sox played in what was then a Class C League. Lancaster, which plays its games at Clear Channel Stadium, was affiliated with the Seattle Mariners from 1996-00 before signing with Arizona.

2006 Wilmington Blue Rocks Season in Review

Record: 67-71 (Northern Division) / 1st Half: 35-35, 1st / 2nd Half: 32-36, 2nd, 2.5 GB

The Wilmington Blue Rocks were crowned Carolina League Northern Division first-half champions with a 35-35 record, marking their 9th division title in the last 13 seasons. Despite playing to a 32-36 2nd-half record, Wilmington clinched an automatic playoff berth with its first-half title, reaching the postseason for the first time since 2004 and the first time as a Red Sox affiliate.

Wilmington faced 2nd-half Northern Division Champion Frederick in a best-of-3 series in the first round of the playoffs. The Rocks won the playoff opener before dropping Games 2 and 3 for a 2-1 series loss.

Blue Rocks manager Chad Epperson in 2006 was named the top managerial prospect in the Carolina League according to Baseball America. Epperson earned the nod in the August edition of the magazine that rated players and managers at the Single-A level. 2006 was Epperson's first year as manager of the Rocks after spending the previous 2 seasons managing in the South Atlantic League with Augusta and Greenville.

Along with Epperson, 1B Ian Bladergroen was rated as the best defensive first baseman in the Carolina League. OF Mickey Hall was rated as having the best outfield arm. CF Jacoby Ellsbury was rated as the best baserunner, fastest baserunner and best defensive outfielder.

The Blue Rocks were represented by 3 players at the mid-season Carolina League All-Star Game on June 27 in Salem, VA: RHP Mike James, CF Jacoby Ellsbury and 3B Andrew Pinckney. James was also named to the league's year-end All-Star squad after leading the league with 25 saves, going 25-for-25 in 2006. He was the lone reliever named to the club. The 25 saves also equaled the single-season franchise record set by Steve Prihoda in 1998.

The 25-year-old James finished the season 2-1 with 25 saves and a 1.81 ERA in 48 relief appearances. He struck out 51 and walked only 19 in 49.2 innings, holding foes to a .228 batting average.

Pinckney tied for 8th in the league with 31 doubles, while batting .255 with 5 triples, 10 home runs, 47 RBI and 58 runs scored in 112 games. In 2005, Pinckney earned mid- and post-season South Atlantic League All-Star honors.

Ellsbury batted .298 with 4 home runs, 5 triples, 32 RBI and 25 stolen bases in 60 games for the Blue Rocks to earn a July 12 promotion to Double-A Portland.

Another standout for the Blue Rocks down the stretch was RHP Clay Buchholz, who was promoted from Greenville on August 15. He was named Carolina League Pitcher of the Week for the week of August 21-27, and went 2-0 with a 1.13 ERA (2 ER/16.0 IP) in 3 starts for the Blue Rocks overall. The 22-year-old had 140 strikeouts in 119.0 innings between the 2 stops, an average of 10.6 strikeouts per 9 innings. The Sox' 3rd pick (sandwich round, 42nd overall) in 2005 went 9-4 with a 2.62 ERA in 21 starts for the Drive.

WALTER MIRANDA, Pitching Coach

OPENING DAY AGE: 32
BORN: January 6, 1975 in Cartagena, Columbia
RESIDES: Cape Coral, FL

Walter enters his first season as pitching coach for the Greenville Drive after holding the same position with the Gulf Coast League Champion Red Sox in 2006 and with the short-season Single-A Lowell Spinners in 2005. Last year the GCL Red Sox posted a 35-19 record with a 3.02 ERA (3rd best in the league). They also went 2-1 in the post-season with a 1.67 ERA. Walter spent 2000-04 as a pitching coach with the GCL Red Sox, helping them to a 34-24 record and a 3.01 ERA, 2nd best in the league behind the GCL Yankees, in 2004. He joined the Red Sox organization in 1999 after a 6-year pitching career in the Florida Marlins system during which he compiled a 21-19 record in 68 games (60 starts).

He played baseball and basketball in his native Colombia and became the 2nd player to sign with the expansion Florida Marlins on January 15, 1992. In 1994, Miranda posted a 1.70 ERA for the Marlins' Rookie-level Gulf Coast League affiliate, making a career-high 25 appearances, all starts, and finishing the season 8-7.

Walter and his wife, Nicole, live in Cape Coral, FL with their daughter Miel.

RANDY PHILLIPS, Hitting Coach

OPENING DAY AGE: 50

BORN: August 8, 1956 in Greenville, SC

RESIDES: Taylors, SC

Randy returns for his 3rd season as hitting coach for Greenville. He helped the 2005 club to a South Atlantic League-leading .275 batting average. Previously, he served as the hitting coach at short-season Single-A Lowell from 2003-04. He coached Atlanta Braves minor leaguers at Pulaski of the Rookie-level Appalachian League in 1990 and Blue Jays minor leaguers from 1991-99, beginning with 5 years as hitting coach with the club's Rookie-level Gulf Coast League team.

In 1996, Phillips was the hitting coach with the St. Catharines Stompers of the short-season Single-A New York-Penn League. The former semi-pro first baseman coached at Single-A Hagerstown in 1997, guiding Suns hitters to the league's 2nd-best team average. Randy spent the 1998 campaign with Medicine Hat of the Rookie-level Pioneer League, seeing his Jays hit .286 as a team, the 2nd-best mark in the league. He spent the 1999 season at Double-A Knoxville, again guiding hitters to the league's 2nd-best average.

Randy played for the semi-pro Greenville Cardinals from 1975-87, including a player/manager role for 7 of those years. He served as a hitting instructor for Major League Baseball's Australian Academy in Gold Coast, Australia in 2002 and 2003.

2006 Greenville Drive Season in Review

Record: 67-70 (Southern Division) / 1st Half: 35-35, T-5th, 7.0 GB / 2nd Half: 32-38, 5th,

The Greenville Drive posted a combined record of 67-70 after going 35-35 in the first half and 32-38 in the 2nd half. Prior to the season, the Red Sox announced a 2-year Player Development contract extension with the Drive covering the 2007 and 2008 seasons.

The Drive debuted their new downtown ballpark in 2006, West End Field, which was named Ballpark of the Year by baseball enthusiast website Baseballparks.com. The ballpark is a replica of Fenway Park, complete with a 30-foot-tall "Green Monster" with manual scoreboard in left and a Pesky Pole in right. The field dimensions to all outfield directions are to the exact specifications of Fenway, including notches in the outfield wall. The new park was a substantial draw in downtown Greenville, as the Drive set a single-season attendance record with over 330,000 fans through the turnstiles in 2006.

Greenville was represented by RHP Chris Jones and C Mark Wagner on the Southern Division squad at the South Atlantic League All-Star Game on June 20 in Eastlake, OH. Jones went 4-4 with a 3.63 ERA in 19 starts, including a 3-0 record and 1.46 ERA in 7 starts in April and May. Wagner ranked 6th in the league with a .301 batting average and finished tied for 7th with a .386 on-base percentage and 32 doubles.

Several other Drive players finished among South Atlantic League leaders. LF Chris Turner tied for 5th in the league with 18 home runs and tied for 8th with 7 triples. CF Yahmed Yema tied for 5th with 8 triples. RHP Blake Maxwell tied for 6th with 52 appearances.

Another offensive standout for Greenville was 3B Tony Granadillo, who led the club with 68 RBI and 70 runs scored, while batting .283 with 29 doubles and 13 home runs in 116 games.

Other team leaders: Wins - Michael Bowden and Clay Buchholz (9); Saves - Maxwell (14); Innings pitched - Michael Rozier (129.2); Starters ERA - Buchholz (2.62); Relievers ERA - Tim Cox (2.82).

Alan enters his 5th season as a minor league coach after spending 11 years as owner and head instructor of Extra Innings Baseball Academy, Inc. in British Columbia. This will be his 3rd season coaching for the short-season Single-A Lowell Spinners. As hitting coach for the Gulf Coast League Red Sox in 2005, the team hit a league-best .277 en route to a 34-24 record. He previously worked as a guest coach for the St. Louis Cardinals (1997) and the Oakland Athletics (1993-96). Mauthe played on the Canadian National Team from 1985-88, competing in the 1988 Seoul Olympics.

2006 Lowell Spinners Season in Review

Record: 39-36, 4th, 4.5 GB (Stedler Division)

The Spinners established all-time franchise single-game and full-season attendance records in 2006, drawing an average of nearly 5,400 fans per game in a ballpark that only seats 4,842. The franchise's single-game attendance record now stands at just under 17,000 after Lowell split the gate of 33,000-plus at Fenway Park on August 26 with the Pawtucket Red Sox. That gate helped the Spinners reach a season mark of more than 192,000 fans.

Lowell went 39-35 and finished in 3rd place in the New York-Penn League's Stedler Division. The Spinners closed the season on a high note, sweeping a 3-game series at Aberdeen to finish 3 games above .500.

LHP Jeffrey Farrell (5.0 IP, BB, HBP) and LHP Yulkin German (4.0 IP, HBP) on August 13 tossed the first no-hitter in Lowell Spinners history in a 2-0 win at Hudson Valley. It was the first no-hitter for the Red Sox organization since May 19, 2005, when 3 Greenville pitchers (Gary Galvez, Jesus Delgado and Kyle Jackson) combined for a 7-inning no-hitter in a 4-3 loss at Savannah in the 2nd game of a doubleheader.

OF Zachary Daeges and C Luis Exposito represented the Spinners at the 2nd annual Short-Season Single-A All-Star Game at Ripken Stadium in Aberdeen, MD on August 16. The American League affiliates pulled out a 4-1 win over their National League counterparts in the contest.

Daeges batted .288 with 10 doubles, 4 homers, 32 RBI and 24 runs scored in 55 games. He was Boston's 10th pick (6th round) in the 2006 draft out of Creighton University.

Exposito hit .250 with 13 doubles, 23 RBI and 18 runs in 57 games. He was the Sox' 34th pick (31st round) in 2005.

German ended the year 6-1 with a 1.81 ERA (10 ER/49.2 IP) in 24 relief outings. He fanned 52 in 49.2 innings.

Several 2006 draft picks also made an immediate impact for the Spinners. LHP Kris Johnson (3rd pick, sandwich round) boasted a 0.88 ERA (3 ER/30.2 IP) in 14 games (all but one as a starter). RHP Justin Masterson (5th pick, 2nd round) went 3-1 with a 0.85 ERA (3 ER/31.2 IP) in 14 relief appearances. RHP Joshua Papelbon (52nd pick, 48th round) posted a 1.86 ERA (6 ER/29.0 IP) with 13 saves in 25 games out of the pen.

DAVE TOMLIN, Manager

OPENING DAY AGE: 57

BORN: June 22, 1949 in Maysville, KY

RESIDES: Manchester, OH

MINOR LEAGUE MANAGERIAL RECORD: 35-19 (.648)

This will be Dave's 2nd season as the manager for the Gulf Coast League Red Sox after serving as the club's pitching coach in 2005. He guided the club to a league championship in 2006. It was the first title for a Red Sox minor league affiliate since Single-A Augusta won the 1999 South Atlantic League title. This is his 5th consecutive season in the Red Sox system and 10th overall. In 2004, he was the short-season Single-A Lowell Spinners pitching coach. He held the same position for Lowell from 2000 to 2001, at Single-A Sarasota in 1999 and at Rookie-level Fort Myers in 1998. Dave came to the Red Sox after 3 years as a roving minor league pitching coach for the Atlanta Braves (1995-97) and 7 years as an instructor and coach in the Montreal Expos system (1988-94). The former left-handed hurler was the pitching coach with Montreal's Single-A West Palm Beach affiliate in 1988-89. He then spent the next 4 years as the Expos' pitching instructor for their Gulf Coast Rookie League team. In 1994 Dave was the pitching coach for the Expos' Double-A Harrisburg club.

Tomlin played 13 years of major league ball from 1972-86, pitching for Cincinnati (1972-73, 1978-80), San Diego (1974-77), Montreal (1982, 1986) and Pittsburgh (1983, 1985). He compiled a lifetime record of 25-12 with 12 saves and a 3.82 ERA in 409 games. The Kentucky native was 9-1 with 4 saves in 57 games for Cincinnati in 1978. He also pitched for the Reds in both the 1973 NLCS vs. New York and the 1979 NLCS vs. Pittsburgh. Dave was originally drafted by Cincinnati in the 29th round of the 1967 June draft.

Tomlin and his wife Trudy reside in Manchester, OH and operate Briteleaf farms where they raise corn, soybeans and produce organic beef.

GLENN (GOOSE) GREGSON, Pitching Coach

OPENING DAY AGE: 57

BORN: February 10, 1950 in Hamlet, NC

RESIDES: Helena, MT

Goose begins his 6th straight season in the Red Sox organization and 23rd year as a professional pitching coach, instructor or coordinator. Last year he served as the Latin American Pitching Coordinator and Gulf Coast League Pitching Coach, helping the GCL Red Sox staff to a 3.02 ERA, 3rd best in the league. In 2005, they led the league with a 3.09 ERA. Gregson has also worked for the Philadelphia Phillies (1979, 1999-01), Los Angeles Dodgers (1988-98) and Chicago Cubs (1982-84). He was the Dodgers' major league pitching coach in 1998.

The Appalachian State University graduate played 7 minor league seasons in the Chicago White Sox (1972-73) and Phillies (1974-78) systems, compiling a 22-18 record with a 3.39 ERA before an elbow injury ended his career. He threw a no-hitter in 1972 for the Mountaineers against the Virginia Military Institute. The right hander has a Masters in sport science and administration.

Goose and his wife, Jan, reside in Helena, MT and have 3 children: Rian (29), Tyler (26) and McGraw (24).

U.L. WASHINGTON, Hitting Coach*OPENING DAY AGE: 53BORN: October 27, 1953 in Stringtown, OKRESIDES: Atoka, OK

A veteran of 11 major league seasons as a shortstop, U.L. begins his 2nd season as the Gulf Coast League Red Sox hitting coach. Prior to last season, he was the Red Sox Minor League Infield Coordinator for 2 years and Pawtucket's hitting coach in 2003. The PawSox hit .271 as a team and posted a franchise and International League-best 83-61 record. Previously, he spent 2 seasons in the same role for Double-A New Britain.

In 1999, Washington was the hitting coach for the Dodgers' Double-A San Antonio affiliate. He was a minor league hitting instructor for Kansas City from 1997 to 1998 and the hitting coach with the Royals' Triple-A Omaha club in 1996. The Royals ranked 3rd in the league in hitting that year and captured the West Division title.

U.L. coached at Double-A Wichita under current Portland Sea Dogs manager Ron Johnson in 1994 and 1995. He coached with the Royals' Double-A Memphis club from 1991-93. In 1989 Washington began his coaching career as the manager of Pittsburgh's short season Single-A Welland club.

Washington played in parts of 11 major league seasons from 1977-87, batting .251 with 27 homers and 255 RBI in 907 games. He spent his first 8 years with Kansas City, hitting .303 in 9 post-season contests. U.L. played in Montreal in 1985 and closed out his career with 2 years in Pittsburgh. U.L. and his wife Sandra have two children, daughter Shawnte (28) and son Christopher (24).

2006 Gulf Coast Red Sox Season in ReviewRecord: 35-19, 1st (South Division)

the first round of the playoffs, the GCL Sox defeated the GCL Dodgers, 2 games to 1, in the League Championship Series. The title was the first for a Sox minor league affiliate since Augusta won the 1999 South Atlantic League title.

The Sox were led by their pitching staff, which ranked 3rd in the league with a combined 3.02 ERA. Playoff starters LHP Felix Doubront (2-3, 2.52 ERA, 11 starts), RHP Joseph Guerra (4-2, 2.68 ERA, 9 games, 3 starts) and RHP Jorge Rodriguez (4-1, 2.35 ERA, 9 games, 6 starts) joined regular-season standout LHP Jose Capellan (4-1, 2.79 ERA, 11 games, 6 starts) to anchor the staff. Guerra struck out 25 without walking a batter in 43.2 innings pitched.

Offensive team leaders: Batting Average - Jonathan Egan (.339); Home runs - Michael Jones (9); RBI - Jones (28); Runs Scored - Carlos Fernandez-Oliva (33); On-Base Percentage - Egan (.400); Slugging Percentage - Jones (.607); Stolen Bases - Kristofer Negron (10).

2 CHAMPIONSHIP TEAMS

The Red Sox' six minor league farm clubs combined for a 349-338 (.508) regular season record in 2006. Three of the six advanced to the post-season. Portland won the Eastern League Championship while the Gulf Coast Red Sox were crowned as the Gulf Coast League champions, giving Boston two minor league titles for the 1st time since 1979 (Winston-Salem and Winter Haven). In addition, Wilmington participated in the Carolina League Division Series playoffs.

RED SOX TELEVISION AND RADIO INFORMATION

TELEVISION

NESN (New England Sports Network), New England's most watched sports network, is in its 23rd year of carrying Red Sox baseball. NESN will deliver exclusive coverage of every locally televised Red Sox game throughout New England in 2007. For the second year in a row, NESN will originate every game in high definition (HD) as well as all pre and post-game shows and NESN produced studio programs.

NESN's broadcast team of Don Orsillo and Jerry Remy won the New England Emmy Award for outstanding play-by-play in 2004 and 2005. Tina Cervasio returns for her second season as the NESN's field reporter for all home and away games while Tom Caron is in his fourth year hosting NESN's pre and post-game coverage.

Nationally, the Red Sox have nine scheduled appearances on Saturday's Fox Game of the Week and will be seen twice in the first half of the season on ESPN's Sunday Night Baseball package.

DON ORSILLO is in his seventh season of doing play-by-play on NESN. He was named the 2005 Massachusetts Sportscaster of the Year by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association. Born in Melrose, MA, Don grew up in Madison, NH and is a graduate of Northeastern University. Orsillo previously announced baseball for the Single-A Pittsfield Mets (1991-92), the Double-A Binghamton Mets (1993-95), and the Triple-A Pawtucket Red Sox (1996-2000). He also called the action for the American Hockey League's Springfield Indians/Falcons (1991-96), Providence College men's basketball on ESPN Plus (2005-07), and NESN's Boston College basketball coverage (2006-2007). Or-sillo, whose NESN debut came in Hideo Nomo's no-hitter on April 4, 2001, won Emmy Awards for outstanding play-by-play in 2004 and 2005. He appeared in the movie, Fever Pitch, after the 2004 season. Don resides in Smithfield, RI with wife Lisa and daughters Sydney and Madison.

JERRY REMY celebrates his 20th season as the Red Sox' color analyst on NESN in 2007. The long-time Fenway Park favorite was elected to the Red Sox Hall of Fame in 2006 for his playing and broadcasting accomplishments. He was named the Massachusetts Sportscaster of the Year by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association in 2004. A native of Somerset, MA, Remy was an infielder for ten years in the majors with the California Angels (1975-77) and Red Sox (1978-84) with a .275 batting average and 208 stolen bases in 1154 games. He ranked among the A.L. leaders with 10 triples and 41 stolen bases in 1977 and was an A.L. All-Star in his first season with Boston in 1978, when he scored 87 runs and stole 30 bases. Remy also works games for FOX as part of its Saturday Game of the Week package. His internet site, theremyreport.com has become a popular source of information for Red Sox fans and he answers fan's questions every week via his Remy Report Mailbag on nesn.com. He also can be found greeting fans prior to home games on Yawkey Way at Rem Dawgs, which opened in 2004 and specializes in hot dogs with unique toppings.

TINA CERVASIO enters her second season as NESN's field reporter. She delivers breaking news reports, feature stories and interviews for NESN's pre-game show, in-game updates from the ballpark and post-game interviews with players and coaches. With over ten years of sports broadcasting experience, Tina has served as a TV anchor/reporter/host for WCBS-TV Channel 2 in New York, NFL Sunday Ticket, Animal Planet, ESPN2, FOX Sports NY and the Sunshine Network. She also has extensive sports radio experience as a reporter/play-by-play announcer for Westwood One Radio's Olympic coverage, WFAN in New York, NFL on Sports USA Radio, and the Imus in the Morning program on MSNBC.

TOM CARON is in his fourth full season hosting NESN's pre and post-game programs. The Lewiston, ME native joined NESN in 1995 and has served as a studio host for Boston Bruins hockey, Red Sox field reporter and Hockey East play-by-play announcer. Before joining NESN he served as a sports anchor in Plattsburgh, NY, Hanover, NH, and Portland, ME. In 1993 he joined the Portland Pirates of the AHL as play-by-play announcer and communications director. Caron is involved with many local and regional charities including serving on the advisory board for Good Sports, Inc. and as President of the Loring Arena Legacy Foundation.

RED SOX RADIO NETWORK

The Red Sox Radio Network carries every regular season game. The Red Sox and Entercom Communications announced a new 10-year agreement for 2007-2016 in May 2006. WRKO (680 AM) returns as the network's flagship station in 2007 after previously carrying Red Sox baseball from 1983-1994. WRKO will air all regular season games except Wednesday nights and weekday afternoons, which can be heard on sister station WEEI (850 AM). A network of over 60 stations broadcast Boston's games throughout the New England area. Joe Castiglione returns to do all 162 games in 2007 while newcomers Dave O'Brien and Glenn Geffner will split the schedule in the radio booth.

JOE CASTIGLIONE is in his 25th season on Red Sox radio, the second longest tenure of any Boston broadcaster to 32 years for the late Ned Martin. Prior to coming to Boston, Castiglione called television games for the Cleveland Indians in 1979 and 1982 and for the Milwaukee Brewers in 1981. The Hamden, CT native has also announced television games for the NBA's Cleveland Cavaliers and did college basketball on NESN for six years. During the off-season, Joe teaches classes in broadcast journalism at both Northeastern University and Franklin Pierce College and has been a active fundraiser of the Jimmy Fund. A graduate of both Colgate and Syracuse Universities, Joe is the author of Broadcast Rites and Sites-I Saw It on the Radio with the Boston Red Sox, which was published in 2004. Joe and his wife, Jan have three children and one grand-daughter and reside in Marshfield, MA.

DAVE O'BRIEN enters his first season doing Red Sox baseball. He will continue his work at ESPN, where he has handled a variety of play-by-play roles, including Major League Baseball, College Basketball, and the NBA since joining the network in 2002. O'Brien was also the voice of the 2006 World Cup Soccer Tournament televised by ABC and has called the last several World Series for MLB's International TV coverage. He worked as both a radio and television announcer for the Florida Marlins from 1993-2001 and broadcast television games for the New York Mets from 2003-05. O'Brien has also done play-by-play for the Atlanta Braves and college football and basketball action for the University of Georgia and University of Miami. The Quincy, MA native, who attended Syracuse University, is relocating his home from Florida to Rye, NH with his wife Debbie and children Michael (17), Samantha (14), and Kaitlyn (11).

GLENN GEFFNER joins the Red Sox radio broadcast team in 2006, his 11th season in the Major Leagues and his 16th year in professional baseball as a broadcaster and front office executive. The Miami, FL native began his broadcasting career while a student at Northwestern University, calling Wildcats baseball, football and basketball. He was the voice of Baltimore's Triple-A affiliate, the Rochester Red Wings before making his Major League debut broadcasting games for the San Diego Padres. During his six-year stay in San Diego he also served as the club's Director of Public Relations. In San Diego, Geffner partnered with Hall of Fame broadcaster Jerry Coleman. Geffner joined the Red Sox in 2003 and served as Vice President/Communications. He pinch-hit on Red Sox radio broadcasts in 2005 and handled play-by-play for NESN's coverage of Red Sox minor league baseball in 2006. Glenn resides in Lexington, MA with his wife Christine and sons Corey (6) and Gregg (3).

BROADCASTING

RED SOX SPANISH RADIO NETWORK

In its seventh year, the Spanish Beisbol Network broadcasts every game of the regular season to seven affiliates, including flagship WROL (950 AM), reaching Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Connecticut. Uri Berenguer and Juan Oscar Baez will once again call the action in 2007 with assistance from Bill Kulik, president of the Spanish Beisbol Network.

URI BERENGUER is in his fifth season on the Red Sox' Spanish-language broadcast team and at the age of 24, is one of the youngest announcers in the major leagues. A former Jimmy Fund patient at the Dana Farber Cancer Institute, Uri became interested in a broadcasting career after a visit from Sox announcer Joe Castiglione. Berenguer attended Boston Latin Academy and Northwestern University and is the nephew of former major league pitcher Juan Berenguer. He also hosts Hablando Pelota, a daily baseball show on XM Satellite Radio.

JUAN OSCAR BAEZ returns for a third season on the network. Baez hosted a Spanish-language sports talk show in Boston from 2001-04 and hosted the Spanish Beisbol Network's pre-game show for two years. A native of Bani, Dominican Republic, Baez played minor league baseball in the New York Yankees organization, reaching the Double-A level.

Corrections have been made in the above listing thanks to information provided to us from John K. Moynahan, author of 50 Years At The Game, A Sports Traveler's Journey, and other sources. We appreciate this input as we attempt to produce an accurate account of our broadcasters. We are aware that through the years there have been "guest" or temporary fill-in broadcasters for Red Sox games, however, they are too numerous to list here.
